

WHAT IS PE-RU-NA?

Is it a Catarrh Remedy, or a Tonic, or is it Both?

Some people call Peruna a great tonic. Others refer to Peruna as a great catarrh remedy.

Which of these people are right? Is it more proper to call Peruna a catarrh remedy than to call it a tonic? Our reply is, that Peruna is both a tonic and a catarrh remedy. Indeed, there can be no effectual catarrh remedy that is not also a tonic.

In order to thoroughly relieve any case of catarrh, a remedy must not only have a specific action on the mucous membranes affected by the catarrh, but it must have a general tonic action on the nervous system.

Catarrh, even in persons who are otherwise strong, is a weakened condition of some mucous membrane. There must be something to strengthen the circulation, to give tone to the arteries, and to raise the vital forces.

Perhaps no vegetable remedy in the world has attracted so much attention from medical writers as HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS. The wonderful efficacy of this herb has been recognized many years, and is growing in its hold upon the medical profession. When joined with CUBEBS and COPAIBA a trio of medical agents is formed in Peruna which constitutes a specific remedy for catarrh that in the present state of medical progress cannot be improved upon.

This action, reinforced by such renowned tonics as COLLINSIONIA CANADENSIS, CORYDALIS FORMOSA and CEDRON SEED, ought to make this compound an ideal remedy for catarrh in all its stages and locations in the body.

From a theoretical standpoint, therefore, Peruna is beyond criticism. The use of Peruna, confirms this opinion. Numberless testimonials from every quarter of the earth furnish ample evidence that this judgment is not over enthusiastic. When practical experience confirms a well-grounded theory the result is a truth that cannot be shaken.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Treated For Pain In The Back.
The district attorney's office has offered to issue a warrant for the arrest of H. Storey, who styles himself a physician of the chiropractic school, and who is accused by testimony given at a coroner's inquest yesterday of having been responsible for the death of Domenick Permus, a San Bernardino farmer, one of his patients.

According to the testimony of Mrs. Premus, her husband was treated for pains in his back. She affirmed that Storey laid her husband face downward across two benches, and placing a wooden spike against his vertebra, pounded it with a wooden mallet. After this, Mrs. Premus swore, the physician raised himself from the ground while his hands rested on the patient's back. After five such treatments Premus died. The inquest developed that death was due to a hemorrhage of the lungs.—Los Angeles Times.

Gold Coins In Marble Head.
M. Rodin bought recently in an old curiosity shop in Paris an ancient marble head of a man, and as the face was rather knocked about he sent it to a brother sculptor for repair. When the work was done this friend got into a cab with the marble head and drove toward M. Rodin's studio. On the way the cab came into collision with a motor car and the head rolled out into the road and was smashed to pieces.
The sculptor picked up the pieces and found in a cavity of the skull twenty gold coins of ancient date and considerable value.

TEN YEARS OF PAIN.
Unable to Do Even Housework Because of Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. Margaret Emmerich, of Clinton St., Napoleon, O., says: "For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from kidney troubles. My back pained me terribly. Every turn or move caused a sharp, shooting pain. My eyesight was poor, dark spots appeared before me, and I had dizzy spells. For ten years I could not do housework, and for two years did not get out of the house. The kidney secretions were irregular, and doctors were not helping me. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me quick relief, and finally cured me. They saved my life."

HUGGER ELUDES CROWD.

Efforts to Capture the Man Who Is Annoying Women.

Lansdale (Special).—Lansdale's "Jack, the Hugger," who has in the last two weeks thoroughly frightened at least a dozen women, completely puzzled the borough policeman and who has been chased on two occasions by an angry crowd of men, has eluded all efforts at capture.

The "Hugger" has operated in nearly every part of town, but most frequently has made his appearance in the East Ward. His operations have been confined to early evening, along a street on which the lighting is not too brilliant. Hiding behind a tree or bush or in the shadow of a building he awaits the arrival of a woman. It doesn't matter if she be old or young, pretty or otherwise, married or merely engaged—all are affiliates to the "Hugger."

Grasping her in his arms he will give her a tight squeeze and then push her to one side, and run rapidly away. On two or three occasions he has tried to kiss his victim. In no case so far reported has he been known to attempt greater familiarities.

Women are afraid to travel the streets at night unless accompanied. Fathers, brothers and sweethearts are thoroughly angry, and threaten to handle the man roughly if he can be captured in an act of annoying any of Lansdale's women.

Several nights ago he held up a woman, but her screams brought several young men, and they chased "Jack" some distance, but he escaped.

The police department consists of one patrolman, and all the offenses have happened when he has been in another part of the town. While it is known that at least ten or twelve women have been intercepted, insulted and frightened, the authorities are carefully withholding all the names of the victims who have reported the occurrences, claiming that any additional notoriety is unnecessary.

NURSE TOOK POISON.

Tried To End Her Life Because Sweetheart Failed To Call.

Pittsburg (Special).—Miss Mary Elizabeth Ballash, aged 25, a trained nurse of Atlantic City, attempted to end her life with bichloride of potash because her sweetheart failed to call as she expected.

She is at the Pittsburg Hospital, where the attending physicians believe she will recover.
Miss Ballash, whose home is 23 North Massachusetts Avenue, Atlantic City, arrived here last Saturday. Charles Price Mustin, a clerk, who is also organist at a wealthy Bellfield church, called each evening. Miss Ballash told her landlady that she and the young organist had been going together for about a year in Atlantic City, where he formerly lived.

Thursday evening he failed to call. She waited and worried, and at 9:30 went to the church to see if he was attending a rehearsal. Returning without finding him, she took from her trunk a bottle, and soon after drank the contents and threw herself on the bed.

Miss Ballash's father is a minister, now engaged with his wife in mission work in China.

AVENGERS MAKE MISTAKE.

Thinking Old Woman Was Disguised Man.

Shamokin (Special).—For some time a cloaked man has been annoying women in this place at night and various residents have been on the lookout for him. Sunday night a number of unknown young men thought they saw him hiding under an awning in a lonely part of town, whereupon they threw the supposed man to the ground and kicked and clubbed their victim until she was unconscious and blood flowed from numerous lacerations. Then they fled.

Later the object of their assault was discovered to be Mrs. Mary Baker, seventy-two years old. She was on the way home when she sat down for a brief rest, throwing a shawl over her head to protect herself from the cold weather. She was injured so badly that she may not recover.

PULLED DOWN MINE ROOF.

Scranton Miner Takes Strange Way Of Committing Suicide.

Scranton (Special).—Stanley Utenaki, enacting the roll of Sampson, pulled down the pillars of the underground house where he labored and deliberately killed himself on Saturday. It was all because Stanley had been told by his boarding house mistress that she would put him out. He had been dilatory in paying his board and after making this threat she quarreled with him.

The man left the house, went directly to his chamber in the Leggett Creek Mine, and, sending his laborer out of harm's way, proceeded to batter down the props. Tons of coal and rock fell upon him before any one realized what his purpose was.

Minister's Son A Runaway.

Lancaster (Special).—Boone Bowman, the 14-year-old son of Rev. D. J. C. Bowman, one of the faculty of the Reformed Theological Seminary in this city, has been missing since October 2, and his parents and friends are apprehensive for the boy's safety. The day of his disappearance he started for school and next day was seen in Philadelphia. The boy has brown eyes and hair, is small for his age and has a noticeable scar on right ear and one on right hand.

BRAINSTORM FAILS.

Mrs. Fern Arlington Planned To Kill Whole Family.

Norristown (Special).—Brainstorm was the unsuccessful defense made by Mrs. Fern Arlington at her trial here for shooting and attempting to kill Samuel Meng, with whom she resided for several years, the household being made up of Mrs. Arlington's daughter and Meng's three children in addition. She was convicted of assault with intent to kill. It developed during the trial that there was considerable method in her madness and that she shot the pistol with which she shot Meng for the purpose of killing the entire household. An interested spectator at the trial was Mrs. Meng, whose husband had deserted her to live with the prisoner.

Upon the close questioning of Judge Swartz Mrs. Arlington revealed her right name as Mrs. Edwin Dill, of Indiana. She left her husband and came East in search of adventure. It was while living in a petty little cottage at Jeffersonville, two miles west of this town, that she met Meng, a carpenter, who was making alterations to the dwelling. Shortly after that the two took up a residence in the Ridgway Mansion, on DeKalb Street, this borough, where the two, without any disguise, lived together, ostensibly as landlady and boarder.

Mrs. Arlington, as she was generally known, fired this life because she said she became secondary to Meng's 9-year-old daughter. Mrs. Arlington says that she became fond of the Meng children and several months before the shooting she discovered him guilty, she alleges, of certain acts towards his daughter. It was to avenge this barbarity that she shot Meng.

The principal and immediate cause for the shooting, she said, was that she learned on the day of the shooting that her suspicions of Meng's treatment of the child were correct.

Prison Physician Knipe testified that he would not say that the woman was insane and yet she had a species of insanity, which he called brainstorm, recognized by the medical profession, but not by the law. "Persons acting under such impulses," said he, "are not morally responsible as the doctors understand. The law defining sanity, however, does not recognize such a condition of mind as existed in Mrs. Arlington as denying moral responsibility and the persons suffering from it." The shooting, which caused a sensation here, occurred on Tuesday evening, July 16. Meng was shot in the back by Mrs. Arlington while at the supper table. The bullet is still in his body, although he has sufficiently recovered to be in court to testify.

The jury deliberated two hours before reaching a verdict and recommended her to the mercy of the Court.

JUDGE OPPOSES DIVORCE.

Would Limit The Right Of Separated Couples To Remarry.

Altoona (Special).—In decrying the increasing number of divorces Judge Martin Bell, in his address at the dedication of the remodeled Courthouse, said that divorces should not be permitted to remarry. His statement was:

From 1896 to the present time 312 divorces have been granted in Blair County. This large increase in the number of divorces applied for and granted is worthy of note on the part of lawmakers. Speaking for myself, I would amend our statutes so that absolute divorce would only be granted on the ground of adultery or for some other very grave reason. If husband and wife cannot live together because of incompatibility of temper or other minor reasons let them live apart, but do not allow them to remarry.

The Judge's words were received with marks of approval.

Found Dead In Field.

Reading (Special).—Joseph Meest, an aged and well-known farmer of near Landis' store, was found dead in a field, lying face downward, by a searching party composed of neighbors who were summoned by Mrs. Meest ringing the dinner bell on the farm when her husband failed to return to the house after leaving for the fields. James Kemp, one of the searching party, who is a Deputy Coroner of Berks County, decided that there was no evidence of foul play and issued a certificate of death due to paralysis. Meest was 73 years old and besides his wife leaves two sons and a daughter.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

William A. Carr, who had lived in Easton for the past thirty years, shot himself and died in a few minutes. He had been suffering from kidney trouble and believed that he could not recover. He was sixty-one years of age, and was a court-crier and constable.

The post office at Edinboro was entered by yeggmen, the safe was blown and $600 in cash and a quantity of stamps stolen. After blowing open the safe the robbers stole a horse and buggy and made their escape.

Midio Tirrotti, an Italian, who arrived in this country only four days ago, was instantly killed by falling forty-five feet from the roof of the Keystone furnace.

While walking on the Reading tracks from his home in Frackville to the Mahanoy Plane yards, Michael Harkins, an engineer, was run down by a coal train and had both feet cut off.

Losing his hold on a train he was boarding, Frank Shope, a car inspector of Altoona, aged 24, fell under the wheels and was killed.

114 YEARS OLD.

Mrs. Freeman's Busy Life Has Stretched Over Parts Of Three Centuries.

Clarion (Special).—Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, known in this section of the country as "Aunt Betsy," who is the oldest living person in the State, celebrated her 114th birthday anniversary at her home near Red Bank Junction, in Madison Township. Mrs. Freeman still retains her mental faculties and physical vigor. She is bright and active and in excellent health and when the weather permits spends most of her time out of doors. Every Spring sees her making her garden, planting her seeds and cultivating them.

Mrs. Freeman was born in Fayette County, near what is now the city of Conneville in the year 1793, that being the first year of Washington's second administration as President, which fact gives her the remarkable distinction of having lived during the administration of every President of the United States and in parts of three centuries.

At the age of 23 she and William Freeman were married and moved to this county. She is the mother of eleven children, seven of whom are now living. She has fifty-five grandchildren, twenty great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren living.

She has smoked a pipe ever since she was a girl and enjoys her tobacco today as well as she did seventy or eighty years ago. A recent caller took with him a box of good Havana cigars, which he presented her upon his introduction to her and it is reported they held quite a smoker, as he is himself very fond of tobacco.

She is a member of the Presbyterian Church and has been for eighty years.

COLLIERY ABANDONED.

Royal Oak, Failing To Pay Wages, Is Forced To Close Up.

Shamokin (Special).—The Royal Oak Colliery, owned by the Llewellyn Mining Company, and employing 300 men and boys, having engaged in a bitter strike, was totally abandoned, when the mines were hoisted from the slope workings, the cars all run together at one point and the fires drawn from under the boilers.

The operation flourished for a number of years but as the coal began to play out, the colliery began to take a step backward. Employees appeared for their pay on three occasions and were notified that pay day had been postponed pending the settlement of some financial matter. A complete tie-up resulted some time ago.

Probing For Graft.

Hollidaysburg (Special).—At the opening of Blair County Quarter Session Court, Judge Martin Bell directed the Grand Jury to investigate the charges of extravagance, bribe giving and taking and graft in connection with the recently remodelled courthouse.

The Judge counseled the Grand Jurors to hold public sessions and to subpoena all persons who possessed information, including the editors and correspondents of the newspaper that had published graft charges.

Material For State Roads.

Reading (Special).—A large stone crusher, costing $100,000, is being erected at Six-Penny Falls, Chester County, and five miles of track are being laid to connect with the Pennsylvania Railroad at Monaca, by the Keystone Stone Company, of Philadelphia.

New quarries are being opened and it is said to be the purpose of the company to supply the stone used in the construction and repairs of State roads. Philadelphia politicians are said to be interested in the enterprise.

To Push Coal Development.

Pottsville (Special).—As the result of a visit of officers of the Delaware & Hudson Coal Company, it was stated that the development of the coal lands which that corporation recently bought in the heart of the Reading Company's territory at a cost of millions of dollars will be pushed at once.

Saved By Nerve.

Altoona (Special).—L. L. Mastin, aged 24, of Forestville, Mich., was run over by a Pennsylvania Railroad train west of the city and lay for hours with both legs and right hand cut off. When he was discovered he had so much vitality that he directed how he was to be raised to be placed on the stretcher to give him the least pain.

Ill-Will Cost A Life.

Altoona (Special).—The coolness between Engineer W. B. Knisely and Fireman M. A. Wilson was discovered to be the primary cause of the death of Levi A. Chronister. At the inquest, Wilson testified he warned Knisely that there was an engine ahead, but Knisely ignored him, a collision followed and Chronister was crushed.

Claims Labels Were Counterfeited.

York (Special).—United States Commissioner John F. Kell, of this city, gave a hearing to N. G. Meads, a Red Lion cigar dealer, who is charged with fraudulently using the name of Wilson. It is said that in 1905 Mr. Meads used counterfeit union cigar labels, while trading as N. G. Meads, the Crown Cigar Company, Jefferson Cigar Company, and the Commonwealth Cigar Company. The defendant was held in $1000 bail for the United States District Court.

BACKACHE AND DESPONDENCY

Are both symptoms of organic derangement, and nature's warning to women of a trouble which will sooner or later declare itself.

How often do we hear women say, "It seems as though my back would break." Yet they continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, dragging sensations, nervousness and no ambition.

They do not realize that the back is the main-spring of woman's organism and quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the feminine organs or kidneys, and that aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed.

made from native roots and herbs has been for many years the most successful remedy in such cases. No other medicine has such a record of cures of feminine ills.

Miss Lena Nagel, of 117 Morgan St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:—"I was completely worn out and on the verge of nervous prostration. My back ached all the time. I had dreadful periods of pain, was subject to fits of crying and extreme nervousness, and was always weak and tired. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me."

A Trolley Hospital.

Milwaukee has a novelty in trolley cars. It is a hospital car which has recently been put in service. The interior of the car is fitted with three leather upholstered permanent stretchers. Hooks are placed in the sides near the ceiling, from which a fourth stretcher may be suspended.

At each end of the car are stationed cabinets supplied with complete surgical outfits, consisting of all necessary instruments as well as dressings that might be called for in emergency cases. The car is electrically heated, and water in a two gallon tank fed from a larger receptacle may be heated in the same manner. The car is not designed for city work, but in outlying districts first aid will be directed on the ground, instead of taking the sufferer to the city.

Magnetic Healing.

Dr. Wenzel, who is not a magnetic healer, explained to me in a thoroughly practical way the secret of the art. "The right hand of nearly every person is positive," he said, "while the left is negative. If your child is ill, if it is in a fever, a healthy perspiration will invariably bring instant relief. But medicines will often fail to produce this. Now, place your right hand on the forehead of the patient and your left on the bottom of the foot, or feet, and all the sweat glands will be opened. It is the completion of the electric circuit that causes this."

EASY FOOD

Ready For Instant Use Without Cooking.

Almost everyone likes a cereal food of some kind at breakfast and supper, but the ordinary way of cooking cereals results in a pasty mass that is hard to digest, and if not properly digested, the raw mass goes down into the intestinal tract where gas is generated and trouble follows.

Everyone knows that good food properly digested keeps the body well, while poor food, or even food of good quality that is poorly prepared and not digested, is sure to bring on some kind of disease.

The easiest food to digest in this line is Grape-Nuts, made from wheat and barley, and cooked thoroughly at the factory, some 12 to 16 hours being consumed in the different processes of preparation. The food, therefore, is ready for instant service and the starch has been changed to a form of Sugar, so that it is predigested and ready for almost immediate absorption.

A Chicago young lady writes that she suffered for years from indigestion and dyspepsia from the use of food that was not suitable to her powers of digestion. She says:

"I began using Grape-Nuts, and I confess to having had a prejudice at first, and was repeatedly urged before I finally decided to try the food, but I have not known what indigestion is since using it, and have never been stronger or in better health. I have increased in weight from 103 to 124 pounds."

People can be well, practically without cost, if they will adopt scientific food and leave off the indigestible sort. "There's a Reason."

Grape-Nuts Food is crisp and delicious to the taste. It should be served exactly as it comes from the package, without cooking, except in cases where it is made up into puddings and other desserts.—Book of delicious recipes, and "The Road to Wellville," in pgs.

BABY WASTED TO SKELETON.

In Torments With Terrible Sores of Face and Body—Tore at Flesh.—Cured by Cuticura.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. They began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton and was hardly able to walk. I sent to the drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since, and I can sincerely say that only for the Cuticura Remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D., No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 22, 1905."
