High Prices in The Klondike.
"High prices continue to prevail in Dawson," said T. F. Ryan, of Portland, Ore., at the Utopia, "which is probably the most expensive town in the world. It is a thriving place, with a population over 8,000, with warehouses, churches, banks, electric lights, wholesale and retail stores, and two up-to-date newspapers. The newspapers themselves are worthy of consideration in the light of expense, for they cost 25 cents a copy. At this time of the year three eggs ordered in a restaurant cost $1.50, while a caribou steak costs $1. Beer is worth $1 per bottle, and champagne, $10.50 a quart. It costs 50 cents to get shaved, and $1 for a hair cut. A glass of beer sells for 25 cents, and the glass is small. Oranges sell for 50 cents each, while creamery butter, made in the United States, brings $1 per pound. Boots bring $25 per pair, and shoes sell for $5 each. Good socks cost 80 cents a pair, while collars go for 35 cents each."—Nashville Tennessean.

At a term of the Circuit Court in Ohio not so long ago a "horse case" was on trial and a well-known "horse-man" was called as a witness.

"What did you do?"

BEGAN YOUNG
Had "Coffee Nerves" From Youth.
"When very young I began using coffee and continued up to the past six months," writes a Texas girl.
"I had been exceedingly nervous, thin and very yellow. After quitting coffee and drinking Postum Food Coffee about a month my nervousness disappeared and has never returned. This is the more remarkable as I am a Primary teacher and have kept right on with my work."
"My complexion now is clear and rosy, my skin soft and smooth. As a good complexion was something I had greatly desired, I feel amply repaid even tho' this was the only benefit derived from drinking Postum."
"Before beginning as I use I had suffered greatly from indigestion and headache; these troubles are now un-known."
"Best of all, I changed from coffee to Postum without the slightest inconvenience, did not even have a headache. Have known coffee drinkers who were visiting me, to use Postum a week without being aware that they were not drinking coffee."
"I have known several to begin the use of Postum and drop it because they did not boil it properly. After explaining how it should be prepared they have tried it again and pronounced it delicious."

NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

FINE FOR SAVING FISH.

Lebanon (Special).—Mayor E. A. Welmer, of this city, faces the prospect of paying $200 in fines for having spent $140 in illegally saving more than 5,000 fish from destruction. The Mayor was convicted of illegal fishing and obstructing a stream for the purpose of preventing the migration of fish.
The charges were brought by Chief Fish Warden Crisswell, of Harrisburg, as a result of the drawing off one of the city's South Mountain reservoirs last month, at which time more than fifty city officials and others were present. Mayor Welmer at the hearing before Alderman Gerberich admitted having taken over 5,000 catfish from the outlet of the reservoir and had them hauled to Lebanon in a street sprinkler. From here they were shipped in cans to his Exmoor farm, in Schuylkill county, and there placed in public streams.

He admitted ordering his policemen to the supply dam to conduct the fishing, but defended the action on the ground that the fish would have been destroyed in nearby fields and also on the ground that they could not be placed back in the dams as they made the water muddy and got into the water mains, where they died.
Mayor Welmer's fine was only $75—$50 for obstructing a stream and $25 for taking fish illegally—but he will assume responsibility for similar fines for police Sergeant L. D. Brandt, and for Policeman David Tice, who was also fined $25. Dr. John Walter, the Democratic leader of the county, was fined $25. Chief of Police John G. Zimmerman was discharged for lack of evidence.

Mayor Welmer will appeal the cases, acting for the other defendants. He asserts that he did not obstruct the stream as charged, having had nothing to do with the setting of the screen and merely took the fish after they were caught.

CHOKED AT DINNER TABLE.
Lancaster (Special).—In attempting to swallow a piece of meat at dinner while visiting a neighbor, James Frey, a tobacco farmer of Quarryville, choked to death.
The family of Joseph Swinehart were holding a celebration and Frey, who was 75 years of age, was invited. At the dinner table he was seen to gasp for breath. When it was seen that he was choking, home treatment was applied but to no avail.
Physicians were summoned, but before they responded death ensued. The deceased, while a Southerner by birth, served in the Union Army during the Civil War.

CUT IN NATURAL GAS.
Pittsburg (Special).—The Philadelphia company has announced a reduction in the price of natural gas in Pittsburg for domestic purposes, to 30 cents per thousand cubic feet, with 2½ cents discount if paid within ten days. The present price is 32 cents or 30 cents net. Until about four months ago the price was 27 cents gross, 25 net.
The announcement of a cut came as a surprise. It states there is "every indication of a business recession in the early part of next year that will result in reductions in the cost of labor and material" necessary for the natural gas service.

CRUSHED IN BREAKER.
Carbondale (Special).—John Ditchborn, a member of the firm of Ditchborn Sons, was ground to death in the breaker rolls at Mayfield. It is unknown how the accident happened as no one was around at the time.
Mr. Ditchborn had gone to the breaker to collect a bill and was waiting the appearance of the bookkeeper. The first intimation of his fate was given to the horrified employees as his frightfully mangled body came sliding down the shafts where the coal was being loaded into wagons. The dead man was 45 years old.

POOL BALLS AS MISSILES.
Wilkes-Barre (Special).—Using pool balls as missiles, Alexander Kurshy and John Zelosky attacked Justice of the Peace Thomas Ayres, of Miners Mills, and injured him so seriously that he is in a dangerous condition. The men were sent to jail.
Ayres recently committed them to the same place and they desired revenge.

Haste Proves Fatal.
Pottsville (Special).—Racing into Schuylkill Haven, from the Baker Farm, kept on doing a quick errand. Howard Ketter, aged 17 years, who rode a horse bareback, was thrown and fatally hurt.
The animal caught a shoe in the trolley rail and stumbled, Ketter went over his head and struck the curb with terrific force breaking his back.

Pretty Girls Arrested.
Shamokin (Special).—Sheriff Gemberling, of Mifflin County, arrested two pretty young girls here giving their names as Mary Stulack and Anna Costello. They are charged with robbery, the alleged crime being committed in Lewisport recently.
It is said the prisoners registered at a hotel at that place and robbed Miss Blanch Hock of $50 after which they fled to this place.

FLEEING ASSASSIN SHOT.

Millintown (Special).—A party of hunters who had been in the fields after game found a human target for their guns. The men were on their way home and were near the Pennsylvania Railroad station, when Julius Derr, a Pennsylvania Railroad employe at this place for the past twenty years, was shot and fatally injured by an Italian workman.
The Italian was drunk and had been disturbing others at the station, when Mr. Derr asked him to behave himself. Mr. Derr then walked away, as did also the Italian, when suddenly the Italian drew a revolver and shot three times at Mr. Derr, the first shot striking the arm, the other two inflicting fatal wounds in the head.

The Italian ran away, but was followed by a crowd, the hunters with their guns joining in pursuit of the assailant. He was found under a bridge just out of town and when asked to surrender opened fire on his pursuers. The pursuers then fired upon him, killing him instantly.
This outrage has created a bitter feeling here against the Italian colony, as Mr. Derr's wounds are considered fatal.

TO IMITATE SOLOMON.
Columbia (Special).—With Solomon's wisdom and an old adage Justice C. H. Storer hopes to decide a case now pending before him. Recently Constable Samuel Campbell charged R. Miller, a farmer, with larceny of seven chickens belonging to Mrs. A. M. Sherk. At the hearing Miller, his wife and an employe testified that the chickens belonged to him and Mrs. Sherk and two witnesses are equally positive the poultry was her property. With three witnesses arraigned against three the justice was unable to decide the perplexing question, but decided on a novel plan to aid him.
Remembering the saying "chickens come home to roost," he decided to try the experiment. On an afternoon to be designated by the Justice Constable Campbell will take the chickens to a point midway between the Miller farm and the home of Mrs. Sherk. After scattering feed on ground he will liberate the chickens. The Justice believes that after the chickens have fed they will go to their right "home" to roost. He is sure the plan will work and he will later be able to render a proper decision in the case.

BLACK HAND SUSPECT HELD.
Reading (Special).—Charged with sending threatening letters through the mail, Fedele Palasco, an alleged member of the Black Hand Society, was arrested by State Policeman Cady.
The prosecutor is R. A. Frasso, who conducts an Italian steamship agency and bank of exchange. He alleges that he received four letters in the past few weeks, all signed "Black Hand," and demanding sums varying from $500 to $1,200, under penalty of death. The writing in the letters is said to resemble Palasco's.

STICKS TO OLD COINS.
Franklin (Special).—General Charles Miller addressing a meeting of men bitterly attacked President Roosevelt for his action in ordering the discontinuance of the inscription "In God We Trust" on coins. That motto, he said, was the very foundation of our country and we cannot afford to eliminate it from our coins.
As for himself he will not handle a gold or silver coin that does not bear these inspiring words. He will limit himself to the use of paper money, checks and the old coins in the transaction of his business.

Limekiln A Fatal Couch.
Allentown (Special).—Lying at the base of a limekiln in Hanover, the dead body of a stranger supposed to be Frederick Schneider, of Ohio, was found. The man had evidently gone to sleep on top of the kilns and rolled off, fracturing his skull.

Died After Eating Dinner.
Bethlehem (Special).—Partaking of a hearty dinner at his home at Shoensville, George W. Birch, a wealthy farmer, arose from the table, and as he was putting on his coat, fell over dead from heart trouble. He was 51 years old.

Foreigners Returning Home.
Reading (Special).—The exodus of foreigners from the Schuylkill Valley continues. Nearly every day delegations of 50 to 100 pass through here bound for New York. During the past month 1,500 from along the Reading system departed for the old country.

Eight Years For Incendiary.
Norristown (Special).—With a good situation and a chance to redress himself after being freed from the House of Refuge, Charles Burton, a colored youth, was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary, charged with incendiarism in setting fire to the barn of John Martin, at North Wales, on November 17. The Martin's home came near being destroyed with the barn.

COMMERCIAL COLUMN.

Weekly Review of Trade and Latest Market Reports.

Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says:

Improvement is reported in retail trade and sentiment is more hopeful in some commercial departments, but pending resumption of active demand manufacturers restrict production. Financial conditions are less disturbing, much relief resulting from large import of gold, while a better feeling was caused by the announcement of further Government aid, although the proposed bonds and certificates have not increased the actual supply of money. Mercantile collections are irregular, some sections of the country reporting unexpectedly prompt settlement, while at other points they are slow.

The final returns for October indicated a favorable trade balance for the United States of $68,747,482, and still better results are promised for November by preliminary reports available for three weeks. No further difficulty is anticipated in meeting payrolls, now that the midmonth settlements have been made without serious delay. Holiday trade has opened, wholesale houses distributing goods to dealers throughout the country.

Little alterations is noticed in quotations of iron and steel, reduction in price being averted by restriction of output. Any pressure to force sales would result in concessions, but producers maintain the statistical position by shutting down all capacity for which there is no demand.

Coins Were Hidden For 2,200 Years.

A hundred specimens of the silver tetradrachm of Alexander the Great, part of a find of 500 pieces, made recently in lower Egypt, have been brought to New York. They were found in an earthen jar hidden in the side of an ancient well, where they had laid undisturbed for over 2,200 years. These pieces are very thick and the silver is of great purity. They correspond in weight to the half dollar.

The obverse bears the head of Hercules in a lion's skin. The reverse shows Zeus, seated in a chair, and all bear the name of Alexander in Greek. Many interesting monograms and mint marks were found in this lot, and some of the pieces bore the Greek word, for the mint marks, designating the towns or cities where they were struck were the forepart of a ram, a bow, a warrior, a plow, a helmet, and so on.

The coins are all struck in very high relief, so high that the modern bank teller would have trouble in stacking more than three or four pieces without their tumbling over. They were found at Luxor.—New York Times.

Paying The "Lightening."

A party of American tourists who were comfortably established in a hotel in Germany discovered a new contribution to "English as she is spoke," only this time they found it in the written word. The building had been recently wired for electricity, and under the bulbs in each room directions were posted in French, German, and English. The French was irreproachable, the German nearly so, and the English read as follows:
"To open and shut the lightning electrical on, is requested to turn to the right hand. On going to bed it must be closed. Otherwise the lightning must be paid."—Boston Herald.

NIGHT SWEATS, NO APPETITE USED PE-RU-NA

MRS. LIZZIE LOHR, 1155 W. 13th St., Chicago, Ill., writes:
"I take pleasure in writing you these few lines, thinking there may be other women suffering the same as I did. I had my complaints for over a year, night sweats all winter and no appetite. I was run-down so far that I had to sit down to do my cooking, I was so weak."
"I tried many different medicines and doctors also. Nothing seemed to do me any good. The doctors wanted to operate on me."
"At last I wrote to Dr. Hartman. I told him just exactly how I was, and he told me what ailed me and how I should take Peruna."
"I did as he told me for four months, and now I am all cured."
"No one can tell how thankful I am to him, as I had given up all hopes of ever getting well again."
"I am a widow and the mother of six small children who depend on my support. I work all day and seldom get tired."
"I took five bottles of Peruna in all."
"Any woman wishing to know more about my case may write to me and I will gladly tell all about it."
"I thank Dr. Hartman for what he has done for me."

"After having the measles my whole head and neck were covered with scaly sores about as large as a penny. They were just as thick as they could be. My hair all came out. I let the trouble run along, taking the doctor's blood remedies and rubbing on salve, but it did not seem to get any better. It stayed that way for about six months; then I got a set of the Cuticura Remedies, and in about a week I noticed a big difference, and in three weeks it was well entirely and I have not had the trouble any more, and as this was seven years ago, I consider myself cured.
