

NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

GAME WARDEN FINED.

Huntingdon (Special).—William Schaffer, game warden of Perry County, residing at Newport, upon a hearing before Justice J. R. Householder, at Alexandria, was fined $100 and $60 costs for shooting a doe in Diamond Valley, Huntingdon County, on November 19 last. The penalty carries with it a prohibition against hunting on State lands in the future and forfeits his position as game warden.

MURDERER HUNG.

Harrisburg (Special).—Jacob Stehman, who killed his wife at the Broad Street Market, in this city, thirteen months ago, in a fit of drunken jealousy, was hanged in the Dauphin County prison yard Friday. Stehman's neck was broken by the fall. After he had hung eighteen minutes he was pronounced dead. His body was turned over to an undertaker for interment at Oberlin.

AX BUSY IN GREATER CITY.

Pittsburg (Special).—Mayor George W. Guthrie's first act as chief executive of Greater Pittsburg was to call for the resignation of Samuel J. Grenet, of Allegheny, who has been Director of Public Safety of the North Side city, and who, under the new city charter became Deputy Director.

Grenet was one of four men indicted with former State Senator Elliott Rodgers in connection with the bogus tax receipt scandals, and it was against him that District Attorney Goehring directed charges in court, when he declared that the North Side police were being used to cover up the scandal.

JEALOUSY PROMPTS MURDER.

Altoona (Special).—George John, a Syrian merchant, was shot and killed here by Tony A. Michaels, another Syrian storekeeper, because of the former's attentions to the latter's wife.

Michaels left his wife three months ago because of these attentions, and with the aid of friends she started a small store in another part of the city. Hearing that John continued to visit his wife, Michaels secreted himself in a small yard attached to his wife's store and killed John as he entered the yard.

IRON MILLS RESUME.

Reading (Special).—As an indication of better feeling in the iron market, the Exeter Steam Forge at Loraine and the puddle mill of the Glasgow Iron Company at Pine Iron Works Station have both resumed.

NEW PITTSBURG SUBURB.

Pittsburg (Special).—A Philadelphia syndicate, headed by W. E. Hershey, of Philadelphia, closed the deal for the purchase of 100 acres in Sterrett Township, just inside the boundaries of Greater Pittsburg. The price of the property is given as $250,000.

SCHOOL DROPS INTO MINE.

Mahanoy City (Special).—During the absence of teachers and scholars from the St. Nicholas Schoolhouse for dinner at the noon hour the east wing of the building dropped into a newly made mine breach, pulling the entire structure out of shape.

Mystery In Man's Shooting.

Lewistown (Special).—Henry Innis, 35 years old, an iron worker of this city, lies at the home of his brother in Yeagertown in a precarious condition from a bullet wound in the right hip.

BLOW COSTS $2148.

Norristown (Special).—Mistaking the intention of Benjamin Lobb when he asked her to come behind the coal bin to read the water meter, Mrs. William N. Reed fled from her Oak Lane house to seek police protection. On her husband's learning the cause of his wife's terror, Reed hunted up Lobb and promptly knocked him down with a right hand blow from the shoulder that came like a streak of lightning from a clear sky because Lobb was entirely unaware that he had given offense.

Explanations were made in the magistrate's office here when Lobb testified that as an inspector for the Springfield Water Company he had visited the Reed home to inspect the meter. According to custom he asked Mrs. Reed to accompany him to the cellar to see the test made and when he called to her to come behind the bin to read the meter he was surprised to hear her run from the house.

Thieves Big Haul.

Allentown (Special).—Thieves got away with nearly $1,000 worth of goods, when they entered the store of Isaac Sinkewitz, of Fogelsville, and carried away the entire stock of several of the departments of the store.

Baby Kills Playmate.

Scranton (Special).—While the 3-year old son of Alfred Thomas, of West Scranton, was playing at the home of a neighbor, he blew off the head of Anthe McNally, his 8-year-old little friend, with a shotgun. The gun was left within reach of the children and the boy could not lift it from the floor, but in some manner he managed to pull the trigger, with the tragic result related.

Sand As Fire Extinguisher.

Mahanoy City (Special).—A live wire falling down on telephone wires caused a merry riot of flames and light explosions in the United Telephone Exchange here during which Miss Sadie Skoath, the chief operator, gave a splendid exhibition of pluck and nerve.

Lanterns Set Fire To Barns.

Reading (Special).—Three barns have been burned in this county in as many days and the cause of each was the explosion of a lantern. The latest to be destroyed was the barn of the State Hill Hotel. A lantern in a wagon of one of the guests exploded and set fire to the wagon shed and the flames communicated to the barn.

$100 A Pound For Poultry.

York (Special).—G. G. Shoemaker, a breeder of fine poultry near this city, has just sold a buff Orpington hen to A. J. Check, of Henderson, N. C., for $400. The hen won the first prize at Madison Square Garden. It weighs just four pounds, costing the purchaser $100 per pound.

Brakeman Shot By Rat Hunter.

Mauch Chunk (Special).—Roger Neff, of Bethlehem, 25 years old, brakeman on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was shot in the head by George Bankes, a rat hunter, at Lehighton. Neff was passing over his train just as Bankes shot at a large rodent and received a full charge of birdshot at close range. The train was stopped and the injured man sent to a hospital.

Girl Sent To House Of Refuge.

Norristown (Special).—Blanche Shelmitte, the pretty Cheltenham Township girl, who stole $95 of her grandfather's money previous to seeing sights in Philadelphia, was committed to the House of Refuge by the Montgomery County Court, and she was taken there by Sheriff Matthews.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

While George Otter, of Mechanicsville, Schuylkill County, was cleaning a Flobert rifle at his home, with his wife in front of him watching the operation, the weapon was discharged, the bullet passing through the woman's left knee.

THE ANNUAL HOLIDAY PROBLEM.

ABOLITION OF POOLROOMS MAY BE ABSOLUTE SOON.

Expected That Louisiana and California Will Prohibit Sending of News —Jockey Club's Bitter Fight—Every Means Used, Including Refined Violence, to Keep Information Secret.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Abolition of the poolroom for good and all throughout the country is expected soon after January 1 next. Action begun by the Jockey Club of New York State, in conforming to the now famous Belmont-Slicer agreement made in 1906 to keep news from the tracks, has been followed officially in other States permitting racing and probably will be in the last two strongholds of the poolroom men—Louisiana and California.
