Got What He Called For.

A tall, sallow individual entered a Girard avenue restaurant a day or two ago, laid his broad-rimmed sombrero on the chair beside him, and in answer to the waiter's quary as to what he would have, said fiercely: "Fried rattlesnake" The waiter, not at all abashed, went to the hole in the wall and roared: "Fried rattlesnake!" Back from the depths came the answei: "Fried rattlesnake!" The man with the sombrero looked surprised, but waited. The cook below, evidently alive to the situation, skinned an eel, fried it, and sent it aloft, rearing out again: "Fried rattlesnake!" to which the waiter responded in the same words, as he took the dish from the dumb-wait-When the viand was set be o e him the tall person arose, put on his hat,

Gum and Thought.

One thing is certain-you cannot chew gum and taink at the same time with any degree of success. You may chew gcm and work mechanically, you may read with gum in your mouth, and perhaps not miss anything in the author, but when it comes right down to good hard mental effort, you cannot concentrate and achieve the best results of which you are capable while your jaws work unceasingly. That champing is just so much wasted energy, and as such dissipates your force and keeps your thinking powers reduced to the lowest point. Just put it down in your notebook as a fact that no man can think deep, logical or well-balauced thoughts while his jaws are working overtime. - Chicago Tribune.

Castro's Star.

In spite of the hostility of the whole world President Castro of Venezuela manages to keep himself in power in his own country. He is a little man who walks with a limp. His lameness was caused by a bullet wound received when he was making his theatrical campaign for the presidency.

On one occasion Castro was sitting out a dance with the wife of the American minister. As was Napoleon, he is a firm believer in the influence of astronomical bodies over the destines of men. On the night in question the sky was radiant. One big star was so brilliant that it attracted the lady's attention

"Look at that star. Mr. President," she said. "It seems to be watching over the whole earth.

"That is true," replied Castro gradiloquently. "That star is my star. When that star shall fall I shall fall."

There was an arrogance in his tone that left no doubt in the mind of his hearer that he was fully convinced as to the accuracy of his belief. He made this statement five years ago and his star still scems to be in the ascendent .- Chiago Tribune.

A doctor said:---

"Before marriage my wire observed in summer and country homes, coming in touch with families of varied means, culture, tastes and discriminating tendencies, that the families using Postum seemed to average better than those using coffee.

"When we were married two years ago, Postum was among our first order of groceries. We also put in some coffee and tea for guests, but after both had stood around the pantry about a year untouched, they were thrown away, and Postum used only.

"Up to the age of 28 I had been accustomed to drink coffee as a routine habit and suffered constantly from indigestion and all its relative disorders. Since using Postum all the old complaints have completely left me and I sometimes wonder if I ever had them."

ECZEMA SEEMED INCURABLE.

Body was Raw-Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless-Cuticura Remedies Cured Him.

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. In spite of treatments the disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw .. He used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep and the agony he went through is quite beyond words. The regimental doctor pronounced the case hopeless. We had him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but had gotten almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured.

In the good old kaffir corn days of Blaine county, when Uncle John Dillon. the Geary banker, and County Clerk Tyler hauled cedar posts to El Reno and Ok'ahoma City and sold them to buy bread for their families, they would go to hear a good old preacher, who was a post hauler with them. This good old brother in his prayers would thank God for his goodness to them, and one season. when he was especially thankful for a good crop raised, but not forgetful of the past, he said: "Dear Lord, lest in days to come we forget, we thank thee, O God, for the cedar in the canons."-Watonga Herald.
