

THE 1905 ROAD LAW.

The Superior Court Affirms the Opinion of Judge Sadder that Commissioners Must Take Care of Condemned Turnpikes.

The Superior Court, while sitting in Williamsport, last week, handed down an opinion that will interest many of the Reporter readers, and especially those in Penns Valley. The decision referred to confirmed the action of Judge Sadder, of Cumberland county, who decided that the commissioners in that county were obliged, under the act of 1905, to maintain turnpikes that had been condemned, and purchased by county funds. This decision effects many localities within the state, for the majority of the many turnpikes that once traversed the various sections of Pennsylvania have been condemned and now come under this law.

From Howard.

The Howard correspondent to the Bellefonte Republican says:

The election returns for this borough last Tuesday were the most surprising of any election ever held. As is customary the Democrats voted their tickets straight and many of the Democratic candidates received a large vote from the Republican side giving the former some of the offices. Some of the old line Republicans of the first order were defeated and persons who had recently moved into the borough given offices instead. If the Republicans would stick to their ticket like the Democrats there is only one office that a Democrat could ever get in Howard and that is the minority inspector. New comers to Howard can count on being elected to a borough office about as soon as they are located. Although he did not seek the nomination and requested his friends not to vote for him, A. A. Fletcher was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace. Come to think of it Al. is just about the right carriage and of proper corpulence for a 'Squire and 'Squire A. A. Fletcher sounds somewhat dignified.

J. O. Murray's New Departure.

After two months of remarkable sales, J. D. Murray, the enterprising druggist, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

He has sold hundreds of bottles of the specific; and as yet has not had one returned, although he stands ready at any time to refund the money should any customer be dissatisfied. This is the strongest testimony that can be furnished to the great merit of this medicine.

Anyone, suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of Mr. Murray's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Under Mr. Murray's special half price offer, this means a month's treatment for 25 cents, with the best medicine known for the cure of constipation and stomach troubles.

COURT NEWS.

After hearing motions and petitions the constables of the several districts of Centre county, elected on the 18th of February were called and sworn into office and bonds approved. The court then instructed them as to their duty in making quarterly returns to the court, observations of public roads and finger-boards, and of licensed places, and observe that the law is observed by licensees, and also to return illegal liquor selling and observe speakases and make return thereof.

The first case called was James D. Selbert vs. J. H. Lingle, being an assumpsit. This case is from Bellefonte, and is brought by the plaintiff to recover balance of wages alleged to be due him. Verdict Tuesday afternoon in favor of the plaintiff for $263.97.

Hannah Kein vs. the borough of Philipsburg. This is an action brought in trespass against the defendant borough for an accident sustained by the plaintiff on the sidewalks of defendant borough. The plaintiff is rather aged and a widow. She tripped on a loose board, falling on her side, injuring her right arm and limb. A verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $150.00.

DEATHS.

MISS SUSAN WILKINSON.

Tuesday morning of last week Miss Susan Wilkinson, aged seventy-two years, four months and sixteen days, died in Harrisburg. The remains were brought to Potters Mills, and interment was made at Sprucetown Friday. The deceased was a native of Potters Mills, and is survived by two brothers, Henry Wilkinson, of Millinburg, and Joseph Wilkinson, of Clearfield county, also two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Buck and Miss Rachael Wilkinson, both of Harrisburg. She was the aunt of John Wilkinson, of Potters Mills.

There were present at the funeral her sister, Mrs. Buck, and brother, Henry, also the following grandnieces and grandnephews: Aida, Anna and William Wilkinson, of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Brose Rhoads, of Pittsburg.

MRS. R. N. HENDERSON.

Mrs. Rachael Henderson, wife of R. N. Henderson, died at her Buffalo Run home Tuesday morning, due to a complication of diseases. She was aged forty-nine years, and was a daughter of the late Benjamin F. Hunter.

Two children—Nancy and Bertha—as well as the husband survive, as do also the mother and the following brothers and sisters: Craig Hunter, Fillmore; Robert and Dorsey Hunter, Bellefonte, and Mrs. Nannie Reeser, Millheim.

Henry Harvey, aged eighty-three years, died at the home of his son, Irvin Harvey, at State College, Saturday morning. He was born at Cedar Run, Clinton county, but later lived in Centre and Blair counties. He was the director of the Farmers' Institutes in Blair county for twelve years. During the last two years of his life he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Strunk, in Howard.

Michael Zimmerman died at his home at Loganton of the infirmities of age, he having reached his seventieth year. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Emma Rosenberry, of Rosecrans, and Mrs. Luther Best, of Loganton.

Good sledding now. In some sections the roads have a depth of several feet of snow, but the snow is packed sufficiently to carry teams and sleds.

S. M. Campbell, the Millheim furniture dealer, makes an announcement in these columns that will be well worth considering by those wishing to buy furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus S. Sankey, of Potters Mills, were in Centre Hall Monday evening. Mr. Sankey is the teacher of the Potters Mills Grammar school and is meeting with success.

MADE IT RIGHT.

Yet It Was Not Easy For the Salesman to Grasp the Boss' Scheme.

In one of the suburbs of London there is a wholesale firm the senior member of which may be known as Mr. Blank. The firm has two travelling salesmen—a single man, receiving 30 shillings per week, and the other a married man, drawing £2 per week.

A short time ago the single man, being in the shop and looking over matters, discovered that the married salesman was receiving 10 shillings per week more salary than himself, while he (the single man) was selling more goods. He called Mr. Blank's attention to this and suggested that, as he was selling more than the other fellow, he should at least receive as much pay.

The senior partner acknowledged the apparent inconsistency and assured his man that he would look into it and if the statement were correct he would make matters right.

Another week rolled by, and when the single man came to draw his salary from the bookkeeper he was surprised to find only 30 shillings passed out to him the same as before. He demurred. The bookkeeper insisted he had received no instructions to raise his pay and referred him to the governor. Approaching Mr. Blank, he said:

"You remember, sir, I spoke to you last week about my salary, stating that, while I was selling more goods than the other traveler, I was receiving less pay, and I thought I should receive as much as he did. You assured me you would look into it and make matters right."

"Yes," said Mr. Blank, "I remember your mentioning the matter, and I made it right, didn't I?"

"Why, no; I don't see how you have, as the bookkeeper has just paid me the same amount as before. I can't see how that is making it right, sir."

"You don't understand," said the senior partner. "I have made it right. You thought you ought to have as much pay as the other man, and I have made it right by cutting the other fellow's pay down."—London Tit-Bits.

THE ENCORE HABIT.

How Sims Reeves Turned the Tables on One of His Admirers.

Sims Reeves, who in his day was accepted as the most celebrated tenor on the concert stage, was so much of a favorite that whenever he sang he was usually greeted with a hearty encore, accompanied with enthusiastic cheers.

Reeves was very good natured about the matter, but he made it a rule never to sing more than one selection when he felt that his voice was not in first class shape. He happened to notice that an elderly man, who turned out to be a dealer in hats along the Strand, London, attended nearly every concert within convenient distance if Sims Reeves happened to be on the bill and generally led the encore brigade. This latter was a persistent person and often applauded until he had forced Reeves to respond to double and triple encores.

Determined to teach the little hatter a lesson, one afternoon just as dark was approaching Reeves entered his admirer's store and said, "One hat, please," naming the particular shape which he desired. The little hatter didn't recognize the great tenor and handed out one hat.

"Good," said Reeves. "How much is this hat?"

"Five shillings," said the store proprietor.

"Encore," said Reeves. A second hat was forthcoming, and Reeves ultimately obtained three "encore" hats. When the little hatter demanded £1 sterling for the purchases Reeves pretended to be furious.

"Send these four hats to this address," ordered the tenor in terrible tone, "but I only pay for one hat. Do you understand? The three other hats are 'encore' hats. If you make me sing songs for nothing you must send me hats for nothing."

The little hatter was speechless.—Portland Oregonian.

A Startling Debut.

A comedy of errors describes the first appearance on the stage of Mr. Huntley Wright. He was supposed to impersonate the warden of a madhouse, and the scene opened with the brutal ill treatment of the hero, and it ended with a gunpowder explosion. In his nervousness the warden dropped his cap, and, being agitated and short-sighted, he picked up the pan of gunpowder instead. It instantly blew up, nearly frightening him out of his wits. He rushed from the stage and collapsed, as he thought, on a stool in the wings, which turned out to be a fire bucket full of water!—London Answers.

Good Judgment.

"Your partner," remarked the privileged friend, "seems to be a man of unusually good judgment."

"You bet he is," replied the self acknowledged brains of the firm. "Why, he never makes a move without asking my advice!"—Chicago News.

A Mean Question.

Charles—I heard the other day that Gerald is going to get married.

Edward—Well, why shouldn't he? He's comfortably well off.

"That's just the whole point. Why doesn't he remain so?"

Obstinate.

"Why don't you quit smoking, old chap? You know it hurts you."

"Certainly. But every time I make up my mind to do it somebody comes around and tells me I ought to!"—Puck.

Have One Doctor

No sense in running from one doctor to another. Select the best one, then stand by him. Do not delay, but consult him in time when you are sick. Ask his opinion of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds. Then use it, not, just as he says.

Always keep a box of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Just one pill at bedtime, now and then, will ward off many an attack of biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, etc. How many years has your doctor known these pills? Ask him all about them.

Eggs For Hatching

One-Day-Old Chicks

Single Comb White Leghorns & Barred Plymouth Rocks

20 PENS That Will Do You Good To Look At. Having received two new Incubators gives us room now for 1000 eggs each hatch.

We Guarantee Good Strong Chicks

By buying chicks you get just what you pay for—no loss in bad eggs—chicks dead in shell—broken eggs or hen leaving nest and spoiling them all. Then your chicks are FREE FROM LICE, and we have not had a single case of gaps since we have been in the business. To get eggs in winter we find by experience (as well as reading up the matter), that we must have Pullets hatched at the proper time to start laying in the fall and will then lay all winter. Old hens do not recover from the molting period before cold weather sets in; consequently do not lay till towards spring when price is down. Place your order with us soon as we have orders now (Feb. 25), unsolicited, for 1600 chicks and numerous orders for eggs may have to disappoint you if order is placed late. REMEMBER your chicks or eggs will be from a fine laying strain as our winter egg record will show and free from disease of any kind, never having had any disease in our buildings. Come and see us if you can or write or telephone.
