The cruise of the "American Battle Fleet" from Hampton Roads to Magdalena Bay is the greatest sailing record made by any navy

The fleet left Hampton Roads December 16, arrived at Trinidad December 24, at Rio Janeiro January 12, passed into the Strait of Magellan January 31, at Valparaiso February 14, Callao February 20.

The total cruise of 13,000 miles was covered in about 58 sailing days, it being 87 days since the fleet left Hampton Roads.

The 3,200-mile run from Callao, Peru, to Magdalena Bay took 11 days and 20 hours, 2 days ahead of the scheduled time to that point.

The 200 delegates, representing all the states and territories and a dozen or more of the leading countries of the world, were received at the White House at 2.30 o'clock P. M., when President Roosevelt delivered an address to them, in which he declared that he placed the society ahead of the Civil War veterans, because, he said, in the final analysis, it is the mother only who is a better citizen that the soldier who fights for his country.

The President said, in part:

"I receive many societies here in the White House, many organizations of good men and women, striving to do all that in them lies for the betterment of our social and civic condition, but there is no other society which I am quite as glad to receive as this. This is the one body that I put even ahead of the veterans of the Civil War, because when all is said it is the mother, and the mother only, who is a better citizen even than the soldier who fights for his country.

"The successful mother, the mother who does her part in rearing and training aright the boys and girls who are to be the men and women of the next generation, is of greater use to the community and occupies. if she only would realize it, a more honorable, as well as a more important position, than any successful map in it
