Religious services were held over the remains at the house Sunday afternoon, and Monday morning the body was shipped to Centre Hall for interment, and was accompanied by her son and wife Monday evening the body was taken direct from the train to the cemetery, where a short ceremony was performed by Dr. W. E. Fischer, of Shamokin, and Rev. B. F. Bieber, of Centre Hall. Mrs. Wolf was the eldest of two daughters of Henry Witmer, and was born at Aronsburg, June 1, 1828, making her age almost eighty years. Her father, early in the history of Centre Hall—1846—moved to this place, bringing his family with him. During September, 1854, the marriage of the deceased to William Wolf was consummated, and up to April, 1901, they were residents of Centre Hall, and were prominently connected with every movement in the Lutheran church during that time. The Wolf home was the home of the church's ministers, and all others who chanced to be in Centre Hall on a mission of the church. Mrs. Wolf's illness extended over a period of several months, during all of which time the affliction was born with christian fortitude. One son, already named, who is the only child, survives, as does also one sister, Maggie, wife of Isaac Smith, of Centre Hall.

She had been ailing all winter, but was confined to bed only the last two weeks. Mrs. Bricker was a member of the Lutheran church. Services were held at the home of Mrs. Cramer, at Punksutawney, Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. S. F. Himes, of the Lutheran church. And yet the booted Governor said the Capitol was cheap.

After all Penny's penny-a-mile excursions to Harrisburg were all for naught. It only emphasized to the thousands of people who took advantage of the low rate that while the Capitol was beautiful it had a distinct smell of graft about it.

The commonwealth owes itself three things in the capitol graft cases: The imprisonment of the grafters, the recovery of the stolen money, and adequate punishment of ex-Governor Pennypacker. If the ex-governor cannot be prosecuted as a common criminal he should be ostracized politically and socially, and his name erased from history.

AN OPEN LETTER.

BELLEFONTE, PA, March 16, 1908.

I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of Member of the General Assembly. The condition of the roads and the short time remaining until the date of the primaries renders a canvass of the county impossible.

In answer to numerous inquiries, I beg to say that I concede the fairness of the demand that each candidate declare his attitude upon what it is agreed will be two very important questions for decision in the coming session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania—the election of a United States Senator and the adoption of a Local Option Measure. When certain issues are clearly fore-shadowed, I admit the right of the people to be informed in advance on which side of the question the candidate stands. They will not tolerate any dodging or evasion. I do not hesitate, therefore, to say with absolute candor that if nominated and elected—

I will unalterably oppose the re-election of Senator Penrose to the United States Senate.

Believing in the right of the majority to rule, I shall support a bill that will give the people an opportunity to determine for themselves whether or not they want intoxicating liquors sold as a beverage. The spirit of our institutions and the fundamental principles of our government suggests the fairness of the proposition. It is a business that affects their general welfare and they should have a voice in the determination of the question.

If I should become the representative from this county, I should feel it my duty to labor incessantly for such legislation as will best promote the interests of our farmers, merchants, manufacturers, miners, laborers and the public institutions within the confines of our county.

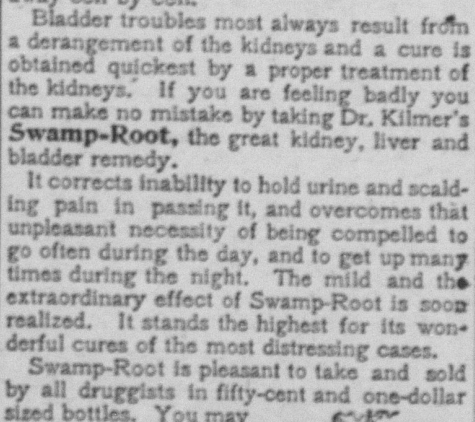

And I should regard it equally my duty to most vigorously oppose all vicious legislation conceived and proposed in the interest of a class that thrives upon vice, immorality and political jobbery.

If, with me, you feel that as citizens we will be benefitted by the enactment of Laws calculated to advance the cause of civic decency, to secure the adoption of cleaner methods in politics, and to generally improve the condition of all the people, I now pledge you unreservedly my earnest effort for the accomplishment of such Legislation and I sincerely request your support of my candidacy at the Primaries, April 11, 1908.

Very truly yours, J. C. MEYER.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail, Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Alcohol not needed

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a strong drink. As now made, there is not a drop of alcohol in it. It is a non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. Ask your own doctor about your taking this medicine. Follow his advice every time. He knows.

Ask your doctor, "What is the first great rule of health?" Nine doctors out of ten will quickly reply, "Keep the bowels regular." Then ask him another question, "What do you think of Ayer's Pills for constipation?"
