COALS
Pie naturally makes the dyspeptic feel crusty.

Mrs. L. L. Smith was taken ill last week with tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roseman occupy the Dinges property.

John D. More, west of Centre Hall, was taken ill suddenly, Sunday.

Remember it takes 18 X's to vote the full Democratic ticket at the primary.

Edward Royer, landlord at Old Fort hotel, is suffering from a severe attack of the grip.

John Foreman is in Valparaiso, Indiana, where he is working with a civil engineering corps.

Mrs. Henney's millinery, opening Friday and Saturday of this week. Ladies, this is for your information.

Samuel McClellan, forty-nine years old, of Burnham, fell dead while working at the cold shears in the Logan Iron and Steel Works.

Remember Mrs. Henney's millinery opening Friday and Saturday of this week. The stock will be unusually varied and thus it can be suited.

Tuesday morning Rev. D. Gress received a message from Adamsburg saying that Mrs. Gress was ill. He immediately took the train for her bedside.

Jacob Swires, of Phillipsburg, candidate for the legislature, accompanied by C. U. Hoffer, made a trip through Penns Valley, reaching Centre Hall Tuesday afternoon.

W. J. Carlin, candidate for treasurer; Thomas Howley, candidate for recorder; George F. Weaver, candidate for register, were in Centre Hall Monday looking up voters.

Commissioner Weaver was in town Tuesday delivering election ballots. And just here let it be said that the voter at the primaries must make eighteen X's if he wants to vote the whole ticket.

The death of Carl Wilson McCully, a member of the firm McCully, Hickman & Co., contractors and builders, in Pittsburg, caused Samuel F. Snyder to be out of employment for a time, but the firm has now been changed, and Mr. Snyder is on the force again.

Claude K. Stahl, accompanied by his cousin, Miss Bessie Rockey, both of Altoona, were the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stahl, west of Centre Hall. Mr. Stahl is employed in the offices of the Pennsy, and has been working on full time during the panic.

W. A. Carson, who succeeded Isaac Smith as tenant on the Mitchell farm east of Centre Hall, has contracted with Branch company No. 18 for a Bell telephone. This connects every farmer between Centre Hall and M. L. Rishel's, at Farmers Mills, who lives along the line, by telephone.

A year ago in February W. D. Strunk moved from Centre Hall to Yeagerstown, and now is in Centre Hall awaiting his household goods which he shipped a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Strunk will move into the Mitterling property, owned by J. H. McCool, near Red Mill, and will work among the farmers in that locality.

Edward Lair is now domiciled in the new tenement house on the E. M. Huyett farm, west of Centre Hall. His services have been engaged for a year by Mr. Huyett, and he will assist Perry H. Luse in conducting the farming operations. Mr. Lair moved here from near Nigh Bank, he having formerly been employed in the ore mines.

D. A. Boozer is advertising Dr. Hess Stock Food. It is one of the most popular foods on the market, and has been sold by him for many years with such success that he has built up a large trade. Firms that do not fear advertising their foods in local papers can be depended upon as being just what they are represented to be. Give Dr. Hess Stock Food a trial, and note the results.

Rev. J. C. Kelly, retired clergyman well known in this community, now living in Vandergrift, pleasantly surprised Rev. W. H. Schuyler by knocking at the manse door Thursday morning. He remained till Friday morning, being a much interested auditor at Thursday evening's Local Option meeting. He spent the winter with a nephew in Sunbury and is now making several short visits on his way home. From Centre Hall he went to Bellefonte.

Rev. S. L. Boston, who begins evangelistic services in the Presbyterian church, April 19, is considered a strong preacher and is spoken of in the highest terms by those who have had the privilege of hearing him. The communities in which he held meetings have been greatly blessed. In Reedsville so great was the interest that "business places" including the pool room and saloon, closed for men's meetings.

Auction at Colyer.

There will be auction at the Copenhaver store Saturday evening, 11th inst., candles and shoes being the chief goods to be offered. All are invited to attend the auction sale.

DEATHS.

CLARA LOUISE KELLER.
Miss Clara Louise Keller, died at her home in Boalsburg, Wednesday afternoon of last week. For several years past she had been an invalid, but three weeks ago she had a severe attack of heart failure, from which she never rallied. Miss Keller was a descendant of one of the oldest, and best known families of Centre county, being a daughter of the late Henry and Margaret Keller of Boalsburg. Her life was spent in her old home where she was widely known and universally beloved and esteemed as a most kind and gracious woman.
She was a member of St. John's Reformed Church, and until her health failed was a most faithful and devoted worker in the Master's cause. As a Sunday school teacher she had few equals. She was a member of the Ladies Aid and one brother—Miss Sarah J. Keller, who resided with her in the old homestead; Mrs. George C. Hall, of Wilmington, Delaware, and Judge Benjamin F. Keller, of Bramwell, West Virginia. The funeral services were held in St. John's church, Boalsburg, Monday morning at ten o'clock, Rev. A. A. Black officiating.

DR. ISAIAH WIREBACK.
Dr. Isaiah J. Wireback, a prominent physician of Monessen, died Friday morning at his home of paralysis from which he had been suffering for several years. He was born in Bucks county, August, 1839, and in 1858 he was married to Miss Margaret E. Fisher, eldest daughter of Rev. P. A. Fisher, who was then pastor of the Reformed church in Bucks county, residing in Sellersville, and later pastor of the Boalsburg Reformed church.
Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wireback, five of whom with the mother survive. The remains were taken to St. Petersburg, Clarion county, Tuesday for interment, that place having been his home for a period of twenty years.

ANDREW HARTER.
One of Penn township's most prominent citizens died Sunday night, when Andrew Harter, of Coburn, passed away. He took sick at the close of the last term of court which he attended as juror, and gradually grew worse until death came. He was aged about seventy years.
Three sons—Dr. A. Harter, of Maytown, Andrew Harter, of Altoona, and James E. Harter, of Coburn, survive, as does also a wife.
Mr. Harter was the president of the Millheim Banking Company; one of the foremost members of the Lutheran church, and an uncompromising Democrat.
Interment was made Wednesday morning.

MARY ANN FREDERICK.
Mrs. Mary Ann Fredrick, widow of Jacob Fredrick, died at Spring Mills, Tuesday of last week, aged eighty years and two months. Interment was made at Heckman's cemetery Friday.
The deceased is survived by four children—Mrs. Cook Huber, of Centre Hall; Elizabeth, Kate and William T., of Spring Mills. Her maiden name was Carson, Mrs. James Armstrong, and Mrs. Harrison Faust, at Potters Mill, being sisters. Several brothers also survive.

PETER KESSELER.
