WOLVES OF FRANCE.

A Picture of Their Ferocity in the Eighteenth Century.

"The ferocious wolf," said a nature student, "is the most perfect expression of carnivorous bloodthirst that walks. His jaw is the most terrible of weapons. Its slashing bite can break the leg of a buffalo, and the noise of it when at work in a sheepfold resembles nothing so much as the incessant cracking of a heavy whip."

He took down a book. "Here is what the wolves of France were like," he said. "This is a letter from the famous Duchess of Orleans, dated at Marly, Feb. 9, 1709:

"Packs of wolves commit fearful ravages. They have devoured the postman of Alencon and his horse. Two of the beasts attacked a tradesman near Mons, one springing at his throat. In response to his shrieks two dragoons who were walking by came to his help. One drew his sword and ran a wolf through the body, on which it turned and seized its new assailant by the throat. His comrade came up and beat the brute off, but not before it had killed the man. Meanwhile the other wolf had seized the second dragoon from behind and dragged him down. Finally when effective help arrived both the soldiers and one wolf were found dead. The other had got away. As for the tradesman, his leg was so piteously torn that it had to be amputated above the knee."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A CLEVER RUSE.

Remember This When You Next Purchase Costly Jewels.

How Mr. Pierpont Morgan made his millions would take volumes to relate, but an amusing little artifice by means of which he succeeded in saving $1,000 can be told within the brief space of a couple of paragraphs.

Some years ago a jewelry firm in New York sent the financier a fine pearl, offering it to him for $5,000. This Mr. Morgan decided to purchase, and two checks were made out—one for $5,000 and the other for $4,000. He then removed the pearl from its box and, having substituted for it the $5,000 check, resealed the package.

Mr. Morgan's clerk was next dispatched to the jeweler's with the sealed box and a note containing the check for $4,000, stating that Mr. Morgan would be pleased to purchase the pearl if they would be satisfied with the check. The unsuspecting jeweler—in ignorance, of course, of what the sealed package now contained—closed with the astute financier's offer. And the box in which the $5,000 check serenely reposed was returned to Mr. Morgan unopened!—Pearson's.

The Queen Bumblebee.

The length of life of a queen bumblebee is probably little more than a year at most. Here is one reason for this belief: She hatches among the late broods of summer and soon after leaves the nest, leading a vagabond existence, night and day, among the autumn flowers. The winter she passes in an earth burrow dug by herself and unaided establishes a colony in the spring. These combined periods of fall and spring require the daily use of her frail wings in the field at least four months. Now, we know that the wings of the worker honeybee wear out in less than half that time; also that the old queens who take to the field after the nest breaks up in August frequently have tattered wings and soon disappear. Nature does not supply insects with new wing cells as it supplies birds with new wing feathers. So the loss of the power of flight at this season of the year to the queen bumblebee means the loss of life.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Bank Deposits.

"It's odd the different sources of bank deposits," remarked a bank official. "For example," he said, "we receive thousands of dollars every year from Cleveland men in the army and navy. The amounts range from $5 a month from privates to $30 or more from some of the officers."

"Most of this is sent to us direct by the paymaster of the army or navy, as the case may be. Just now we are getting a lot of money from men in the navy on this cruise to the Pacific. The paymaster makes out a list of the various deposits and sends along a check to cover the total amount. Thus the men draw their pay and deposit it without ever seeing it. Their pass books in a good many cases are left right here."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Despair.

"What do you want o' the editor?" asked the office boy, blocking up the doorway.
"I have a manuscript poem," said the long haired caller, "which I wish to submit for his inspection."
The office boy closed the door, but reappeared a moment later.
"Nothin' doin'. We ain't printin' no poetry now," he said, slamming the door in the caller's face.
"Bard out!" exclaimed the poet, tearing his hair.
"Chestnut!" yelled the boy over the partition. "I've heard that 'un before."

In Washington.

"I made a glaring error today," sighed the cabinet lady.
"How's that?" inquired the department lady.
"I glared at a woman I should have ignored completely."—Louisville Courier Journal.

An Inspiration.

Mrs. Knicker-Henry, why did you leave your shoes on the stairs last night? Knicker (dazed, but inspired)—English custom, m'dear. Left 'em to be blacked.—Puck.

Women as Well as Men
Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.
Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
