Prompt Payment of Life Insurance.

Centre Hall, Pa., June 6th, 1908.

W. H. BARTHOLOMEW, Agent, Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co., Centre Hall, Pa.

DEAR SIR: Allow me to thank you for the liberal settlement of a policy on the life of my husband, Mr. John H. Snyder, who died on the 21st of May, 1908, and had only made five annual payments, using his dividends to reduce the premiums, and the Company's check was for more than the face of the policy. I shall always speak in the highest terms of your good Company. Gratefully yours, MRS. MARY A. SNYDER.

LOCALS.

Children's services will be held in the Sprucetown Methodist church, Sunday morning.

After teaching school in New Jersey for several months, Miss Maude Sechrist returned to her home in Centre Hall.

Miss Lennie V. Potter served five o'clock tea for some friends Saturday evening, 27th ult., near Linden Hall. All had a very enjoyable time.

Roland C. Faust, of Altoona, was among friends at his former home at Potters Mills, a short time ago, and in the absence of the editor called at the Reporter office.

Reports from the hospital at Philadelphia indicate that Charles Weaver, of Linden Hall, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, is improving. This is Mr. Weaver's own report by letter.

With a view of getting fresh air and an abundance of exercise, J. Dorey Hunter, proprietor of the Index book store, Bellefonte, took the train for Centre Hall, and returned on foot over Nittany Mountain, but before doing so, called on the Reporter.

Rev. and Mrs. M. S. Derstine, accompanied by their little daughter Marguerite, are at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Sarah Derstine, in Centre Hall. Mrs. Derstine and daughter, before coming here, had made a trip to Pittsburg.

Charles D. Emerick, who has been in the employment of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for several years and located at Pittsburg, is at home at present. He has been in delicate health for about a year, much of the time of which he was in a hospital.

Sumner V. Hosterman, Esq., and family, of Lancaster, and John S. Hosterman and family, of Montrose, have been in Centre Hall for the past two weeks, guests at the parental home. This is the first time in a number of years that the entire family has been in reunion.

Saturday afternoon William C. Farner, of Colyer, was in Centre Hall to meet the train from the east, which brought here Mrs. Thomas F. Farner, his daughter-in-law, and little granddaughter, Marion. They will remain in the country during the hot weather, and enjoy country life.

Rev. Ward K. Shultz, of Mexico, Juniata county, was operated on for appendicitis at a Baltimore hospital. He is recovering, and may have returned home by this time. Mrs. Shultz had intended coming to Centre Hall to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Keller, but the sickness of her husband prevented it at this time.

Dr. Ed. J. Miller, of Johnstown, was in town for a few days, stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Perry H. Lnae. Dr. Miller is one of the prosperous physicians in that city. He had just returned from Philadelphia and New York, and at the former place visited his daughter, Mrs. A. W. Marrel, whose husband is a draughtsman for the Rapid Transit Company.

The following persons appeared in the Millinburg Telegraph: Charles F. Loutz spent last Saturday and Sunday with his wife and son who had been visiting relatives in Spring Mills. . . Rufus Lee, book-keeper at the Silk Mill, Milton, was a business and social visitor in this place on Wednesday. Friends here were glad to greet him.

Just as he started to leave the harvest field during a heavy electrical storm, Edward Eichenlaub, aged twenty years, of near Hughesville, was struck by lightning and instantly killed Tuesday morning of last week. The bolt struck him on the head, burning a hole through his hat and passing through his body burning away a portion of his shoe.

"For the first full week in seven years," remarked Eugene Z. Miller, "I have donned a civilian's suit." He is sanitary inspector in Lorain, Ohio, and accompanied by his wife is visiting Penns Valley, Mrs. Miller remaining the greater part of the time with her sister, Mrs. Frank Royer, at Potters Mills. The addition of a few years to Mr. Miller's age is the only change in him.

Mrs. Frank Long, of Washington, D. C., accompanied by her little daughter, arrived in Centre Hall Monday. They are guests of Mrs. Long's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Geiss Wagner, near Tusseyville. Mr. Long is a clerk in the patent office, and will have his vacation later in the summer, when the family will visit his parents, in Illinois. Mrs. Emma N. Kolb, of Washington ldsy, came with Mrs. Long to Centre county.

Mrs. J. Emory Hoy and daughter, Elizabeth, and P. Gross Yearick, all of Philadelphia, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mingle, in Centre Hall. Mr. Yearick is closely kept to business during the greater part of the year, being one of the firm of Yearick Brothers, coal dealers, but during the summer months has ample time to enjoy the freedom of the country in old Centre county, much of which time is spent with his only sister. Mr. Hoy was also here for a day, but was called home by telegraph, and later returned to Centre Hall.

linburg, and Mrs. John Musser and daughter, of Bellefonte, spent natal day in Boalsburg. This part of the county was well represented at the teachers association at State College last week. The grain fields, which a week ago almost glittered in the sunshine, now have a shabby appearance, and in a few days there will be nothing left but the stubbles. The weather has been very dry and hot but we had a shower Sunday afternoon and a fine rain Monday afternoon. Corn is out in tassel, that is in Boalsburg, in the gardens on Huckleberry street. Potatoes are somewhat blighted. Several crates of huckleberries were brought to Boalsburg last week by W. Taylor. Harry Stuart, post master at Sandy Ridge, moved from there to a place near Philadelphia, where he bought a tract of land, and will engage in dairying and truck farming. His house-keeper, Mrs. Ralph, tarried for a few days with Miss Priscilla Stuart, before going to her new home.

Oak Hall. Mrs. J. C. Eiters, Mrs. Oscar Rishel and Miss Gertrude Wieland spent Thursday at State College. Miss Mary Homan has gone to Birmingham to attend school. Wm. Ross and wife and Luther Dale, wife and family recently spent a day among friends in town. W. H. Close transacted business in Bellefonte Friday. Mrs. Ida Barton, of Pittsburg, is visiting in town. Mrs. James Shugerts and son, Charles, returned Thursday from a week's visit to Altoona friends. Mrs. Ada Benner spent several days with her daughter, Mrs. Willis Houtz, at Centre Furnace. Mrs. John Charlis, of Boalsburg, spent Thursday with Mrs. Edward Sellers. Howard Homan, of Tyrone, visited over Sunday at the home of B. F. Homan. Rev. Sechrist, of Centre Hall, was a guest at the home of Clayton Eiters, Sunday. We should all prefer our friends to be close-mouthed rather than close-fisted.

Woodward. Mrs. Willet Hosterman and children Mrs. Oliver Hosterman and baby, having spent a week at the home of C. W. Hosterman returned to their home in Buffalo, Saturday. Dr. and Mrs. Ard spent Saturday at Coburn. Mrs. Tammie Meyer, of Coburn spent several days with her parents last week. Charles Sampson went to Warren last week where he will be employed in a hospital. Earl Hosterman, from Buffalo, is spending the summer with his grandparents. Emory Odum is the proud father of a baby girl. Benjamin Cobeen and Joseph Ard made a trip to Vicksburg last Thursday. Miss Minnie Boob, of Lewisburg, is visiting her parents. Local option is an essentially democratic principle. It enforces the rule of the majority. There are lots of men outside the theatrical business who have never had a show.
