Reunion of Lutherans.

The annual reunion of the Central Pennsylvania Lutherans will be held at Lakemont park, near Altoona, on Thursday, 23rd inst.

Fire at Axe Mann.

Monday night 6th inst., about twelve o'clock the house occupied by Mrs. Clara Lucas and four children, at Axe Mann, caught fire and was burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown and Mrs. Lucas barely escaped with her children, all their clothes and furniture having been burned. The building was owned by John White, who carried a small insurance.

Success.

J. D. Murray the enterprising druggist rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half-price. So much talk has been caused by this offer, and so many new friends have been made for the specific that the Dr. Howard Co. have authorized druggist J. D. Murray to continue this special half-price sale for a limited time longer.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c Mr. Murray has so much faith in the remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches, your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feelings, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy and liver troubles Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not it will not cost you a cent.

Dragged by Foot.

Man has many almost miraculous escapes from losing his life, and this will now more than ever be believed by George Howard Ripka, tenant on the Alexander McCoy farm, at Potters Mills. Friday evening Mr. Ripka saddled a rather spirited young horse, and rode to the meadow to corral the cattle, when the animal made a quick dash and threw the rider from his back. Unfortunately the man's foot became tightly fastened in the stirrup of the saddle, and he was dragged by the horse's side for some distance.

The farm hands on the Allison farm saw the neighbor's perilous condition, and at once went to the rescue, and with their forks succeeded in halting the frightened beast as it came galloping along in a narrow lane. Mr. Ripka's foot was disengaged from the stirrup, and when examined and questioned it was found that he had received no injuries except a multitude of bruises over his body, none of which was of a serious nature.

The termination of this accident, had it not been for the prompt action of the men referred to, would, without a doubt, have been extremely serious.

LOCALS.

H. H. Bachau, of Spring Mills, greatly improved his residence.

Frank Lingle, at Tusseyville, advertises a first-class young draft horse for sale.

The annual State Luther League Convention will be held in the beautiful Lake City, Erie, Monday and Tuesday, August 10 and 11.

Miss Annie Hayes, of Watsonstown, spent her vacation with her cousin, Miss M. Delinda Potter, west of Centre Hall. Miss Potter returned with her and will spend a couple of weeks in Watsonstown and Milton.

After an illness of about a week Victor Auman, engineer at Webers Mill, has about recovered. It was reported that his sickness was diphtheria, but this was an error, as there was no indication of that disease at any time.

In order to receive medical treatment from Dr. J. R. G. Allison, Daniel Hosterman, of Coburn, was in Centre Hall for several days last week. Mr. Hosterman is one of the old-line Penn township Democrats, and he is slated over the opportunity to again cast a vote for Bryan for president.

If any one is enjoying his vacation it is George W. Smith, of Centre Hill, who holds a position in the Morgantown Reformatory, at Morgantown, Washington county. The duties at these institutions are very exacting, and those in authority must give every attention at all times, consequently the release from responsibility permits the living of another life.

BOY HAS ARM TORN OFF.

At the McNitt-Huyett Saw Mill at Snyderstown—Amputation at Hospital.

The sight of an arm twirling around a shaft was the signal to stop the machinery on the McNitt-Huyett saw mill, at Snyderstown, Thursday afternoon, 2nd inst., and search for the unfortunate person. On reaching the stave yard a youth of ten years, Arthur Andrew Fye, son of William Fye, was seen to be all bespattered with blood, and minus the right arm, except the bone to the elbow and the upper half of the flesh between the shoulder and that point. The lad was picked up, and the first aid given was the tying of a handkerchief by a strong hand around the shredded stub of the arm. This at once checked the flow of blood, and then the boy was carried to his home near by, after word had been sent in advance to his mother to prepare her for a ghastly sight. Later Dr. McCormic arrived, and arrangements were made to take the boy to the Bellefonte hospital, which was quickly done by stopping the train at the mill landing. The arm was amputated a few inches below the elbow, and the youth, who from the start had little pain, is getting along finely.

Young Fye, whose father contracted to pack the staves at the mill, together with one or more companions, took liberty in the absence of the father and entered the mill. It is presumed they attempted to put the belt on the pulley that turns the grind stone, and from all appearances the boy's thumb was first caught, for all the flesh was stripped from off the bone. There is also every reason to believe, from bruises on the boy's body, that he was at least once carried around the shaft before the slim arm gave way at the elbow, and the muscles above were severed—literally pulled apart.

LOCALS.

Charles H. Hosterman is moving from Sober to Buffalo, where he will engage in baking.

Miss A. Mae Kreamer, of Lebanon, is being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kreamer, east of Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Arney Lee, and children, of Pittsburg, are being entertained by the former's mother, Mrs. Laura Lee, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Willet Hosterman and children and Mrs. Oliver Hosterman, of Buffalo, are visiting at the home of C. W. Hosterman, at Woodward.

During a thunder storm recently lightning struck the spire of the Greengrove church, doing considerable damage to it, and also to the ceiling inside the church proper. This spire was struck by lightning two years ago.

Mrs. Margaret I. Musser sold her residence in Millheim to T. B. Motz, for $2000. Mrs. Musser reserved the store building on the premises and the lot on which it stands, and will remodel the building for a dwelling house.

Miss May Rhone is home from Harrisburg to spend a short time with her father, Hon. L. Rhone, and her sister, Miss Florence. While here she will participate in the annual outing to Rhoneymede during the week of the father's birthday.

Friday W. B. Mingle, Esq., returned from Michigan very much improved in health. At present he can use his arm with freedom, and it is hoped that all traces of the nervous affliction which caused him great pain for a year or more, are permanently eradicated.

Dr. Stuart C. Runkle, wife and little son, of Philadelphia, have returned from a western trip through Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Michigan. The doctor was a delegate to a convention in Chicago of men of his profession, and afterward continued his journey through the states named.

Mrs. Cora Hall, nee Love, who was elected to teach one of the public schools in Potter township, sent in her resignation, she having been appointed by the government to teach in the Apache Reservation, in Arizona, at a salary equal to about twice that of a township school teacher.

The Reporter was pleased to have a call from W. A. Brown, of Huntingdon, formerly a band and public school teacher of Gregg township. He was on his way to Huntingdon from a brief visit to his parents at Farmers Mills. "Penns Valley is God's own country," is the way the Huntingdon Reformatory teacher puts it when speaking of this portion of old Centre.

Florence Kerstetter, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Kerstetter, of Penn township, met with a severe accident while playing at the barn of Sol. Lingle, near her home. A hay wagon had just been unloaded and was being backed out of the barn floor, when one of the wheels struck the large barn door, knocked it off its hinges, and in falling struck the girl, breaking her right leg.

A useful little book entitled "Business and Financial Primer," has been received by the editor. It contains definitions and explanations of more than 150 words and phrases used in the everyday language of business and finance. The Primer is issued by Real Estate Trust Company, of Pittsburgh, who offer to send a copy free to any reader who will write to them and mention this paper.

LOCALS.

Mrs. D. Gress and children are home again from the Pittsburg district. Both Mrs. Gress and the baby are in good spirits.

Miss Cora Brown, of Potters Mills, returned home last week after visiting at the home of Commissioner J. L. Dunlap, in Bellefonte.

The tax payers of Liberty township are urging the supervisors to make applications for a state road between the towns of Beech Creek and Eagleville.

James S. Stahl and children Bruce and Jennie, were in Altoona for a few days to visit Claud K. Stahl and other relatives in that city.

A. G. Noll and William Parker, of Nittany Mountain, are in camp at Gettysburg with Co. B. Fifth Regiment, N. G. P. They left Bellefonte Thursday.

The Millheim school board elected Christ Woodling janitor for the coming school year. The tax rate was also fixed, as follows: Building, three and one-half mills; school, seven mills.

Rev. Eikanah M. Duck, of Mountville, New Jersey, and sister, Miss Bertha O. Duck, of Spring Mills, July 4th, sailed for Europe on the Princess Irene of the North German Lloyd Line.

There is no connecting link between the diphtheria case at Earlstown and those at Centre Hill. The former, without question, was infected with the disease before coming to Centre county.

A note from Mikkleson, North Dakota, written by J. C. McClenahan, states that extreme hot and dry weather are the conditions there. Mr. McClenahan has changed his postoffice address from Wibaux, Montana.

In the two cases at Howard in which two men were prosecuted for hauling calves with their legs tied the defendants were fined $10 a piece and the costs. One of the men promptly paid his fine and costs and the other has appealed the case to court.

At a meeting of the school board of Howard borough the other evening Miss Anna Muffly was elected to teach the grammar school, Miss Susie Pletcher the intermediate, and Miss Lulu Stover, of Mill Hall, the primary. The election of the principal was postponed until a later meeting.

Mrs. Susan Fichtorn, of Manorville, Armstrong county, and Mrs. Menassa Geiss, of Spring Mills, recently visited friends in Centre Hall. Mrs. Fichtorn will remain about Spring Mills for a considerable part of the summer, and then expects to go to the home of her brother, Dr. Charles B. Leitzell, at Derry, where she will stay for some time.

Hiram Osman, of Altoona, was the guest of relatives in Centre Hall over the Fourth, having come to the country more particularly to visit his sister, Mrs. William Mogle, at Lemont, who had been seriously ill. Mr. Osman is one of the watchmen at the Pennsylvania shops in Altoona, and fills a place that cannot be dispensed with, panic or no panic.

Lock Haven is to have a country club. A temporary organization has already been effected. A beautiful site near the Sanders mill, along Fishing Creek, has been secured, on which is to be built an attractive club house with piazzas overhanging the creek and commanding a view of the mountains beyond. It is within five minutes' walk of the trolley line and six minutes from Bald Eagle Creek, combining the very unusual advantages of field and water sports.

Rev. C. T. Aikens, D. D., president of Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, filled the appointments on the Centre Hall Lutheran charge Sunday, preaching at Centre Hall, Tusseyville and Spring Mills. Dr. Aikens talked on the necessity of education, and particularly of the institution of which he is the head. He is not a stranger in Penns Valley, having been pastor of the Pine Grove Mills Lutheran charge for a number of years, consequently he received the glad hand from many of his hearers last Sunday.

Superintendent D. O. Eters is sizing up to a more ideal official than ever, and at the recent examinations held all over the county a number of the weaker school teachers have been dropped from the list of teachers. Since the state has raised the minimum salary to forty dollars per month, the patrons have a right to expect more efficient teachers, and county superintendent has endeavored to lend his aid in accomplishing this end, and in this connection he should be commended by every one who has the good of the public schools at heart.

Misses Miriam E. C. Roeder, of York, and Margaretta M. Goben, of Boalsburg, were recently guests of Miss Dora Meyer, in Centre Hall. The former girls were school chums at Millersville Normal School. Miss Roeder is the third daughter of Rev. S. M. Roeder, formerly pastor of the Centre Hall Reformed church, and now located at Glen Rock, about fifteen miles out from York. She is one of the public school teachers in York, and with two or three of her sisters live in that city. She has made for herself a good record as an instructor, and possesses special qualifications for that work.

The Pink Label.

The Pink Label appears this week, which indicates that all subscriptions paid between May 19th and July 13th, have been credited. Please examine the figures and report if any error has been made.

There has not a word been said in these columns about paying subscriptions, for several months, but the reader is now asked to look at his label and see whether or not he or she is paid in advance. Nines are all the go now; they add to the attractiveness of your label.
