MR. BRYAN'S REAL WORTH.

The record of William J. Bryan, since his first appearance as a public man, has been such as to inspire the confidence and win the admiration of men of all classes. Personally his life has been worthy of emulation in all ways and in every respect. His utterances on questions of public importance have been those of the man who thinks, and who has reached his conclusions after most exhaustive investigation of all obtainable facts. His position on matters of moment is unassailable, his integrity beyond question, and his earnestness unmistakable. Mr. Bryan is a man of more than ordinary ability, and what he advocates and stands for is worthy of serious consideration by the people of this country. Any man who can lead as he has done for the past twelve years, and in all that time in the face of discouragement and defeat, maintain his leadership and retain the loyalty of those who believe as he does, possesses traits of character that mark him as more than a remarkable leader of thought in this great country. A dishonest man a demagogue, would have fallen and passed into oblivion with his first defeat.

Much glory is being taken unto itself by the present State administration for paying school warrants promptly as they are presented. In this, however, Treasurer Sheatz is merely following the precedent established by his predecessor, a Democrat, W. H. Berry, who to do this violated all traditions of the office in Republican hands. Up to this time the school moneys were an asset of the political banking system and made to go along with the corruption-breeding surplus. Honor to whom honor is due.

The National Monetary Commission appointed by Congress opened its sessions at Narragansett Pier, R. I., Monday.

Note from Arcanum, Ohio.

The vacation taken by the Reporter during the week of July 9th, causes J. S. Hoffman, of Arcanum, Ohio, to say: We did not receive the Reporter last week, and were very much lost without it. Through the Reporter we hear from the folks in Penns Valley, and we still love the old home. Crops are doing well.

College Twp. School Teachers.

The following teachers were elected to teach the ensuing term in College township, the schools opening Monday, September 21st: High school, not supplied; Oak Hall grammar, Margaretta Goheen; Oak Hall primary, not supplied; Branch, Margaret Musser; Centre Furnace, Roxie Keller; Lemont primary, G. W. R. Williams; Houserville, Mary Grove; Dalea, Miriam Dreese; Pleasant View, Sophia Thompson.

Accident to Aged Lady.

While Mrs. Hatley, mother of Benjamin and William Hatley, of Aaronburg, was in the summer house connected with her home, she accidentally fell and was unable to rise. Mrs. William Hatley found her, and carried her into the house. At first it was thought that she had received a paralytic stroke, but when a physician was called it was discovered that her hip was broken. Mrs. Hatley's age is ninety-seven years and there is small hope for her recovery.

A Monster Baby Boy.

In Mapleton, Huntingdon county, there lives a boy two years and four months old, who weighs one hundred pounds. He measures 16 inches about the neck; chest, 37 inches; waist, 38 inches; knee, 19 inches; arm, 10 inches; leg, 13 inches; total height, 14 inches. The name of this physical prodigy is Johnny Webb, son of Mrs. Rachel Webb. He was brought to Huntingdon the other day to be measured for clothing and shoes, there being nothing in the ready made lines that will fit him.

Hubb, a Old Man.

Shortly after ten o'clock one night last week three masked men entered the little store kept by William Blackburn at the Lewisburg end of the trolley line and with drawn revolvers forced him to turn over to them the contents of his cash drawer, amounting to nearly $15. Taking the money the trio disappeared down the road. Passengers for the eleven o'clock car for Milton heard three men quarreling on the bridge and it is believed the thieves fell out over a division of the loot.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Paragraphs Picked from Exchanges of Interest to Reporter Readers

Some young Americans in celebrating the 4th, set fire to James Rider's stable, at Stormstown, and a lot of hay, harness and other stuff went up in the blaze.

Jonathan Hess is seriously ill with heart trouble at his home in the Lumber city. He is a member of one of Ferguson township's representative families. Away back in the eighties he was engaged in the mercantile business and his many friends are sorry to learn of his illness.

From every indication the peach crop in Centre county this year will be the largest ever known in this section. Col. Reynolds has in his orchard eight thousand bearing trees and he expects a yield of at least an average of a bushel to a tree. Charles Schad has fully as many trees in his orchard on Muncy mountain and expects from six to eight thousand bushels.

John Myers, the butcher, discovered Tuesday afternoon that he had lost his gold watch. In the evening Mr. Myers went to the stable to feed his horses where he discovered the missing watch hanging on the harness. He had been peddling meat that day and when he took the harness off the horses, the watch fob caught in the flynet and was pulled out of his pocket.

Person-Strohm.

The following is from the Camden (N. J.) Post Telegram, date of 16th inst.:

"The marriage of Albert E. Person, of Phillipsburg, N. J., to Miss Lola Wagner Strohm, of Centre Hall, Pa., was performed at the parsonage of the Centenary M. E. church, at 7:30 o'clock last evening by the pastor, Rev. Marshall Owens. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Wagner, of this city, and by Mr. and Mrs. C. Willard Hicks, of Easton, Pa. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in the 'Green Room' of the Rath's Keller, Betz building, Philadelphia.

"The bride and groom are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, at 1012 Copper street, and leave this evening on an extended wedding trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and points in Canada. Handing the Monkey Tribe From the Middleburg Post.

When we see so many young men with their hair parted in the middle and hanging down over their foreheads so as to obscure every trace of intellect, and so many young women with their hair all frizzly-frowsy and flopping around over their faces in fifty different directions, we are not surprised that the followers of Darwin are now positively sure that mankind descended from the monkey.

LOCALS

The residence of Merchant George O. Benner is being improved by a rear addition.

John Stoner, of Millheim, came up to Centre Hall Saturday to visit his son, Henry Stoner.

B. V. Koons, a farmer of the Nippenose Valley near Oval, has threshed his new crop of wheat, which yielded an average of 38 bushels to the acre.

Mrs. J. R. Sechrist and daughter, Ethel, Saturday morning went to Harrisburg, and later will go to Park, York county, to remain for a few weeks. Before returning they will also go to Baltimore.

The cheap artists continue to picture the farmer as bewhiskered and wearing long boots. That type is as rare now as longhaired poets and picture makers. The twentieth century farmer is a man of business and looks like a man of business.

Great interest is being manifested by the former students of the Penn Hall-Spring Mills Academy reunion to be held August 6th. A history of the institution is being prepared and will be printed and ready for sale at the time of the reunion.

Dr. Chas. T. Aikens, president of the Susquehanna University, who is a busy man for that institution, had a fine farm added to the growing fund recently. Dr. Aikens set out last year to raise a certain amount of funds for this college in two years and is accomplishing his end.

An opinion of wide interest was that handed down by Judge Evans of Columbia county, in which he holds that a coroner is only entitled to mileage one way from the Court House to the place where the inquest was held. Neither can the county pay for an inquest unless there was a clear case of doubt as to violence or crime.

Farmer John W. Homan, of near State College, had the scare of his life recently. While driving his binder across one of his fields the ground suddenly gave way and as he felt the machine going down he applied the whip to his team and by their quick response he was saved from taking an unexpected dip. The ground sank to a depth of twenty feet.

While William Rockey and John Wright were starting to cut wheat on the Rockey farm, near Boalsburg, the team started to run away but were stopped by running into a fence post. Mr. Wright was pinned fast by a guard penetrating his leg. Mr. Rockey was thrown to the ground with both horses on top of him. How he escaped with his life is a miracle.

T. F. Farner, of Philadelphia, came up to Tusseyville Saturday to visit his old home and his wife and little daughter who are now staying there. Mr. Farner is a railroad mail agent between New York and Pittsburg, and is counted one of the efficient young men in the service. Although he has lived in the city for a number of years, the old home appeals to him, and especially during the hot summer months.

Grange Meeting Saturday.

Progress Grange will meet Saturday afternoon, at which Dr. H. F. Bitner will give a talk on "The Clothes Moth and Carpet Beetle." Two weeks ago he spoke on the "House Fly and Mosquito," and the talk was highly instructive. Much information about these most common insects was imparted that should be known by every housekeeper.

Kickin' 'bout the autos An' the pace they set; Kickin' 'bout the grafters An' the pull they get. Old mule looks dejected, Says in tones demure, "When it comes to kickin' I'm an amachoor."
