And then he didn't die.

Photogravure of Bryan.

The Philadelphia Record will issue as a supplement with its Sunday edition of August 2nd, a handsome photogravure of William Jennings Bryan. We are in receipt of this picture from The Record, which may be seen at this office by our patrons. The picture is of beautiful bromide finish, and well worth a handsome frame. To be sure of getting a copy of this edition of The Record it is imperative that you order at once from your local news-agent, as the edition is limited and copies cannot subsequently be procured for less than 50 cents.

Academy History.

A complete history of the Penn Hall-Spring Mills Academy is being published, the manuscript now being in the hands of the printer. The history will contain one thousand or more names of Academy students, and will be worth preserving. The book will be on sale on reunion day, August 6th, at Spring Mills—price 25 cents. The history can also be had by mail by addressing any of the members of the committee for the same sum plus one cent for postage. Orders sent to this office will also be recognized at any time previous to the reunion or thereafter.

Keith's Theatre.

The immense success of "The Naked Truth" as presented at Keith's theatre, Philadelphia, has induced the management to retain it for a second week. There is a stirring bill besides, which is made up almost entirely of features new to Quaker City audiences. Among the number are Elsie Fay, known as "The Bell of Avenue A," who brings some surprises; Una Clayton and Company, presenting a comedy entitled, "His Local Color"; Ferdinand Himmelreich, the wonder pianist, who was stricken blind at the age of five years and recently had his sight partially restored, will appear. He will be accompanied by Keith's orchestra. A new bicycle turn is that of the Ahearn troupe. The Wiora trio are a song and dance novelty worth going to see, and the same might be said of the other numbers on the bill.

The Pine Stump telephone company will hold their annual picnic Saturday, August 1st, in Tate's Grove, west of Pine Stump school house. All are invited to this gathering.

It takes a smart man to get paid for doing nothing.

Last Call to Reunion at Spring Mills.

The Penn Hall-Spring Mills Academy Alumni Association reunion will be held at Spring Mills, Thursday, August 6th, and everybody is invited. Of course all the boys and girls who ever attended this Academy will be present, but all others are cordially invited.

The committees will have all things in readiness by August 6th. A full program with able speakers, all alumni, is provided. Cornet bands will be there to furnish music. The committee will have a fine souvenir history of the Academy. This will be a neat book of about thirty pages, giving a complete history of the school from its foundation to the present time; portraits of Dr. Wolf and both the old and new buildings, and over one thousand names of former pupils—all we could get. This book will be on sale on the grounds at 25c per copy, and no alumnus should be without one. While this will be a basket picnic reunion, yet lunches and refreshments will be furnished on the grounds. All come,—last call.

T. M. GRAMLEY, Secy.

Good Way to do Business.

In ordering a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at 25 cents, J. D. Murray is giving one of the greatest trade chances ever offered to the people of Centre Hall.

If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and the breath bad, if there is constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not, you have druggist J. D. Murray's personal guarantee to return your money.

This remarkable remedy comes in the form of tiny granules, and can be carried in the vest pocket or purse. It is very popular in New York City, and it is not unusual to see someone after a meal at one of the large hotels or restaurants, take a dose of this specific, knowing that it will prevent the uncomfortable feeling which frequently follows a hearty meal.

Dr. Howard's specific gives quick relief and makes permanent cures of constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles.

These are strong statements, but Mr. Murray is giving his customers a chance to prove their truth at just half the regular price—sixty doses for 25 cents. If they are not found true, all you have to do is to ask for your money.

LOCALS

James W. Fye and S. H. Fye, of Romola, were guests at the home of Maynard Meeker, east of Centre Hall over Sunday.

Mrs. Mary J. Long and Frank M. Fisher publish letters of administration on the estate of Isaac Long, of Gregg township, deceased.

In all probability the L. O. O. F. orphanage at Sunbury will be completed by Thanksgiving day, and the building dedicated at that time.

Harry Leopard, of Bellefonte, is spending the hot summer days at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gingerich, west of Centre Hall.

Mrs. William Everett, of Bimspott, and her little daughter, with her sister, Miss Estella Foresman, of Allenwood, visited Dr. and Mrs. Boal last week. These ladies are members of Dr. Boal's former church at Allenwood.

A number of improvements are being made on the farm of Rev. C. W. Rishel, the Rishel homestead, near Stone Mill, this season. A large straw shed is being erected, and a large cistern is being built on the rise west of the barn from which water will be led by gravity to the barn. The mason work for both the shed and cistern was built by John R. Strong.

John A. Strong, the Potters Mills mason, was in town Monday morning and related that he lost a horse in a peculiar manner. The animal was being worked by a neighbor, and on showing signs of being sick it was unhitched, and died within a short time thereafter. From appearances it is thought the brute might have been poisoned, but Mr. Strong is not willing to believe that he has an enemy who would do such a thing.

The Lock Haven State Normal School is ideally located among the mountains of central Penna. in a healthful and progressive community. It is easily accessible and therefore draws students from every section of Penna. Its beautiful buildings, fine gymnasium and a splendid faculty make it particularly attractive. Its enrollment last year was greatly in excess of former years. A handsome catalogue will be sent upon application to the Principal.

Word has been received here says the Bellefonte Daily News, of the marriage of Miss Lillian Rearick, daughter of L. C. Rearick, to Kenneth Snodgrass, of Newport, Ohio. Only a note of the wedding was received by a relative of Miss Rearick and none of the particulars of the event could be learned. Miss Rearick had been visiting there for a month and while they had been intimate friends the wedding came as a surprise to many. Mr. Snodgrass is well known in Bellefonte, having been a frequent visitor in town.

A CLERK'S BLUNDER.

Its Effect Upon the Fortunes of Our Revolutionary War.

The element of chance as exemplified in the blunder of a copyist had an important bearing on the result of our war for independence. As is well known, the crisis of the military between Great Britain and the revolting colonies was reached when General Burgoyne's campaign was planned in London. The object was to strike a tremendous blow at the center of the Revolution. The British forces were to take possession of the Mohawk and Hudson valleys by a concentric march from Lake Champlain, Oswego and New York on converging lines toward Albany. The ascent of the Hudson by Sir William Howe's army was essential to the success of a scheme by which New England was to be cut off as by a wedge from the southern colonies.

Orders were sent out from London for the advance of Burgoyne's and St. Leger's forces from Canada. At first Sir William Howe was merely informed of the plan and was armed with discretionary powers, but finally a dispatch was drafted positively ordering him to co-operate in the movement from New York.

A British clerk made a hasty and very careless copy of the dispatch, which the minister, Lord George Germaine, found great difficulty in reading. He angrily reprimanded the culprit and ordered a fresh copy to be made without flaw or erasure. Being pressed for time and anxious for a holiday, Lord George posted off to the country without waiting for the fresh copy.

The military order was laboriously copied in the clerk's best hand, but when it was finished the minister was not there to sign it. It was pigeon-holed and overlooked when he returned and was not sent to America until long afterward. Howe, being left with full discretion, allowed himself to be drawn into military operations against Washington's army near Philadelphia. Burgoyne's army was entrapped, cut off from retreat and forced to surrender at Saratoga.

Thus the fortunes of the Revolutionary war turned upon the carelessness of a British clerk.—Chicago Record-Herald.

SOAP BUBBLES.

How Some Pretty and Marvelous Effects May Be Produced.

There are degrees of skill in all pastimes, but one would hardly think that there were specialists in the art of blowing soap bubbles. An article in the Windsor Magazine by Meredith Nugent, however, shows that some very pretty and marvelous effects may be obtained by the exercise of care and patience with soap and water.

The first step is to make a solution by rubbing pure white castile soap into a bowl partly filled with water until a lather has been formed. Then remove every particle of lather, dip a clay pipe into the cleared solution and start to blow a bubble.

If you can blow one six inches in diameter so that it will hang suspended from the pipe and will allow your forefinger covered with the solution to be pushed through into the bubble without breaking, then the mixture is ready for use.

Six bubbles may be blown, one inside the other. This is performed by dipping the end of a straw in the soapy water and after resting the wet end upon an inverted plate or sheet of glass, which should have been previously wet with the solution, blow a bubble six inches in diameter.

Then dip the straw into the solution again, carefully thrust it through into the center of this first bubble and blow another. Continue in this manner until all the bubbles are in position. Great care must be taken that the straw is thoroughly wet with solution for fully half its length before each bubble is blown. With practice ten or twelve bubbles may be placed inside of one another.

No Tears Nor Hills.

In the days when Rowley Hill was bishop of the Isle of Man one of his clergymen bearing the name of Tears came to say adieu to his bishop on getting preferment. The parson said: "Goodby, my lord. I hope we may meet again, but if not here in some better place."

The bishop replied, "I fear the latter is unlikely, as there are no Tears in heaven."

"No doubt," wittily answered the parson, "you are right that our chance of meeting is small, as one reads of the plains of paradise, but never of any Hills there."—London Quiver.

Australian Bushmen.

Although the bushmen of Australia are the very lowest in the scale of ignorance, they possess a rare instinct that equals that of many animals and is in its way as wonderful as man's reason. It is almost impossible for them to be lost. Even if they be led away from their home blindfolded for miles, when released they will unerringly turn in the right direction and make their way to their nest homes, and, though these are all very similar, they never make a mistake.

Fool and Sage.

The fool and his money are parted, not long did they stay in cahoots, but the fool is the cheeriest hearted and gladdest of human galoots. His neighbor is better and wiser, six figures might tell what he's worth, but oh, how folks wish the old miser would fall off the edge of the earth!—Emporia Gazette.
