One Woman's Wisdom.
Mrs. Newed—And you paid only 98 cents for that hat?
Mrs. Oldwed—That's all.
Mrs. Newed—Your husband was delighted, of course?
Mrs. Oldwed—I hope you don't think I was foolish enough to tell him I got such a cheap hat.
Mrs. Newed—Where would the foolish part come in?
Mrs. Oldwed—Why, if I told him what it cost he'd expect me to be satisfied with bargain-counter hats all the rest of my days.—Chicago News.

Deathbed Statistics.
When a great man dies, no one is interested in learning who surrounded his deathbed, but the news is always sent out. People care no more to know, than to hear if he were laid out in the parlor or bedroom, or if he were attired in a shroud or his regular clothes. But an Atchison inquirer has measured his bed, and finds that without unseemly crowding it will accommodate sixteen. How, then, can thirty and forty surround the deathbeds of the great men, as told in the telegraph.—Atchison Globe.

A Multitude.
The sound of many voices rent the air.
Through the streets resounded the tramp of countless feet.
Military parade?
Oh, no. The original Taft man was passing by.—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Explanation.
Customer—Here, you said that was a diamond of the first water and it looks bluish.
Jeweler—Well, well! They must have got the bluing in the first water.—Chicago Journal.

The Lady—Don't be 'ard on me, yer worship. I'm a-doin' me best ter conceal me feelin'.—The Sketch.

ALMOST A SHADOW
Gained 20 lbs. on Grape-Nuts.

There's a wonderful difference between a food which merely tastes good and one which builds up strength and good healthy flesh. It makes no difference how much we eat unless we can digest it. It is not really food to the system until it is absorbed. A Yorkstate woman says:

"I had been a sufferer for ten years with stomach and liver trouble, and had got so bad that the least bit of food such as I then knew, would give me untold misery for hours after eating.

"I lost flesh until I was almost a shadow of my original self and my friends were quite alarmed about me. First I dropped coffee and used Postum, then began to use Grape-Nuts, although I had little faith it would do me any good.

"But I continued to use the food and have gained twenty pounds in weight and feel like another person in every way. I feel as if life had truly begun anew for me.
"I can eat anything I like now in moderation, suffer no ill effects, be on my feet from morning until night. Whereas a year ago they had to send me away from home for rest while others cleaned house for me, this spring I have been able to do it myself all alone.
"My breakfast is simply Grape-Nuts with cream and a cup of Postum, with sometimes an egg and a piece of toast, but generally only Grape-Nuts and Postum. And I can work until noon and not feel as tired as one hour's work would have made me a year ago."—There's a Reason.

NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

BATTLE WITH REJECTED SUITOR.

Shamokin (Special).—Miss Edna Blystone, of Burnside, a local suburb, was probably fatally shot by Martin Kane, also of that place, on a mountain road. Following the shooting she was attacked by him but succeeded in escaping to her home a mile away. News of the shooting quickly spread and an angry crowd of villagers threatened to lynch Kane.
An examination showed that a 32-caliber bullet had entered one side of Miss Blystone's neck, ploughed through and came out on the other. Kane was apprehended some time later in the mountains and was hurried to jail to escape the crowd of infuriated people.
Kane took Miss Blystone out driving and asked her to marry him. She refused and he pulled a revolver from his pocket, pointed it at the woman and fired. Miss Blystone grasped the smoking weapon and wrested it from the grasp of her rejected suitor. She threw it into the woods and jumped from the carriage.
The man followed her and realizing that she would escape him unless halted he picked up a rock and hit her on the head. When she fell to the ground he rushed to her side and with the rock tried to batter out her brains, bruising her head and disfiguring her face in a desperate attempt to end the woman's life. With a beer bottle which she secured from the buggy Miss Blystone finally beat Kane off and made her escape, and with blood streaming from the wounds in her neck managed to stagger home. The scene of the shooting was on Burnside Mountain.

Kane called at the Blystone home earlier in the evening and requested the girl to accompany him. Unknown to her he had a box of beer reached the mountain began to drink. Miss Blystone is a popular and well known young woman of this section.

TO DEDICATE MEMORIAL.
Harrisburg (Special).—Governor Stuart approved of November 11 as the date upon which the memorial to Pennsylvania Regiments at Fredericksburg shall be dedicated, his approval being required by law. The memorial is to perpetuate the bravery of Humphreys' Division at the storming of Marye's Heights, Fredericksburg, on December 13, 1863, in which the command lost one-fourth of its men. The regiments from this State engaged were the One Hundred and Twenty-third, One Hundred and Twenty-sixth, One Hundred and Twenty-ninth, One Hundred and Thirty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-third and One Hundred and Thirty-fourth, which have no memorials anywhere.

The Legislature of 1905 appropriated $25,500 for the memorial and Governor Pennypacker named this commission: D. Watson Rowe, Chambersburg; J. M. Clark, Newcastle; W. Witherow, Pittsburg; Clay W. Evans, St. Clair; James Hunter, Milton, and George F. Baer. Mr. Baer, the president of the Philadelphia & Reading, was captain of Company E, of the One Hundred and Thirty-third.

URSINUS FORGING AHEAD.
Collegeville (Special).—During the summer the officers of Ursinus College have been busy strengthening the organization and laying plans for larger and still more successful work during the coming year. The department of philosophy has again been filled by a resident professor, A. M. Caldwell, Ph. D., having been called to this position. Dr. Caldwell is a native of Indiana and pursued his undergraduate course at the State University of Indiana.

The board has called Prof. Theodore Henckels from Middlebury College Vermont, to the modern language department. Prof. Henckels' training was received in European universities and at Harvard.

Dr. A. B. Van Ormer has been appointed to a permanent lectureship in the department of education. The attendance in both the college and the academy will be much larger than in former years.

Philadelphia Firm Gets Bonds.
Reading (Special).—Councils' Finance Committee has awarded the $300,000 filtration bond issue to E. B. Smith and Co., of Philadelphia, at a premium of $3,293.90. Owing to the condition of the bond market the premium is much smaller than was obtained at previous sales.

Harrisburg Man A Suicide.
Harrisburg (Special).—Henry Weiner, a carpet weaver, 60 years of age, was found dead in a row-boat along the Susquehanna shore. A bottle of chloroform was beside him, and it is thought that he drank it to commit suicide. Weiner had been sick for some time.

Accused Of Counterfeiting.
Milton (Special).—The tobacco stores and saloons of this place have for some time been annoyed by spurious nickels, and United States Secret Service Agent W. P. Walsh, assisted by local officers, caused the arrest of Ralph Bomboy, Henry E. Pfeiffer and Frank Wolsey, charged with uttering and passing counterfeit money. Wolsey was discharged and the others held in a sum of $500 each for their appearance at United States court.

HURLED FROM AUTO.

Philadelphia (Special).—Speeding along on the outskirts of the city, seven persons were hurled from a skidding automobile and six were injured, one of them probably fatally. Miss Lena Brown, aged 16, who was pinned beneath the mechanism of the car after it skidded and turned turtle, is suffering from concussion of the brain. She may not recover. The others injured were:
William Atkins, owner of the car, fractured shoulder blade and scalp wounds.
Mrs. Atkins, his wife, scalp wounds and abrasions.
Frank Williams, the chauffeur, abrasions of body and face and head.
William Oakley, fractured knee and abrasions.
Miss Florence Payne, contusions and shock.

The accident resulted from an attempt by the chauffeur to make a sharp turn without slackening speed.

ASKS $10,000 HEART BALM.

Reading (Special).—Charging that she was engaged to wed William Heingelman of this city, when he remained at Benfield, Va., Miss Bertha R. Sublette instituted a suit against him here to recover $10,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage.
She declared she had no reason to suspect his fidelity to their engagement until February 18 last, a year after they became acquainted, when at his solicitation she came to Reading. Then he requested her to let him look at his letters. He succeeded in obtaining possession of them and tore them all up in her presence.

INSANE FROM JILTING.

Danville (Special).—Lester Robinson the 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Robinson, of Danville, went violently insane, and before he could be subdued had endangered the lives of his parents, brother and sisters by shooting at random through the house.
It finally took the combined strength of four men to overpower and subdue the young man. In his ravings he would repeatedly call the name of his sweetheart, who had jilted him. He was removed to the Danville Hospital for the Insane.

Died From The Heat.

Pottsville (Special).—Unable to stand the oppressive heat, G. L. Morrow, aged 62 years, got up from his bed at the home of his son-in-law, Harry Dress, with whom he resided at Wadswille, and went out in the yard to "cool off." When day dawned members of the family found him lying dead but a few feet from the threshold of his home. His death was due entirely to the heat.

Blind Men Seldom Smoke.

Blind men seldom smoke. Those who are inveterate smokers in their sighted days find that after losing their sight a pipe or cigar has no attraction for them. The man who has no eyes to watch the smoke curl and drift about his head apparently has no use for a cigar.

Blind Men Seldom Smoke.

Smoking to the absolutely blind is something different from smoking in the dark. Besides, few persons smoke in total darkness. Usually there is starlight or firelight enough to enable a man to keep track of the smoke. When deprived of that fascinating pastime the cigar loses its charm, and the man who is blind resigns himself to a smokeless old age.—N. Y. Press.

A Prediction.

One hundred and ninety-nine years ago today the English—no, let us go away back—299 years ago the French—no, that isn't right—299 years ago the Indians—oh, pshaw, 499 years ago the Mound Builders took Teonderoga from the Cave Dwellers. Then the Indians took it from the Mound Builders and the French took it from the Indians, and then 199 years ago today the English took it from the French, and then Ethan Allen, with the aid of the Great Jehovah and the continental congress, took it from the English, and now you can take it from me that no one else is ever going to take it from anybody.—Boston Journal.

Accommodating.

The Bishop of London, at a dinner in Washington, told a story as the cigars came on about one of his predecessors. "When Dr. Creighton was Bishop of London," he said, "he rode in a train one day with a small, meek curate. Dr. Creighton, an ardent lover of tobacco, soon took out his cigar case, and with a smile said: 'You don't mind my smoking, I suppose?' The meek, pale little curate bowed and answered humbly: 'Not if your lordship doesn't mind my being cick.'"—Argonaut.

FIVE MONTHS IN HOSPITAL.

Discharged Because Doctors Could Not Cure.

Levi P. Brockway, S. Second Ave., Anoka, Minn., says: "After lying for five months in a hospital I was discharged as incurable, and given only six months to live. My heart was affected, I had smothering spells and sometimes fell unconscious. I got so I couldn't use my arms, my eyesight was impaired and the kidney secretions were badly disordered. I was completely worn out and discouraged when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but they went right to the cause of the trouble and did their work well. I have been feeling well ever since."

Fine Courtesy In Alaska.

Life in Alaska is unchivalrous in parts, but it has its refinements. In Valdez there lived a man named "Jake" who kept a boarding house for dogs. When the prospectors returned from their sled trips they would place their teams in his charge until ready to start out again. As he fed his guests on garbage gathered by a house-to-house canvass he was known by every one as "Slop Jake."
Once upon a time he fell ill and the newspaper wished to chronicle the fact. No one, however, knew "Jake's" other name, and it didn't seem worth while to waste the time of the editorial staff on so insignificant a detail. So the news went printed thus:
"Our well-known fellow-citizen, S. Jake, is confined to his house with a severe cold. It is hoped he will be out soon."—N. Y. Times.

All Employees Are Blind.

A business corporation has been successfully established in Vienna by men who are totally blind. The company manufactures brushes and baskets and all its employees are blind. In the eight months of its existence it has filled orders aggregating 23,000 kronen ($4,600), making a fair profit and has enough orders on hand to justify the enlargement of its workshops. Sixteen of the employees are skilled workmen, and the company wishes it known that its wares are sold on their "actual merit"; that they are put upon the market "in fair competition with the product of other concerns," and that the blind people want "business, not charity."—Chicago News.

Mule Had A Good Memory.

"I was at Tampa when a negro teamster was instantly killed by an army mule, and it furnished a good illustration of the wonderful memory that a mule has.

"The negro teamster used to pound that mule unmercifully. Instead of using strategy and coaxing his mule into submission, he used to beat it hard enough to kill a horse. Well, for two months the teamster didn't drive that mule. But the mule never forgot him. He never made any attempt to injure his new driver, who knew enough to treat him decently. But one day the old teamster came back. The mule remembered him. He waited with as much docility and patience as an ox until he was harnessed, and then, when the old teamster was off his guard, he let fly with both heels, caught that negro in the pit of the stomach, and stretched him out as dead as a hammer. The other teamster was standing right there by him, but that mule didn't make any attempt to kick him. He had just been laying for the fellow who walloped him two months before, and when he had finished him he was satisfied."—Buffalo Horse World.

Married Paupers And Divorce.

"An odd thing about married paupers is that they like to live separate," said a single pauper.
"You know how almshouses are arranged: There's a men's ward, a women's ward, and a mixed, or married ward. Well, the mixed ward is always nearly empty. Not that we lacked married paupers. Oh, no. But the husbands prefer to bachelor it among the men, and the wives to old-maid it among the women.
"The older our married paupers get, the more vehement is their insistence on separate living.
"She's allus a-naggin', the octogenarian will growl.
"Nobody can't sleep o' nights with sech snorin' as him; sniffs the septuagenarian female.
"And so they separate—to all intents divorced."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Eating The Octopus.

At Atlantic City the other day a fisherman caught an octopus, a rare fish in those waters.
The octopus which resembled a frayed and ruined football of brown leather, was carried home by the fisherman in a bucket of water.
"What am I going to do with it?" he said. "Why, I'm going to eat it. I'd almost as soon eat octopus as scallops."
"I am a traveler, and I learned in Italy and France the octopus's excellence. You can't give an Italian of the Riviera or a Frenchman of the northwest coast, where the fish abounds, a more welcome dish.
"What does it taste like? It tastes like scallops or like tripe and oysters."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

SHE COULD NOT WALK

For Months—Burning Humor on Ankles—Ointment Alone Brought Sleep—Eczema Yielded to Cuticura.

"I had eczema for over two years. I had two physicians, but they only gave me relief for a short time and I cannot enumerate the ointments and lotions I used to no purpose. My ankles were one mass of sores. The itching and burning were so intense that I could not sleep. I could not walk for nearly four months. One day my husband said I had better try the Cuticura Remedies. After using them three times, I had the best night's rest in months. I used one ointment. I used one set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and my ankles healed in a short time. It is now a year since I used Cuticura, and there has been no return of the eczema. THE COME AND SEE SIGN

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.
What Does This Sign Mean?
It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs?
Come and See.
Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?
Come and See.
Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick women are asked to write?
Come and See.
Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?
Come and See.
Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents?
Come and See.
Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?
Come and See.
This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well remain her health.

A mean trick to play on a widow is to expect her to remember that she has ever had any experience with the weak points of men.

What's the good of being good if you do not let people know it?
