LOCALS.

Where there's a will there's a way to fool the heirs.

W. B. Shutt, Thursday of last week, went to Philadelphia, where he engaged with Uncle Sam on one of the various school ships.

Everybody is talking of the horrible roads, yet how many of the good road advocates are willing to pay an additional tax for that purpose?

W. A. Carson, east of Centre Hall, sold a draft horse, and the quality of the animal can be better judged when the cash received for it is known—$240.

Dr. O. W. McEntire, who is identified with the improvements in his home town, that of Howard, is building the foundations for another brick cottage.

The state purchased the armory in Bellefonte from Col. W. Fred Reynolds who some years ago erected it. The building, it is said, will be remodeled to some extent.

Generally speaking the wheat has been yielding fairly well, especially so when the amount of straw is considered. The acre average will not be as large as last year.

The Eungards, at Farmers Mills, have a new threshing outfit that is said to be the finest ever brought to this section. It has all the modern improvements and works with the precision of a pendulum.

W. A. Reiber, of Johnstown, with his wife and children, are spending their vacation at the home of his parents at Tusseyville and also with Mrs. Rieber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bartsch, at Earlstown.

M. M. Nagney, of Milroy, is one of the number of farmers appointed by Governor Stuart as delegates to represent Pennsylvania at the Farmers National Congress to be held at Madison, Wisconsin, September 24th.

Sciatic rheumatism remains the master of D. W. Bradford, of Centre Hall, and is causing him great pain. It is about five weeks since he first began to feel the effects of the disease, and for the past two weeks he has been partially helpless.

Mrs. Eisenberg, of Johnstown, wife of Rev. S. H. Eisenberg, formerly pastor of the Reformed church in this place, is the guest of Mrs. Maggie Harper and other friends in and about Centre Hall. Rev. Eisenberg is expected here later, and will accompany his wife home.

Saturday morning another Democrat was born on the G. L. Goodhart farm, near Centre Hill, and is claimed by Mr. and Mrs. James C. Goodhart. All dispute of the political affiliations of the youngster was settled when, after surveying the surroundings, he shouted: Hurrah for Bryan.

Hon. Ellis L. Orvis and Col. J. L. Spangler with their wives are on an extended tour through the west. From Bellefonte they went to Buffalo where they will make the journey further west by boat over the Great Lakes. They will include Yellowstone Park and Salt Lake City in the trip.

Young chickens and fruit have been disappearing of late in Centre Hall, and at the same time a huckster wagon from town began making trips to Bellefonte. Of course, it is a coincidence that these "innovations" should begin at the same time, but a general alarm has been sounded and their association or disassociation will develop later.

Just who will be the speakers on the political days during the Grange Encampment and Fair it is too early to state, but there is one thing certain that there will be some big guns here in the interest of both parties. It appears that the Republican managers have retained Wednesday and the Democrats Thursday, September 16th and 17th respectively.

DEATHS.

WILLIAM B. FISCHER.

William B. Fischer, the only son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Fischer, of Shamokin, passed peacefully away Sunday morning about five o'clock. Interment was made at Berlin, Somerset county, Wednesday evening.

The deceased was a graduate of Gettysburg college, and while a student there contracted tuberculosis, and for four years had been a sufferer from that disease. Everything possible was done to restore his health, —sanitariums north and south were visited by him for long periods, but only temporary if any relief came. Finally he returned to his home where the tender care of a loving father and mother were superior to the attentions of the most skilled in medical science.

Deceased was born in Centre Hall, while the father was pastor of the Lutheran church in this place, and was aged years. Two sisters—Marion, wife of Rev. Charles Keen, missionary in China, and Ella, wife of Charles E. Buery, of Philadelphia, survive.

MRS. MARY FISHBURN.

Mrs. Mary Fishburn, widow of Jacob Fishburn, died at her home at the Branch, near Lemont, Thursday evening of last week. She had been ill for about one month, heart trouble being the cause of her death.

Mrs. Fishburn, whose maiden name was Mary Hoy, was born at Jacksonville, and was aged about sixty-eight years. She had resided in College township most of her life time.

She is survived by two sons, Thomas, at home, and Frank, of Pine Grove Mills; and two daughters, Mrs. Lyon Corman, of Bellefonte, and Elizabeth, at home. One sister, Mrs. Samuel Ishler, of Boalsburg, also survives.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, assisted by Rev. W. K. Harnish, officiating. Interment was made at Shiloh.

Emanuel C. Kinch died at his home in Juniata after an illness of two years from paralysis of the bowels. He was seventy-two years of age, and his early life was spent at Huntingdon Furnace. His wife was Miss Priscilla Zantmyer, a member of the well known Zantmyer family, of Huntingdon Furnace. She with four sons and five daughters, as well as one sister, survive.

John Hall Armstrong died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong, in Bellefonte, of consumption. He was aged twenty-eight years, and six months, and had been ill for over a year. About two years ago he was married to Miss Mary A. Reedy, of Blanchard, who survives with his parents and one brother, Walter L. A sister, Miss Jennie, died about ten weeks ago.

Miss Mary Butler, an aged maiden lady who made her home with her nephew, Burdine Butler, and family, at Howard, died last week one day. Some time ago she fell and broke her hip and, being past sixty years of age, the shock to her nervous system caused her to decline from that time on, and was undoubtedly the cause of her death.

Thomas Rhodes, an old and well known resident of Bellefonte, died in the Bellefonte hospital, where he had been undergoing treatment for asthma and dropsy. He was about seventy-eight years of age, and was a painter by trade. For a number of years he has been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hanley.

Mable Ruth Brindle, wife of John Brindle, died at her home near Fiedler, of peritonitis, aged twenty-two years ten months. An infant child of the deceased died the following day and was interred in the same coffin with its mother. She leaves to survive her husband and one son.

Mrs. Susan E. Rupp, widow of George Rupp, died at her home at Aronsburg, of dropsy, aged sixty-seven years and nine months. She leaves to survive four sons and two daughters, James, of Dakota; John, of State College; Frank, of New York City; Mrs. Emma J. Hinde, of Fiedler, and Walter and Jennie at home.

Winfield Scott Bransetter died at his home in Tyrone of cancer of the stomach. He was born in Huntingdon county, and was well known through the western end of Centre county. Surviving are his wife, three children and one brother, Harry, living in Warriorsmark valley.

Stories of Famous Hymns.

From week to week the Reporter will publish the stories of a few of the most popular hymns. These stories are based on facts, and will be interesting to the average reader.

"THE SWEET BY AND BY"

The origin of this beautiful and well-known hymn is as unique as the story is interesting. Its author, Samuel Fillmore Bennett, whose name but a few of us have ever heard and still fewer remember, leads the quiet and monotonous life of a country physician near a little town in the state of Wisconsin. He had a musical composer, a Mr. Webster, now dead, were inseparable friends, although they were unlike in temperament, Mr. Bennett being of a cheerful, pleasant disposition, while his friend was frequently despondent and downcast. It happened one day that they met when the latter was in one of his most unpleasant humors, and Mr. Bennett naturally inquired the cause of his despondency. "It is nothing much," was the reply; "it will be all right by and by." Here was the keynote. It was as if a voice had come to him from some mysterious and unknown land—an inspiration such as a man can expect to have only once or twice in a lifetime. Seizing a pen he began to write; and in less than half an hour he turned from his desk and handed Mr. Webster the hymn, worded almost the same as it is today. At that moment two other friends came in and listened while Mr. Webster hastily composed the music on his violin, jotting down the notes on the first scrap of paper that came to hand. Forty minutes from the time Mr. Bennett first took up his pen they were singing the hymn, which one of them declared with tears in his eyes to be immortal. And the quarter of a century that has passed since its composition indicates that he is not far wrong.

Pleasant Gap Beats Hecla Twice.

Last Saturday afternoon during the Sunday School picnic, Pleasant Gap defeated Hecla Park at that place in a double-header, winning the first game by 4 runs to 3 and the second game by the score of 5 to 4, the games being 4 1/2 innings and 7 innings respectively. Bailey, of Centre Hall, and Jodon, of Milesburg, formed the battery for the Gap, while Kline, of Bellefonte, was on the rubber for Hecla. Jodon did some tall hitting in the first game, getting a two-bagger and two singles in three times up, Webster also hit a two-sacker.

In the second game, which went seven innings, the line-up of Hecla was somewhat changed, and Pleasant Gap by hitting the ball when hits meant runs, defeated the former in a game that was noted for occasional protests, the umpire, who by the way was a resident of Hecla, being the fault in each case. It was a hard pill for him to swallow to see his team lose both games, and in order to avert two defeats, he made decisions which are not in accordance to the rules found in the Beach or Spading Guide. The spectators at the game sided with the visiting team in their appeals to the umpire to make the decision as he saw them, even though it cost Hecla the game. The Gap worked hard for the victory and deserve all the credit due them.

Following is the score of both games: PLEASANT GAP HECLA

Son Buried Injured Father.

In an altercation Saturday evening, a few miles east of Altoona, Row W. Reed is alleged to have struck his father, Samuel Reed, on the head with a stone, rendering him unconscious. Believing he had killed the aged man, Row dragged the body down an embankment and, covering it with sand and brush, fled. Sunday morning Reed recovered consciousness, broke from his crude tomb and summoned assistance. He was seriously injured and may not recover. The father told the police that he and his son had been visiting friends in Tyrone and that he was carrying the younger man's two-year-old child. Becoming tired he requested the son to take the burden, when a fight ensued. Young Reed has not been captured.
