Boston, Mass. (Special). - The most brutal crime committed in Greater Boston since the death of Susan Geary, a chorus girl, four it in its details, was disclosed by the discovery of a torso of Mrs. Ho-norah Jordan, an actress, aged 23 years, of Somerville, in a trunk in a boarding-house at 7 Hancock Street, on Beacon Hill, this city. Later the head and bones of the limbs were found in the furnace of the Jordan home, at Somerville, and the scalp, hair and other gruesome remains were taken from the kitchen range of the house.

Chester Jordan, aged 29 years, an actor, of Somerville, is held by the police, charged with the murder, and according to the officers, he made a complete confession of the crime.

According to Jordan's confession, he accidentally killed his wife in a quarrel at their home, and, becoming desperate over what he had done, he went out and bought a butcher's ton boarding-house to await a more warships in the harbor. favorable opportunity.

The discovery of the crime was due to the suspicion of the hackman, James Collins, who had in mind the numerous robberies which have taken place about Boston recently, and, surmising from its weight that the trunk contained silverware, notified the police.

Collins reported that he had taken the trunk from the North Station, it having come in from Somerville on a local train. The hackman stated he left Jordan and the trunk at 7 Hancock Street.

Sergt. Michael Crowley was detailed to go to the house and investigate. Jordan was not in, but the officer was shown the back room on the second floor which Jordan had engaged, and found the trunk. At this time the trunk was not opened. About 5.20 o'clock Jordan returned and was commanded to open the trunk. Jordan did not appear nervous or alarmed, but hesitated to open the trunk, and it was not until after considerable argument that he produced

Conference on Tuberculosis on September 23 Will Assist Greatly in Preventing Spread of the White Plague, Thinks the Physician - Delegates From All Parts of World.

Philadelphia (Special) .--- The program of the International Conference this city this month, was made public by Dr. Lawrence F. Flick, head of the Phipps Institute for Poor Consumptives, and chairman of the conference. The International Congress of Tuberculosis, which will be held in Washington this month, will be under the direction of Dr. Flick.

The conference, Dr. Flick explained is an organization made up of representatives of national associations, graphical Commission appointed by for the study of tuberculosis, from the government seven years ago to all parts of the world. The society map all of the towns of the country for formed in 1902, when the first have just made their report. They conference met in Berlin. Since then make the astounding statement that the conference has met yearly: in they discovered 7,679 towns which Paris, in 1903; in Copenhagen, in were not officially known to exist, 1904; in Paris again, in 1905; at The and which have heretofore had no Hague, in 1906, and in Vienna, in federal control. 1907. Its seventh session will be held in Philadelphia this year, Sepsiderable size, ranging in population tember 23 to 26, from 5,000 to 15,000 people. Most

'Each year since its inception,' said Dr. Flick, "the members of the conference have had a story to tell in localities far removed from ordinary courses of travel. eventual conquering of consumption, ress twice as great as has been made in any year before,

"In Philadelphia alone, a reduction of 300 has been made in the death rate of the last six months, from the same six months in the year before. The total number of deaths resulting from consumption last year in the city was 3,600, and if the same rate of progress is kept up for six years to come, consumption will be abolished.

"I am sure that in 15 years or less tuberculosis will be wiped out. All that is needed is a wider knowledge of how to prevent its_spread. If we could teach everyone the simwe could immediately stop all further progress of the disease, and in a few years it would be gone. Their wide educational value is the reason for holding the national conferences. This year we intend to reach as many people as we can, through the papers, through exhibits to cost hundreds of thousands of dollars and through popular lectures."

The Amazon Ashore at Neath, Wales -Island Steamer Vera Jean on the Rocks-Steamer Empress Unable to Land Passengers at Folkestone --Furious Winds.

London (By Cable). - Terrific storms swept the British channel and the English, Irish and Weish coasts Tuesday night.

Reports received here show that much damage was done ashore as well as on the sea. The wind at times blew at the rate of 70 miles. an hour, which is almost unprecedented at this time of the year. Never before has it been necessary in the summer to suspend the boat service between Folkstone and Dover and the midday service to Calais.

An enormous number of vessels have been driven ashore or obliged to seek shelter. Many exciting rescues are reported, but fortunately there has been no great loss of life, except in case of the British bark Amazon, the crew of which had a terrible experience. The Amazon went ashore on Margam Sands, and the people on the land could plainly see the men clinging to the rigging or lashed to the bulwarks, but were helpless to save them. One of the masts fell, carrying a number of the men down. Two of the crews, which numbered 33, were rescued by life lines, and six others were washed ashore alive. The captain of the Amazon was killed in his cabin by a falling mast.

All the steamers arriving at English ports from the continent report unusually rough trips.

The island steamer Vera Jean, of London, is ashore off Rhoose Point. The crew have been landed.

The steamer Empress, from Boulogne, landed 600 passengers at Dover this morning. The vessel had spent part of the night in attempting to approach Foulkestone, but because of the gale this was found impossible.
