THE WEAKEST SPOT.

Taft swears by Roosevelt. Sherman says the great issue before the people is the perpetuation of the Roosevelt policies. This should put the voters of the country upon inquiry. The New York World summarizes the facts with regard to the Roosevelt administration as follows:

- 1 It has been extravagant and wasteful.
- 2 It has attempted to popularize war.
- 3 It has gloried in Philippine imperialism.
- 4 It has menaced the states with federal usurpation by means of constructive jurisprudence.
- 5 It has recklessly undermined confidence in our business methods, causing panic, depression and suffering.
- 6 It has profited by the political contributions of corporations seeking legislative favors.
- 7 It has spoken vociferously against the male factors of great wealth, but it has not brought one of them to justice.
- 8 It has bullied congress, threatening to do as it pleased, law or no law.
- 9 It has assailed the courts when their judgments, were contrary to its wishes.
- 10 It has maintained the highest tariff ever known in a free country and has made no move in favor of income and inheritance taxes.
- 11 It has constantly demanded law and more law for the prosecution of trusts, although existing laws are held by it to be too drastic for enforcement.
- 12 It is now attempting to round out a career of wilfulness, greed, ambition and tyranny by forcing the election of a personally excellent and amiable Proxy.

There are eleven million dollars lying idle in the state treasury. What to do with such a vast sum is being discussed. The Reporter suggests that the state make itself liable for the payment of the salaries of all public school teachers in the state, and distribute the remainder among the townships to be applied to the roads through the local supervisors.

Even honesty is apt to become tarnished unless it is in constant use.

CAMP OPENS SATURDAY.

Grange Park Had Many Tenters Over Sunday—Religious Services.

As was scheduled the Grange Encampment and Fair opened Saturday. A large number of tent holders had their temporary homes in fine condition Saturday afternoon, and remained on the grounds over Sunday.

The fakirs were on hand two days earlier than usual, as were also exhibitors. Saturday was a busy day among these, as well as among the campers and exhibitors, some of the latter of whom had wares there as early as Friday.

The management completed the erection of all tents, exhibition buildings, etc., Saturday afternoon, and the chairman of the executive committee of the association, Hon. Leonard Rhone, was very well pleased with the outlook.

Sunday afternoon religious services, the Harvest Home services, were held in the auditorium, the same being conducted by Dr. H. W. Schuyler, the popular pastor of the Presbyterian church. The auditorium was filled with attentive listeners, and the sermon was one which could not help but make those who heard it feel elevated—spiritually elevated—for having been present.

The music was conducted by Prof. P. H. Meyer. A chorus of some twenty voices rendered the music. This was also pleasing to the audience.

Good Season for Mechanics.

Not in many years have the local mechanics, especially carpenters, been as busy as they have been the present season. The weather for outside work has been ideal, little or no time having been lost on account of wet weather. The improvements in the borough have been many and varied in character, and through the country barns, houses and outbuildings have been erected in almost every section. It was the first opportunity these living in the country districts have had to secure carpenters, as for some years these mechanics have been employed in the cities.

W. B. Feidler, Frederick K. Carter, Asher Stahl and D. Daup just finished a dwelling house on the farm of Emanuel Neese, near Penn Hall, which will be occupied by his son, Samuel Neese. The elder Neese will retire but will not leave the old home.

The property owned by Al. M. Kreamer, of Wolf's Store, located at Penn Hall, and occupied by Thomas J. Decker, has been roofed with slate and other improvements made. And now Mr. Feidler and his men will begin the construction of a large porch on the dwelling house on the Isaac Spicher farm. Of course, these men have been busy all season, and it would be impossible to mention all the improvements made by them.

Aaron Thomas, Samuel Shop and several other carpenters have also been crowded with work ever since early spring. The same is true of the Hagen brothers, and their complement of men; ditto the Lucas brothers; Samuel Snyder and son, the former having come from the Pittsburgh district into a field of plenty when that section had a half dozen men for each day's work to be had.

Keith's Theatre.

The bill at Keith's theatre, Philadelphia, this week, is headed by McIntyre & Heath, the vehicle being "The Man from Montana." Looming large on the bill are the Elinor Sisters in a new skit entitled, "It Was a Great Show, But—", Elsie Boehm, "the little girl with the big voice," is a delight to music lovers. Adeline Dunlap is playing a welcome return in a new play, "The Night Before the Wedding." The Four Casting Dunbars are giving a peerless triple-bar specialty. Frank Parker & Co. offer a novel act called, "A Hotel Room in Mid-Air." Bobby Pandur & Brother have an European acrobatic act that is creating a sensation. Many other acrobats, comedians, etc. are among the entertainers.

Woodward.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Beall having spent three weeks with friends returned to their home in Sewickley last Saturday.

Clayton Boob and family, of Mifflinburg, spent a few days at the home of J. L. Kreamer.

C. W. Eby and wife visited the former's parents one day last week.

Miss Maude Ard, after spending her vacation with her parents, returned to Philadelphia last Friday, where she is engaged in nursing.

Some of the visitors in town on Sunday were: John Hosterman and family, Frank Confer and wife, Harris Stover and family, Frank Loss and family, and Irwin Smith and family.

A few pointers on how the state secures its revenues appears in this issue. While the farmer does not pay a direct state tax, unless he has money at interest, he pays four times as much as corporations.

The dry weather has checked seeding. There are many fields ready to receive the seed, but as there is no moisture in the soil that was ploughed through August, farmers are waiting for rain before risking to sow.

Minister Honored.

The thirtieth ordination anniversary of Rev. S. M. Roeder was celebrated the first Tuesday of this month by the Glenn Rock Reformed charge, which charge he has served as pastor for two years. The meeting was arranged unknown to Rev. Roeder, and the first intimation of the gathering was when he was called into the auditorium under the pretext that the choir wished to consult with him. The affair was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. B. Wolf, of the Lutheran church, and Rev. W. J. Campbell, of the United Evangelical church.

After the ceremonies in the church were over, another surprise awaited the minister when he reached his home, for here a donation committee had been at work, and the result of its efforts was evident in a surprisingly generous donation of provisions and money.

In giving an account of the anniversary celebration the Glen Rock Item concludes thus:

This is the fourth charge he serves since he entered the ministry. His first charge was at Centre Hall, where he labored six years. The Elizabethtown charge, Lancaster county, was next served by him for nine years. Then came a call to the Manchester, Md., charge which he served for thirteen years, and until he was elected to the Glen Rock charge. In all of these fields he was signally successful and upon his relinquishing the work in each he left behind him a devoted and beloved people.

LOCALS.

Courtesy toward one's inferiors is the mark of the real gentleman.

Miss Lou Camp, of Tyrone, is the guest of Misses Elsie and Virna Geiss for the week.

Frank Benner, youngest son of Mrs. Nancy Benner, who lives in Boston, is here for a week.

The lawns in Centre Hall are looking quite shabby on account of the lack of rains during the past two months.

Mrs. Annie M. Emerick will make sale of personal property and real estate, Saturday, October 17th. See advertisement.

Mrs. Katharine Mothersbaugh, of Boalsburg, who recently underwent an operation at the Bellefonte hospital is improving nicely, but is not yet able to attend to household duties.

John F. Boozer, the Osceola Mills undertaker and decorator, is here for the week. He reports business in his line up to the average, house painting not having lessened any during the panic.

John Rossman, of Centre Hall, made a trip to Baltimore last week, leaving here Tuesday and returning Friday. He was off on a little business transaction, having spent considerable time about Baltimore before coming to Centre Hall.

While at work in Bellefonte, John Emerick, an employe of the Yeager Swing factory, had four fingers of his right hand caught in the shaping machine and badly injured. The bones of two fingers were broken and the flesh of all four was bruised and torn.

Mrs. William Astor, the oldest living member of the Astor family, who has just retired as supreme head of that exclusive set known as the New York "Four Hundred," gives the October issue of the Delinctor her first interview on public affairs—in fact, it is her first public utterance.

A little child of Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Garrett, of Millheim, made a narrow escape from losing her life. While crossing the street near her home, a wagon knocked the tot down, and when picked up was thought to be seriously injured, but fortunately the blow that stunned her left no serious results.

Dr. and Mrs. Findley Bell, of Englewood, New Jersey, visited the former's mother in Bellefonte. The trip was made in the Doctor's automobile, and was a most delightful one. When a youth, Dr. Bell attended the Centre Hall schools, and his associates will be pleased to learn that he has been a successful physician as well as a good financier.

Ray Miller, a son of John M. Miller of Liberty township, met with a peculiar accident in Beech Creek on Thursday. A bag rolled off his wagon under one of the horses. The young fellow stooped down and attempted to pull the bag out without speaking to the horse. The animal became frightened and gave a sudden jump, bringing one foot down on the boy's head. The shoe cut a deep gash in his head near the ear, but he did not appear to be seriously injured as he managed to get on the wagon and started for home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, of Columbia, South Carolina, are at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer, having come here Thursday evening. The trip from Bellefonte to Centre Hall was made by automobile, Mrs. McCormick's brother Prof. John D. Meyer having accompanied them. Mr. McCormick has had a very successful business year as the leading undertaker in Columbia, and he and his wife are taking a short time to themselves, and find the old home in the North the best place for recreation.

Harris Township.

It is still hot and dry, yet some seeding has been done.

There is not much doing here this week as the majority of the people expect to attend the Grange Encampment. Those who were there on Sunday had an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, of Youngstown, Ohio, are taking in the picnic. Before going there they visited several families in Boalsburg.

Bruce Lonberger, who has been engaged at lumbering in Virginia for a number of years, has returned with his family and will make their home at this place. They made this move partly because of dull times and partly for the purpose of giving their children a better opportunity of getting a good education, and really because they like to live here, among their old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Markie, who moved from Linden Hall to Kansas about thirty years ago, are another family who left their home in Lucas, Kansas, last week and came to Boalsburg to make their future home. Mrs. Markie visited here two years ago, and after her return to Kansas she had such a longing for Pennsylvania and these mountains and valleys in Centre county that she made arrangements to move back to the home of their youth.

The people here are glad to welcome all who come to this community, but what is needed now is for some kind fairy to throw her wand over Boalsburg and surrounding country and surprise all some morning by the sight of some convenient houses just ready for occupancy.

George Mothersbaugh with his family moved from Pleasant Gap to the Mothersbaugh home in Boalsburg, last week.

Christ Alexander, of Millheim, attended the funeral of Miss Maria Alexander, last week. Miss Emily Alexander, of Centre Hall, was also among the relatives at the funeral, and afterward spent a short time with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Murray.

Miss Jennie Hunter spent last week with relatives at Stormstown.

Miss Priscilla Stuart is visiting her brother, Harry Stuart, at Sheffield. From there she will continue her journey to Baltimore, Md., where she will remain with relatives for an indefinite time. During her absence Miss Jennie Hunter will superintend the household.

Charles Fisher and his bride arrived at the home of his mother, Mrs. Emma A. Fisher, in Boalsburg, Monday where they were warmly welcomed, and are now receiving congratulations from the many friends of the bridegroom.

Spring Mills.

John Breen and family, of Altoona, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary Breen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Grove left on Monday morning for Sunbury, Lewisburg and other points.

Miss Mae Brown, of Huntingdon, is visiting Miss Rosie Smith and other friends.

S. W. Sweetwood and wife are tenting at Grange Park, this week.

The wife of Rev. Snook went to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment on Tuesday.

The water question is becoming very serious. Many wells are dry and a number of families go a long distance for water for household purposes.

Robert Goldron moved his family to Huntingdon, where he is employed in a mill.

J. D. Long was to Union county to see his brother, who is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wise spent last week in Snyder county.

Messrs. Cavil Rice and Rufus Finkle, two of the high school pupils, left Tuesday morning for Pennsylvania State College, where they will enter that institution as students. Several other pupils are teaching school this winter, namely: Messrs. Paul Letzell, Robert Musser, Ralph Shook, and Misses Katharine Stover and Grace Grove.

Rebersburg.

Mrs. Kate Winters returned to her home at Lock Haven after spending a few days among her relatives in this place.

Levi Vance and wife moved to this place after living several years at State College.

George Corman and wife, of Illinois are visiting among relatives and old acquaintances here.

Kleckner Reish spent a few days in town.

Charles Garrett has purchased a lot at the west end of town and is making preparations for building a house on it.

Scott Stover is at present nursing a very sore knee caused by a bruise, which detains him from following his trade as a carpenter.

D. D. Royer bought the creamery lot in south Rebersburg and contemplates erecting a dwelling house on the same.

Cider Press Notice.

G. C. King, of Spring Mills, announces that he will operate his cider press at Spring Mills, Tuesday and Friday of next week, and thereafter Tuesday and Thursday of each week.

LOCALS.

Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Schuyler Monday went to Birmingham, Everett, and other points. Dr. Schuyler expects to return this week, but Mrs. Schuyler will not be back until October.

The dull season at Altoona cut Abner Stover out of work in that city, and now he and his wife have located at Centre Hall. Mr. Stover found employment with Boozer & Fetterolf, the liverymen.

Joseph Hartley, a veteran of the Civil War, died suddenly from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, at his home near Glen Iron. He is survived by ten children. His wife, nee Ellen Boob, died about five years ago.

Prof. John D. Meyer, supervising principal of the Bellefonte schools, was home over Sunday. There was a sort of family reunion at the Meyer home, all the members of the family being home Saturday and Sunday.

J. G. Rimmey, of Pleasant Gap, was an early Wednesday morning caller, having walked from his home to Centre Hall "leisurely" as he put it, but the Reporter is inclined to think the brisk air made the gentleman step lively and forget all about the number of his next anniversary.

Fergus Potter Esq., and sister, Miss Margaret, Friday gave a dinner to a number of relatives—a sort of family reunion. Among others present were Mrs. Margaret N. Kent, of Brooklyn; Miss Mary Rhoda Potter, Henry Potter, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Potter, all of Centre Hall.

W. Harrison Walker, Esq., Democratic candidate for Congress, accompanied by W. D. Zerby, the Democratic chairman, were in town on Monday. Mr. Walker is hustling over this large district, and there may be some surprises in store for Mr. Barclay the beginning of November.

The readers of the Reporter who will remember John Reiber, will also be pleased to know that he is able to be about and is in good spirits at the age of seventy six. Many years ago Mr. Reiber carried on the tinning business in the old foundry building; later he went to Michigan, and now is making his home with Ira R. Stamm, at Berrien Springs, Michigan. Mrs. Reiber nee Phoebe Palmer, died about six years ago.

Dr. W. R. Goodman, a lifelong resident of Loganton, and a practicing physician since 1880, has sold his property and the good will of his profession to Dr. Howard S. Klune, the physician who succeeded Dr. T. C. Conser in that borough a few months ago. It is said Dr. Goodman will relinquish his practice about the middle of next month and will go to Jersey Shore where he has a son practicing medicine.

The Local Option Meeting.

Tuesday afternoon Col. D. F. Fortney presided at the local option meeting held in the auditorium, Grange Park, and in a brief address introduced the speakers, who were Rev. W. H. Topp, superintendent of the Philadelphia division of the Anti Saloon League, and Rev. J. B. Stine, of the Methodist church, Bellefonte.

Rev. Topp presented his subject in a most forcible manner. He is a fluent speaker, and held the attention of the audience to the close of his remarks.

Rev. Stine was also successful in receiving the closest attention of his hearers.

Cider Press Notice.

The undersigned will run his cider press, at Tusseyville, every Tuesday and Thursday after the Grange Encampment. Those who have apples to make into cider are requested to remember the days.

ANDREW CORMAN.

Tusseyville.

Mrs. Catherine Armstrong, of Potters Mills spent a week with her niece Mrs. Ida Martz.

Miss Eva Fleisher is making her home with her sister Mrs. H. A. McClallan.

Mrs. Lydia High, of Lock Haven, is visiting her mother Mrs. James Runkle.

Edward Zerby went to Penn Hall Saturday and purchased a new buggy from J. C. Condo.

Thomas Swartz and wife visited friends in Bellefonte Sunday.

Many cisterns are almost dry, a good rain would be greatly appreciated, if it would hinder some from attending the Grange Encampment.

Aaronsburg.

Among those who are tenting at the Grange Picnic this week are Ralph Stovers and F. Bowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Albright, of Penn Hall spent one day last week with their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Stover.

Dr. Finley Bell and wife, of Anglewood, visited at the home of Thomas Hull.

Marion Stover and Ardenna Harman have gone to State College for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Rebecca Charles, who is spending the most of her time at Hubersburg, has come to spend a few weeks in her home at this place.

Warren Winkelblech and family spent the Sabbath at Rebersburg with his parents.

Miss Dora Gusewite spent a few days with her friend at Altoona.

Mrs. Mary Bard is spending the week with Mrs. Murray at Centre Hall.

HORSE FOR SALE.—Bay mare, rising four years, a farm chunk, for further particulars apply to C. W. SWARTZ, Tusseyville.
