Queer Ways of the Native Black of Australia, For bearing hardship, such as thirst, hunger, long hours in the saddle, etc. the black has far less endurance than the white man. In fact, a black fellow is uncomfortable if he goes for any length of time without water. And yet nobody is more improvident than he. Give him two gallous of water, twenty pounds of flour and two or three sticks of tobacco and tell him that he wfil get no more for three sleeps-viz, three days-he will deliberately settle down and not be satisfied till he has finished the lot. I have known a civilized and clothed black fellow who was traveling with me sit down after dark and wash his clothes most unusual proceeding) when he had only three gallons of water and fifty hours' riding before he could get any more, and this with the thermometer registering 112 in the shade.

This is not a thing that occurs once or twice, but always. The black man will not look five minutes ahead, nor will experience teach him. A gamble on a small scale is dear to the heart of every black fellow, and it is a commou occurrence for one of them to swap a brand new suit of blue dungaree for an old frayed white coat, thinking that he will be able to sell or deal the latter away and make a profit simply because it is white, an unusual color with them. But one good point these black men have. They never complain when they find they have made a bad bargain. This is possibly because they forget with whom they made the deal.-Australian Cor. London Standard.

THE WART HOG.

It Is One of the Most Grotesque Animals In Existence.

To the naturalist who closely studies animal life it sometimes appears as if nature had either deliberately set to work to form weird and curious creatures or else had been engaged in experiments, for there are birds and animais which might be accused of being made up of odds and ends.

One of the most grotesque animals in existence is the wart hog of Africa. called by the Boers the Vlaktevark pig of the plains.

It stands about thirty inches in height, has a huge disproportionate head, with eyes set very high up, and inge protruding tusks. These are exactly opposite those of other pigs, the upper ones being much longer than those in the lower jaw and sometimes staining a length of over twenty inohes.

Eut the most unusual feature of this urious looking creature and the one from which it derives its name is the great wart just below each eye, a smaller one appearing between each tuck and the large wart above it.

that along the spine and the neck coarse hair hangs, and the whole effect of the animal is weird and gootesque. These wild hogs often take possession mals, and when pursued they sle . around sharply as they enter, making their way in hind first .- London Telegraph.

Jonny Lind's Piety.

Jenny Lind, who gave her first £2,-000 to the poor, continued throughout her life a series of charities and pieties. In regard to the latter we have the assurance of a friend that this greatest of singers deliberately cut short her own public career while her voice was still in perfection. It was Lody Taylor, wife of the author of "Thilip Van Artevelde," who found Jeany Lind sitting toward evening on a south coast beach just after her withdrawal, with a book in her lap. She spoke of her resolve. "I found that this"-the setting sun-"was becoming less to me and that this"-the book in her lap was a Bible-"was becoming nothing to me, and I knew then that I must check myself and change my life."-London Standard.

Mexican Lottery Tickets.

Nearly $100,000 is spent in the City of Mexico every week in lottery tickets, and in the same period about $70.-000 is paid back in premiums. On the weeks immediately preceding the big drawings the sale, of course, mounts up to great sums-as, for instance. when the $200,000 drawings are held there are 20,000 tickets at $40 each sold on the streets, and practically every ticket is disposed of, most of them during the last two weeks before the drawing. But as a general proposition, on an average, $15,000 a day is spent by the people of the City of Mexico on the lotteries .-- Mexican Herald.

The Open Window.

Children brought up with open windows appear indeed to be about fifteen times more likely to contract adenoids than those who sleep with the windows shut on cold and damp nights, or at least than those who sleep with closed windows throughout the greater part of the year .- Dr. Sim Wallace in Medical Press.
