

A SUDDEN GOLD.

Miss Helen Sauerbier, of 815 Main St., St. Joseph, Mich., writes an interesting letter on the subject of catching cold, which cannot fail to be of value to all women who catch cold easily.

PERUNA ADVISED FOR SUDDEN COLDS.

It Should Be Taken According to Directions on the Bottle, at the First Appearance of the Cold.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Sept. 1901.—Last winter I caught a sudden cold which developed into an unpleasant catarrh of the head and throat, depriving me of my appetite and usual good spirits. A friend who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it and I sent for a bottle at once, and I am glad to say that in three days the phlegm had loosened, and I felt better, my appetite returned and within nine days I was in my usual good health.

—Miss Helen Sauerbier.

Peruna is an old and well tried remedy for colds. No woman should be without it.

Influence Of Mountains.
The influence of the mountain is pure and holy, giving strength and simplicity, encouraging the older virtues, discouraging the newer vices. In the hill men of Wales we see this clearly enough. Go where you will among the wilder and more mountainous parts of Wales, and you will find that rare independence and self-reliance which are not marred by a curiously defiant discourtesy. You find there those who are truly "nature's gentlemen."

Rival Dignities.
An English, fond of boasting of his ancestry, took a coin from his pocket and, pointing to the head engraved on it, said, "My great-great-grandfather was made a lord by the King whose picture you see on this shilling."

"What a coincidence!" said his Yankee companion, who at once produced another coin. "My great-great-grandfather was made an angel by the Indian whose picture you see on this cent."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Piece Of Valuable Carpet.
"There is a small piece of carpet in the mint in San Francisco that a good many people would doubtless like to get possession of," remarked R. H. Smith, of the California city.

"It is in the adjusting room, where the surplus gold is trimmed from the coins after they have been stamped. Of course, these little trimmings often drop on the floor and are imbedded in the carpet, which is soon to be burned in order that the precious fillings may be recovered. Sometimes after a piece of carpet like this has been burned $5,000 worth of gold dust is taken from the ashes. The sweeping from the floor each day are carefully treasured."—Baltimore American.

Too Modest To Test Him.
"Don't you think Fred is awfully modest?"
"Don't know. I've never been immodest enough to find out."

WANTED TO KNOW
The Truth About Grape-Nuts Food.
It doesn't matter so much what you hear about a thing, it's what you know that counts. And correct knowledge is most likely to come from personal experience.

"About a year ago," writes a N. Y. man, "I was bothered by indigestion, especially during the forenoon. I tried several remedies without any permanent improvement."
"My breakfast usually consisted of oatmeal, steak or chops, bread, coffee and some fruit."

"Hearing so much about Grape-Nuts, I concluded to give it a trial and find out if all I had heard of it was true."
"So I began with Grape-Nuts and cream, two soft boiled eggs, toast, a cup of Postum and some fruit. Before the end of the first week I was rid of the acidity of the stomach and felt much relieved."

"By the end of the second week all traces of indigestion had disappeared and I was in first rate health once more. Before beginning this course of diet I never had an appetite for lunch, but now I can enjoy a hearty meal at noon time." "There's a Reason."

NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

PLOT TO DESTROY BIG FILTER PLANT.

Pittsburg's $8,000,000 System Temporarily Rendered Useless.

Pittsburg (Special).—A plot to destroy Pittsburg's $8,000,000 filtration plant was discovered. The culprits began by puncturing and cutting wires connected with the electrical apparatus, putting the cleaning and recovering machinery out of commission and temporarily destroying the usefulness of the whole plant. It is the belief of those in charge of the plant that enemies of the project will make further attempts to destroy the apparatus.

Wires have been grounded and short circuits thrown into various parts of the mechanism. The damage is so extensive that it is almost impossible to locate it all and make repairs. Mayor Guthrie has been informed of the situation and with officials of the Department of Public Works has discovered several valuable clues that may lead to sensational arrests in the near future.

The city and county detective forces are working diligently to secure evidence. That it is an "inside job" is the belief of those who have investigated the damage so far. While Mayor Guthrie, Director Shepherd and others say they have suspected a plot for a long time, the facts were kept quiet. The administration feared that publicity would disturb the people and induce them to believe that they were about to lose their chances for permanently filtered water.

LEHIGH FOUNDERS' DAY.

Richard Watson Gilder Speaks On "The Ideal And The Real."

South Bethlehem (Special).—At Lehigh University the twenty-ninth annual celebration of Founders' Day was made doubly interesting because of the presence of Dr. Richard W. Gilder, the noted author, poet and editor of the Century Magazine, who was the orator of the day.

Dr. H. S. Drinker, president of the University, presided at the exercises, and in his introductory remarks eulogized the memory of the late Judge Asa Packer, who founded the University 43 years ago. In introducing Dr. Gilder, Dr. Drinker referred to his many literary attainments which placed him in the foremost rank of American poets and authors.

Dr. Gilder spoke of the "ideal and the real," and said he "would like to convince those who hear me that there is a close relation between ideal and reality—that ideals are, indeed, intensely real things—are of the highest importance in the stern realm of reality."

He pointed out to the students the necessity of aiming at a high ideal if success in life is to be attained and that ideal has a real relation to the conduct of business may be seen in the present tendency to form rules of honor, or codes, in connection with callings not hitherto thus regulated. Dr. Gilder declared.

COAL SHIPMENTS HEAVY.

Evidences Of Returning Prosperity On Reading Division.

Reading (Special).—With an average of 14,000 freight and coal cars passing daily over the Reading division of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, traffic conditions have gotten back to normal and the outlook is bright.

When traffic was at its high-water mark, about a year and a half ago, the average number of cars was 16,000, and this was about the highest number ever reached. Traffic then fell to half that number and less. The mines are now working full, and many railroads have been taken back and extra crews put on to handle the large shipments of coal and freight, the former being especially heavy at this season.

State Help For High Schools.

Harrisburg (Special).—The rate of distribution of the State appropriations for township and borough high schools this year will be 56 1/2 per cent. for boroughs and 90 per cent. for townships. The warrants will be issued as soon as the classification is completed. This is the first time borough high schools have received a State appropriation.

GREAT RAILROAD ACTIVITY.

Conditions About The Yards Like Last Year's Prosperity.

Harrisburg (Special).—A review of the conditions among the railroad offices, shops, yards and freight warehouses, made by officials of the Board of Trade and newspapers here indicate that conditions are almost where they were last year. In number of men employed the conditions are rapidly approaching those of two years ago, and there is every indication that the business will be permanent.

The force of men employed in moving freight, yard service and round-houses has been increased, while orders for repair of all cars have crowded the shop sidings and added over 300 men to the rolls in the last week. Shipments are also larger from the mills. The Lanace and Grosjean tin plate mills are running almost full time.

WOMAN'S HOUSE DYNAMITED.

Black Hand Letter Followed By Explosion—Boarder Arrested.

Pittston (Special).—Dynamite was exploded beneath the bedroom window of Mrs. Mary Peach, a widow, at Dupont. The house was badly wrecked, but Mrs. Peach and her three children were unhurt.

Mrs. Peach had received a Black Hand letter telling her she was to meet a violent death. Mike Mariani, a former boarder, was suspected, and the State police captured him.

PRESSING FOR EARLY TRIAL.

Next Capitol Case Likely To Be One Involving Furniture.

Harrisburg (Special).—That the Commonwealth's officials are determined to force the trial of the Capitol cases at an early date and that Architect Huston will be arraigned at that time was revealed when District Attorney John Fox Weiss went into court and asked that his motion to fix the week of November 23 as the time for the next trial be withdrawn with leave to make a new motion. Judge Kunkel at once granted the motion.

It is understood that the State will press the Court to fix a date in the latter part of November or early in December in order that the case may be ended before the holidays. That the case to be tried will be a furniture one is a foregone conclusion and Huston will be included. The State smarts under his acquittal, it is intimated, and will try to convict him.

BURNED BY BURGLARS.

Man Perishes In Flames Started By Thieves In Store.

Butler, Pa. (Special).—Murder, robbery and arson has been brought to light in ruins of a fire at Hilliards, a coal mining town twenty miles north of Butler. Burglars entered the general store of Maurice Servicoss, stole $1,000, fired the building and escaped.

The fire started among barrels of oil in the warehouses, and spread so rapidly that Servicoss' brother-in-law, Samuel Caplin, who was asleep, could not make his escape and was burned to death.

The fire spread to and destroyed the meat market and dwelling of John Day, adjoining. The losses are: Day, $4,000; Servicoss, $10,000 both, partly insured.

MURDERER SENTENCED.

Stephen Sabo, Who Killed Michael Boldo, To Hang At Norristown.

Norristown (Special).—Stephen Sabo, for the willful murder of Michael Boldo, at Pottstown, was sentenced to be hanged here by Judge Swartz. He confessed to the crime, saying that he was instigated by Mrs. Boldo in order that he and she might live together as they had been doing.

The woman was tried for being an accessory, but was acquitted. Sabo applied for a new trial, but was refused. Sabo shot Boldo along the Schuylkill River bank as he was going to work and then pushed him into the water.

EVADERS ARREST BY DEATH.

Boy Accused Of Burning Neighbor's Shop Takes His Life.

Allentown (Special).—Clayton Shafer, of Wanamakers, 15 years old, was found decapitated on the Schuylkill & Lehigh Railroad a mile from Lynnpport. He is believed to have committed suicide by throwing himself in front of a train.

Shafer and a companion were suspected of having set fire to a neighbor's shop and it is believed that he ended his life on a demand having been made of him to reimburse the owner for his loss or be arrested.

Fined For Breaking Sanitary Laws.

Harrisburg (Special).—Reports were received at the State Department of Health that Dr. C. L. Boston has been fined in the courts of Wyoming County for failure to report a case of communicable disease, this being the first prosecution of the kind in that part of the State. A report was also received that Edwin Bowers, of Columbia County, who broke scarlet fever quarantine to go and play baseball, had been fined $5 for his fun.

DRAGS YOU DOWN.

Backache and Kidney Trouble Slowly Wear One Out.

Mrs. R. Crouse, Fayette St., Manchester, Iowa, says: "For two years my back was weak and rheumatic. Pains ran through my back, hips and limbs. I could hardly get about and lost much sleep. The action of the kidneys was much deranged. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and the result was remarkable. The kidney action became normal, the backache ceased and my health is now unusually good."

The Druggist's First Sale.

"This new place of mine opened up on a Monday morning," said the druggist, "and I waited for business. I was rather curious to see what would be the first thing to be called for. 'What do you suppose it was?' 'Soda, I'll bet,' said his listener, 'that's what you sell most of, you drug store people.' 'That's funny,' said the druggist; 'almost every one I've asked seems to think of course it was soda. But it wasn't. 'There's a greater necessary than that. Or, rather, if it isn't a necessary, it's something folks want. 'The first thing I sold was face powder. A woman bought it. And, furthermore, I know three other druggists who had the same experience on opening their places. As they've done well, perhaps it's good luck to start that way.'—New York Sun.

Oh, These Reporters!

"What were your impressions of Atlantic City?" asked the reporter. "I do not understand how that could interest the public," replied the titled alien. "Why," explained the reporter, "you're a peer, and in this peerless country if a peer appear at a pier and peer, of course we'd like to know how it struck him."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Spendthrift.

A shining square piano decorated with bric-a-brac occupied the center of the parlor of the bachelor whose chum was giving a little party during his absence.

"Lovely old thing," said one of the girls.
"Yes," said his chum, "but be careful how you open it and play on it—that is, if you have any respect for your nerves. He bought it at an auction for $4. He bought it for a special purpose. Some night when he gives a party up here he's going to tear off the lid and throw it into the fire. Then he's going to keep up the fire the rest of the evening with the legs and one part and another. It's like this, you see, everybody will go away and say: 'How rich he must be to burn pianos like that in a grate when he could get wood so much cheaper.' 'As a matter of fact, he couldn't get that much wood very much cheaper.'—New York Press.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. WAS DELIRIOUS WITH ECZEMA.

Pain, Heat and Tingling Were Excruciating—Cuticura Acted Like Magic.

"An eruption broke out on my daughter's chest. I took her to a doctor, and he pronounced it to be eczema of a very bad form. He treated her, but the disease spread to her back, and then the whole of her head was affected, and all her hair had to be cut off. The pain she suffered was excruciating, and with that and the heat and tingling her life was almost unbearable. Occasionally she was delirious and she did not have a proper hour's sleep for many nights. The second doctor we tried afforded her just as little relief as the first. Then I purchased Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and before the Ointment was three-quarters finished every trace of the disease was gone. It really seemed like magic. Mrs. T. W. Hyde, Brenwood, Essex, England, Mar. 8, 1907."

Decay Of Building Stones.

The causes of decay in building stones are various, and depend on the physical structure of the stone, its composition, and the nature of the surrounding atmosphere. The most destructive agent to which the stone is exposed is rain or a moist atmosphere, and also, in a minor degree, wind, frost, and smoke. The air of large towns is usually charged with various deleterious acids; these acids are dissolved by the rain, which penetrates the stone in a greater or less degree, according to its physical structure, and combines with the constituents of the stone, causing it to decay, so that any contrivance that will check the admission of water will be most likely to succeed in arresting decay.—Building World.

An Imitation Takes For Its Pattern the Real Article

There was never an imitation made of an imitation. Imitators always counterfeit the genuine article. The genuine is what you ask for, because genuine articles are the advertised ones. Imitations are not advertised, but depend for their business on the ability of the dealer to sell you something claimed to be "just as good" when you ask for the genuine, because he makes more profit on the imitation. Why accept imitations when you can get the genuine by insisting?
