Rebersburg.

Noah Brungart and family spent last Sunday with Mrs. Brungart's parents at Spring Mills.

Not less than a half dozen different parties of this place put in bids to carry the U. S. Mail from this place to Coburn. Who will be the lucky one?

Mr. Spangler, of Tusseyville, spent several days among relatives here.

Many ice houses were filled last week with the frozen crystal.

Mr. Charles Bierly, who was seriously ill for some time, is on a fair way to recovery.

Cleve Baumgart and wife, of Centre Hill, spent the holidays at this place.

The shooting match which was held on Saturday by the Bierly brothers at this place was quite an interesting affair.

Bruce Morris, a student at Bucknell College, is visiting at the home of his parents in this place.

Miss Veda Wetzel, daughter of Rev. Wetzel, spent the holidays with relatives at Bellefonte.

Thomas Harter, the Loganton lumberman, married a day this week in this place on business.

FIRE IN HEART OF MILLHEIM.

Wipes Out Musser Hotel, Frank's Store, Auman's Grocery, The Snook Building, and Does Other Damage.

Millheim had a real fire Tuesday forenoon, and for a time there were grave fears that the entire central portion of the town would be wiped out of existence. The fire originated from an unknown cause in the Musser house stable, from there it communicated to the large general store of A. A. Frank, the John Stoner store building occupied by N. A. Auman, the Musser hotel building owned and occupied by G. W. Clark, the Snook building owned by D. J. Nieman, the first floor of which contained the Nieman clothing store and the second floor the apartments of Dr. and Mrs. Hardenbergh. All these were totally destroyed.

Millheim is without adequate water pressure to battle fires, and is also without hose, consequently the fire marched on unmolested until the Coburn fire company attached its hose and did valiant service by checking the spread of the flames, and saved from total destruction the Dr. Gutelius property.

When the fire was at its height the Logan fire company of Bellefonte, was telephoned for and shortly after noon arrived with its engine. The fire had, however, been entirely subdued before their arrival.

The estimated losses appended were secured through H. F. McManaway and are said to be conservative. The insurance figures, with the exception of Nieman's, are actual:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes A. A. Frank store building and merchandise, insurance in Merchants Mutual, Mutual, Lyons Valley Mutual, etc.

To these losses must be added the damage done the Smith and Musser hardware store building, the H. E. Duck residence, the T. F. Meyer store building, which buildings stand on the opposite side the street. The damage to these buildings was slight and is fully covered by insurance.

The house-hold effects of Dr. Hardenbergh were all removed, as were also the fixtures of the lodge of K. G. E., the former from the Snook building and the latter from the Frank store building.

The Millheim Journal by telephone informs the Reporter that it estimates the loss at $50,000.

The Pink Label.

The Pink Label appears this week. Please compare the figures and see whether proper credit has been given you.

LOCALS.

H. C. Shirk and Merchant J. Frank Smith have been confined to bed on account of sickness.

Miss Susan Hannah, a Reading school teacher, was the guest of the Misses Elai and Virna Geiss in Centre Hall for a week or more.

James Wagner, who for some years has been telegraph operator at Millheim, is now located at Herndon, where he is station master. His family will move there as soon as a house can be secured.

William Wolf Harpater, the contractor in Freeport, Illinois, in a note to the Reporter says: "I'd just as soon miss my breakfast Saturday morning as the Reporter; it's meat and drink to me." Thanks, thanks.

David Meek, cashier of the Juniata Bank, at Juniata, a half-brother of Mrs. Henry Homan, was among those from a distance who attended the silver anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Homan. He is a popular business man in Blair county. Mr. Meek was accompanied by Mrs. Meek, his father and sister.

Adam Q. Stover and daughter, Miss Edith, of Clifford, Michigan, are in the east on a visit to relatives in various parts of Penns Valley. They are now guests of the former's sister, Mrs. M. L. Emerick, and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith, in Centre Hall. Mr. Stover went west many years ago from Woodward, when the section in Michigan in which he now lives was more or less a wilderness, but now is in a state of high cultivation and improvements pretentious. Mr. Stover is now living retired, but not without first having increased his inheritance many fold.

At the depth of a bit over one hundred feet, William H. Baird, south of Earlstown, struck a strong stream of water which pumping by steam could not reduce to any perceptible extent. Mr. Baird is exceptionally fortunate, because finding water at this particular time will guarantee an available supply for his stock and household purposes under the most unfavorable conditions. Encouraged by the find at Mr. Baird's, Elmer R. McClellan, who owns the Mitterling farm farther south, started the drill on his farm.

Can You Justify Your Deed?

The eminently respectable citizen who lends his influence toward procuring a liquor license in his home village, borough or city is also using his efforts to induce the tippler to become a confirmed drunkard; to encourage the innocent youth to become a swallow of the gutter, and instead of uplifting the mire-stained he places before him the temptation that will cause him to remain in the mire until his soul is required of him. There is no other role than this which the eminently respectable can assume that is more deplorable; there is nothing more hideous and wicked than to see the churchman go from the altar to blaze the way that the innocent youths may more easily find the way to destruction by patronizing the grog shop which through his influence is established or continued.

The booze-hoister is consistent when he signs an application for a liquor license or of his own volition gives testimony as to the need of such a license in a particular community. He wants his booze, and wants it convenient. From these little is to be expected. It is the man who assumes to be a representative citizen; it is the man who poses as a citizen of influence—socially and financially; it is the man who smites his breast and thanks the Lord he is not like those about him, from whom better things ought to be expected than to be a party in any manner responsible for the most vicious, the most damnable traffic in existence.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

Mr. Rishel is a prominent broker of New York City, and was formerly of Potter township. The bride is prominent in social circles in the metropolis where she has resided for the past five years, having originally come from Portland, Oregon. The floral decorations consisted of sweet peas and roses. They will be at home at the Prince George hotel in New York City.

Silver Wedding.

Saturday, the second day of January, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Homan celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. To properly enjoy this occasion were invited a large number of guests, friends and relatives, most of whom were present. An elaborate dinner was served, and the day most pleasantly spent by all. Mr. and Mrs. Homan were presented with many valuable and pretty gifts of silver ware and linen as tokens of esteem on the part of invited guests.

Christmas Service.

An excellent Christmas service was rendered in the Reformed church, Centre Hall, Sunday evening, December 27. The church was beautifully decorated, showing that a great deal of time and attention had been given to that feature. The exercises and recitations were given in a way that showed splendid training.

The music, under the direction of Prof. P. H. Meyer, was of the best and finely rendered.

Rev. Daniel Gress gave an address on the value of childhood, sanctified by the childhood of Christ, and the claim of the orphan. A large congregation was present and enjoyed the service of worship. An offering was received for the Bethany Orphan's Home, which amounted to about $28.00.

Married.

A very pretty double church wedding occurred Sunday evening, December 27, in the Brungart Lutheran church, Brush Valley, when L. Brungart and Miss Mayme Ruth Wirt, William P. Brindle and Miss Anna Mary Brungart were united in marriage. Rev. H. C. Bixler was officiating clergyman. A large congregation of friends witnessed the pleasing and joyous event and wished the young people a long and happy married life.

A Double Surprise.

The children composing the pupils in the Holy public school, near Madisonburg, were greatly surprised when Santa Claus entered the room and distributed a number of gifts among them, and then the teacher was just as much surprised when one of the scholars brought forth a present purchased by them and delivered it to the teacher, Rev. E. E. Hanney. The school also rendered a suitable exercise for the occasion.

LOCALS.

The jurors drawn for February court appear in this issue. The list was drawn early to enable Sheriff Klim to close his business as sheriff to a better advantage.

William Eckert, who a few years ago kept hotel at Coburn and Rebersburg, moved from Moorsburg to Danville, where he is conducting quite a large hotel on Mill street.

O. F. Mader, formerly of this place, but now a resident of Millheim, purchased a building lot in that borough with the intention of erecting a dwelling house on it for his own use.

Postmaster George M. Boal had a new counter placed in the postoffice and other improvements made, making the office look quite neat and added to the convenience of the public.

W. B. Shutt, who for several months was on the school ship Adams, is back to Centre Hall again. The ship with its several hundred Naval Academy students will sail again on the 28th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Zerby, of Kaneville, Illinois, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Daup, in Centre Hall, as well as many other friends and relatives in Penns Valley. Mr. Zerby is a farmer, and is a son of Aaron P. Zerby, of Bellefonte, formerly of near Coburn.

Elmer E. Houtz, of Linden Hall, was a caller Monday, and had placed in the sale register the date of the public sale of F. L. Houtz, to be held on the Houtz homestead, northwest of Linden Hall. There will be some fine stock offered for sale, and especially two good horses.

Down at Jacob Shearers' there was a moving, last week, not often to be seen. Up at the old improvement there was a new 14x16 addition to the house and it was desired to move this to the rear of Mr. Shearers' fine brick dwelling. Two stout oaks were maddened, the house rolled onto it, and taut! taut! away it started. The journey of two or more hundred rods was made with little difficulty, the workmen taking the opportunity to ride along in the moving house.

Among the visitors from the west at present are Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Mease and daughter Aims, of East Peru, Iowa, who are the guests of William Grerer and sister, Miss Sadie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stahl and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grerer, near Centre Hall. The Meases are making their first visit to the east. Mr. Mease is the son of Louis Mease, who went west many years ago and first located in Illinois, and later in Iowa. He is at present engaged in farming and has some three hundred acres of land which he tills.

Samuel Weber, who was here during the holidays with his parents, is connected with the New Amsterdam Casualty Company, in New York. This company insures against almost any kind of accidents, and a leading feature is the insurance against accidents on elevators, such as are found in all the large city buildings. Mr. Weber's particular work is to inspect the mechanical workings of the elevators insured by his company and report their condition. He is a graduate of the Mechanical Engineering Department of Pennsylvania State College and consequently his training in that institution and since have fitted him for his position.

Harris Township.

Mrs. Edward Williams and sons Karl and Donald spent last week with friends at State College.

Miss Emeline Harrison spent her vacation with friends at Jersey Shore. Reuben Stuart, of Pittsburg, visited here over Sunday.

Miss Jessie Gilman, of near Rebersburg, spent New Year and a few days following with relatives and former companions in this place.

Wallace Black, of Huntingdon county, who attended the lectures at State College, spent Sunday with his brother, Rev. A. A. Black.

Miss Naomi Myers entertained a number of her schoolmates New Year evening. All had an enjoyable time.

The week of prayer is being observed in the Presbyterian church by regular services during the week, closing with Holy Communion Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Kuhn and daughter Mildred were visitors in Bellefonte the early part of the week.

J. H. Weber and daughter, Besse, of Centre Hall, with their visitors, S. E. Weber and family, spent Sunday in Bellefonte.

Joseph Hettinger spent the holidays with friends at Allentown.

John Stamm and family spent the holidays in Altoona, at the home of his father, Charles Stamm, where at the latter's children and grandchildren were assembled on Christmas Day.

The relatives and friends who attended the funeral of John G. Bailey, at Pine Grove Mills, Saturday, were: S. H. Bailey and son Harry, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goheen and daughter Margaret, Misses Lucretia Goheen and Genial Fortney, Adam Felty, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarlane, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Glenn, James and Harry Glenn and Wm. Everhart, of the Branch.

Mrs. Margaret Keller was pleasantly surprised on Christmas by a shower of Christmas and New Year cards numbering 108—42 from her grandchildren and 27 from her great-grandchildren. Her grandson Wm. G. Mothersbaugh, gave her an album to hold them. On his card was the picture of a harp and the words, "Old tunes are the sweetest, and old friends are the dearest." Her granddaughter, Miss Kathryn Dale, of Oak Hall, was the one who proposed giving her the shower.

The last evening of the old year was spent in a joyful manner at the home of Mrs. Margaret Riley, who gave a party in honor of her granddaughter, Marion Whitehill. Those present were: Misses Rhoda Harrison, Helen Riley, Marjory and Rachel Rothrock, Rebecca Wieland, Ida Segner, Naomi Myers, Hazel Lucas, Helen Coxey, Anna Schenk, of Bellefonte; Naunie Thompson, of Puddingtown; Helen, Esther and Dorothy Whitehill, of Lemont. Mrs. Emma Riley and Mrs. Frank Whitehill assisted in preparing and serving the refreshments.

Linden Hall.

J. H. Ross is putting up a saw mill in his meadow, where he will saw the lumber for the new house and barn which he intends to build on his farm next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClintic are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter at their home.

Miss Gertrude Miller spent a few days last week with her sister, bringing with her two nieces who spent their Christmas vacation at their grandparents' home, in the Glades.

Mrs. Frank Homan, who has been seriously ill for the past month, is now able to join her family at the table.

Misses Ruth and Mamie Brooks spent their vacation with their sister, Mrs. Fleck, at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Wm. Meyer, of Spring Mills, visited her aunts, Mrs. Mary Wilson and Mrs. Wm. Markle, last week.

Ruth Wieland and brother Guy spent a week with their aunt, Mrs. Morrow, in Sinking Valley, returning to their home on Saturday.

Miss Mary Delinda Potter returned to her work at the Bellefonte Academy on Monday.

Miss Louella Ross left for Altoona on Friday, where she will be a guest at the home of her cousin, Dr. Smith, for a few months.

Dr. L. E. Kidder is preparing to build a house on the Sechler farm, which he purchased recently.

Rev. W. K. Harnish is holding services in the Presbyterian church every evening during the week and will observe Communion service Sunday morning at ten o'clock.

Woodward.

Miss Bertha Musser, of Aaronburg, spent a couple of days with her uncle, Squire Musser, last week.

Howard Miller, of Rebersburg, visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. R. M. Wolfe, last week.

Miss Lodie Wolfe, of Rebersburg, visited her grandmother, Mrs. Brindle, in this place.

Misses Maranda and Mary Mowery, of Aaronburg, spent their vacation with their aunts, Mrs. Mary Motz.

William Wert, of Booneville, is visiting his sister, Mrs. William Glantz.

Chas. Kreamer returned to Edinboro after having spent two weeks with his parents.

M. O. Stover, Ammon Mingle and Miss Mary Foreman attended Institute at Bellefonte last week.

Miss Lizzie Luse, of Centre Hall, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Charles Musser, accompanied by Master Bruce and Dewey Motz visited in Bellefonte.

John Eby and wife, of Beaverdale, spent Christmas with the former's parents.

Miss Fay Stover, of Aaronburg, spent a few days with her grandmother.

L. L. Smith sold home.

L. L. Smith, of the firm of Foreman and Smith, grain and coal dealers, sold his home in Centre Hall to Joshua T. Potter for $1500. Mr. Potter will occupy the same by April 1st, and Mr. Smith will move into the Alfred Durt house now tenanted by E. W. Crawford. It is Mr. Smith's intention to erect a dwelling house for his own use on a corner lot, at Conley's lane, during the present year.

Spring Mills.

From last week.

Another volume of life is closed never again to be reopened.

Another white and spotless year is before us. Let us each strive to so live and order our ways that when the record is ended it may not be marred by so many mistakes and thoughtless acts as the one just past. Let us be guided by the love of God and man with pure hearts to scatter along life's highway. Let us comfort the sad, aid the needy, cheer the gloomy and not only "live for those that love you for those whose hearts are true," but for "the Heaven that shines above us and the good that may do."

The Christmas service entitled "The Angel Chorus," rendered in the St. Marks Lutheran church on Christmas Eve was a decided success. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity. The participants all performed their parts creditably and admirably. A number that won very favorable comment was a "Cantata" entitled "In Search of the King." This was exceptionally well rendered. A beautiful solo entitled "Christmas Bells are Ringing" sang by Miss Orpha Gramley deserves special mention as it was well executed. The music was under the direction of W. E. Ream and was very good. The ladies deserve special credit in the way of beautiful decorations and in training the children.

Ralph Snyder, of Glen Iron, was a guest at the home of D. M. McCool on Wednesday.

Miss Mabelle Long, a student at the Central State Normal School at Lock Haven, spent Christmas at the home of her parents.

Tax collector C. C. Barges spent a few days at the county seat last week.

A Christmas service was rendered in the Reformed church Sunday evening.

S. L. Condo, last week in connection with his buggy business, accepted an agency from the International Machine Company and will now have for sale a line of gasoline engines, automobiles and general machinery.

Oliver Funk wears a very broad smile these days since the arrival of a young daughter.
