

DEATHS.

JOHN HENRY MOYER.

John Henry Moyer died at his home in Hiawatha, Kans., 15th ult., of some ailment in his throat. He was aged sixty-nine years and was born near Centre Mills, this county, being a son of Samuel Moyer, who moved on a farm near Linden Hall, some time in the fifties. He was married to Miss Louise Sechrist, of Lebanon county, at the opening of the Civil War. August 12, 1862, at the age of twenty-three years, he enlisted in Company G, 148th Regiment, at Boalsburg, and was wounded at Chancellorsville, Virginia, May 3rd, 1863. There was no better soldier in the company. Shortly after the close of the war he, with his family and his father and family, moved near Ridot, Illinois, and later on a farm near Hiawatha, Kansas. During their stay there his wife died. He visited in Centre county frequently, and after a number of years had elapsed he was again married to Mrs. Rachel Shearer, of Lock Haven. His widow and nine children survive. In September, 1907, he attended the veteran's reunion at Grange Park, Centre Hall. He was a member of the Reformed church, and when, in 1902, the Reformed church at Boalsburg was repaired he presented the pulpit and pulpit chairs in memory of his first wife and other departed relatives.

MRS. AMANDA LEAH JORDAN.

Mrs. Amanda Leah Jordan, nee Price, daughter of Jacob and Sophia Price, was born in Centre county, May 16, 1837, and died near McConnell, Illinois, January 21, aged seventy-two years, eight months and five days. In 1858 she was united in marriage to John Jordan, in Centre county.

The following children are left to mourn her loss: Mrs. Simon Fogel, of Red Oak, Illinois; Frank, Henry and Samuel Jordan, of McConnell, Illinois; also thirteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The following children preceded her to the better world: Mrs. Louisa Walters, Peter and Sophanus Jordan; also her husband, who died May 1, 1884.

The Jordan family started west from Centre county on the last day of December, 1878, and arrived in Stephenson county, Illinois, January 2, 1879, where the heads of the family resided until death.

Mrs. Jordan was converted in the year 1855, and always lived a Christian life. She was a kind, loving and affectionate mother, neighbor and friend and to all those who came in contact with her. Funeral services were held Saturday following her death. Interment was made in the McConnell cemetery.

GEORGE SWABB.

The death of George Swabb, one of the oldest residents of Harris township, occurred at his home at Willow Springs, near Linden Hall, Sunday morning, after an illness of many months, due to a heart affection and ailments incident to age, he having attained the age of eighty-one years, five months and twenty-six days.

Surviving are the following sons: John, of Erie; Frank, of Pine Grove Mills; William M. and James W., at home. Two sisters survive, namely, Mrs. Catharine Durst and Mrs. Daniel Wilson, also a brother, Harry Swabb, all of Centre Hall. The deceased brothers are John, Daniel and Jonas. Mrs. Swabb, nee Mary Ann Bell, of Reedsville, died about five years ago.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning, interment being made at Centre Hall, Rev. W. H. Schuyler officiating.

Mr. Swabb was a kind and charitable neighbor, and his home was noted for its genuine hospitality. His death caused a great loss to the community. Politically he was an ardent supporter of Democratic principles, and about twenty-five years ago was elected a county commissioner.

REV. ALFRED G. WIRTS.

Rev. Alfred G. Wirts, a United Brethren minister, died at Wilmerding Saturday morning of neuralgia of the heart. The remains were brought to the home of Philip Wirts, at Houserville, which had been the home of the deceased from boyhood. His age was about fifty years. In the early years of his ministry he served different churches throughout the state, but of late he was engaged in evangelistic work, having conducted a revival at Wilmerding when he was stricken with the disease. The funeral was held on Wednesday morning, services being conducted by Rev. A. A. Black in the United Brethren church at Houserville. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

ETHEMER M. McCLELLAN.

Miss Esther M. McClellan, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McClellan, died at their home, one mile west of Tusseyville, last Friday morning at 8:30 after an illness of about five days. She was aged twenty years, seven months, twenty-nine days. Funeral services were held Monday forenoon, in the Bethany church, near Tusseyville, conducted by Rev. J. B. Sechrist, assisted by Rev. B. F. Bieber. Interment was made in the Bethany cemetery.

DR. J. W. STAMM.

Dr. J. W. Stamm died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Williams, in Apollo, Armstrong county, and interment was made at Millheim, Friday afternoon.

Dr. Stamm left Centre county some thirty years ago. He practiced his profession at Oak Hall Station, where he was also engaged in the mercantile business; he also practiced at Boalsburg for a short time, as well as at Millheim, at which latter place he was also interested in a store.

Dr. Stamm was twice married, both wives being deceased. The second wife was the widow of Frank Gingerich, her maiden name having been Annie Keller, of Harris township. Several sons and daughters survive, among them being: Russell, of Iowa; Charles, of Pittsburg, and Fred, a student in the Reformed Theological seminary at Lancaster, all of whom accompanied the remains to their last resting place; Mrs. Mary Williams, of Apollo; and Mrs. David Gingerich, of Duncansville.

His age was eighty-four years.

JOHN G. RIMMEY.

John G. Rimmey, for many years a resident of Spring township, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Rossman, at Pleasant Gap, Thursday morning of last week. Interment was made Monday, at Pleasant Gap. His age was seventy-five years, three months and twenty-three days. Six children survive, namely, David, Pleasant Gap; Carl, Fillmore; William, Jersey Shore; Mrs. Clayton Gettig, and Mrs. William Rossman, Pleasant Gap.

Mr. Rimmey was a farmer and followed that vocation until age obliged him to retire. His wife died twenty-one years ago. The funeral was largely attended attesting that Mr. Rimmey was highly thought of in the community in which he lived.

MRS. A. G. NOLL.

After an illness of two weeks, Mrs. A. G. Noll, of near Pleasant Gap, died Monday morning, aged about sixty years. Interment will be made this (Thursday) afternoon at Pleasant Gap.

Friday previous to her death Mrs. Noll suffered a paralytic stroke, which rendered her unconscious until a few hours before she died. She had been suffering for the past two years or more from a heart affection and other ailments. Her maiden name was Fille Swonger, of Millheim. Four children survive, namely: Mrs. Crissie Fortney, Freeport, Illinois; George Noll, Winburne; Mrs. Bertha Wasson, Axe Mann; Mrs. Elsie White, Bellefonte.

ELIZABETH SNYDER.

After an illness of several months, Miss Elizabeth Snyder died at the home of Elmer Royer, near Old Fort, aged seventy years, six months. Interment will be made at Centre Hall this (Thursday) forenoon, Rev. D. Gies, pastor of the Reformed church, of which denomination the deceased was a member, officiating. Rev. B. F. Bieber will assist.

Miss Snyder entered the services of Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander thirty-seven years ago, and remained with them until they moved to Centre Hall, at which time she made her home with the Royers. She was of quiet disposition, and was more concerned about the welfare of those about her than of herself.

MRS. SAMUEL YEARIK.

A sad death occurred near Yearick's church, in Brush Valley, Tuesday night when Mrs. Samuel Yearick passed away. She died of confinement. She was but twenty-eight years old, and leaves a husband and five children.

Interment will take place Friday forenoon, in Yearick's cemetery, Rev. S. A. Snyder, pastor of the United Evangelical church, officiating.

Mrs. Yearick was a native of Millinburg, being a daughter of Fred Bruggart, of that place.

MRS. MARY JANE WOLF MUSSER.

Mrs. Mary Jane Wolf Musser died at her home at Ladysmith, Wisconsin. She was born at Wolf's Store, this county, May 12, 1855, and shortly after her marriage to W. J. Musser, in 1877, the couple moved to Orangeville, Illinois, where they lived until 1904, when Mrs. Musser and her two daughters—Miss Grace and Mrs. W. F. O'Connor, moved to Ladysmith.

The deceased was a sister of Jasper Wolf, late of Wolf's Store, deceased.

Telephone Line Completed.

The Brush Valley telephone line, a branch of the Patrons Rural Telephone Company, was completed last week, and is now serving some twenty patrons. The line extends from the Rossman farm, near Penns Cave, to near Madisonburg, and crosses the mountain at Penn Hall, connecting with the Spring Mills telephone exchange.

The David Glasgow family, near Tusseyville, is severely afflicted. The mother is ill and confined to bed for the past few days, and a little son, Freddie, has been suffering from an affection of the heart and later pneumonia during the past six or more weeks.

IN "DRY" OHIO.

Clearfield County Traveling Salesman's Experience in "Dry" Ohio.

A Clearfield county traveling salesman, after going up and down among the towns in "dry" Ohio, has made some observations which he sends the Spirit and which are of a kind that ought to be as convincing to the public as they were to him when he unexpectedly experienced them. This man had always been against local option and prohibition until these conditions in Ohio, which he could not help but believe because he found them every day as he sojourned from county to county, were thrust upon him: In Carleton, a county seat, only one case for felony, cutting sentence to Penitentiary for one year; no prisoners in the jail. In Tauscarous county—a dry county—all the prisoners, twenty-seven in number, are in jail for selling liquor without license, which shows they are enforcing the law. Belmont county had thirty-four cases last year, but when "wet" it had one hundred and fifty-two cases in criminal court. Harrison county had no prisoners at all to board with the sheriff. In Cambridge, the cost to the county for the February grand jury will be $500 less on account of the saloons being out of business.

LOCALS.

William Gfrerer and Samuel Shoop were in Altoona and nearby towns for several days last week.

Some bang-up valentine cards on sale. They are a fine lot, good enough to send to a queen. Call at the Reporter office and examine them.

Harry Cummings, one of the industrious farmers of near Centre Hall, was a caller Monday. In the latter part of March he will be casting about to buy equipment and stock for farming.

Edward Cunningham, of Oak Hall Station, will succeed Elmer Houtz as tenant on the Houtz homestead, near Linden Hall. Mrs. Houtz, mother of Mr. Cunningham, will remain on the farm as heretofore.

The Howard Creamery Corporation will serve a light lunch to their guests after the lecture by Prof. H. E. Van Norman, in Grange Arcadia, Friday evening. About two hundred invitations have been issued.

Mrs. Abner Stover, of Centre Hall, was taken to the Bellefonte Hospital last week and underwent an operation. Her condition was very favorable when last reported, but she will be obliged to remain at the hospital for some time yet.

The frame work of the United Evangelical church, at Tusseyville, is spreading, and the tend is being repaired with heavy iron rods, which will be inserted and drawn together by the use of a swivel having a crew thread cast in the opening to receive the rods.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. G. Allison Monday evening gave a party to the school mates of their son, Gross Allison, a member of the Centre Hall High School. The evening was pleasantly spent by the young people, and they speak with the highest praise of their royal entertainment, a leading feature of which was the refreshments served.

On his way from Millheim to Centre Hall Monday afternoon, Dr. John A. Hardenburg took a chill, and on reaching the hotel was obliged to take his bed. During the night a high fever developed, and since the physician has been seriously ill. He is being well cared for, and Drs. Allison and Dale are giving professional attention. Dr. Hardenburg started for Centre Hall with a view of attending a regular session of the Masonic lodge.

Elmer McClellan, south of Earlstown, who depends on cisterns as a water supply, had a well sunk, and at a depth of one hundred and fifteen feet an abundance of water was found. He is jubilant over his find, as scarcity of water frequently caused him much annoyance. The well drillers are now on the Wagner farm, tenanted by D. Geiss Wagner, and are sinking a well there. From there they expect to go to Harry McClellan's above Tusseyville.

On the first of the present month S. H. Heckman was made assistant general manager of the Penn Traffic Company, in Johnstown, a firm doing an extensive business and having thirteen or more departments in the store. Mr. Heckman engaged with the firm several years ago, and was manager and buyer of the hardware and house-furnishing departments. He is the son-in-law of Merchant H. W. Kreamer, of Centre Hall, and to show the full importance of the position to which he has been elevated it only needs to be stated that it carries with it a salary of $5000 per year.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Some fellows haven't enough push to master a wheelbarrow.

Miss Ora Homan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Homan, east of Centre Hall, who has been ill for two months, is able to be down stairs again.

The principalship of the Bellefonte High School was offered to Prof. James A. Shook, principal of the Elk Lick Schools, but he declined to accept it.

After spending a year or more in Penna Valley to build up his health, Boyd Lucas returned to Pittsburg again Monday, and will again take his place in a large tailoring establishment.

J. Frank McClellan, of Philipsburg, arrived at Centre Hall Saturday on his way to the home of his brother to attend the funeral of a niece, an account of whose death appears elsewhere.

The family of James Miller, of Coleville are said to be suffering from some form of poison. The mother and three children have been deathly ill for some time, but at present Mrs. Miller is just beginning to recover.

E. H. Zimmerman, the Millheim lumberman, bought from the Samuel Spangler estate one hundred and sixty acres of timberland, located near Tylersville. The tract is covered with good timber and Mr. Zimmerman will move his saw mill onto the tract this coming spring.

Friday evening a very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Heckman, on East Lamb street, Bellefonte. It was in honor of the sixty-fifth birthday of the ex County Commissioner, and about twenty-six of his friends were present. Mr. Heckman was taken very much by surprise but glad to see his friends and all passed a most enjoyable evening.

The Bellefonte hospital will likely only get twelve of the twenty thousand dollars appropriation asked from the state, the board of charities having recommended that amount. This will oblige the various aid societies, among them the one at Centre Hall, to work all the harder to secure funds, estates, etc., for the support of the institution during the next two years. When it comes to building automobile roads from Philadelphia to Pittsburg the state may be more liberal.

A pipe line route from Laurel Spring to the borough reservoir was laid out last week, and the distance measured. It appears it is about 3700 feet between the points, and the council is considering the matter of purchasing new pipe to carry the water from Laurel Spring into the reservoir. The spring is now quite strong, but only a small portion of the water is carried to the reservoir, owing to the bad condition of the present pipe line.

KERLINS' Grand View Poultry Farm. CENTRE HALL, PA. Highest Cash Price Paid for Fresh Eggs at all Times... Eggs for Hatching or Baby Chicks. From our GREAT Winter-laying strain of Barred Plymouth Rocks and Single-comb White Leghorns. The fact that our hens produced during the month of December as high as $0.75 per day and over $6 worth of Eggs a day during January—Winter months—justifies us in calling them great layers. The reason is this: Our hens have been bred from a WINTER-LAYING strain if you hatch from hens which lay only Spring and Summer you will have only Spring and Summer layers and no Winter layers when eggs are way up in price. This is a fact that many do not know, but we can prove it and it seems reasonable. We have had no disease of any kind since in the business, not even a single TETANUS, and you will find us at home any time you call. We are booking a good many orders (unsolicited) so let us have your order early, as we had to refuse a number of orders last season which got in late. If you want an INCUBATOR or BROODER, we can get you any make you desire at ACTUAL COST. Also have on hand at all times, right prices Chick Feed, Mixed Grains for Laying Hens, Beef Scraps, Grit Oyster Shells, Electric Poultry Food, Conkey's Laying Tonic and a Full Line of Poultry Supplies.
