Cold and La Grippe.

Mr. C. Happy, Hardin, Ray Co., Mo., writes: "I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles.
"It was of great benefit to me, as it cured me of catarrh of the throat, and I took a very bad cold and had la grippe last February. It settled in my throat and lungs. I took three bottles of Peruna and it cured me.

"I highly recommend it to all who are sick, and I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others."

Pe-ru-na For Colds.

Mr. L. Clifford Figg, Jr., 2929 East Marshall St., Richmond, Va., writes that when he gets a cold he takes Peruna, and rit soon drives it out of his system. For several years he was not entirely well, but Peruna completely cured him.

People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.

King And Queens. King Peter of Servia is one of the most-if not the most-absent-minded rulers on the Continent. On one occasion he went to call upon the widow of an officer. "How is your husband?" he began. "My husband is dead, sir," replied the astonished widow. "Well, well, well," exclaimed the King, impatiently, "how is your late husband?" Meeting an offcial one day, he inquired: "How many children have you?" "Five. was the ronly "How boys?" "Three, sir." "Yes, and how many girls?" On another occasion he visited the state bank, over which he was personally conducted by the governor. who introduced himself to his royal visitor. On reaching the governor's office, King Peter peevishly exclaim-"But where is the governor? How is it that he is not here to receive me?" "But, sir," pleaded his companion, "I am the governor. had the honor to introduce myself when Your Majesty arrived." King only frowned, and, as he was taking his departure, he was over-"I consider it heard remarking: most remiss on the part of the governor to be absent on the occasion of my visit to the bank. > DIDN'T KNOW Coffee Was the Cause.

Many daily habits, particularly of eating and drinking, are formed by following our elders. In this way ill health is often fastened upon children. A Ga, lady says: "I had been allowed to drink coffee ever since I can remember, but even as a child I had a weak stomach which frequently refused to retain food.

"The taste of coffee was in my mouth all the time and was, as I found out later, the cause of the stomach rebelling against food.

"I now see that it was only from following the example of my elders that I formed and continued the miserable habit of drinking coffee. My digestion remained poor, nerves unstrung, frequent headache, and yet I did not suspect the true cause.

"Another trouble was a bad, muddy complexion, for which I spent time and money for creams, massaging, etc., without any results.

"After I was married I was asked to try Postum, and would you believe it, I, an old coffee toper, took to Postum from the very first. We made it right-according to directions on the pkg, and it had a most delicate flavor, and I at once quit coffee, with the happiest results.

"I now have a perfectly clear smooth skin, fine digestion and haven't had a headache in over two

Girl, Bean And The Law.

Amid the general and alarming bridling of our liberties there comes a note of encouragement from Cleveland. Of late so few delectable things have come out of Cleveland that it helps to restore confidence in that city to learn that it has a judge who is not sour and unsympathet.c with matters tender and sentimental. This magistrate, who yet cherishes some of the sap of youth, has decreed and declared that a young woman has a perfect right to sit upon her sweetheart's lap, an irate and protesting father to the contrary notwithstanding.

The case is of mighy interest to maidens and swains everywhere, in that the right of the girl includes that of the man, the one embracing the other, as it were. If a girl may sit upon a man's lap, it must be plain to the courts and everybody else that the right cannot be exercised without contributory assistance of the man. Therefore, ergo and consequently, a man has a right to hold a girl upon his lap. Thus is cupid's brief made perfectly conclusive without citing other law or an abundance of precedents.-Kansas City Journal.

There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.
