

Board of Commissioners Have Decided to Enlarge and Remodel Local Temple of Justice—To Cost $60,000.

Acting on the recommendation of the grand juries for the past fifteen years, at least twenty of which have urged more ample and convenient accommodations for the juries, witnesses and others attending court, and for the better preservation of the county records, the present board of commissioners have decided to enlarge and rearrange the Court House to make it a modern and up-to-date building.

The vault capacity will be exhausted during the present year, and for some time past a large quantity of the records have been stored in the loft. It is a grave question as to whether the record vaults are fire proof, as it has been shown that in cleaning the court room floor above them the water drips through into the vaults, hence, even if they could withstand a fire, the records would probably be greatly damaged by the water.

During the past few years the recommendations of the grand juries have embodied the following suggestions, viz: That an addition be added to the rear of the building; that the grand jury room be enlarged and a witness room added; that an interior stairway be placed in the rear; that the grand jury room be moved to the first floor; that the record vaults be completely fireproofed; that a special room be added for women witnesses; that there be an additional traverse jury room; that a room for a law library be greatly needed; that the office rooms and accommodations be cramped and insufficient; that the corridor flooring is rough and unsuitable; that grill work be placed in the offices (especially that of the treasurer) for privacy and protection; and that the park between the Court House and the Jail should be beautified.

J. R. Harris, a son of a former resident of Bellefonte, a member of the firm of Newman and Harris, architects, of New York and Philadelphia, has submitted a plan in full accordance with the recommendations of the grand juries, as above noted, which the commissioners have decided to accept. This plan contemplates preserving the present structure in its entirety, except for the enlargement and fireproofing of the vaults and some interior adornment contemplated to restore the building to its original colonial simplicity and beauty.

An addition will be made to the rear of the building sufficient to contain the needed office rooms and vault space, a large room for the grand jury with a witness room attached, offices for the judge and the district attorney and a suitable library room. A basement is to be excavated under this addition for a storage room and machinery. A new and permanent roof is to be placed on the building and the present tower or lantern restored to its former lightness and beauty. The second floor in the rear is to be brought out on a level with the ground and a columned entrance made similar to the present front but on a smaller scale. These changes, alterations and additions complete will cost about sixty thousand dollars, and for this amount of money the commissioners feel that Centre county will possess a Court House which will compare favorably with those of the adjoining counties, upon which upwards of a quarter of a million dollars have been spent.

Those who have seen the plans are charmed with the architectural effects and the completeness of the interior arrangements, and feel that the well known reputation of the architects will assure the citizens of Centre county that restored and enlarged Court House which will be an object of pride to every one. The further fact that financial arrangements have been made which will enable the commissioners to complete the alterations without increasing taxation should add to the satisfaction of the taxpayers of the county in the artistic beauty of the contemplated changes.

Getchall-Brungart.

The marriage of John S. Getchall, of Conneville, and Miss Sara Brungart, was solemnized Wednesday evening, six o'clock, by Rev. F. B. Fieber, at the home of the bride in Centre Hall. There were present to witness the ceremonies only the immediate relatives of the principals.

The bride is the eldest daughter of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. Cyrus Brungart, and is an estimable young lady. The groom is a railroad man, employed by the Pennsy in the train dispatcher's office at Youngwood.

This (Thursday) morning Mr. and Mrs. Getchall left on a brief honeymoon trip.

D. C. Keller Entertains.

Last Thursday about one hundred persons, residents of Chester, Centre and Mifflin counties, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Keller, on the Howard S. Davis farm, in Pickering Valley, near Phoenixville. It was the second reunion of the acquaintances of the Kellers who lived in the counties named.

It was an all-day affair, and at noon a table was spread in the threshing floor of the decorated barn. Rev. L. K. Evans, of Pottstown, was the toastmaster.

The names of those present will appear next week.

Pennington Memorial Speakers.

The speakers engaged for Pennington Memorial services to be held June 23rd, on the site of the first Methodist church in Penns Valley, near Centre Hall, are Rev. J. Max Lantz, Spring Mills, pastor of the Penns Valley Methodist charge; and Rev. J. M. Weeks, of Mifflinburg. Other speakers will be announced as soon as heard from.

A general invitation is extended to the public. It will be an all day gathering.

On account of the State Grange being held at State College during the week set for the holding of the Centre county teacher's institute, the teachers will again be assembled in Bellefonte.

Must Measure Public Roads.

By the act of assembly approved the 12th day of May, 1909, the supervisors of the highways of the several townships are required within six months after the passage of the act to measure all public roads in their respective townships. Such measurements shall be made either by the use of a cyclo-meter or otherwise as the board may direct, and the supervisors shall report the number of miles of road in each township to the said highway commissioner.

The doors of the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Goodhart were thrown open to the temperance workers Saturday evening. Although the weather was not "dry" the spirit of true ladies was not dampened in the least. An interesting program was carried out and new members added. Mr. and Mrs. Goodhart, true to their name, are always ready to lead in every good movement.

A Good Hair-Food

Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, is a genuine hair-food. It feeds, nourishes, builds up, strengthens, invigorates. The hair grows more rapidly, keeps soft and smooth, and all dandruff disappears. Aid nature a little. Give your hair a good hair-food.

You need not hesitate about using this new Hair Vigor from any fear of its changing the color of your hair. The new Ayer's Hair Vigor prevents premature graying, but does not change the color of the hair even to the slightest degree.
