BURDENS LIFTED FROM BENT BACKS.

A bad back is a heavy handicap to those of us who work every day. Nine times out of ten it is due to sick kidneys.

The only way to find relief is to cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills have given sound, strong backs to thousands of men and women. Mrs. James Cooper, 118 W. Germantown St., Winchester, Va., says: "I had such terrible pains through my back and kidneys that I could not turn over in bed. I was threatened with Bright's disease, and at the worst stage began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured my trouble, and doctors who have since examined me say my kidneys are all right."

FIRST GIRAFFE IN EUROPE.

Dr. Johnson, as is well known, refused for many months to believe in the Lisbon earthquake, and Parisians formerly were just as sceptical as to the existence of the giraffe, a new specimen of which has just been added to the Jardin des Plantes. The earliest specimen of these gentle creatures was seen in Paris in the reign of Louis XVI. We learn from a French contemporary that the giraffe was first heard of in 1787, when it was described by a Frenchman named Levaillant, who had journeyed in the lands of the Hottentots and Kafirs. When the explorer referred to the animals with the long necks, he was looked upon as a Munchausen, and told that he was such in not the polite language. It was only when some living specimens arrived in the French capital that Levaillant's rep-

In order to save passengers' time on the London "tube" railways, states Electrical Engineering, various new devices are being tried. At Dover street and Earl's Court stations, a lift signalling system, electrically connected with the automatic signalling system, has been adopted experimentally. A bell in the lift rings on the approach of a train, and the interval before its arrival is just sufficient to enable the lift to descend and the passengers to reach the platform. Illuminated indicators over the lifts, which are lit up five seconds before the lift reaches the top, have also been fitted in several stations.

MAKING SUNSHINE

It is Often Found in Pure Food.

The improper selection of food drives many a healthy person into the depths of despairing illness. Indeed, most sickness comes from wrong food, and just so surely as that is the case, right food will make the sun shine once more.

An old veteran of Newburyport, Mass., says: "In October, I was taken sick and went to bed, losing 47 pounds in about 60 days. I had doctors after doctor, food hurt me and I had to live almost entirely on magnesium and soda. All solid food distressed me so that water would run out of my mouth in little streams.

"I had terrible night sweats and my doctor finally said I had consumption and must die. My good wife gave up all hope. We were at Old Orchard, Me., at that time, and my wife saw Grape-Nuts in a grocery there. She bought some and persuaded me to try it.

"I had no faith in it, but took it to please her. To my surprise it did not distress me, as all other food had done, and before I had taken the fifth package I was well on the mend. The pains left my head, my mind became clearer and I gained weight rapidly.

"I went back to my work again and now after six weeks' use of the food I am better and stronger than ever before in my life. Grape-Nuts surely saved my life and made me a strong, hearty man, 15 pounds heavier than before I was taken sick.

"Both my good wife and I are willing to make affidavit to the truth of this."

NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

QUITS DEFYING DEATH.

Auto Somersault Act Proves Too Much For Philadelphian.

Easton.—Mons. Lilli, of Philadelphia, who took the place of Miss Moore, of Philadelphia, in the death-defying automobile somersault act at Island Park, has given up the job and the amusement company has decided to abandon the act as too dangerous.

He was successful in making the leap from the auto as it rose in the air after descending an inclined plane and in catching the netting suspended fifty feet in the air and then dropping into a net while the auto completed its somersault.

Thursday afternoon the car left the rails and tossed Lilli out, causing him to fly short of the netting above. He managed to grasp a guy rope, which broke his fall, but he burned his hands and got a severe jolt when he landed. He lost his nerve, said he had enough and quit.

USHER BURGLAR OUT.

Easton Sisters Take Personal Charge Of Night Prowler.

Easton.—Miss Laura De Hart, a teacher in the public schools, whom the big boys have learned is possessed of nerve and muscle, and her sister, Miss Carrie De Hart, hearing suspicious noises in their home took separate stairways to reach the second floor. In a hallway they found a young man with a dress suit case.

Miss Laura De Hart seized him by the collar and walked him into a room where she made him open the case. Then the sisters marched him from room to room to ascertain if anything was missing. Finding everything all right, they took him to the street door and ordered him out.

26 MULES CREMATED.

Fire Of Unknown Origin Destroys Stable At Shenandoah.

Pottsville.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the large stable at the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company Indian Ridge Colliery, at Shenandoah, and cremated twenty-six mules and a driving horse owned by District Superintendent Monaghan. Only two mules were rescued, and one of them was so badly burned that it was necessary to kill it.

Besides the live stock, 1,500 bushels of grain were destroyed along with carriages, harness, hay, etc. The loss is estimated at about $25,000.

Sleeper's Miraculous Escape.

Pottsville.—Tired by a long walk beneath a scorching sun, Edward Motley, aged 35 years, lay down to rest in the shade of a Philadelphia and Reading Railway bridge. He fell asleep and rolled upon the tracks and was struck by a shifting engine. The crew expected to pick up his mangled corpse, but instead found the man had escaped injury except that one of his fingers had been ground off.

Fossil-hunting Students Go Home.

Pottsville.—Prof. Kemp and Brabant, of the Columbia University, of New York City, with sixty students of that institution, after a week spent in making geological research in the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania, radiating from Pottsville, left for home. They took with them many plant and animal fossils, this section being pronounced the richest geological "open book" in the world.

Death Fetters Fussell's Brush.

Media.—Charles Fussell, a member of the Society of Friends, and an artist, died at his home on Gayle Terrace after an illness of five weeks at the age of 59 years. His paintings were exhibited at the different art clubs and at the Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia. He is survived by one sister, Miss Annie Fussell, with whom he resided.

Dies From Would-be Robber's Blow.

Altoona.—Never having fully recovered from the assault of a would-be robber, last Halloween night, Richard Shantz, aged 61, died at his home here. Shantz was called to the door by a colored man, who struck him over the head with a club, rendering him unconscious. The assassin fled, thinking his victim was dead.

Broken Back But Will Recover.

Altoona.—Having shown remarkable improvement in the past few days, the chances are that Vincenzo Luse, an Italian, who was run over by a handcar May 21, will recover, despite the fact that his back is broken, his spinal cord torn and his skull fractured, besides numerous minor hurts.

Reading Now Second Class City.

Reading.—According to police census just completed, Reading's population is 95,000, indicating that the city will become a second class city next year when the Government takes its own census. This means that Reading will go in the class with Pittsburg and Scranton.

Freshman Injured Celebrating.

Bethlehem.—While Edward K. Ford, of Bellwood, a Lehigh University Freshman, was participating in a celebration of the Psi Upsilon fraternity in celebration of the ending of the final examinations he accidentally fell out of a second-story window. His companions rushed him to St. Luke's Hospital, where he lies in a critical condition from severe injuries to his back and contusions of the body.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says:

Improvement is more in evidence this week, but irregularities in weather and crop conditions and ebb and flow movements in trade and industry prevent definite general characterization of the situation as a whole. House trade with jobbers and wholesalers is not usually active at this season and efforts to attract business by clearance sales and liberal advertising have not been altogether successful. There is a further apparent gain in the optimism with which the outlook for the more distant future is viewed, contrasting rather sharply with some of the reports indicating backwardness of demand for iron and steel in most finished forms is notable, and the railways seem to be buying more freely. The shoe and leather trades are in better shape, due partly to the great strength of hides and the finished products of sole and upper leather. Higher prices for shoes are being paid. There are reports of further gains in demand for woollen and worsted goods. Yarn mills catering to this demand are said to be running full, and raw wool is very strong. High prices of raw cotton are said to curtail profits on goods.

"MEMOIRS OF DAN RICE," THE CLOWN OF OUR DADDIES.

At Last, There is on Sale a Book Brimful of American Humor.

Any bookseller will tell you that the constant quest of his customers is for "a book which will make me laugh." The bookman is compelled to reply that the race of American humorists has run out and comic literature is scarcer than funny plays. A wide sale is therefore predicted for the "Memoirs of Dan Rice," the Clown of Our Daddies, written by Maria Ward Brown, a book guaranteed to make you roar with laughter. The author presents to the public a volume of the great Jester's most pungent jokes, comic harangues, caustic hits upon men and manners, lectures, anecdotes, sketches of adventure, original songs and poetical effusions; wise and witty, serious, satirical, and sentimental sayings of the sawdust arena of other days. These "Memoirs" also contain a series of adventures and incidents alternating from grave to gay; descriptive scenes and thrilling events; the record of half a century of a remarkable life, in the course of which the subject was brought into contact with most of the national celebrities of the day. The book abounds in anecdotes, humorous and otherwise; and it affords a clearer view of the inside mysteries of show life than any account heretofore published. Old Dan Rice, as the proprietor of the famous "One Horse Show," was more of a national character than Artemus Ward, and this volume contains the humor which made the nation laugh even while the great Civil War raged. This fascinating book of 500 pages, beautifully illustrated, will be sent postpaid to you for $1.50. Address Book Publishing House, 134 Leonard Street, New York City.

Difference Explained.

A vigorous young barrister, prosecuting a prisoner, was endeavoring to impress upon the judge the difference between an accident and an assault. "Suppose," he said, "some one hit me in the eye and my eye became black—that could not be called an accident."

"Perhaps not," said the judge, dryly, "but that is how you would try to explain it, no doubt."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BABY'S SKIN ROUGH AS BARK.

Baby Boy Had Intense Itching Humor—Scatched Till Blood Ran—Found a Cure in Cuticura.

"Our son, two years old, was afflicted with a rash. After he suffered with the trouble several weeks I took him to the doctor, but it got worse. The rash ran together and made large blisters. The little fellow didn't want to do anything but scratch and we had to wrap his hands up to keep him from tearing the flesh open till the blood would run. The itching was intense. The skin on his back became hard and rough like the bark on a tree. He suffered intensely for about three months. But I found a remedy in Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. The result was almost magical. That was more than two years ago and there has not been the slightest symptom of it since he was cured. J. W. Lusk, Yukon, Okla., Aug. 23 and Sept. 17, 1908."
