

DEATHS

WILLIAM KNOFFSINGER.

At the advanced age of eighty years, one month and nineteen days, William Knoffsinger died Monday afternoon at his home on Nittany Mountain, near Pleasant Gap. Interment will be made this (Thursday) morning at nine o'clock, Rev. Sowers, pastor of the Pleasant Gap Methodist church officiating.

The deceased is survived by the following children: Mrs. William Irvin, Mrs. J. C. Sampsel, and William Knoffsinger, all of Pleasant Gap. One son, James, is dead, as is also the mother.

Mr. Knoffsinger was a blacksmith by trade, and for many years carried on business at "Gilltown," a settlement below Pleasant Gap, where his father, Frederick Knoffsinger, lived. After moving to Greens Valley he engaged in lumbering. He was a straightforward man, and always fulfilled his promises and obligations.

MRS. SAMUEL BELL.

Mrs. Samuel Bell died suddenly at her home in Boalsburg Friday night, of paralysis of the heart. She had been ailing for several years from an injury received in a fall downstairs, since which accident she has been unable to walk save with the aid of crutches. She was aged fifty-one years, nine months and twenty-one days. Her maiden name was Alice Ruth Foster, and she was born in Huntingdon county. At the age of twenty-two years she was married to S. M. Bell, of McCallisterville, and for the past twenty-five years they have made their home in Boalsburg. They had no children. Surviving are her husband, two sisters and one brother.

Interment was made in Boalsburg Tuesday morning, services being held in the Lutheran church with Rev. J. I. Stoncypher officiating.

JAMES HETTINGER.

After an illness extending over a period of nine weeks, James Hettinger, of Georges Valley, died Friday, aged fifty-nine years, eight months and one day. Interment was made Monday morning, in the Georges Valley cemetery, Rev. B. F. Bieber officiating.

The widow, nee Sarah Ludwig, and one daughter, Miss Anna, survive, as do also two sisters, namely, Mrs. Henry Gentzel, of New York, and Mrs. Elizabeth Weaver, of Aaronsburg.

Mr. Hettinger was a farmer by occupation, and lived in Georges Valley for many years.

JOHN EVERHART.

John Everhart died at his home near Franklinville, Thursday of last week of paralysis coupled with diabetes. He was born at the old and well known Everhart home on the Branch, fifty-seven years ago, and was the son of Benjamin and Margaret Everhart. Thirty-six years ago he married Sarah Kennedy, of Centre Hall, who survives with the following children: Mrs. Ed. Koehler, of Grayville; Mrs. Harry Gates, of Penna Furnace; Mrs. M. M. Koehler, of Fairbrook; Samuel, of the Branch; John, of Graysville; Benjamin and Martha, at home.

MRS. EMMA S. CONFER.

Mrs. Emma S. Confer, wife of Antis Confer, died at her home in Howard township, Thursday night, after an illness of about four months from diabetes and heart trouble. She was aged forty-two years, five months, twenty-two days. Surviving are her husband, her mother, Mrs. Martha White; four children, one sister and two brothers. Rev. J. R. Sechrist, of Billwood, and Rev. W. W. Rhodes, of Howard, conducted the funeral services.

MRS. JOHN HARPER.

Mrs. John Harper died at her home, near Potters Mills, early Sunday morning. She had been ill for a year or more, suffering from an affection of the heart. Interment will be made Friday morning, at Tusseyville, Rev. B. F. Bieber officiating.

The deceased was the second wife of Mr. Harper; no children survive, a son having died. Her maiden name was Catharine, a daughter of Jacob Durst, deceased, and she was aged some sixty years.

LOCALS

George Hosner, the Colyer mason, is putting a new concrete bottom in the borough reservoir.

William Tate, west of Centre Hall, attended the G. A. R. Encampment held at Gettysburg last week. He was very much pleased with the trip.

There will be appropriate Children's Day services in the United Evangelical church, at Tusseyville, Sunday evening. Similar services will be held by the Centre Hall congregation of that denomination, Sunday evening, July 4th.

Misses Eloise Schuyler and Velma T. Simkins who just completed teaching in the public schools of Cape May, and Philadelphia, respectively, arrived in Centre Hall Monday, and will remain at the home of the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Schuyler for the summer.

Merchant R. Bruce Harrison, of Boalsburg, was in Centre Hall Wednesday morning to attend to a bit of business. He paid a high compliment to the Harris township supervisors, and thinks the roads in that township will yet be very much improved over their present good condition.

Rev. F. A. Gaupp, district superintendent of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League, with headquarters at DuBois, was in town Monday and Tuesday in the interest of the League. He was in consultation with a number of citizens in Centre Hall and surrounding districts who are in sympathy with local option in its various forms, and also made arrangements for several meetings to be held in the valley to further the cause.

Rev. H. S. Deitzel, who as principal just closed the spring term of the Spring Mills-Penn Hall Academy, last week went to Pleasant Unity, where he filled the appointments in that Reformed charge Sunday. This is the charge recently vacated by Rev. W. A. McClellan, and also the first charge of which Rev. Deitzel was pastor. After renewing his acquaintance with his former parishioners, he went to Buffalo, New York, on a bit of business.

Willis W. Rishel and brother, C. W. Rishel, came to Centre Hall Wednesday in an automobile driven by the former, who is one of several gentlemen interested in a patent contrivance that is being tried out on the machine. They were at Spring Mills over night, to which place Mr. Rishel had gone to meet his wife, who had been visiting there in company with Miss Nora Swengle, of Milton. Mr. Rishel had not been in Centre Hall for eight years, although he has taken many jaunts to other places in that time. He has been very successful in business, and long ago chased the proverbial wif far into the woods.

The Valuables.

The man with a wife and seven children hauled up in front of the hotel desk, registered, got his bellboy and was starting off when the clerk, thinking maybe he might jolly the new arrival, called to him.

"I beg your pardon," he said, "but hadn't you better leave your valuables in the safe?"

"Do you think I ought to?" inquired the man innocently enough, to hear him say it.

"Well, it is the best plan."

"All right," said the man, and, turning to his wife, "Here, Mary, pass the children over to the gent behind the counter. He'll look after them and give us a rest."

Whereupon the clerk apologized.—Judge.

Exempt.

"Jes' you come right home, Henry Hiram—breakin' the Sabbath day in that scann'ous, sinful fashion."

"Well, Jimmy Hicks is let play on Sunday."

"The commandment don't apply to him. His paw's a vegetarian."—Life.

Patient—Are you sure, doctor, that this health food that you have recommended is nourishing? Doctor—Sure? Why, I know it. The man who introduced that health food not only lives but supports a large family on it.—Stray Stories.

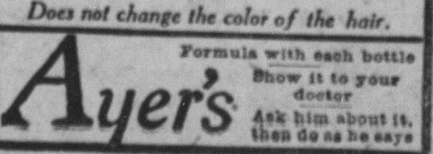

A Bitter Retort.

"Do you think," he asked, "that you could learn to love me?"

"I don't know," she answered. "I might, but if I were a man I'd hate to think that I was an acquired taste."—Chicago Record-Herald.
