LOCALS

Yesterday (Wednesday) was show day in Bellefonte.

Mrs. James B. Horner, of Colyer, became suddenly ill on Monday while performing household duties.

Mr. and Mrs. John Breon and Mr. and Mrs. John Benner, of near Bellefonte, spent several days at Reedsville with friends.

Mrs. George W. Ocker, of Lewisburg, was in Centre Hall over Sunday, having come here to attend the Shaw-Hosterman wedding.

Miss Lizzie Booser, of Centre Hall, who just graduated from the Central State Normal, at Lock Haven, was elected as one of the teachers of the Aaronsburg schools.

Mrs. M. E. Slaughter, who has been living in Harrisburg for a number of years and keeping roomers, has decided to leave the State Capitol, and may locate in Marietta.

The Ladies' World for July is devoted largely to fiction—and excellent fiction it is, just suited to warm summer days when we want entertainment without much effort.

Mrs. Ada Aiken, of Bellefonte, accompanied by her little niece, Mary Ann Johnston, of Beaver Falls, spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. Mary Odenkirk, in Centre Hall.

Frank Walker, who is teamster for the Kline mill at Spring Bank, was in town Sunday. He is holding down his job in good style, but must come of Centre Hall occasionally.

In "Our Fourth at Rubicon," the Woman's Home Companion for July gives the actual Fourth of July experience of a town that has abolished toy cannons and fire-crackers.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Spangler were guests of the farmer's sister, Mrs. E. W. Crawford, on Sunday. They were traveling in their auto, and while in town took some of their friends on a spin.

H. I. Hettinger, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Anna Bell Hettinger, of Georges Valley, were in Centre Hall Monday evening. Mr. Hettinger is one of the lucky farmers who can say that his hay prospects are fine.

B. D. Brislin was the only member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows who attended the dedication ceremonies of the Sunbury Orphans' Home, which institution is under the management of the Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania.

Joseph Weston Hall, who with C. F. Shaw spent a summer in Pennsylvania making a survey of soils for the National Government, was recently married in Denton, Texas, his bride being Miss Joy Clifford Logan. He is now engaged with the Texas Pacific railroad.

On their way home from Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Weamer, of Altoona, stopped at Millheim for a short time. While in the city Mrs. Weamer underwent an operation, but she had almost fully recovered from the effects of the same on leaving the latter place.

Milesburg turned the scales on the Millheim ball team Saturday afternoon and defeated them by the score of 5 to 0. After their victory the week previous Millheim was sure of repeating, but Milesburg was strong in all departments of the game and gained a decisive victory.

The first cutting of alfalfa, from a plot of four acres belonging to the writer, was housed Monday. The yield was six loads, or about seven tons of mow-cured hay. The growth, although from three to four feet in length, was not as luxuriant as last year, but the net weight will be more, on account of a heavier stand.

Somebody visited the premises of William S. Brooks, west of Centre Hall, who had a sweet tooth needing about forty pounds of honey to satisfy it. That many pounds of honey was taken from various bee hives belonging to Mr. Brooks, and the thief did not leave a card, but there are grave suspicions. Because the little busy bees are sometimes called little robbers is no excuse for anyone to rob the hives and carry the sweets away at night.

From the Millinburg Telegraph: On Tuesday of this week Dr. and Mrs. John W. Orwig, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. John Klose, of this place, and Mrs. Frank Magee, of Vicksburg, departed in three comfortable conveyances for the domains of Centre county for a three days' outing. They will surely have a nice time if the weather permits, and that's what we wish them.

John Runkle, daughter and son, of Middleburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hause and son, of Paxtonville, were the pleasing guests of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gaunt in this place last Sunday. We are sorry to state that Mrs. Gaunt still continues on the sick list.

SHAW-HOSTERMAN.

Pretty Church Wedding Saturday Evening and Reception at Bride's Home.

One of the prettiest weddings ever consummated in Centre Hall was that of the Shaw-Hosterman in the Reformed church, Saturday evening. A few minutes before the entering of the bridal party, the church was comfortably filled with invited guests, the number being several hundred from Centre Hall and surrounding country and from a distance.

The bride, Miss Helen S. Hosterman, is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Hosterman. On graduating from the local high school, she entered the Allentown College for Women, and later graduated from that institution in '04. In that year she was elected to teach the primary grade of the Centre Hall public schools, and was re-elected for five successive terms. Her work as a teacher was thorough, and well appreciated, and had it not been for cupid's dart, her services would have been sought by the present board. As a bride she made a lovely appearance, dressed in white batiste over white silk. She has many excellent qualities, and will make as good a wife as she looked sweet on her way to the altar to meet her life companion.

The groom, Charles F. Shaw, is a native of New York. The foundation of his education was laid in the High School, from there he entered a preparatory school, and in 1902 became a student in Cornell University, graduating four years later—'06. He made a special study of agronomy, and while a student was an instructor in some branches of the course.

On graduating from Cornell he engaged with the National Agricultural Department, Bureau of Soils, and it was while in this field of work that he came to Centre Hall, two years ago. In the fall of 1907 he was made an instructor in Pennsylvania State College, and is now an assistant to Prof. Gardiner, in the department of agronomy. Mr. Shaw is highly regarded at State College, both by the citizens and professors, and is one of those men whom to meet is to profit intellectually.

AT THE CHURCH.

Promptly at six o'clock the wedding party reached the church which was filled with invited guests. The Christie Smith Orchestra played the wedding march, as the procession moved down the aisle. Rev. Daniel Gress, the officiating minister, leading, followed by the groom and groomsmen. Down the other aisle came the four ushers, in couples, then came the four bridesmaids, in twos, each carrying a basket of daisies, the maid of honor came next carrying a bouquet of roses. Then came the bride and her father, the bride carrying a bunch of lilies of the valley. Last of all came the two little flower girls, with baskets of rose petals. The entire party assembled about the church railing. The old Episcopal ceremony was used including the ring ceremony, which was elaborate and beautiful throughout. The father of the bride gave the bride away. The troth was then pledged one to the other, the couple kneeling for the ring ceremony, followed by prayer, the pronouncing them man and wife, and the blessing. After congratulations by the minister, the orchestra struck up the wedding march, and the newly wedded pair, preceded by the flower girls, who strewed roses as they marched, moved slowly up the aisle, followed by all the bridal party, out of the church to the waiting carriages.

The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens, laurel, ferns, etc.

THE RECEPTION.

Immediately after the ceremonies at the church, a reception was given the guests at the home of the bride. The splendid home was tastefully decorated. After the guests were through congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, they indulged in social intercourse and storing away the dainty refreshments, the orchestra playing all the while.

PERSONAL MENTIONS AND NOTES

Ora Lee, Jr., of Albion, New York, was best man. He was accompanied to Centre Hall by Mrs. Lee. He is doing work for the Bureau of Soils, Department of Agriculture of the National Government, at Bangor, Maine. He is a class mate of Mr. Shaw's, being a Cornell '08.

The ushers—Milton Pratt Jones, is instructor in Cornell University, and a graduate of the class of '08.

Lowell B. Gabel, Cornell, '06, is a native of Altoona, and is now superintendent of a farm at Wyebrooke, Chester county.

John H. Barron, of Nunda, New York, Cornell, '06, is a farmer and institute lecturer. He gives special attention to dairy farming.

Sumner V. Hosterman, brother of the bride, is assistant district attorney of Lancaster county.

Maid of honor, Miss Mary Shaw, of Rochester, sister of the groom, is stenographer for a magazine publishing company.

Bridesmaids—Miss Kathryn Keller, Ingram; Miss Sarah Allshouse, Greensburg; Miss Emma Shaw, sister of the groom, West Henrietta, New York; Miss Estie Ocker, Lewisburg.

Flower girls—Carrie Mitterling and Wilma Shutt.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Shaw, father and mother of the groom, are residents of West Henrietta, near Rochester, New York. They are general farmers, but also give special attention to poultry. Mr. Shaw was born in Germany, and, like all Germans, brought with him that spirit of thrift and belief in education so common in the home country. This was his second visit to the Keystone State, the first having been in 1876, the occasion of the Centennial. From the point of view of an agriculturalist, this section made a good impression on him.

Grandmother Sophia Shaw was not the least interested of the guests from the Empire state. She and her husband, John Shaw, (now deceased) came to New York, as man and wife, fifty years ago from Germany. She is well on in the seventies, but stood the trip remarkably well, and was greatly pleased with Centre Hall.

Elmer Schlotzman, also a resident of Henrietta, and a cousin of the groom; William J. Shaw, an uncle, and Mrs. Elizabeth Shaw Drew, an aunt, all of West Henrietta, were also guests.

Other out of town guests were Mrs. S. V. Hosterman, Lancaster; Mrs. George W. Ocker, Lewisburg; Miss Nina M. Allshouse, Greensburg; Miss Alverda Gress, Pittsburg; Miss Theresa Shields Bellefonte; William Bortor, Bellefonte; C. K. Stahl, Altoona; Dr. Hunt and Prof. Gardiner, State College.

Miss Roxanna Brislin had charge of the decorating, and her taste was commented on very favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will be in the western part of Pennsylvania during the summer, where Mr. Shaw will do work as a soil surveyor for the National Department of Agriculture, Bureau of soils. After September 20th, at which time Pennsylvania State College will open its fall term, the couple will be at home at State College.

Shaffer—Hazel Reunion.

The seventh annual meeting of the descendants of the Shaffer and Hazel families who first settled in this county at Madisonburg was held last Thursday at Grange Park, Centre Hall.

After greeting old friends and partaking of the good things prepared by the ladies of the "freundschaft" everybody present assembled in the auditorium to listen to and take part in the exercises which usually form a part of such occasions.

The meeting was called to order about one o'clock and presided over by ex-Sheriff B. F. Shaffer, of Nittany. The sheriff, by the way, is quite an entertaining speaker and several years ago delivered his address in German, not Pennsylvania Dutch, but the real thing, which was a surprise to all and a delight to the older people. This year he spoke very briefly but in his usual interesting way, after which the minutes of last year's meeting were read and approved.

Addresses were made by Rev. F. D. Barry, Hon. Fred Kurtz and ex-Senator W. C. Heinle, of Bellefonte, and by Rev. B. F. Bieber, of Centre Hall, all of whom were in their element, and said many nice and interesting things about the clans gathered there and especially about their worthy ancestors of whom the living may be proud.

B. F. Shaffer and A. J. Hazel were re-elected president and secretary respectively, of the association for another year.

Several selections of vocal music added to the pleasure of the meeting and notwithstanding the heavy rain storm that set in and continued during the whole afternoon all present had a good time and expect to attend the next meeting in 1910 which will be held at Hecla Park.

Big Fourth at Colyer.

Preparations are being made for an extensive Fourth of July celebration at Colyer. There will be more amusements than ever, and the program will be entirely new. An effort is being made to secure a band and it is likely that one will be on hand.

Everybody is invited to attend and enjoy the National Holiday which this year will be observed Monday, July 5th. The fireworks will be the most elaborate ever set off in this section, and they alone will repay all who go to Colyer on the evening of the celebration.

He is the champion of Boalsburg, and challenges any one who will come against him.

FRIEND FARMER:

We wish to call your attention to the Weber and Columbia Wagons we have been offering you for the last few weeks through the columns of this paper.

In referring to the good qualities of these wagons we wish to say that nothing but the best of material enters into their construction; this combined with the best of mechanical skill, and the latest improved machinery designed especially for the construction of wagons, goes to make up these most complete and perfect wagons; not even the smallest details are overlooked.

The lumber used is selected by experienced men and is of four years' seasoning.

The axles are of the very best grade of hickory.

The hubs are the very best quality of white oak.

The spokes are strictly A 1 grade of oak and hickory mixed and driven in hot glue.

The fellos are oak and are thoroughly soaked in/boiled oil before tires are set, and are joined with improved steel dowels, which prevents clipping at the joints.

They are exceptionally well ironed, light running and attractively painted, and in all a wagon that will give years of service.

We very cordially invite you to step in and examine these splendid wagons whether you are contemplating a purchase now or not. We want you to thoroughly understand their construction and see where they are better than the ordinary vehicle.

The important thing in buying a wagon is to know before hand what service it will give you; the important thing in selling them is to show you that, as well as we can, and then be sure that they are as good as we lead you to expect.
