

Fell From scaffold.

Tuesday Messrs. Daniel Daup and D. E. Luse, while painting at the height of the second story of the latter's residence, the scaffolding bracket on which they were working broke. Mr. Daup in falling broke a bone in each of his wrists. Mr. Luse caught hold of a ladder, and escaped injury. The fractures were reduced by Dr. P. H. Dale.

The Fourth at Fohringer's.

The glorious Fourth will be observed at Fohringer's store, near Colyer, Saturday evening. There will be an abundance of fire works. Ice cream, cake, fruit, etc., will be served. On Monday evening the Fourth will be observed on the Colyer school ground grove. All are invited.

Linden Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wieland and daughters, Dorothy and Charlotte, spent Wednesday with relatives here. Miss Alice Irvin, of Pennsylvania Furnace, was the guest of her friend, Edwina Wieland, part of last week. Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Goss and children, and Mrs. Curtin Musser and children, of Altoona, are guests at the home of J. H. Ross. Mrs. D. C. Hess returned from Ocoola on Monday. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. T. C. Heimes, who will spend the summer here. Today (Thursday) the sons, daughters, grandchildren, nephews and nieces of Mrs. Mollie Miller will gather at the home of Mrs. J. W. Keller and hold a reunion. On Saturday eight young ladies from Cedar Creek held a picnic in McFarlane's woods. Those present were Misses Roth and Leah Zong, Claudia Wieland, Verna and Claudia Snyder, Grace and Edith Carper and Bertha Tressler. Miss Bertha Meyer is visiting her brother George, at Milton, and the Crissmans at White Deer. Some farmers have begun making hay. Don't forget the U. E. festival Saturday evening on the lawn in front of the residence of Robert McClellan. Clyde and Guy Wieland have gone to Lebanon county where they will spend a month or two with the former's brother.

Spring Mills.

The children's service given in the Reformed church last Sunday evening was well attended. An especially effective number on the program was a solo and pantomime rendered by Miss Rebecca Meyer. Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford and son, of Lena, Illinois, have returned to pay a visit to the friends and scenes of former days, this having been their home town for years. They are being entertained for a few days at the home of C. A. Krape. Miss Mabel Taylor, of Tyrone, is spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. Lantz. Mr. Harry Burkholder was in town on several occasions during the past week. Rev. Daniel Sowers, of Pleasant Gap, accompanied by his wife, visited his parents one day last week. Our town was well represented in Bellefonte last week on circus day. The little children and "children grown tall" have looked forward to the Smith Show which was billed for for two evenings this week. Now it's a thing of the past, and the children are doing the stunts they saw executed. The Lutheran Sunday School is preparing a children's service to be given on the evening of July 11th. Messrs. Potter and Crawford enjoyed a run from Bellefonte in their fine motor car last Friday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith, of Centre Hall.

Sopor.

Farmers are beginning to cut the grass to make hay. U. G. Auman is hauling bark to the railroad station and has it ready for shipment. C. Auman, who had been ill, is improving. Some of the young people from this place attended the show at Bellefonte last week. F. A. Auman made a business trip to Bellefonte Saturday. William Musser sold a valuable cow last week. An optimist is merely a man who realizes that things might be worse.

LOCALS.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. A. E. Kerlin Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. From, of Millinburg, attended the funeral of the latter's aunt, Miss Lydia Vonelda, at Woodward.

Although well past eighty Druggist J. D. Murray is spry enough to ride horseback, and sit as straight as any youth of twenty.

Among the Reporter's callers Saturday was Dr. H. S. Alexander, of Potters Mills, who enjoys the full share of patronage in his profession.

The farm buildings on the Reरिक homestead, in Georges Valley, now owned by David Reरिक, are being improved by having new roofs put on them.

If in need of haying tools come to Tusseyville. I have the best manilla rope, harpoons, pulleys, forks, oil, cans, etc. Prices always right.—C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

Among the Monday morning callers at the Reporter office was A. C. Dunlap, the Spring Mills barber. Mr. Dunlap is also a jeweler, and with the two branches of trade, is kept quite busy.

Although getting along very well George B. Spohn, of Huntingdon, is yet obliged to walk with crutches, as a result of a broken leg. Mr. Spohn was working for the railroad company when the accident occurred.

Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Gress gave a party Tuesday night for their niece, Miss Alverda Gress, of Pittsburg, to which a dozen of the young lady's friends were invited and participated. A most enjoyable evening was spent.

Ross Bushman sold his stock of chickens, brooders, incubators, etc., to Charles D. Bartholomew, and hereafter will devote his time and energies to school work, having been elected to teach the Plum Grove school, in Potter township.

The private stable of Photographer W. W. Smith, in State College, was burned a short time ago; no insurance. Several horses and carriages belonging to parties who had leased the stable were removed before damaged to any extent. It is supposed the building was fired.

Paul M. Eilers, son of County Superintendent D. O. Eilers, of State College, who graduated from Pennsylvania State College, electrical engineering department, will take an apprenticeship in the signal department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Philadelphia.

Simon R. King, the Millheim bus driver, met with a severe accident. While assisting his brother, A. King, in unloading a wagon load of large stones, one of the stones fell on his left hand, breaking a bone and severely bruising the fingers. The wound is very painful and incapacitates Mr. King from making his regular trips to the station at Coburn.

Lightning played one of its freak tricks during a storm Monday. A telephone pole was struck near the residence of George H. Emerick, a portion of the charge following the telephone wires to the building where it descended the ground wire to near the earth, jumped to the wall of the house and punched a hole through it, and broke a crock in the cellar.

Rev. and Mrs. John B. Pomeroy, of Lawrenceville, Illinois, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Potter, in Centre Hall. Mrs. Pomeroy is a sister of Mrs. Potter, but has been located in the west for some years. Rev. Pomeroy is a native of West Virginia, and is serving a Presbyterian charge in Illinois, having previously been located in Dakota and Indiana. While in the east they are spending the time with Mrs. Pomeroy's relatives in Central Pennsylvania, and before returning home they will go to West Virginia.

A number of young girls, Mary Delinda Potter, Pearl Runkle, Jennie Stahl, Nina Snyder, Isabel Rowe, Verna Rowe, Cora Luse, Freda Bailey, Ruth Thomas, of Centre Hall, and Alverda Gress, of Pittsburg, and Irene Ross of Linden Hall, had planned to take supper on Nittany Mountain Saturday, but the frequent showers prevented them from squating in a romantic spot, consequently a barn was sought in which a table was spread, and while the rain was pattering on the roof, the ladies at their refreshments, parted the wish bones, and later romped on the hay and straw, forgetting that the elements had, earlier in the day, caused their mouth to turn down instead of up.

As a result of a visit to Harrisburg by Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Fisher, of Penn Hall, an Overland five passenger automobile is now honking about Penn Hall. The machine was purchased from the Harrisburg Automobile company, represented by Clark Gramley, of Rebersburg. The machine was driven from Harrisburg to Rebersburg in six hours and ten minutes by Mr. Gramley, and was delivered to Penn Hall Wednesday morning. Mr. Fisher has had the "auto fever" for some time, but had kept it in check until last week when he had a relapse, and the only effective remedy was to buy the latest model machine on the market, and that is what he did. The popular merchant and banker now more than ever has friends everywhere his machine takes him.

LOCALS.

Jacob Sharer, Jr., is delighted over a postcard shower that fell on him recently. He received ninety-five cards.

Dr. George P. Bible stopped in Centre Hall Wednesday on his way from the western part of the state to his home in Philadelphia.

A return game will be played on Grange Park, Saturday afternoon between the Centre Hall and Boalsburg Junior base ball teams.

Mrs. A. E. Person, of Phillipsburg, New Jersey, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Strohm, in Centre Hall.

Misses Anna and Irene Ross, of Linden Hall, were guests of Miss Margaret Jacobs and Misses Jennie and Ruth Thomas over Sunday.

Mrs. Linnie Ruble, of Cleveland, Ohio, is in Centre Hall, and while here is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. D. Brisbin and son John Ruble.

A surprise party was given Mrs. James Schrack, at Lemont, on the twenty-fourth anniversary of her birth. The refreshments were unusually fine, and a large number of handsome presents were presented to her.

The real estate of the late Peter Durst, located in Centre Hall, consisting of house and lot, and several vacant lots are advertised in the Reporter to be sold Saturday, July 31st, by the administrator, Clement Dale, Esq. There will be a good opportunity offered here for investors.

Invitations have been issued by Col. and Mrs. John Stuart for the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Elizabeth Moser Stuart, and Harold B. Shattuck, Wednesday, July 21st, ten o'clock a. m. at their home in State College. The prospective groom is an assistant professor in the civil engineering department in Pennsylvania State College.

Messrs. Potter and Crawford, of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Company, put the writer and his wife under obligations to them by taking them a spin down the country and then across the valley, stopping at Penn Hall, Spring Mills and Potters Mills long enough to shake the hand of a number of friends. The trip was topped off with a supper at Old Fort hotel, the only place in the world according to some travelers, where cooking is done faultlessly.

Dr. H. F. Bitner and sons, Ralph and Linn, came to Centre Hall Saturday and will make their home here in the future. Dr. Bitner had been connected with the Millersville Normal for a number of years, but resigned his position and will now devote his time to his interests in and about Centre Hall. He began the work of remodeling the dwelling house purchased by him some time ago and when it is completed he will occupy the same.

Trim the Shade Trees.

The town council requests that all shade trees overhanging the walks be trimmed up to the regulation height. By doing so the owner will be able to trim to suit himself, while if the work is done by the authorities there might be complaint.

The Traces of the Beasts.

On every side in the Malny wilds the traces of the beasts—which here live as scheduled, as safe from molestation, as did their ancestors in pre-Adamite days—are visible on tree trunk, on beaten game path and on the yielding clay at the drinking places by the hurrying stream. Here a belt of mud nine feet from the ground shows that an elephant has rubbed his itching back against the rough bark of a tree, and, see, coarse hairs are still sticking in the hardened clay. There a long, sharp scratch repeated at regular intervals marks the passing of a rhinoceros. Here, again, is the pad mark of a tiger barely an hour old, and the pitted tracks of deer of all sizes and varieties surround the deeply punched holes which are the footsteps of an elephant.—Cornhill Magazine.
