DEATHS.

GEORGE L. SPRINGER.

Wednesday morning of last week George L. Springer, one of Millheim's well known and respected citizens, died at his home at that place of pneumonia after an illness of ten days. The Journal says: Mr. Springer was a son of Joseph and Mary Springer, both deceased, and was born near Selinsgrove, March 6, 1867. When a boy he was placed in the Soldiers' Orphan School at Loysville. After he was through school he came to Millheim, about twenty-six years ago, and worked for his uncle, Jacob Springer, who taught him the barber trade. No man was better known throughout the community than Mr. Springer. He was an enthusiastic fisherman and bird hunter, and his greatest enjoyment was to be out in the open air. He was a consistent member of the M. E. church of Millheim, and was superintendent of the Sunday School for a number of years. He was a member of Millheim castle, K. G. E.; Millheim lodge, I. O. O. F.; Major R. Henry Foster camp, Sons of Veterans of Millheim, and the Millheim Fire company.

January 5, 1886, he was married to Miss Jennie Shreffler, who survives him with the following children: Guy P., Miss Laura Belle and Walter, who are all at home. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. Max Lantz, and interment will be made in Fairview cemetery.

MRS. CHARLES DERR.

After an illness of four weeks Mrs. Rye Derr succumbed to the inevitable on Monday morning and passed to the Spirit world, says the Stockton (Illinois) News. Two weeks ago it became known that her life was in imminent danger and blood poisoning was feared. The skill of medical aid and the best efforts of a trained nurse were baffled and on Monday morning her spirit fled. By her death two little children, one a month old, are left motherless, a husband without a wife and aged parents bereft of an only child. The bereaved parents and husband have the sympathy of the entire community. Mrs. Jennie Rae Derr was born at Spring Mills, July 20, 1883 and was the only child of G. B. and Mary E. Crawford. The family moved to Jo Daviess county, Illinois in the fall of 1899 and in the Spring of 1902 on the seventh day of May at Freeport she was married to Chas. T. Derr, of Stockton, Illinois and resided in the latter place until the time of her death, June seventh, 1909—aged twenty-five years, ten months and seventeen days. She was a consistent member of the United Evangelical church.

Funeral services were held at the Evangelical church, Rev. Swengel officiating.

ROBERT SAMUEL ROYER.

At an early hour Wednesday morning of last week Robert Samuel Royer died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Edwin Royer, in Altoona, of diabetes. He had been in poor health for three years or longer and last Friday he was taken worse and from that time gradually grew weaker until his death. He was born at Potter's Mills, on November 18th, 1888. He went with his parents to Altoona at the age of about two years. He was educated at the Webster public school and after completing the course in the grammar grade entered the employ of the Finn Engineering company as a plumber's apprentice. His health finally forced him to cease that kind of employment and up until last Friday he clerked for the Gem Grocery company. He was a member of the Sunday School of the First Methodist Episcopal church and was a boy of good habits and of an upright life. His death separates from his young acquaintances a friend appreciated for his genial companionship and respected because of his manly ways. Though he was known best by young people in his home town, as well as in Penns Valley, he was thought well of by his elders. The deceased is survived by his parents and three younger sisters—Ruth, Edna and Mabel. The funeral was held Friday.

GEORGE LIMBERT.

George Limbert, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Limbert, of Penn township, died Sunday a week from injuries received while playing at a gravel quarry the day previous. He, in company with several other boys, accompanied his father's team to the quarry and while the wagon was being loaded, the boys ascended the steep sides of the quarry and when on the top the boy in some way lost his balance and fell to the bottom. When picked up he was unconscious but soon recovered and was taken home. Dr. C. S. Musser, who was hurriedly called, found no bones broken, but several blood vessels in the neck were ruptured, which caused his death. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning, conducted by Rev. W. D. Donat, and interment was made in the Reformed cemetery at Aaronsburg. The pall bearers were four of the boy's schoolmates, namely, Bland Frankenberg, George Zerby, Frank Bailey and Frank Wilber.

MRS. WILLIAM ZERBY.

Mrs. Zerby, wife of William Zerby, died at her home south of Spring Mills, Thursday of last week. She was aged almost sixty-eight and one-half years. Interment was made Sunday morning, in the Reformed church cemetery, below Penn Hall, the officiating minister being Rev. W. Donat, of Aaronsburg, pastor of the Reformed church.

Besides the husband the following children survive: Howard, Hubersburg; John H., and Elias C., Spring Mills; William, Milroy; James, Coburn; Edward and Charles, at home. Solomon Lingle, of Centre Hall, is a half brother, and Mrs. Roland Treaster, of Centre Hill, is a half sister of the deceased.
