A regular meeting of Progress Grange will be held Saturday afternoon. A festival will be held by the same order on 31st inst.

Six and one-half barrels of fruit jars have been distributed among the members of the Centre Hall Lutheran charge to be filled for the use of the Leysville orphans.

The summer assembly of Lutherans comprising the Peens Valley charge will be held August 5th. The place has not yet been fixed. Every Lutheran should hold this date in mind.

Mrs. B. P. McAlees left for her home in Chicago on Tuesday morning after spending two months with her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Cummings, and brothers and sisters, all of whom were sorry to see her leave so soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Rearick and children, of State College, were in Centre Hall over Sunday, guests of the former's brother, L. G. Rearick. Mr. Rearick is engaged in the undertaking business in State College, and is prospering.

Harry Witten & Company, the Centre Hall clothiers, are preparing for a clearance sale of all summer goods in stock at one-half their present prices. The sale will begin Saturday of this week. Better be on hand and secure some of the bargains.

The haying season just closed was a most favorable one. There was no rain from June 25th, up to this date. The hay put away was of a very good quality, and in some cases the crop was all that could be desired, but most the fields in this immediate locality were not up to a standard crop.

Mrs. George W. Condo, of Jeannette, is visiting her father, Phillip Durst, and other relatives and friends about Centre Hall. After a short vacation which was spent with his parents in Centre Hall, A. Miles Arney accompanied by his family, returned to Niagara Falls today. Mr. Boon is a draughtsman, and is connected with the Veeder Manufacturing Company, Hartford. About two years ago the company sent him to Germany, under a contract for several years, but during January his employers asked him to return to do some special work at home. Mr. Boon and daughter Alice remained in Germany.

Dr. John Franklin Meyer, of Bloomfield, New Jersey and Miss Ella Jane Mather, were married in Old St. David's church, Radnor, Monday of this week. Dr. Meyer, until a few weeks ago, was head of the department of physics in Pennsylvania State College, but is now in charge of the experimental department of the Westinghouse Electric Lamp Company, in Bloomfield, New Jersey, where he is receiving a salary of almost three thousand dollars a year. He is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College and Johns Hopkins University. He is a native of Penn Hall, being a son of J. S. Meyer. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mather, of Radnor, a suburb of Philadelphia, with whom he became acquainted while holding an assistant professorship in the University of Pennsylvania. She is an accomplished and handsome young woman. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer will be home in Bloomfield after October 15th.

How Potatoes Pay in Nebraska.
Your Boalsburg correspondent was handed a journal from Omaha, Nebraska, containing a facsimile of a check given by the First National Bank of Scotts Bluff, Nebraska, to E. K. Wieland for $1089.86. The check indicates the amount of cash received for Mr. Wieland's two-thirds share of a crop of potatoes grown on less than twelve acres. The check is dated September 29, 1908. The total value of the crop was $1639.69; average bushels per acre, 300, and money value per acre, $136.64. Mr. Wieland is a brother of Merchant John M. Wieland, of Boalsburg, and was born on Cedar Creek, at Linden Hall, but on growing to manhood he went west and since has made that his home.

LONG FELT WANT.

A Plea For a Graduated Standard of Misconduct.
What is really wanted at the present time is a standard of misconduct. We are constantly doing things in doubt, as if we hadn't a right to do them.

The confusion caused by people doing things which in their circumstances we had no right to expect is the principal cause of our troubles. It ought to be definitely settled, for example, that any millionaire who has, say, over a hundred millions will thereafter lead an honest life. If he has only fifty millions his life should be semi-honest, and if he has only a paltry ten millions then it ought to be conceded that he can loot a few railroads or so until he gets on his feet.

Up to, say, ten thousand a year no man can afford to be dishonest. He ought to get up in the cars and give his seat to women under thirty-five at least, and of course he will not take the chance of robbing any safe. From ten thousand up to a hundred thousand he can engage in little dishonest flings by making one of a pool or putting through a land deal or so for variety.

When he gets fifty millions or more together, however, every man ought to ask himself plainly the question whether from now on he ought not to be a philanthropist. Doesn't he owe this to his fellow men?—Life.

CHOOSING A VOCATION.

Follow Common Sense and Conscience and Do Your Best.
It is very certain that no man is fit for everything, but it is almost as certain, too, that there is scarce any one that who is not fit for something, which something nature plainly points out to him by giving him a tendency and propensity to it.

I look upon common sense to be to the mind what conscience is to the heart—the faithful and constant monitor of what is right or wrong. And I am convinced that no man commits either a crime or a folly but against the manifest and sensible representations of the one or the other.

Every man finds in himself, either from nature or education—for they are hard to distinguish—a peculiar bent and disposition to some particular character, and his struggling against it is the fruitless and endless labor of Sisyphus. Let him follow and cultivate that vocation; he will succeed in it and be considerable in one way at least, whereas if he departs from it he will at best be inconsiderable, probably ridiculous.—Lord Chesterfield.

The Oyster Crab.
Some of the most remarkable crabs in the world live at the expense of other animals. They are crustacean tramps and have no shame in sustaining existence at other animals' cost. One of these marine tramps is a little fellow that makes its home with the living oyster. In fact, it dwells in the oyster's shell and feeds on whatever is left over from the mollusk's dinner. Oddly enough, however, it is only the female that has this habit of "boarding out." The male crab has no permanent home, but spends its time returning about at the surface of the water. Oyster crabs sometimes are big enough to have an arm stretch of an inch. Epicures consider them very good to eat. Sometimes they are cooked separately, and occasionally they are pickled. Crabs of nearly allied species, somewhat bigger, are found in the shells of mussels and scallops. In this case, again, only the female is a parasite.

Scottish Caution.
Certainly the cautious Scot spirit pervaded the opinions of the Scottish architect who was called upon to erect a building in England upon the long lease system, so common with Anglican proprietors, but quite new to our friend. When he found the proposal was to build upon the tenure of 999 years he quietly suggested: "Could ye no mak' it a thousand? Nine hundred and ninety-nine years 'll be slippin' awa'."

But of all the cautious and careful answers we ever heard of was one given by a carpenter to an old lady in Glasgow, for whom he was working, and the anecdote is well authenticated. She had offered him a dram and asked him whether he would have it then or wait till his work was done. "Indeed, mem," he said, "there's been sic a power o' sudden deaths lately that I'll just tak' it now."—Reminiscences of Dean Ramsay.

Gallantry.
"At a school in Aberdeen a teacher was examining her class on the Bible, the lesson being a part of Genesis. The teacher asked her class, "Why did the serpent tempt Eve instead of Adam?"

"For some time there was silence, but at length a little boy held up his hand and replied, "Please, mum, 'cause it's ladies first."—Tit-Bits.

The Real Thing.
"How do you possum taste, suh?" asked the solicitous waiter.
"Well," responded the patron who had ordered the article, "it tastes pretty good, but it isn't possum."
"No, suh," rejoined the waiter, "an' dat's a sign it's genuine. De genuine possum is a great pretender, suh; yas, suh."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Doomed.
Bride—Dearest, Towser has eaten the supper I cooked for you with my own hands. Hubby—Never mind, sweetheart. I'll get you another dog.—Pittsburg Press.

The borrower is servant to the lender.—Bible.

Stops Hair Falling
Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will certainly stop falling of the hair. Indeed, we believe it will always do this unless there is some disturbance of the general health. Then, a constitutional medicine may be necessary. Consult your physician about this.
Does not change the color of the hair.
Ayer's
Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.
The reason why Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair is because it first destroys the germs which cause this trouble. After this is done, nature soon brings about a full recovery, restoring the hair and scalp to a perfectly healthy condition.
