P. GRAY MEEK, Secretary. A. G. DEWALT, Chairman.

LOCALS

Mrs. John Albright, of near Spring Mills, is ill.

Rev. Daniel Gress is attending lectures at Chatsaugua, New York.

Up to Wednesday the rainfall for July was 1.76 inches; very light, indeed.

Claude K. Stahl, one of the clerks in the Pennsylvania railroad offices in Altoona, is spending his vacation at his home in Centre Hall.

William Dreibleis resigned his position at the State College farm barn to accept the superintendency of a large dairy near Greensburg.

Mrs. E. W. Crawford and son, Newton, were taken to Bellefonte Sunday by N. B. Spangler, Esq., for the purpose of having an operation performed on the child, which was done later.

Miss Edna Dutrow and George W. Richards, both of Altoona, are guests at the home of the former's brother, Clyde Dutrow, east of Centre Hall, and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Luse, in Centre Hall.

The local W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. G. W. Hosterman, Saturday evening. The first July meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Kerlin. Mrs. H. W. Kreamer conducted the business session. Later the members were delightfully entertained.

Last week Samuel Bruss was confined to bed again. He had recovered sufficiently to be able to be about the house and walk out into the fields, but as stated, last week he again went back to bed. It will be recalled that Mr. Bruss suffered a paralytic stroke sometime ago.

Mrs. Michael Smith returned from Johnstown Saturday, to which place she went to see her daughter, who was ill from scarlet fever, at the home of her Uncle, M. L. Smith, in that city. The young girl is improving rapidly, and expects to be at her home at Potters Mills in ten days or two weeks.

Eugene S. Simkins, son of Mrs. J. W. Simkins, was in town last week at the Presbyterian Manse. He sails this week from Boston for San Mateo, Costa Rica, C. A., where he has accepted a position in a gold mining company of which the president and general manager is W. F. White, of New York.

C. D. Moore, of Boalsburg, who went to Missouri on an extended visit, writes to friends at Boalsburg that he made remarkably good time westward. Before leaving he arranged all his work so that nothing would interfere with his pleasure while absent, and should be bringing a wife back with him she would find everything in first class condition.

A new threshing outfit was put into the field by Messrs. Noah and John Brungart, of near Rebersburg. The thrasher is a modern one, and was hauled from Bellefonte to Rebersburg by a traction engine. The Brungarts left Rebersburg one morning, about eight o'clock, steamed to Bellefonte, hooked on the new threshing machine, and about three o'clock the next morning they passed through Centre Hall on their return trip.

Another of the Pennsylvania State College graduates secured a good position. Reference is made to Harry Burkholder, of Centre Hill, who just graduated in June. He is now located at Logansport, Indiana, and is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as inspector of the electric switches and signals, his territory being from Bradford, Ohio, west to Chicago. As was predicted by the Reporter, Burkholder made good.

DEATHS.

ADAM CLARK MUSSER.

After an affliction of three years, due to a paralytic stroke, Adam Clark Musser died at his home in Millheim early Monday morning. Interment was made in Millheim Wednesday forenoon, Rev. B. R. M. Sheeder, pastor of the Lutheran church, of which the deceased was a member, officiating. During the last year of his life Mr. Musser was unable to do any work being paralyzed.

The deceased was a marble cutter, and was associated with Hon W. K. Alexander in conducting the Millheim granite works, and upon the death of Mr. Alexander, he continued the business in his own name. He was the son of John G. Musser, and was born and raised in Millheim. His age was about sixty-one years.

The surviving children are Lester, of Greensburg; John, Grover, Paul, Lula, Bertha, May, Claude and Orvis, at home. Mrs. Musser, nee Miss Clara Kister, and one sister, Mrs. J. W. Swartz, of Renovo, also survive.

ROBERT CORL.

At the age of eighty-four years, Robert Corl died at his home at Pleasant Gap Monday morning, death being due to infirmities of age. Interment was made in the Branch cemetery, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Sowers, pastor of the Methodist church officiating.

For many years Mr. Corl lived on the Shugart farm, near Pleasant Gap. From there he moved to Boalsburg, and last spring he returned to Pleasant Gap.

The following children survive: Misses Mary and Nannie, at home; Robert, Jr., Pleasant Gap; James, Bellefonte; Charles W., Boalsburg.

Bids for New Court House.

AN AFRICAN TITBIT.

Hippopotamus Meat Has a Strong Odor and Flavor of Musk.

To the African traveler the hippopotamus is a species of game particularly desirable, for its ivory and its hide are both valuable, while the not inconsiderable danger involved in its pursuit provides the delicious emotion without which every kind of hunting is tame and insipid. Moreover, the obligation under which the leader of the expedition lies to feed his servants and carriers adequately makes one of these enormous beasts, twelve feet long or so and disproportionately wide, a perfect godsend. Not only does the hippopotamus furnish a formidable amount of meat, but that meat has the inestimable merit of keeping fresh much longer than any other, principally owing to the fact that flies seem to have an insurmountable horror of it. I must admit that for a long time I thoroughly sympathized with the flies. Alive, the hippopotamus has a peculiar odor, somewhat resembling musk, which discloses the presence of the animal from afar when he happens to be to windward of one. In the flesh of the dead animal this odor—or the taste of it, rather—persists and is much appreciated by the natives, though foreigners take a long time to get accustomed to it; some are never able to support it.—Wide World Magazine.

FIVE SENSES NOT ENOUGH.

Our Limited Scale of Consciousness Shuts Out Many Vibrations.

Between the vibrations that we call electricity and the vibrations that we call heat we imagine there must be other vibrations filling up the gap, but we do not know, simply because we have no senses that can comprehend them. The spectrum is just such a little scale. Below the darkest red at the lower end we cannot see; at the other end or the vibrations get faster and faster through the orange, the blue and the violet is another unknown gap—that is, we cannot see it. But surely the vibrations are there. Some of them, for instance, that we have never seen and never can see mark their presence on a photographic plate. And this same spectrum may be used as an analogy to describe spiritualistic phenomena. Just as there are limits at either end of the scale of vibrations beyond which our own senses can tell us nothing so may there be psychic forces at work beyond the limits of our consciousness. These are seemingly supernatural to us when we witness their effect, but they really are no more supernatural than the X ray that pierces the solid body or the invisible ultra violet ray that marks the photographic plate.—From "Are the Dead Alive?" by Fremont Rider in Delimitator.

When the Waiter Wins.

Two men were wrangling as to who should settle with the waiter for the luncheon. When the question had been finally decided and the contestants had gone the waiter said to one of his regular customers who was a witness of the scene: "That's what we like, for every time it happens we come in for an extra tip. The man who couldn't get the check has only one way to get even, and that is by giving the waiter something, and nine times out of ten he does it and makes the amount more than he would have given if he had paid the check. This one ordered extra cigars and left the change for me. We like the 'give me the check' quarrels."—New York Tribune.

Quick Wit.

In the days when Rowley Hill was bishop of the Isle of Man one of his clergymen, bearing the name of Tears, came to say adieu to his bishop on getting preferment.

The parson said: "Goodby, my lord! I hope we may meet again, but if not here in some better place."

The bishop replied, "I fear the latter is unlikely, as there are no Tears in heaven."

"No doubt," wittily answered the parson, "you are right that our chance of meeting is small, as one reads of the plains of paradise, but never of any Hills there."

Overfeeding.

"Men drunk from liquor and men drunk from overeating are most susceptible to pneumonia and die of it," said a Chicago health commissioner in an address. "The majority of cases of pneumonia are of patients who contracted the disease after a drunken debauch or who were drunk from overfeeding," the commissioner continued. "People drunk from overfeeding, I think, are almost as immoral as those who stupefy themselves with liquors. The effects of pneumonia in such patients are much the same."

Champagne Corks.

The manufacture of the best kind of corks, those made for champagne bottles, are never intrusted to machines. The ordinary common cork is made by machinery, but the best work invariably is done by human hands, and the champagne cork cannot be trusted to a machine. All the blemishes in the cork have to be taken into consideration, so this work is done by hand labor.

Unexpected.

Bessie—Yes; he held me on his knee, and I rested my head on his shoulder, and just as his mustache brushed my cheek he said— Jessie (expectantly)—Yes; he said— Bessie—"Isn't it beastly weather for this time of year?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

No man can produce great things who is not thoroughly sincere with himself.—Lowell.

FORTY PLAYGROUNDS BY THE SEA.

This is seashore time. The dog days call to the worker in home, office, and mill and the answer brings up thoughts of the many resorts beside the sea, where comfort, recreation, and pleasure alike await the coming of the holiday-maker. Along the shores of New Jersey from Cape May to Sandy Hook lie forty beaches, each offering delights for outings long or short and each easily accessible by the splendid train service of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Atlantic City, with its myriad attractions for young and old, needs no introduction, for its charms are known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Cape May, for a century the summering place of satisfied thousands of seekers after cool breezes, fine bathing, and the refined amusements of the seaside, is more attractive than ever in its new life. Ocean City, Wildwood, Sea Isle City, with their smaller neighbors, Anglesea, Holly Beach, Wildwood Crest, Avalon, and Stone Harbor, afford summer pleasure to thousands. To the north lie Beach Haven, Seaside Park, Island Heights and the other resorts about Barnegat Bay, where the lover of fishing and sailing finds the choicest sport. Asbury Park, Ocean Grove, Spring Lake, Long Branch, Sea Girt, Point Pleasant, Allenhurst, Elberon, and Belmar on the Upper Coast where the country meets the sea right on the beach, appeal with mighty force to the vacationists. Any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent will be glad to give full information regarding excursion rates, time of trains and arrange your outing whether it be for a day, a week or the whole summer.
