

Why He Does It.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said druggist J. D. Murray to one of his many customers, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan. "The Dr. Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half-price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water. "I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity.

LOCALS.

Henry C. Gettig, of Colyer, is the proud papa of a young carpenter.

The fourth annual reunion of the Meyers and Maury families will take place on August 12, 1909, at Hecla Park.

While tomatoes grown in the south have been in market for some time, it remained for W. B. Mingle, Esq., to pluck the first vegetables of that kind from the gardens in this locality.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greferer drove from Centre Hall to near Bellefonte to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. Wess Foreman, who live on a large farm between Bellefonte and Zion.

The summer assembly of the Sunday schools in the Centre Hall Lutheran charge will be held in the grove near Indian Lane, near Penna Cave station. The date is Thursday, August 5th.

William J. Mitterling, the drover, is making preparation to erect a new dwelling house, on a lot next to the Reformed church. The structure will be of brick, and will have all the modern conveniences.

Another large peach crop will be harvested from the orchard of Colonel W. Fred Reynolds, near Bellefonte. The crop is estimated at twelve thousand bushels, and the quality is said to be much better than last year.

It is four weeks since Daniel Daup broke both his wrists in a fall while painting a dwelling house. His arms are both shingled yet, but he is getting along fine, and is confident that Dr. Dale made a good job of it when setting the broken bones.

Read the Kessler advertisement in this issue of the Reporter. He is having his semi-annual clearance sale, and so announces. At these sales all kinds of clothing, etc., are put down to the bottom prices, preferring to sell at and below cost, rather than hold over the goods. Mr. Kessler is the Millheim reliable clothier.

Mr. James Spayd and son Leonard and Miss Metta Spayd, of Bellevue, Ohio, are in the east, the former being in Lock Haven and the latter two at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Luse, west of Centre Hall. Mr. Spayd also intends coming east within a few weeks, to visit his sister, Mrs. Luse, and others in this section.

An important feature of the Woman's Home Companion this summer is the Reminiscences of the late venerable Edward Everett Hale. The August issue contains, in place of the regular monthly chapter of the Reminiscences, the publication of which commenced before Doctor Hale's death, a beautiful tribute to the eminent writer and minister by his personal friend W. H. McElroy.

Rev. S. H. Deitzel will return to the ministry again, having accepted a call to the Pleasant Unity Reformed church, in Westmoreland county, the first of three charges of which he was pastor, the other two being Covetown, Maryland, and Maytown, this state. Rev. Deitzel left the active field of the ministry this spring to teach the summer term of the Spring Mills Academy. It is highly complimentary to Rev. Deitzel to be called back to an old field of labor, and he will enter upon the active work as a pastor as soon as he can get his furniture and goods on the grounds.

Prof. William B. Bray, of Freeland, accompanied by Mrs. Bray and children, are at the home of the parents of Mrs. Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Moyer, near Millheim, for their vacation. Mr. Bray was in Centre Hall last week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer. He has been principal of the Freeland Mining and Mechanical Institute for a number of years, but was granted a leave of absence to attend Lehigh University where he is taking special work to fit himself further for his particular work. As an instructor Prof. Bray has been exceptionally successful, and on securing his degree he again intends returning to the profession.

Oak Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Zerby, of State College, were guests of Mrs. Zerby's brother, Oscar Rishel on Sunday.

William Garner was a pleasant visitor in town over Sunday.

Mrs. Eimer Stump and children, Alvin and Mary, are spending several days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, at Potters Mills.

Miss Mary Battus, who is staying with her sister, Mrs. George Searson, spent a few days at her home in Bellefonte.

The farmers have about finished hauling wheat, which was a fine crop, and soon the thresher whistle will be heard.

Mrs. Della Bloom and three sons, of Milesburg, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Alvin Stump.

Mrs. Arbor Cummings and children, of Linden Hall, spent a day gathering cherries at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Rebecca Cummings, in this place.

Tuesday morning as Fred Nevel, who is employed by A. Cummings, was in the act of getting on a horse the animal made a plunge, throwing Fred to the ground. He received injuries which will keep him from working for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith and family, of Centre Hill, spent a day at the home of Lloyd Brown.

ART AND WEATHER.

A Storm That Sued the Painter, but Not the Committee.

In a gallery there hangs a large canvas in an imposing frame. The painting shows a waterfall in one of the states famous for startling natural scenery. The picture has occupied its present place for several years. "Does it belong here?" asked a visitor of the man in charge.

"No more than the others you see." "Seems to me it should be in the capitol of the state where this scenery is," said the visitor.

"It was painted for the state," replied the man in charge, "but when it was submitted to the art committee it refused to accept it."

"What was the objection?" "You see the sky is overcast. The artist put in a gathering storm like an impending calamity. The art committee said it was a reflection on the reputation of the state; that a storm such as is represented was unknown in that latitude."

"Couldn't the artist put in another sky, one that accorded with the state's reputation for sunshine?"

"I suppose he could, but he refused. He said that the rumpus kicked up by the art committee warranted the storm effect on the canvas, and he refused to budge. He sent it here, and here it remains."—Boston Herald.

WILD MACEDONIA.

Strenuous Life Amid Savage Animals in the Balkans.

Besides some warlike men Macedonia contains an abundance of wild animals. A traveler writes: "By the side of oaks and walnuts you find great tortoises and snakes eight feet long, and bears and wolves abound. They are a serious drag upon industry, and even in civilized Bulgaria it has lately been found necessary to increase the government rewards for killing them. I believe it to be a true story that a party of peasants with horses was not long ago wholly destroyed by wolves in the Mori Horo mountains, nothing but the bits and stirrup irons being found to record them. "In the same hills the peasants migrate for the summer to lofty shoulders where the land is flat enough to grow little patches of maize, and here, night after night, they will sit up with a fire to drive off bears. There are tragic stories of women with babies in their arms beating off bears with burning brands from the fire. "The prevalence of eagles is a delightful feature for the traveler, and on the cliffs of Montenegro I once counted at the same moment thirty-nine ravens."

The Missing Link.

A lawyer having offices in a Philadelphia building wherein there are some hundreds of tenants recently lost a cuff link, one of a pair that he greatly prized. Being absolutely certain that he had dropped the link somewhere in the building, he caused a notice to be posted in the following terms:

"Lost—A gold cuff link. The owner, William Wert, will deeply appreciate its immediate return."

That afternoon on passing the door whereon this notice was posted what were the feelings of the lawyer to observe that appended thereto were these lines:

"The finder of the missing cuff link would deem it a great favor if the owner would kindly lose the other link."—Harper's Weekly.

Not Included.

After the dry goods salesman had completed his business with Cyrus Craig, Centerville's one storekeeper, he asked what was going on in the town. "Had any entertainments this season?" he inquired.

"No," said Mr. Craig. "Not one. Salome Howe's pupils have given two concerts, piano and organ, and the principal of the 'Academy has lectured twice, once on 'Our National Forests' and once on 'Stones as I Know Them,' but as far as entertainments are concerned Centerville hasn't got round to 'em yet this season."—Youth's Companion.

Care of Snowshoes.

Snowshoes need very little care. You don't have to wipe them dry with a chamol, for instance, the prescribed treatment for skates. When taking them off merely tap them against the wall or a tree to shake free the clinging snow and stand them up on their heels outside. Never attempt to dry them before a fire. When they are put away for the summer select a dry place where there will be no danger of mice.—Country Life in America.

The Age of the Microbe.

People just now are living in a state of almost morbid apprehension concerning what they should eat and drink. There have been the paleolithic age and the red sandstone age. The present age would come to be known as the bacillus, microbe and tubercle age.—Lord Rabbledale in House of Lords.

What It Does.

"Speaking of poetry, does the modern school make us think?" "Well, it makes us hustle for the dictionary—that is, those of us who have any curiosity at all."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Long and Short of It.

"He may win the race." "Yes; he's short legged, but long winded."—Detroit Free Press.

Reason is not measured by size or height, but by principle.—Epictetus.

CENTRE HALL, - - - - PENN'A

FRIEND FARMER:

We wish to call your attention to the Weber and Columbia Wagons we have been offering you for the last few weeks through the columns of this paper.

In referring to the good qualities of these wagons we wish to say that nothing but the best of material enters into their construction; this combined with the best of mechanical skill, and the latest improved machinery designed especially for the construction of wagons, goes to make up these most complete and perfect wagons; not even the smallest details are overlooked.

The lumber used is selected by experienced men and is of four years' seasoning.

The axles are of the very best grade of hickory.

The hubs are the very best quality of white oak.

The spokes are strictly A 1 grade of oak and hickory mixed and driven in hot glue.

The felloes are oak and are thoroughly soaked in boiled oil before tires are set, and are joined with improved steel dowels, which prevents clipping at the joints.

They are exceptionally well ironed, light running and attractively painted, and in all a wagon that will give years of service.

We very cordially invite you to step in and examine these splendid wagons whether you are contemplating a purchase now or not. We want you to thoroughly understand their construction and see where they are better than the ordinary vehicle.

The important thing in buying a wagon is to know before hand what service it will give you; the important thing in selling them is to show you that, as well as we can, and then be sure that they are as good as we lead you to expect.
