Owed to Prosperity.

Prosperity! Prosperity!
The country's on a spree,
And everything is going up
Except my salary.

Prosperity! Prosperity!
The tariff bill is done,
And for my money I get now
An even smaller sum.

Prosperity! Prosperity!
The millionaires all say:
"Come, let us have prosperity,
And let who has to pay."

Prosperity! Prosperity!
Away with plants and knockings,
If yachts cost more why should I kick
At paying more for stockings?

Prosperity! Prosperity!
When I am feeling pensive
I sometimes wish prosperity
Weren't quite so blamed expensive.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

If you want to meet a bargain in furniture come to our store before August 31st.—Rearick's, Centre Hall.

Miss Ruth Lytle, of State College, an operator in the commercial telephone exchange of that town, is the guest of Miss Bertha McCormick, who holds a similar position in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shutt, of Wellington, Ohio, are at the home of the former's brother, Frank Shutt, in Centre Hall. Mr. Shutt is a merchant tailor, and learned his trade in Centre Hall.

More new post cards of local views received at this office. They just reached the cabinets Tuesday, direct from Germany. They are mighty fine. This is the second instalment received this season.

Messrs. Nicodemus Luse, of Coburn, and W. H. Meyer, of Centre Hall, Saturday afternoon went to Fulton county, Illinois, for the purpose of buying a car load of horses. If they are successful in making their purchase, the horses will be shipped east and sold at public sale at Millheim.

T. F. Townsend, for some years the head of the weather bureau in this state with headquarters in Philadelphia, has been transferred to Cape May, and his place has been filled by George S. Bliss. The new head has already adopted a number of new methods, and better results than ever are anticipated. The voluntary service at Centre Hall is reported to Mr. Bliss.

For thirty-three years, The Lock Haven Normal School has been the most efficient and largest secondary school in central Pennsylvania. Its graduates are leading citizens and are doing their share of the world's work. They carry with them the high ideals of the school. It demands high scholarship of its pupils, but it also insists on right living. It is a home school and looks after the individual needs of its pupils. Its catalog is not only handsome but it mirrors the work of the school. Send for a copy.

John Musser, a farmer of Haines township, had an experience in burning Canada thistles which he will remember all his life. He set fire to a thistle patch in a timothy field on his farm, and the ground being so dry the fire began to spread. He went to the barn to get a team to plow around the fire, but before he returned the fire had spread over the oats field, and the binder standing in that field was burned. For a time the fire was dangerously near the barn. Mr. Musser, with all the help he could summon, worked strenuously until the fire was under control.

Even an empty whiskey barrel is a bad thing for boys to tamper with, as was demonstrated by ten-year-old Nelson Smith, son of Rev. Howard Wayne Smith, D. D., of Philadelphia, who is spending the summer at the home of Commissioner John H. Winger, of Union county. The lad smelled at the bung hole of an empty whiskey barrel, and as the odor was new to him, he wanted to see what was in the barrel, and to do so he lighted a match and dropped it into the barrel. The fumes ignited, causing an explosion, one of the staves hitting the youth and fracturing one of his legs.

The hen house of Cleveland Eungard is guarded with great care by its owner, not even automobile parties are safe to molest a hen after nightfall. At least the experience of Messrs. E. H. Auman and W. H. Musser and their wives, of Millheim, is such that it is not safe to loiter too near biddy's quarters, even if the intentions are not to disturb her. A short time ago the parties mentioned stopped at the Zuber farm, this side of Spring Mills, where Mr. Eungard lives, to fill the automobile tank with water, and some one about the place thought the tourists were monkeying about the hen house, consequently the shot gun was brought into play, and it is only luck that the result was not serious.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Katharine Roan, widow of the late James P. Roan, died at the home of her son, Robert Roan, in Juniata, of infirmities due to her advanced age. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Swiler, and was born in Juniata county over seventy-six years ago. When but twenty-one years of age she was united in marriage to James P. Roan and the young couple took up their residence in Bellefonte. It was while living there that Mr. Roan died about ten years ago. Five years ago Mrs. Roan went to Juniata to make her home with her children. Interment was made in Bellefonte.

Thomas Shearer, one of the old-time residents of Spring township, died at his home on the pike, between Bellefonte and Axe Mann, of kidney disease, with which he had suffered for more than a year. He was seventy-three years, four months and eighteen days old. He was a blacksmith by trade and followed that calling all his life. He was a veteran of the civil war and a very estimable citizen.

At the age of forty-three years, Mrs. V. J. Bauer died at her home in Bellefonte. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merty Cunningham, of Bellefonte. Her parents and the following brothers and sisters survive: Frank, of Pittsburg; Edward, of Linden Hall; Mitchell and George, of Bellefonte; William, of Beaver Falls; Merty, of New York City, and Mrs. R. B. Taylor, of Bellefonte.

LOCALS.

It is time to begin to put on extra touches for the Grange encampment and Fair.

Attention is called to the advertising of the Reporter. Read the ads, they are worth your while to study.

Friday and Saturday it was cloudy, threatening rain at all times. Sunday afternoon rain set in, but the shower was very light, being but thirteen-hundredths of an inch.

Mrs. Henry Moyer, at Colyer, was seriously ill beginning of this week, and Mrs. Eva Strohm, of Tusseyville, who has been in delicate health for some time on account of her advanced age, is no better.

Isn't it about time for Penns Valley people to quit bumping the Bellefonte hospital and give the institution unstinted support? The large number of patients taken there from the south side of the county, who are receiving or have received the best of care, indicates that the berths are welcoming unfortunates from all sections. Aid the hospital. If you think you can not do so through the regularly organized auxiliary societies, do so as a private individual.

Two grains of rye that lodged right below the root of the tongue of Edward Confer, a farmer living at Yarnell, caused him a very sore throat, that was first thought to be diphtheria. Later the family physician made a thorough examination, and made to his surprise found the trouble to be two grains of rye in a state of decomposition. The foreign substance was removed, and Mr. Confer was soon relieved of the severe pains, as well as the fear of having to combat with a most treacherous disease.

Millheim's butcher, P. P. Leitzell, is happy because he received fifty dollars through the mail a few days ago, although that is only one-half the sum he should have received. A short time ago he lost his purse, containing about one hundred dollars, which evidently was found by some one whose conscience was just about one-half dead, and consequently the finder divided the cash by two, keeping the one-half and sent the other half to Mr. Leitzell, using every precaution to destroy all clues as to who the sender was.

There are gentlemen and their opposite who guide automobiles. Of course, a gentleman is a gentleman wherever he is found, and the other man has no conception of a gentlemanly deed under any circumstances. Particular reference is here made to the careless, reckless manner of some automobile drivers—the smarty who wants to see how close he can spin along side your horse. The prejudice of the country people against the automobile is due to the occasional fool who guides the machine, and one never knows when you will meet him, for if he sent his card ahead, he would soon join M'Ginty at the bottom of the sea.

Messrs. E. L. Bartholomew and A. B. Kinch, both clerks in the offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Altoona, were guests of the former's brother, C. D. Bartholomew, over Sunday. Both young men are musicians, the former giving special attention to instrumental and the latter to vocal music, and Sunday afternoon the audience in the Methodist church was highly pleased with their performance. Mr. Kinch has an exceptionally fine voice, and is a paid singer in his home town. Mr. Bartholomew also frequently draws a wage from some church in which he acts as substitute organist. He has been studying music ever since he has been in Altoona, and is learning to handle the piano, pipe organ and violin.

A Novel Introduction.

The Dr. Howard Company have entered into an arrangement with J. D. Murray drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that J. D. Murray will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

J. D. Murray has been able to secure only a limited supply, so everyone who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure.

John Foreman, son of F. A. Foreman, of near Centre Hall, was home for a short time. He had been attending school in Valparaiso, Indiana, to fit himself for civil engineering. He is now with an engineering firm, being the same that employed him prior to taking a course in the Indiana institution. His headquarters at present are in Altoona.

FRIEND FARMER:

We wish to call your attention to the Weber and Columbia Wagons we have been offering you for the last few weeks through the columns of this paper.

In referring to the good qualities of these wagons we wish to say that nothing but the best of material enters into their construction; this combined with the best of mechanical skill, and the latest improved machinery designed especially for the construction of wagons, goes to make up these most complete and perfect wagons; not even the smallest details are overlooked.

The lumber used is selected by experienced men and is of four years' seasoning.

The axles are of the very best grade of hickory. The hubs are the very best quality of white oak. The spokes are strictly A 1 grade of oak and hickory mixed and driven in hot glue.

The felloes are oak and are thoroughly soaked in boiled oil before tires are set, and are joined with improved steel dowels, which prevents clipping at the joints.

They are exceptionally well ironed, light running and attractively painted, and in all a wagon that will give years of service.

We very cordially invite you to step in and examine these splendid wagons whether you are contemplating a purchase now or not. We want you to thoroughly understand their construction and see where they are better than the ordinary vehicle.

The important thing in buying a wagon is to know before hand what service it will give you; the important thing in selling them is to show you that, as well as we can, and then be sure that they are as good as we lead you to expect.
