

DEATHS.

WILLIAM B. KELLER.

Thursday morning of last week William B. Keller, died at his home at Ake Mann, from an abscess of the liver, and other complications. Interment was made at Pleasant Gap, Sunday afternoon. His age was sixty-five years, eight months.

Mrs. Keller, whose maiden name was Susan Mease, and the following children, survive: Mrs. Catharine From and Mrs. Margaret Baum, of Bellefonte; George B. and David, at home. Mrs. David Snyder, the eldest of the family, died about one year ago. Mrs. Margaret Keller, of Boalsburg, mother of the deceased, also survives, as do the following brothers and sister: Ephraim Keller, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Elizabeth Mothersbaugh, Boalsburg; George Keller, Houserville; Dr. U. S. G. Keller, Warren, Illinois. Mrs. Catharine Dale, of Oak Hall, deceased, was also a sister.

For a number of years Mr. Keller lived on a farm west of Centre Hall, and is well known throughout Penna Valley.

MRS. ISABELLA CARNER KUHN.

Mrs. Isabella Carner Kuhn, relic of the late John Kuhn, died at her home at Shingletown, Sunday afternoon, after many months suffering with diseases incident to her advanced age, being almost eighty-four years. Her long and useful life was spent in the vicinity of where she died. She was a kind wife and mother, and an excellent neighbor. She was a member of the Reformed church, and is survived by three children, namely, Mrs. Martha Krumbine, of Vintondale; Anna and William, at home. The funeral was held Tuesday morning when interment was made by the side of her husband, who preceded her to the grave only one week. Rev. A. A. Black officiated.

MRS. ELIZABETH HENNEY.

At the age of seventy-nine yrs., three mos., Mrs. Elizabeth Henney died at her home in Millheim, from complications due to age. Interment took place Wednesday morning, in the Union cemetery, Millheim, services being held previously in the Evangelical church.

Mrs. Henney's maiden name was Stamm, and she was a native of Sugar Valley, where one sister, Mrs. Franz, now lives. Prior to the death of her husband, William R. Henney, the family lived on a farm, east of Old Fort, which property is yet that of the Henney estate. The couple were childless.

Leroy Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Steyer, of Millheim, died at the age of almost three years, of droupy. Interment was made at Wolf's Chapel, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Eliza Walker died in Bellefonte, aged sixty-two years. Two children, William, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Jack Houtz, of Philadelphia, survive.

Lichtig-Bearick.

Mrs. Florence S. Bearick announces the marriage of her daughter, Verna Viola, to Bernard Lichtig. The young couple will be at home September 23, at 5043 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

The bride is the daughter of the late J. Frank Bearick, and is well known in Penna Valley, where she was born and raised.

The groom, during the time that President Taft was Governor General of the Philippine Islands, was appointed secretary-treasurer of the combined provinces of Lepanto-Bontoc, which provinces are the homes of the Igorotes, and later was made acting governor of the provinces. During 1907-8, Mr. Lichtig became secretary-treasurer of the China Investment Corporation, an American company, with headquarters at Shanghai, China.

Mr. and Mrs. Lichtig and Mrs. Bearick are coming east from Seattle, Washington, and September 20th they will sail from New York for Buenos Ayre, South America, from which point they will proceed to Paraguay, where Mr. Lichtig and his partner, H. J. Black, have a railroad concession covering four hundred miles north and south out of Assencion which is in the course of development.

Stork Leaves Two at Thomas Home.

The stork has been partial to Harris township, and its latest donation was two babies at the home of D. B. Thomas, at Boalsburg. The one is the nephew of the other, and is six days older than his uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Markle are the parents of the eldest babe, and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Thomas claim the younger.

Dr. W. H. Fry stopped in Centre Hall Friday on his way to Milton to visit his son Dr. Hugh Fry, who, as a veterinary surgeon is building up a practice.

LOCALS.

Mrs. Annie Gramley, of Rebersburg, beginning of this week came to Centre Hall to visit for a few days with her sister, Mrs. Mary Dinges.

At the next meeting of Progress Grange which will be held Saturday evening, Prof. H. F. Bitner will give a lecture on insects that destroy our fruit.

Mrs. William Fory and granddaughter, Miss Grace Miller, of Hellem, York county, are guests at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. W. H. Meyer, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Frank A. Carson, and interesting little daughter Hazel, of Potter's Mills, who are guests in the home of H. B. Spangler, of Chicago, before returning home will visit friends in Joliet, Illinois and Latrobe, this state.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Houtz and daughters Verna E. and Ethel L., of Toledo, Ohio, are guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Samuel Gingsherich, near Centre Hall. Mr. Houtz is a railroad man, and took advantage of the vacation season to bring his family east.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hackenberg, of Smullton, and Mr. and Mrs. James Wesley, of Bellefonte, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shem Hackenberg, west of Centre Hall, over Sunday. It was a sort of family reunion, the couples being the parents of Mr. and Mrs. Hackenberg.

Mrs. Bachman, of Lebanon, who will be better known to the readers when her maiden name—Kate Barger—is mentioned is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Annie Spangler, in Centre Hall. She is accompanied by her youngest son, John, a bright lad of eleven years.

Deputy Sheriff James B. Strohm was brought to his home in Centre Hall the day following the accident which resulted in a broken limb, an account of which appears elsewhere in this issue. He is getting along splendidly, and will soon be able to move around with the aid of crutches.

Posts for marking burial lots in cemeteries as well as fence and hitching posts are being manufactured from cement by H. H. Bachau, of Spring Mills. The finished product has a fine appearance, is substantial and inexpensive. When desired raised initial letters are placed on the posts, or they may be otherwise ornamented.

The evening entertainments during the week of the Grange Encampment and Fair, at Centre Hall, according to a statement of the committee in charge, promises to be of a better character than heretofore. This will be good news to the hundreds of tenters on the ground who are always anxious to spend the evenings in the large auditorium.

C. N. Kryder, of Covington, Virginia, was in Centre Hall the beginning of this week. He is a well known lumberman, and now has a mill near the point named. During the past thirty days, Mr. Kryder says, inquiries for lumber have been more frequent than for some time past. Mrs. Kryder did not come to Penna Valley, but is staying about Lamar with relatives.

Spring Mills will be well represented at Atlantic City this week. Among those who joined the excursionists last Thursday were Miss Lodie Rishell, operator in the Spring Mills Bell telephone exchange; Miss Ella Condo, one of Gregg township's school teachers; Charles Barges and two nephews, Ralph and Charles Barges; Tibben Zabler, David Hennigh, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Rossman.

At the last meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Hosterman it was decided to open quarters on Grange Park, during the Grange Encampment and Fair. The tent will be at the disposal of the weary, also a meeting place for the members of the society, and where temperance literature will be judiciously distributed. The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Weber, Saturday evening.

A number of young people from State College held a house party at Penna Cave from Friday until Sunday evening. They were: Misses Kate Harvey, Sue, Nannie and Mary Bailey, Isabel Harvey, Alice Eby, Aneta Imboden, Mary M-Mahon, all of State College; Kate Glenn, Cleveland, O.; Mary Shoneberger, Johnstown; Ruth Goheen, Tyrone; Messrs. John Meek, David Gower, Frank Holmes, Charles Musser, John Miller, William Glenn, Frank Daugherty, all of State College, and Mr. Eider, Tyrone.

As was briefly mentioned last week, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, of Columbia, South Carolina, arrived in Centre Hall Thursday. They will stay north but a very short time, owing to the fact Mr. McCormick now is sole owner of the large undertaking establishment he formerly was but part owner, and consequently must be in his office to oversee his business. Columbia has been growing rapidly, and property values have advanced proportionately, which gave him an opportunity to realize handsomely on several dwelling houses erected by him within the past few years, as well as on investments made in vacant lots.

AN APPEAL FOR EXHIBITS.

TO THE PEOPLE OF CENTRE COUNTY: THE managers of the Grange Encampment and Fair, at Grange Park, Centre Hall, September 11th to 17th, inclusive, are putting forth every effort to make this the best and most profitable gathering ever held. And especially is an effort being made to have the exhibits excel the most creditable in years gone by, and an appeal is made to you to assist in developing this feature.

There are many things that can be put on exhibition, and among them are: Wheat, Rye, Oats (threshed and in the straw), corn, seeds of all kinds, grasses, potatoes, garden vegetables, pumpkins, etc.; fruit (in its natural state, canned, preserved and dried), live stock and poultry. To the "Old Relics" department the ladies can contribute quilts, cover lids, needle work, and an innumerable number of articles that will add to the general interest of the display. The displays in all lines heretofore have been highly creditable to the people in Centre county, but this year every department of the Encampment and Exhibition should be superior and can be made superior to any in the past if you will assist in the effort to make it so. A premium of five cents will be paid for each meritorious article put on exhibition, and this premium will be paid when the exhibits are brought to the exhibition building. LEONARD RHONE, Chairman.
