Not a Mixture of Stimulating Drugs. We want to emphasize one point right here—Badger Feeds are not condiments nor mixtures of stimulating drugs, which force greater results for a brief time at the expense of the physical constitution of the animal. They are honest combinations of grains and cereals which have long proved their value in supplying farm animals with the proper elements of nutrition for making milk, muscle and flesh to the best advantage. While they have no undue stimulating influence, they are especially appetizing and like food for human beings, produce good results because stock relish them and they meet their needs to perfection. It's the same with live stock as it is with human beings, the things we like the best do us the most good. This is one of the secrets of the success of Badger Feeds. They are palatable, succulent and especially nutritious. For sale by J. H. & S. E. Weber, Centre Hall and Oak Hall, who just received a full car load of the feed.

SIGNS OF REVOLT IN REPUBLICAN CAMP

Former Speaker McClain Declined to Talk For Ticket.

THE FAITHFUL ALARMED

Nomination of Stober Has Not Mollified the Lancaster Republicans or Appeased the Just Wrath of the "Red Rose" of That County.

Among the orators of Pennsylvania who were expected to participate in the opening of the Republican campaign at Allentown last week, Frank B. McClain, of Lancaster was conspicuous. Mr. McClain was speaker of the house of representatives at Harrisburg during the session of 1907. The political upheaval following the iniquities of the session of 1905 had admonished the machine managers that it was necessary to make at least a pretense of improvement, and Mr. McClain was made speaker as a concession to the decent element of his party.

Speaker McClain is known variously as the "Silver-Tongued Representative" and the "Red Rose of Lancaster." A man of good impulses and gifted with oratorical powers of exceptional merit, he is greatly in demand on the "stump." It was said at the time that the nomination of J. A. Stober for state treasurer was more for the purpose of enlisting the active help of McClain in the campaign than to honor Stober. There is a tradition that Lancasterians hold together under all circumstances, and it was believed that the nomination of a Lancaster man, however bad, would guarantee the services of McClain.

Events have proved that this expectation has been disappointed, however. Mr. McClain was invited to be the principal orator at the opening meeting, which is regarded as the most important of the campaign. That honor is usually bestowed on Penrose himself, and it is said that he covets it. But exigencies this year suggested that it be used as a bait for Frank McClain. But it didn't work. On the day of the meeting he failed to appear, and his absence was explained by a statement that he had been called to Pittsburgh on unavoidable legal business.

As a matter of fact Mr. McClain is not a lawyer and had no legal or any other kind of business in Pittsburgh on the day of the Allentown meeting. He wasn't in Pittsburgh at all on that day, but was quietly pursuing his own affairs at home, the contemplation of the consternation in Allentown on account of his absence, no doubt, being a considerable source of enjoyment to him. The following Harrisburg dispatch, published in the Philadelphia Record the day after the meeting, gives the real reason for McClain's absence from Allentown:

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 11.—There is trouble in the Republican political camp—not only trouble, but revolt. The manner in which the dictators of the organization rode rough-shod over the opponents of John F. Cor, for speaker of the house and lashed the friends of Frank B. McClain, of Lancaster, may have some effect on the campaign this year. It will be remembered that to mollify Lancaster county for the turning down of McClain the late Republican state convention nominated ex-Senator Stober, from Lancaster county, for state treasurer. This was not only to mollify Lancaster county but to bring McClain, a plain-spoken man, back into the fold and secure his services on the stump. McClain, however, has not given the least hint that he is reconciled to the situation. It is said that he is still smarting under the punishment inflicted on him at the organization of the last house, when it departed from a time-immemorial custom and refused to give him a second term as speaker.

Among the speakers announced for the Republican gathering near Allentown today was McClain, but he was not present. McClain was in Harrisburg yesterday, and told some of his friends that he did not propose to attend the Allentown meeting today. This is all the more significant, as both Sisson, the candidate for auditor general, and Stober, of Lancaster, the Republican candidate for state treasurer, were at the meeting and opened the campaign, after a manner.

In expressing his determination not to take part in the campaign the former speaker was very emphatic, and, despite the fact that his county supplied the candidate for state treasurer, the "Red Rose of Lancaster" will not lift his silver-tongued voice in behalf of the ticket this year. And the question is being asked whether there are many more like McClain in the state.

President Taft said in his brief speech at Springfield, Mass., on Wednesday, that the people had voted him $25,000 "for traveling expenses." That was inaccurate. The people obey the laws and the organic law of the land forbids such an appropriation. Congress voted that money and in accepting it the president violated the constitution and his oath of office. The chief magistrate of a great republic ought to be more careful in speech.

The Philadelphia machine is trying to stuff the registry list with as much zeal as it used to stuff the ballot boxes. But the people are wise to the conditions and the harvest will be a full fall.

FRIEND FARMER:

We wish to call your attention to the Weber and Columbia Wagons we have been offering you for the last few weeks through the columns of this paper.

In referring to the good qualities of these wagons we wish to say that nothing but the best of material enters into their construction; this combined with the best of mechanical skill, and the latest improved machinery designed especially for the construction of wagons, goes to make up these most complete and perfect wagons; not even the smallest details are overlooked.

The lumber used is selected by experienced men and is of four years' seasoning. The axles are of the very best grade of hickory. The hubs are the very best quality of white oak. The spokes are strictly A 1 grade of oak and hickory mixed and driven in hot glue.

The fellos are oak and are thoroughly soaked in boiled oil before tires are set, and are joined with improved steel dowels, which prevents clipping at the joints.

They are exceptionally well honed, light running and attractively painted, and in all a wagon that will give years of service.

We very cordially invite you to step in and examine these splendid wagons whether you are contemplating a purchase now or not. We want you to thoroughly understand their construction and see where they are better than the ordinary vehicle.

The important thing in buying a wagon is to know before hand what service it will give you; the important thing in selling them is to show you that, as well as we can, and then be sure that they are as good as we lead you to expect.
