

POSITION OF INDEPENDENT REPUBLICANS

True Disciples of Lincoln Are Supporting Cyrus LaRue Munson For Justice of Supreme Court.

BERRY AND NILES ADDRESS

Slison and Stober, With the Living Bosses and Effigy of Quay, Smile In Cynic Contempt of All Reform.

The Independent Republican meeting at Plymouth on Thursday evening was both a surprise and an inspiration. It proved that in that section of the state, at least, the better element of the Republican party is quite as active and altogether as determined against the Penrose machine as they were four years ago, when Mr. Berry was triumphantly elected. The meeting was large and enthusiastic.

The speakers were in harmony with the spirit of their audience and both in excellent form. Every strong point made was enthusiastically applauded and every sentence expressed a strong point. It was easily the most effective political demonstration in that section of the state this year. The speakers were Hon. W. H. Berry, former state treasurer, and Hon. Henry C. Niles, chairman of the Lincoln Party state committee.

Mr. Berry said in part: "There can be no confusion as to the issues of the campaign. No question as to the personal character of the candidates is raised. No question of political significance in the state or nation is involved. We are simply to consider the advisability of electing candidates selected by a thoroughly discredited leadership and thereby insuring their return to power in the state and opening the way for a return to the disgraceful conditions existing prior to 1905.

"It is the duty of every Democrat in the state to actively support the nominees of their party. They are men of the highest character and ability, nominated by the free choice of their party and they deserve our support for these reasons. Moreover, the best interests of the state demand that a strong and formidable opponent of the dominant political party be maintained in the state. Let it not be said that Democrats are apathetic or indifferent in this campaign.

"Republicans who love political virtue more than party success can endorse the sentiment and will vote accordingly unless they believe that their leaders are repentant and will repudiate their life-long records. That they were thoroughly scared by the election of a Democrat in 1905 is certain. The hasty call of the extra session of the legislature in 1906, the good work done by it and the selection of excellent candidates at the next election, leave no doubt of this. But recent events disclose the old spirit revived. The Quay statue is erected in a prominent niche in the capitol pursuant to the votes of both the present Republican candidates, Slison and Stober. No protest or apology is of record from them. They, with the living bosses and the marble image smile in cynic contempt of all reform.

"Salter, the confessed traitor, who fled the country to escape conviction for notorious ballot box stuffing in Philadelphia, returned when the district attorney's office was manned by Norris S. Barrett and Robert von Moschizsker, when, according to Senator McNichol, the jury was fixed and Salter acquitted. Barrett was nominated and elected judge by the machine that profited by Salter's crime. Von Moschizsker was presented by them to Governor Pennypacker for appointment to the bench soon afterward, but the governor declined to appoint him. He was nominated, however, and elected to the bench by the gang at the succeeding election."

Following is a summary of Mr. Niles' speech: "The state ticket that is this year labeled Republican is in no honest sense the ticket of the Republicans of Pennsylvania.

"They are urging the Republicans who believe in honest government and pure politics to vote for their selection for the important offices of state treasurer, auditor general and justice of the supreme court.

"There is no moral, legal or political obligation so to do. "So long as the crime and fraud of one Philadelphia ward is permitted to defeat the will of the honest anti-graft Republicans of whole counties of the state, the nominees of such methods are not entitled to our support.

"Since the defeat of Plummer, in 1906, the bosses have pretended to an unusual goodness.

"They are now tired of even the appearance of reform. "Their temporary restrained hunger for the spoil has become irresistible and they are now engaged in an effort to resume control of the money and the auditing of the state.

"The candidates who have been given the Republican label have always been for and never against the corrupt methods which have been Pennsylvania's shame. They are satisfactory to these bosses.

Enlarging Poultry Business.

With a view of greatly enlarging his already extensive poultry business, Charles D. Bartholomew is erecting a new dwelling house on the tract of land he recently purchased from his father, William H. Bartholomew, at the station, and will place a man there who will be regularly employed in taking care of the poultry yards to be established and also to do general farming. Mr. Bartholomew will both aim at the production of eggs and the development of first class poultry, and hopes to have a large surplus to put on the market.

The new dwelling house is being erected immediately back of the Logan house, in a section well calculated for building purposes. It is the owner's intention to extend Allison street, which will make available a number of choice building lots in a quarter altogether desirable.

Earl Lutz is the man who will have the new poultry farm in charge. He has met with success in a small way in growing poultry and producing eggs, and there is no doubt but that where conditions are more favorable he will be able to make biddie yield large returns.

Marlin

Big Game Repeating Rifles

The great thing in big game rifles is accuracy to work under all conditions. Marlin rifles are built with this idea foremost. The mechanism is simple, strong, perfectly adjusted, quick and easy in operation. The Marlin solid top and side ejector keep a protecting wall of metal between your head and the cartridge, prevent powder and gases blowing back, throw the shells away from you and allow instant, accurate, effective repeat shots.

The Special Smokeless Steel barrels are hard and strong, specially made for high power cartridges and to resist the wear of jacketed bullets. They are rifled deep on the Ballard system for greatest accuracy and killing power.

Made in Models '93 and '95, calibre 25 to .45 and fully described and illustrated with all other Marlin repeaters in our 32 page catalog. Free for 3 stamps postage. The Marlin Firearms Co., 42 Willow Street, NEW HAVEN, CONN.
