

DEATHS.

MRS. EVA D. STOVER.

Mrs. Eva D. Stover, wife of George B. Stover, of Millheim, died Friday, after an illness of about two months, aged sixty-one years, six months, five days. Interment was made in Millheim, Tuesday morning, Rev. Sheeder, her pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Stover's maiden name was Hosterman, and was reared at Fiedler. She is survived by her husband and two sons, McClellan O., of Woodward, and Lucian E., of Millheim. One daughter died in infancy. Two brothers also survive, namely, Daniel Hosterman, of Coburn, and Henry, located somewhere in the west.

The deceased was a consistent member of the Lutheran church, having been confirmed at the age of fourteen years in the Fiedler church.

Mrs. Edith Gregg Meyers, daughter of General John Irvin Gregg, died at the Hudson (Wisconsin) Sanitarium. She had been ill for quite a long time and had left her home in Duluth, Minnesota, to go to the Sanitarium at Hudson. She was buried in Tyrone. Her husband, Herndon Meyers, died in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1897, and was also buried in Tyrone. He was formerly well known in Centre county, being originally from Lewistown, and had lived in Tyrone and Hollidaysburg. He, with his family, removed to Duluth, and thence to Atlanta, Georgia.

Direction Notes.

Tom Johnson was defeated for mayor of Cleveland.

It appears the amendments lost in Centre county, by a large majority.

Munson has a majority in the county of about 1300 for supreme court judge.

The probability is that John W. Runkle, Democrat, is elected associate judge in Snyder county.

There were no Democrats in Centre county defeated for county office. Witness, J. Adam Hszel, jury commissioner-elect.

The Democrats have a majority in Centre county for all state officers of from 500 to 1300. But half the vote was out, 4500 being cast.

Judge William J. Gaynor was elected Democratic Mayor of Greater New York over O. T. Baunard, the Republican fusion nominee, and W. R. Hearst, independent.

Election returns show that Mr. Munson ran far ahead of the party ticket, but not far enough to become a supreme court judge. The gang won out in Philadelphia as well as throughout the state. No definite figures can be given as the Reporter goes to press.

Marriage Licenses.

John W. Vouada, Spring Mills; Lola R. Lingle, Spring Mills; W. W. Stephenson, Rush Township; Mary E. Dickson, Hawk Run; David Freeman, Clearfield; Elizabeth Ball, Houtzdale; Harry Cummings, Centre Hall; Sadie E. Faust, Spring Mills; Charles D. Norton, Moshannon; Anna M. Walker, Moshannon.

William Dale Sold Farm.

The William Dale farm, at Pleasant Gap, was sold to Samuel Zettle, of near Lemont, for $75.00 per acre. The farm contains about one hundred and twenty acres. Mr. Zettle, who now lives on one of the Treaster farms, will occupy the place himself next spring.

LOCALS.

There will be a regular meeting of Progress Grange, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Knarr was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Sunday and on Monday underwent an operation.

Mrs. J. C. Harpe, of Bellefonte, was the guest of the family of George H. E. Nerick during a part of last week.

Mrs. R. D. Musser, of near Spring Mills, who had been seriously ill from pneumonia, has improved considerably during the past week.

Miss Savilla Resarik recently left on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Meyer, in Cleveland, Ohio. She will also visit other relatives and friends before returning home.

Two horses were bought at the Baum livery sale by Liverman William Ruhl, of Spring Mills. These will take the place of the two animals which died for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swabb are in Millin county where they are visiting among friends. Mrs. Catharine Reed, of Reedsville, who had been their guest, returned to her home with them.

Mrs. J. E. Campbell and daughter Marie L. Campbell, of Linden Hall, were in town Saturday. Mrs. Campbell just returned from a visit to Harry McCracken, in the Glades, and Harry Koeb, at Fairbrook.

None of the local hunters made much of a record on the first day of the rabbit season. One, two and three is the record the best of them made, and many returned without having even enjoyed the sport of chasing the cotton tail.

Mrs. B. D. Brislin and daughter, Miss Reganna, drove to Warrington Mark last Wednesday and returned Friday. While at that place they were entertained by Mrs. Brislin's niece, Mrs. Clayton Fetterolf, nee Anna Mary Shirk.

Harris Township.

Mr. George Fisher with her little boys spent last week in Bellefonte.

Miss Ladora Williams, of Lemont, is visiting Mrs. Julia Dinges.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kimpfort, of Walnut Grove, spent Sunday afternoon and evening in Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Corl attended the Corl sale at Pleasant Gap on Saturday.

Mrs. Margaret Riley visited at the home of her daughter Mrs. Frank Whitehill over Sunday.

Kleckner Reish and son, of Altoona spent several days with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Miller.

Grant Charles bought a lot from Mrs. Margaret Riley, and will build a house thereon.

The youngsters played their usual tricks on Saturday evening, but not much damage was done.

John Meyers and family, of Smulton, visited for several days with friends in Boalsburg.

Mrs. Emma A. Fisher entertained a number of her lady friends during the evening of election day.

E. E. Croft, of Martinsburg, was here last week repairing and tuning pianos; he will make another trip some time in December.

Mrs. Henry Dale and daughter Anna spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Musser, who are still at their home, at Pine Grove Mills.

Miss Sara McClenahan, of Centre Hall, is in Boalsburg this week. Rumor has it that she is making a wedding dress.

Miss Mary Corl came from Pleasant Gap to Boalsburg on Tuesday where she will be at home with her brother Charles.

Miss Grace Musser, of Ladysmith, Wisconsin, and her grandmother, Mrs. Julia Musser, of Pine Grove Mills, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Fisher.

Charles Mothersbaugh and Charles Corl are getting around among the farmers with their corn husker. On an average the corn in this township is about half a crop.

At the Harrison and Ziegler store a c'ock was chanced off; there were five hundred tickets each five cents. Master Orrie Rupp had the lucky number, 190, and so he carried off the prize.

Rev. James Glenn with his wife and little son, James Goodhart, of Hunt-dale, and William Kemp, and son Wallace, of Tyrone, were visitors at the home of L. Mothersbaugh, Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Charles Mothersbaugh and A. E. Gingerich, and Misses Rose Woods, Margaretta Goheen and Margaret Mothersbaugh attended a Hallowe'en party, at the home of Henry Thompson, at Puddingtown, on Saturday evening.

An interesting home missionary convention was held in the Reformed church Friday afternoon and evening. Rev. Frank Wetzel, of Rebersburg, spoke on the "Importance of Home Missions" and Rev. C. W. Levan, of Baltimore, Md., emphasized the necessity of the country congregations helping those in the cities.

Linden Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weaver spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Walker, at State College.

Mrs. J. W. Keller and son Ned spent Sunday at the J. H. Williams home, at Fairbrook.

Rev. Kessler, of Woodward, filled the pulpit in the United Evangelical church, at Rock Hill, on Sunday evening, and preached to a large and appreciative audience.

During the two weeks vacation being taken by Station Agent Lee, the railroad office is being conducted by Mr. Conkle, of Williamsport.

Misses Rebecca Wieland and Raphael Rothrock, of Boalsburg, were called on Tuesday.

J. M. Ross is happy since the arrival of a granddaughter, last Friday. The little one is the first born to Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Meyer. Both mother and babe are getting along nicely.

Mrs. W. S. Wieland and children, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Joseph Pennington, of Nordmont, were guests of relatives here the beginning of the week.

H. W. Orwig, of Millinburg, spent a few days here this week looking up his lumber interests in this section.

The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. James B. Strohm, the second Saturday in November, instead of the first Saturday as previously announced.
