

Hunter Dunkle accidentally shot.
 Hunter Dunkle, the eldest son of T. J. Dunkle, of Puzoslawney, was accidentally shot Thursday of last week, and before the flow of blood could be checked bled to death. Interment was made Saturday. He was past twenty-one years of age.
 The death of the young man cast a pall over his acquaintances, and the circumstances surrounding it were sad in the extreme. The unfortunate young man and a younger brother were on their way for a day's hunting. They were sitting by the side of a trolley track waiting for the approach of a car to take them nearer their destination, when a rabbit chanced to leap out of a thicket near by them. The younger brother was using a new gun, the mechanism of which he was not familiar with, and while operating it the weapon was accidentally discharged. The shot struck the brother below the knee, the result being as mentioned above.
 Mr. Dunkle is the son of ex-Sheriff Dunkle, who was elected sheriff in this county in 1881. His mother before marriage, was Miss Lizzie Fortney, of Tusseyville. The parents and several brothers and sisters survive.

Lone Hunter's Fine Luck.
 Monday was not blue for G. M. Cooney, of Colyer, for on that day he made a hunting record that will be entitled to the blue ribbon. He went into the mountain alone, and when he returned he had killed a two hundred and fifteen pound buck, four gray squirrels and one pheasant. On returning to his home he secured the aid of C. S. Bottorff who assisted him in landing his game and dressing it. The game, of course, was killed in the Seven Mountains, which is probably as good a hunting ground as can be found anywhere in the state.

Sale of Henney Real Estate.
 In addition to the sale last week of the Henney farm, east of Old Fort, to B. D. Brislin & Company, for $7,000, these tracts of land were sold at Millheim:
 The dwelling house and eight acres of land adjoining, in Millheim, was sold to Joseph W. Reifensnyder, for $2250; four acres to George E. Mensch, for $290; five acres to Orlando Hackenberg, for $620, and thirty-seven acres of mountain land to Dr. C. S. Musser for $9 50 per acre.

W. C. T. U. Wants Information.
 CENTRE HALL, Pa., Nov. 16, 1909.
 Editor Centre Reporter:—
 Dear Sir—At a meeting of the W. C. T. U. of Centre Hall, held this date, a resolution was adopted asking you to publish in the Centre Reporter the names of the petitioners for a liquor license in Centre Hall borough. We believe that such action is for the good of the community.
 Very truly,
 MRS. S. A. SNYDER.

In reply to the communication from the local W. C. T. U., which is printed above, we will say that if the names of the petitioners are forwarded to this office by the officers of the W. C. T. U. they will be printed over the signatures of those making the request. This would be a departure from the custom in this county, but there can be no serious objections on the part of the petitioners.

Lecture for December 1st.
 Rev. C. H. Mead, of New York City, may lecture in Grange Arcadia, December 1st, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., of Centre Hall. The lecture will be free; no collection will be lifted. Dr. Mead is a high class lecturer, and there is a barrel of fun in him. He is an entertainer of the best type.

LOCALS.
 Charles Burris moved to Centre Hall Wednesday, and occupies the second floor of the Rosman store building.
 M. E. Coyle, one of the Potters Mills Regulars, who are located at Pat Garrity's, had the good fortune to kill a deer on Monday.

Although she has not yet sold her farm, Mrs. H. A. Weaver, east of Centre Hall, will move into the property on West Church street, recently purchased by her from George H. Emerick.

Pianos and Organs.
 The Lester pianos are used and endorsed by all the leading musical conservatories and colleges in the U. S.
 The Stevens piano organs are the latest achievement in modern organ construction.
 Pianos and organs sold on easy payment plan. Write for catalog.
