

UNITED EVANGELICALS.

Fifteenth Annual East Penna. Conference meets at Shamokin.

The fifteenth annual East Pennsylvania Conference of the United Evangelical church will be held in Shamokin on February 24th. Three hundred delegates will be in attendance at the sessions. Of this number one hundred and twenty will be ministerial and one hundred and eighty will be lay delegates. The former will be entertained by the local pastor and members of his congregation, the others will be asked to secure their own quarters while in the coal region capital. The sessions will be presided over by Bishop H. Hartzell, who at the close of the conference, will also make the appointments of ministers and name the delegates elected to attend the general conference which is held annually. Among the prominent church dignitaries who are expected to be there will be Bishop W. F. Heil, of Highland Park, Illinois. He is a brilliant and most eloquent speaker and his address will probably be the most interesting of the entire conference.

Celebrates at Eighty-two.

On her eighty-second birthday, which occurred Saturday, Mrs. Eliza M. Campbell, of Linden Hall, was one of the liveliest participants in the celebration of the event. Mrs. Campbell is the only surviving member of the family of David Mitchell, late of Pine Grove Mills, and is well known to many of the older people in the southern portion of Centre county, and these will be glad to know that she has again completely recovered from a recent illness.

There were present on this occasion three children of the aged lady, namely, D. M. Campbell, J. Elmer Campbell, Mrs. James C. Gilliland. One daughter, Mrs. Thomas S. Stine, of Annville, was unable to be present. Besides Mrs. Campbell and Mr. Gilliland, seven grandchildren were present—Mary Campbell, David, Sarah, James, Eliza, John, and Alice Gilliland.

Grange Auditors Meet.

The auditors representing the Centre County Pomona Grange met at the home of Hon. Leonard Rhoads, in Centre Hall, Monday, to audit the accounts of the Patrons Rural Telephone Company, the Grange Encampment accounts, and the accounts of the secretary and treasurer of the County Grange. The auditors were Messrs. David K. Keller, D. L. Bartges, T. M. Weaver. Those who had business before the audit were Messrs. George L. Goodhart, treasurer of the Encampment committee; D. M. Campbell, secretary of the County Grange; James C. Gilliland, treasurer and S. W. Smith, secretary of the Patrons Rural Telephone Company. Balances in favor of the several interests were found.

Democratic Caucuses.

The Democrats in every election district in Centre County are requested to meet at the usual places for holding caucuses on Saturday, January 22, 1910, for the purpose of nominating candidates for township, ward, borough and precinct offices, to be voted for at the February election. The result of the caucuses must be returned to the County Chairman so that the same may be filed with the County Commissioners not later than January 28, 1910.

W. D. ZERBY, County Chairman.

LOCAL INSTITUTE AT BOALSBURG.

The sessions most interesting and instructive—Attendance Good in the Afternoon.

The teacher's local institute at Boalsburg, Saturday of last week, was one of the most interesting and instructive institutes held in years. The subjects were new, but of a character needing attention by the present school teachers. The afternoon session was well attended, and the best of attention was given by every one in the school room.

The only speaker assigned for the forenoon who was present was Prof. U. A. Moyer, principal of the Pine Grove Mills High School. The writer did not hear his talk but was informed that the subject was intelligently discussed.

Two speakers on the program who were not present were Superintendent D. O. Etters and Prof. B. H. Bottenhorn, both of State College.

The music, which consisted of choruses sung in the Boalsburg public schools, was well rendered. The boys and girls especially sang well. The leader was John M. Wieland, and the organist Miss Rothrock.

The talk of the day was given by Prof. C. R. Neff. His subject is found on the program printed in connection with this brief mention of the proceedings of the institute.

Among other things Mr. Neff said: I am not willing to say that teachers do not teach the ethical side. The inclination of the teaching element is to teach morality. Only one immoral teacher taught me. We have much to teach now. Mottoes hung on walls teach morals. A commercial education can be purely moral. A teacher has no business to teach religion, but he ought to practice it. Some oppose religious services in the school room. I say service because I do not like the expression devotional "exercises." It makes one think of callisthenics. This service is not teaching religion, but teaching a proper attitude towards religion. Politics is not devoid of teaching religion—see the oath.

In some schools Yankee Doodle and other frivolous songs are sung, followed by prayer. This breeds a lightness for religion. Much taught breeds contempt; much is sacrilegious.

It was said by an English educator that the American people graduate their pupils in overall, develop the commercial side. This does not mean that the ethical has been omitted. The fitting of a boy to earn an honest living develops the moral side. The greatest question now before the people in all the leading countries is the question of adjusting the differences between the employer and the employed.

A valuable paper on forestry was read by Alfred Rapp, a state forester, located at Boalsburg, who has charge of the Bear Meadows district. The paper contained many valuable suggestions, and while not on the program proper was one of the features that made the afternoon session of lasting benefit.

The recitations by Misses Miriam Dreesse and Margaretta Goheen were well rendered, and their efforts were appreciated by the audience.

The subject of spelling was opened by Miss Anna Steele, who thought
