DECREES OF THE COURT.

Summary Punishment by Justice Keichline Quashed in Cases From East Penns Valley for Fish Law Violations -Harris Township Divided into Two Election Districts.

The court filed a number of decrees in cases heard before court during the past few sessions. Among those of greatest interest is the disposition of the cases from Penn, Haines, and Gregg townships and Milheim borough. These are cases brought before court by fish wardens and effected the persons of John Horner, John Ebert, r. G. Wolf, J. W. Meyer, E. B. Mc-Mullen, J. B. Vonada and E. I. Musser. A portion of the decree in these cases reads thus : "Exceptions to the record of the justice of the peace are hereby sustained; the record of the conviction set aside, and the con-viction itself quashed."

Commonwealth vs. W. H. Evy Court struck off appeal, and ordered Mr. Evy to appear before Justice Keichline for sentence This case grew out of boisterous actions of Evy while on the train on the local branch. The railroad company ordered his arrest, and Justice Keichline imposed summary punishment. The verdict of the justice will stand.

Susan Miles vs. Joseph Green. The presented a claim for taxes when Mrs Miles purchased the property of Josech Green at sheriff's sale. The auditor refused to allow tax. The court ordered the taxes to be paid out of funds in auditor's hands. Whether or not a tax lien was collectable before a mortgage was the question involved in the case of Lillian Reeder vs. J. U. Weaver. The court decided that the mortgage was the first lien. (Note-A law re-cently passed, after the case cited, will make a tax lien collectable in advance of a mortgage

Commonwealth vs. Burdine Butler Butler was found guilty of malicious mischief, at the last term of court, the act complained of being the tearing down of a line fence between land wned by him and A. W. Gardner A new trial was refused, and Butler to appear at the February court for sentence.

Z F. Welsh vs. Harvey and Lydia Young. Rule to strike off an appeal from the justice of the peace. Rule discharged.

J. I. Wagner vs. A. R. Moon. Rule to open judgment. Rule absolute, or in other words, judgment opened.

Harris township was divided into two election districts, designated as precinct will be indicated by the court at some future time. The February election this year will be held at Boals burg, as heretofore, for the whole Western precinct will remain at Boals-

Tusseyville.

On Tuesday evening, about forty young folks entered the home of illiam Rockev to do honors to his daughter Miss Myra, on her birthday anniversary.
