

DEATHS.

ELIAS HENNIGH.

While walking on the streets with his brother John, in Atchison, Kansas, Elias Hennigh of Rantoul, Illinois, was stricken with paralysis, and died a few days thereafter. He was the guest of his brother when he became afflicted, and was apparently in good health and the best of spirits just prior to this time, which was on February 27th. His age was seventy-five years.

Mr. Hennigh was the son of David Hennigh, and went west at the close of the war, where he engaged in farming. He was one of a family of seventeen children. Those surviving are: David, Sabetha, Kansas; John, Atchison, Kansas; Benjamin Franklin, Larned, Kansas; Simon P., Spring Mills; Mrs. Nancy Bartges, Coburn; Mrs. Mary Rearick, Centre Hall; Mrs. Lambert J. Noll, Dewart; Mrs. F. M. Gramley, Loganton. One brother and seven sisters are dead.

HENRY FISHEL.

Another old soldier, Henry Fishel, answered the last roll-call Thursday of last week, at his home near Lemont, caused by ailments due to advanced years, he having attained the age of seventy-six years. Interment was made Sunday, at Houserville, Rev. A. A. Black officiating. The burial was in charge of his old comrades in arms, who sounded taps over his mound.

Mr. Fishel was a miller by trade, having milled at McFarlane's, Center Furnace and Pine Grove Mills. He was a member of Company E, P. V. Reserves, Col. J. M. McCarter commanding the regiment. He was severely wounded and was mustered out October 24, 1862. He was an active member in Cap. Foster's G. A. R. Post, and of the Reformed church. His wife, three sons and two daughters survive.

Forest Fire.

Nittany Mountain was set on fire Friday afternoon, between one and two o'clock, at a point near Lemont. There was a strong wind, which chased the fire in all directions at a rapid rate. By evening it had reached the section of the country owned by the Housers, Hoover, Gingerich, and others, and it was only by great effort that some of the buildings were saved from destruction. The "House of Lords" was also imperiled by the flames, but was spared. Much valuable timber was destroyed before the fire was conquered the next day.

Child Burned to Death.

Dorris Mildred, aged two years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Garbrick, at Coleville, Tuesday morning, set fire to her crib, and was burned to death. Mrs. Garbrick saw the smoke, ran up stairs, and snatched the child from the burning crib, but life was stilled.

The quick action of the neighbors prevented the destruction of the house.
