Her Scalp Itched Intolerably.
"Just about two years ago, some form of humor appeared on my scalp. The beginning was a slight itching, but it grew steadily worse until, when I combed my hair the scalp became raw and the ends of the comb-teeth would be wet with blood. Most of the time there was an intolerable itching, in a painful, burning way, very much as a bad, raw burn, if deep, will itch and smart when first beginning to heal. Combing my hair was positive torture. My hair was long and tangled terribly because of the blood and scabs. This continued growing worse and over half my hair fell out. I was in despair, really afraid of becoming totally bald.

"Sometimes the pain was so great that, when partially awake, I would scratch the worst places so that my finger-tips would be bloody. I could not sleep well and, after being asleep a short time, that awful stinging pain would commence and then I would wake up nearly wild with the torture. A neighbor said it must be salt rheum. Having used Cuticura Soap merely as a toilet soap before, I now decided to order a set of the Cuticura Remedies—Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills. I used them according to directions for perhaps six weeks, then left off, as the disease seemed to be eradicated, but toward spring eighteen months ago, there was a slight return of the scalp humor. I commenced the Cuticura treatment at once, so had very little trouble. On my scalp I used about one-half a cake of Cuticura Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment in all. The first time I took six or seven bottles of Cuticura Pills and the last time three bottles—neither an expensive or tedious treatment. Since then I have had no scalp trouble of any kind. Standing up, with my hair unbound, it comes to my knees, and had it not been for Cuticura I should doubtless be wholly bald.

"This is a voluntary, unsolicited testimonial, and I take pleasure in writing it, hoping my experience may help someone else. Miss Lillian Brown, R. F. D. 1, Liberty, Mo., Oct. 29, 1909."

May Rank With Marshall.
There is no other branch of the government in which a man of exceptional force and character and idealism can exert a more permanent influence upon republican institutions. Mr. Taft is looking forward to "22 years of solid usefulness" on the part of Mr. Hughes as a justice of the Supreme Court, and this "solid usefulness" may be quite as enduring as the work of a Marshall or a Story.

In these circumstances New York's loss becomes incidental and trivial. —New York World.

CORN PUDDING.

Mix 2 tablespoons of cornstarch with 1-2 cup of milk; pour this into 1 pint of hot milk and stir over hot water until thick. Add a tablespoon of butter, 1-2 cup of corn, salt, pepper and the beaten yolks of 3 eggs. Bake, surrounded by boiling water, until the center is firm; whip the whites lightly sprinkled with salt to a stiff froth, spread roughly over the top, sprinkle with chopped red peppers and set in a cool oven until the meringue is set. Serve as a vegetable.—Washington Star.

MUTTON PIES.

Mince a quarter of a pound of underdone mutton, taking care to have it free from skin and fat. Mix with it a tablespoon of rich gravy, that which is found under the cake of dripping from a joint, or every particle of the liquor saved from boiling the mutton, add a few drops of essence of anchovy, a pinch of cayenne pepper, a small teaspoon of minced parsley, a little salt if necessary. Line four patty pans with good rich paste, divide the mutton into equal portions, cut it into the pans, cover each with a lid of paste, bake in a quick oven for half an hour.—Boston Post.

NICE FOR BREAKFAST.

Croquettes made with equal parts of boiled rice and salmon are nice for breakfast. Mix the rice while it is yet warm with the salmon, which should be carefully flaked. Season well with salt and pepper and set aside to become cold. When cold mould into croquettes. If the mixture is not moist enough add a little cream. Generally, however, it will not need it. A mistake many housewives make is in having croquettes too soft. After the croquettes are moulded, roll them in egg yolk and powdered bread crumbs in the usual way, and fry them in deep fat.—New York Tribune.

MERINGUE SHELLS.

The white of two eggs, beaten until it will not slip out of the bowl, fold into it very gently three ounces of powdered sugar, remembering the rule that anything to be mixed with white of egg must be done with a light lifting motion of the spoon rather than stirring, which may liquefy the eggs. Fill a tablespoon with the mixture and turn on to a sheet of white paper placed on a board which has been made a little damp; the mounds should be oval like half an egg. Put them in a very cool oven for 15 or 20 minutes, then open the door and leave them 10 minutes longer, the idea is to make the crust as thick as possible, which is done by the long slow drying; if firm enough remove them from the paper, take out the moist centre very carefully and when cold fill them with cream, flavored, sweetened and whipped softly, then put two together; they should be over full and the cream show considerably between the two sides.—Mrs. Samuel A. Armstrong in the Boston Post.

SIMPLE RECIPE FOR FONDANT.

Two cups granulated sugar, 2-3 cup cold water, pinch of cream of tartar. Put sugar and water and cream of tartar in porcelain pan and set on stove, where sugar will slowly melt. Mixture may be stirred before it begins to boil. After sugar has melted dish must remain stationary. To test, take up small amount on spoon and drop into cold water. When a soft ball forms and may be held in fingers remove from stove and pour into platter to cool. Test by putting finger into mixture when cool, beat with spoon and add flavor desired. Mould and shape, using board to knead mixture. Fondant is better to remain a few hours before making various bonbons. (This is the foundation for all kinds of cream bonbons and chocolate drops. Bear in mind the following and good luck will follow. Do not stir sugar after it begins to boil, do not scrape any of the mixture from sides of dish and do not mould or beat until cold.—Mrs. E. D. Bliss in the Boston Post.

COMMERCIAL Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

"R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade says: "Conditions of business are still irregular, but the volume of trade continues heavy. Certain unfavorable developments have apparently been exaggerated, and their effect upon business sentiment has been out of proportion to their real significance. Much as usual depends this year upon the crops."

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say "Cold weather, with snow West and South, have checked retail trade and dulled reorder business in spring goods, while the reports of crop damage resulting from the return of winter have tended to discourage fall business pending clearer views of the ultimate crop outcome."

Taken as a whole, the reports from jobbing and wholesale trade lines and industries point to a slowing down rather than a quickening of demand, and the downward tendency of many commodities does not seem to have brought out much new business, the feeling being apparently that buying to fill only actual needs is the part of conservatism, pending clearer views of crop and price output.

"Business failures for the week ended with April 28 were 189, against 193 last week, 268 in the like week of 1909, 282 in 1908, 163 in 1907 and 130 in 1906."

With The Best Of Intentions.
"I'm going over to comfort Mrs. Brown," said Mrs. Jackson to her daughter, Mary. "Mr. Brown hanged himself in their attic last night."
"Oh, mother, don't go! You know you always say the wrong thing!"
"Yes, I'm going, Mary. I'll just talk about the weather. That's a safe enough subject."
Mrs. Jackson went over on her visit of condolence. "We have had rainy weather lately, haven't we, Mrs. Brown?" she said.

"Yes," replied the widow. "I haven't been able to get the week's wash dried."
"Oh," said Mrs. Jackson. "I shouldn't think you would have any trouble. You have such a nice attic to hang things in."—Home Herald.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

As Shelley Saw Babies. According to a story of Shelley by the Rev. Bradley Gilman, the splendid mental equipment of the poet did not include humor.

In his characteristically impassioned way Shelley was deeply interested in the problem of immortality. One day he met a nurse maid wheeling a very young child in a perambulator.

"Here is a little soul," he reflected, "recently come to earth, out of a great unknown preceding human life. Perhaps he can tell me something about the great unknown after human life. The two realms may be one and the same."

He accosted the infant twice, but of course, gained no response, only a blank infantile stare.

"Alas! alas!" sighed Shelley. "How very reticent these little creatures are!"—Journal of Ekhite.
