New Methodist Church.

The building committee of the Methodist Episcopal church has about completed arrangements for the erection of a new church building at the corner of East College avenue and McAllister street, in State College. The structure will be of native limestone, trimmed with Indiana limestone, and will cost when completed and furnished between $25,000 and $30,000. The extreme dimensions of the new building are 101x66 feet, with an extreme height of 65 feet. The auditorium will have a seating capacity on the main floor of 370, while the two galleries will have additional seats for 130 making the seating capacity 500. The Sunday-school room will accommodate 400 and this room will be arranged that it can be made into a part of the auditorium. The total seating capacity of the church will be 900.

More Lese-Majesty?

Because Francis Burton Harrison, Representative in Congress from the Sixteenth District of New York, had offended Mr. Taft by his comments on Mr. Wickersham's antedated opinion in the Ballinger case, Mr. Harrison was excluded from the President's office when he called at the White House with a delegation of Jewish citizens.

In thus mixing personal resentment with official business Mr. Taft is following the example of his immediate predecessor. He would be a much wiser man if he followed the example of William McKinley. The doctrine of lese-majesty has never commended itself to the sober judgment of the American people.

Prof. Bryson Re-elected.

The Latrobe Bulletin in giving an account of the school affairs at Derry says this: "Prof. J. C. Bryson, who has, during his stay in Derry, brought the borough schools to a high state of efficiency, was re-elected as supervising principal, at $135.00 per month, an increase of $10 per month having been granted him in recognition of his painstaking work in the local schools."

Prof. Bryson taught one or more terms in Boalsburg and it is with pleasure that the Reporter refers to his success.

New Law Hits Smokers.

After July 1 users of tobacco may look for a change in the size of their boxes or bags of tobacco and cigarettes as the result of the new international revenue law that will go into effect on that date. The tax on all manufactured tobaccos will be taxed two cents a pound, while the tax on the smokers will be boosted from twenty-five cents to sixty cents per thousand. This advance can only result, retailers and users of the weed say, in an increase of the price.

The Pink Label appears this week. It will be found on every paper, and signifies that credits have been given to those who paid subscription.

Saving Alaska to the People.

The activity shown in the present session of congress looking to conserving the mineral and other wealth of Alaska for the people, suggests that the time has come when the United States must take a more active interest in the huge northwestern territory heretofore facetiously referred to as the "nation's neglected backlot." Events that have already occurred, and information disclosed by the debates in congress, make it seem probable that before very many years Alaskan affairs may loom up as an important national issue. It is sufficiently plain that, while the average citizen has seldom thought much about Alaska—unless to wonder vaguely at the accounts of the volumes of wealth which its gold fisheries have yielded—some big and powerful corporations have been shrewdly planning to obtain an unshakable grasp on great amounts of its mineral treasures, and probably would have fastened that grasp irrevocably had it not been for the stand taken by a few congressmen who stood for the people's interests against the attempted grabbing of lands and treasure by syndicates and others. It will in all probability require corporate capital to develop the resources of Alaska, but in no case should establishment of oppressive, extortionate monopolies be permitted, as was prospectively possible had not the Guggenheims and their associates been sidetracked in their plans.

LOCALS.

The question of hay making is beginning to be discussed by farmers.

Messrs. Clayton Homan and Lester Baird returned from a short visit to Altoona.

Rev. A. A. Black will make sale of his personal property Thursday, June 23, at one o'clock. Two driving horses, buggy, sleighs, harness household goods, etc., will be sold.

The Delineator introduces a new feature in its July number. It is The Man's Page. Don't miss it. You will smile as you read it this month and you will look for it twelve times a year.

The members of the order of Patrons of Husbandry, in Clearfield County, held a clover blossom picnic on Monday at Luthersburg Grove. Prominent lecturers were present and made addresses.

The Millheim school board elected teachers for all its grades except for the intermediate, and they are these: High school, Prof. C. E. Toole; Grammar, M. C. Haines; Primary, Miss Clara Condo.

On their way to Zion to deliver a carriage to F. M. Sharer, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Condo stopped at the Reporter office long enough to wish it well. Mr. Condo has built up a fine trade in his line, and he is giving his business close personal attention.

A kind request the Centre Reporter makes is this: Look at the label on your paper, and if you are in arrears a year, or less, kindly forward the amount to put your subscription in advance. By doing this you will be aiding the Reporter to use the mails, without which the paper would be obliged to suspend.

Survivors of the Pennsylvania commands, now residing in Pennsylvania, who were confined in the confederate prison at Salisbury, North Carolina, should address J. D. Walker, President Pennsylvania-Salisbury Memorial Commission, 6022 Centre avenue, East End, Pittsburg, if they want free transportation to the old prison site. Their names should be forwarded prior to July 1st.

These wet June days are keeping the pasture lots in good condition, and making dairying more profitable than during dry seasons. This condition is favorable to the business of D. W. Bradford, who sells the De Laval cream separators, and he never misses an opportunity to preach the merits of his goods if he thinks there is a chance to further his cause.

Through the efforts of the Williamsport Sun, Williamsport has been made a station on the Air Ship line between New York and Chicago. The Sun offered $1000 as an inducement to have West Branch Valley recognized. By the way, the Sun is one of the best inland dailies that reaches the Reporter's table. Editorially the Sun has no superior, and its columns are devoted to home interests.

More Farms and Settlers.

The reclamation service of the government reports an unusually heavy movement of home seekers this spring into various parts of the arid west. Trainloads of settlers have been pouring into Montana, Oregon and Washington while large numbers have been seeking the milder climate of the southwest. An interesting feature in connection with the movement is the return of thousands of United States citizens from Canada, offsetting in a measure the exodus of others across the borders into the dominion.

This had grown to considerable proportions. In the fiscal year 1909 the departure to Canada from the United States points aggregated 72,349 persons, of whom 41,871 were citizens. The estimate is made that an area of 12,000,000 acres of land in Oregon alone soon will be available for settlement. On the reclamation projects in all the states, the influx of settlers is rapidly increasing. At the present rate of settlement every farm unit included in the government projects thus far completed will be taken up before the close of the year. On nine of these projects not a single acre of public lands remains unentered, and the remaining projects do not contain, all told, more than 800 farms available for settlement. All this means that within a year a large addition shall have been made to the farms production in the country.

LOCALS.

Since Mr. Meyer has been voted a place on the Republican ticket as a candidate for the general assembly, the Republicans more than ever believe that "united we stand."

Miss Tillie Keller, assistant postmistress at Centre Hall, on Tuesday started for Maryland where she will spend her vacation of a week with her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) Ward K. Shultz, at Woodlawn.

Col. Fred W. Reynolds sold his entire peach crop to the Loundertach-Barber Company. The peaches must be delivered in Bellefonte. The thinning process is now going on. The prospects for a large crop are fine.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Booser returned from their pleasure trip to Illinois, Wednesday last week. They spent most of the time in Joliet and Chicago, Illinois, and in the western section of Pennsylvania, among relatives.

Charles F. Cook, cashier of the Bellefonte Trust Company, is suffering from a severe sprain of one of his ankles. While walking to the bank, he made a misstep, the wrench being sufficient to release the fluid of the joint.

Miss Lillie Dale will accompany her brother, Horace Dale, to Rushville, Nebraska, where she will remain for some time with the expectation of recovering her broken down health, due largely to the recent illness and death of her father, the late George Dale.

Mrs. John H. Weber, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Bees, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. S. E. Weber, and the latter's little daughter, went to New York to remain for a few weeks. Miss Annie Lohr is taking care of the Weber home in Centre Hall.

Farmers are learning the value and permanency of concrete, and are using it where wood is either unsuited or liable to quickly decay. Among those who have built walks and other improvements from this material are Philip and Samuel Durst, both of near Centre Hall.

Linemen have completed the erection of the cable for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to be used as a telephone line between Harrisburg and Philadelphia, over which the company will transact its train business as soon as the exchanges are installed. This will mean the abolishment of the telegraph line for the train dispatching business on the entire Philadelphia division.

A Large Contract.

When Murray and Bitner the enterprising druggist, first offered a 50 cent package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, they thought it probable from their experience with other medicines for these diseases, that they would have a good many packages returned. But although they have sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

Murray and Bitner want every person in town who has constipation, dyspepsia, headaches, or liver trouble to come to their store or send Murray and Bitner 25 cents by mail and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made at half the regular price, with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

To those suffering with dizziness, headaches, poor digestion, constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscriber's Correspondence Column—New Department.

The Centre Reporter has dedicated this column to correspondence from subscribers in all parts of the land—North, East, South and West. Readers are invited to make short or long contributions with these views in mind—

1st. To tell something of themselves and family; the business and occupation they are following.

2nd. To tell something of their immediate town, city, or country; of farming conditions; of persons of their acquaintance in whom readers of the Centre Reporter have an interest; of death; of marriages; of births; and relate any incidents that may be readable by Reporter subscribers.

This feature can be made a very valuable section of the Reporter. The readers in every section are interested in the doings of readers in other sections. The Reporter readers are one great family, scattered over all the states, yet every reader has a more or less interest in the other. A note from each subscriber would be highly appreciated by many, and the editor urges them to send in contributions.

MIFFLINBURG GROWING.

As town clerk of Mifflinburg, C. F. Lontz, formerly of Spring Mills, never misses an opportunity to say a good word for his town; which is just what every good citizen will do. In a note to the Reporter Mrs. Lontz says:

Mifflinburg is a busy town, everybody, the buggy factories and other works are very busy. Ten new buildings are being erected this spring, and about that many more are contemplated to be erected this summer, and, of course, there will be many more improvements.

George A. Brown et ux to A. W. Witmer, March 24, 1910, in Benner twp. $9500.

It is with regret that the Reporter is obliged to make a correction in its statement that Hon. W. T. Creasy was nominated over Sones for state senator. The final result of the election reveals that Mr. Creasy was just a few votes short of a majority and that Mr. Sones is the candidate.

DEFINITE ORDERS FROM THE POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT.

TWO years ago a large number of country newspaper readers were unwilling to believe that the Postoffice Department was forcing publishers to either drop delinquent subscribers from their lists or oblige them to pay up. If these doubting readers would today look on the desk of the "circulation department" of the average country newspaper, they would find a blank there from the Third Assistant Postmaster General that would dispel all former doubt as to the necessity of paying up arrearages. The publishers, too, who treated the warnings of two years ago as a joke, are busier now than they care to be, and some of them, no doubt, will be denied the use of the mails.

Under present conditions there is nothing left for the publishers to do except one of three things, namely:

- 1) Collect Arrearages,
- or
- 2) Cut from their subscription list all subscribers who failed to pay their subscription to within one year,
- or
- 3) Quit Business.

The case need scarcely be argued further. The Reporter expects to hear from ninety-eight per cent. of its readers who are in arrears for more than one year, within the next two weeks. The other two per cent. will be taken care of in a way that will not interfere with the publishing business so far as the Reporter is concerned.

DEATHS.

The death of George Kauffman, at his home near Zion, removes from Walker township one of its best known citizens. Two months or more ago he was in a horse stall and badly injured. Though able to be around he was never well and three weeks ago was compelled to take his bed. From that time his decline was gradual until his death.

He was about seventy years of age and for many years lived in Walker township where he was regarded one of its most prominent farmers. There are left to mourn his death his wife and the following children: Horace, of Zion; Clayton, of Altoona; Mrs. William Harsberger, of Hublersburg; Mrs. Herbert Showers, of Pleasant Gap, and Miss Ida, at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Jacob Garbrick, of Zion.

Mrs. Foster Tate, who made her home with her son Snyder Tate, at Coleville, died on Monday evening of last week after being an invalid for upwards of five years as the result of paralysis. She was a daughter of Moses and Catharine Hafer and was born in Miles township, at the time of her death being seventy-five years, three months and eleven days old. After her marriage to Mr. Tate they moved to Benner township and for years lived on the farm now owned by the American Lime and Stone company. Her surviving children are Snyder, William, Clarence and Irvin, of Coleville, and Mrs. Edward Meese, of Tyrone. She also leaves two brothers, Dr. A. W. Hafer, of Bellefonte, and James Hafer, of Pittsburg.

William Long, a veteran of the Civil war, died at the home of his son-in-law, William Douty, near Millmont, aged about eighty years. The remains were taken to Brungart's church, in Brush Valley, where interment was made. Deceased had been a former resident of Brush Valley and was a brother of John D. Long, of Spring Mills.

He is also survived by one son, Thomas, and two daughters, Mrs. William Douty and Mrs. Minnick. His wife died several years ago.

James Heverly, a native of Centre county and a former citizen of Bellefonte, died at his home in Laporte, Indiana. He was seventy-one years old and had been in poor health for some time. F. F. Heverly, of Bellefonte, is his only surviving brother.

Mrs. Jane Barges, wife of James L. Barges, died at her home, in Logan township, Clinton county, of heart trouble and complications, aged fifty-five years. Funeral services were conducted at the house by Rev. Roenberger, and burial was made in St. Pauls cemetery.

During the past eleven years fifty thousand people have been killed by trespassing on the railroads in the United States, and during the same time fifty-five thousand people were injured. With a view of lessening the fatalities and injuries on their line, the Pennsylvania Railroad company is enforcing the trespass laws.

After a long agitation sign boards along public roads are now pretty completely displayed. These boards afford a great deal of satisfaction to the traveler, who can pick his way through the country without making inquiry at every cross road.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

A Bell telephone will be installed in the Old Fort hotel.

Next Wednesday, 22nd inst., is the date set for the Yearlick-Hoy reunion, on Hecla park.

Fishermen who have been lining up along the Red Mill dam have been very successful in capturing large suckers.

Dr. W. E. Fischer, of Shamokin, has been invited and has accepted the invitation to attend the Lutheran Sunday-school picnic to be held July 4th.

Miss Lena Emerick has been appointed a supply in the Bell telephone exchange at Centre Hall, and Miss Bell Springer occupies a similar position in the Commercial exchange, at Millheim.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold on a guarantee that if you are not satisfied after using two-thirds of a bottle according to directions, your money will be refunded. It is up to you to try. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

State College is making a record for itself. Dogs must be kept off the streets, and boys are forbidden to play ball on the streets and alleys. Ordinances on the subjects have been passed.

The Bellefonte Daily News has been suspended by Editor Dunham, who will hereafter devote his entire time to the Howard Hustler. According to the editor's farewell address, he is out several hundred dollars on account of the publication.

The first time in forty-two years James Snyder, of Wichita, Kansas, is visiting his brothers, Charles and Henry, at White Hall, above State College. Father time has dealt most gently with him; though his locks are silvered, he is hale and hearty.

William H. Baird, one of Potter townships progressive farmers, has improved his farm buildings very much since coming into possession of the same about two years ago, and recently gave his property in Bellefonte, consisting of a house and lot, attention.

Miss Bertha McCormick, operator in charge of the Commercial telephone exchange in Centre Hall, spends her time, when not on duty, making fancy work, which is sold at a very fair price. She just completed a large center piece of huck linen, wreathed with dogwood twigs and blossoms.

Trees bearing blossoms and fruit at the same time are not seen every year, but the present season is developing such conditions in Centre Hall. William Floray is sporting a cherry tree laden with fruit and blossoms, and pear trees on the lots of W. B. Mingle, Esq., and ex-Sheriff Brungart are also sporting blossoms and well developed fruit on the same branches.

Samuel Shaffer, of Madisonburg, assisted William J. Mitterling to buy up a load of cows for the eastern market, which were shipped Friday morning. Mr. Shaffer was formerly proprietor of the Old Fort Hotel, and has many acquaintances in this section. He occasionally accompanies Mr. Mitterling on his eastern trip, and when he does so always makes it a point to go to Hanover, where his sons, Cloyd and Edward Shaffer, are conducting a large clothing store, and are doing a fine business.

The teaching ability of Prof. J. G. Roseman, of Spring Mills, is emphasized by the fact that next fall he will return to the Stuttgart Training School, at Stuttgart, Arkansas, and resume his duties there as an instructor, after an absence of a year, during which time he taught in the Military Academy, in Millersburg, Kentucky. Mr. Roseman came home last week, and after remaining over night went to Lancaster to be present at the commencement exercises of Franklin and Marshall College, his alma mater. His vacation period will be spent at the home of his parents, Merchant and Mrs. H. F. Roseman, at Spring Mills.

It was to see friends and relatives before taking a second trip to Europe that led Dr. McCluney Radcliffe, chief operating surgeon of the Wills Eye and Ear Hospital, Philadelphia, to come to Centre Hall on Saturday. He was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. J. Shannon Boal. Dr. Radcliffe, accompanied by Mrs. Radcliffe and daughter, Miss Sarah, will leave New York on the steamer Potsdam, Holland-American line, July 12th, and sail direct to Potsdam. They will spend considerable time in Holland. Hamburg, Berlin, Vienna, Dresden, Paris, and London, are some of the larger cities they will visit, and while there the workings of the hospitals will be looked into by the eye specialist. One of the attractions they are all looking forward to with great interest is the Passion play, at Oberammergau.
