DEATHS.

Friday, a little before the noon hour, Jacob Wagner (II), passed to the beyond at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. E. Kerlin, after a brief illness. - Although Mr. Wagner, owing to his advanced age, had not been rebust for a number of years, he was after all counted to be a well preserved man, and enjoyed his mental faculties to their full extent. For some years past he spent his time among his children, but the greater part of his latter life was passed in Centre Hall at the home of his daughter, mentioned above. Mr. Wagner was a kind hearted gentleman, forgiving in spirit, firm in the beliefs in the doctrines of the Reformed. He was much concerned as to the welfare of his children, both as to temporal needs and spiritual guidance. He was temperate, and had an abhorrence for intemperance. Politcally, Mr. Wagner was a Democrat. Earlier in his life he supported without exception, but later he rebelled when he could not be convinced Stuart Leitzel, of Washington, that the candidate was a man of temperate habits, or that the measures advocated were righteous.

Mr. Wagner was the grandson of John Wagner, who came Penns Valley from Sunbury, early in the nineteenth century, locating first in Penn township, and afterwards in | county. Potter township, and from there he moved to Harris township, where he died, and together with his wife, was ouried in Boalsburg. His father was Jacob Wagner (I), and mother, before marriage, Miss Anna Hosterman. The mother died in 1866, and the Mis. Charles Geary and children, father in 1886; both are buried at Tusseyville.

Mrs. Sarah C. Geiss, of Centre Hall, is the only surviving member of the family of Jacob Wagner (I). Mr. Wagner was married to Miss Susan K. Geise in November, 1858. To this union four children were born, namely: D. Geiss Wagner, of near Centre Hall; Ida J., wife of A. E. Kerlin, of Centre Hall; Rev. William J., of New Bloomfield; Mary C., wife of C. E. Flink, of Manhattan, Illinois. Mrs. Wagner died in 1868. Later he married Miss Catharine A. Spangler, sister of W. W. Spangler, of Centre Hall. There were born to her these children: James B., Mifflinburg: John Station agent W. L. Campbell and K., deceased; Susan B., deceased; E Clayton, of near Centre Hall, and Samuel S., deceased.

By occupation Mr., Wagner was a farmer, and as such was successful, Boyd S. Auman on Friday return- both in growing good crops and ac-

Thursday night, Mrs. Harriet Gentzel, widow of Daniel Gentzel, died at her home near Cross Church, in Georges Valley, at the age of sixtyeight years. Her maiden name was Harter, and she was born in Penn township. Interment was made Sunday forenoon at Heckman's cemetery, near Penn Hall. The officiating minister was Rev. J. Max Lantz.

Mrs. Gentzel was the mother of nine children, seven of whom survive, namely : Manoah, Penns Cave ; Benjamin, Wolfs Store; Edgar, Linden Hall; Moyer and G. Cleveland, Spring Mills; Herbert and Miss Katle, at home.

These brothers and sisters also survive: George Harter, Red Mill; Jacob Harter, Penns Cave; Mrs. Philip Shook, Spring Mills; Mrs. Sarah Beahm, Coburn; Mrs. Stem, in the West.

William C. Huey, a native of College township, died at his home in North Warren. In 1882 he resigned the position of superintendent of the College farm, and accepted a similar position at the Warren asylum. He was a member of Company E, 148th Regiment. Interment was made at North Warren.

Mrs. Bell Bets died at Yeagertown last week. She frequently visited at Centre Hall during the residence here of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Reynolds. She is the mother of Mrs. James B., Hollie, of Boston, Massachusetts, who will be recalled as Miss Beulah Bets by many of the readers.

William H. Shiffer, who was born at Pine Grove Mills, died at Sunbury Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Carson spent tailor by trade, and for a number of years was master tailor at the Hun-Michael Smith and Mrs. H. S. Alex- tingdon Reformatory. Mrs. W. H.

> John N. Boyer died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sarah Musserman, in Altoons, aged sixty-two years. He was a resident of College township until about six years ago. Interment was made at Pine Hall.

Your Hair Contrary?

Is it inclined to run away? Don't punish it with a cruel brush and comb! Feed it, nourish it, save it with Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula. Then your hair will remain at home, on your head, where it belongs. An elegant dressing. Keeps the scalp healthy. Does not change the color of the hair.

We certainly believe this, or we would not say so. Ayer's Hair Vigor, as now made from our new improved formula, is a great preparation for the hair and scalp. Stops falling hair. Cures dan-druff. Promotes the growth of hair. -Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.-
