

BERRY FOR GOVERNOR.

Named by the Keystone Party in Philadelphia—Full Ticket Nominated.

The Keystone Party was launched last week in Philadelphia. The ticket is as follows:

Governor—W. H. Berry (Dem.)
 Lieut. Governor—D. Clarence Gibbons (Rep.)
 Secretary International Affairs—John Casey
 State Treasurer—Cornelius D. Scully

John O. Sheatz called the convention to order, and Henry C. Niles was chosen temporary chairman, and Col. George E. Mapes was named secretary.

The convention was enthusiastic, and the nominations were made without regard to past party affiliations. Almost every county in the state was represented, Centre county having for its spokesman at the convention former Sheriff W. Miles Walker.

The platform resents the manipulations of Democratic affairs by Republican politicians; favors the abolition of the party square on election ballot; civil service; home rule, embodying the local option principle; generous appropriations for schools; the election of United States senators by popular vote; revision of tax laws, with a view of equalizing the burden; reorganization of Highway Department; liberal appropriation for charitable purposes; laws impartially enforced for the better protection of labor.

Birth Party.

A birthday surprise party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Bible, of near Centre Hill, for their daughter, Miss Nellie Mae. The evening was spent in playing games, etc. The young lady was congratulated by her friends, who hoped she would live to enjoy many more such joys. Those present were—

Lutheran S. S. Picnic.

The annual Lutheran picnic of the Penns Valley church will be held on August 10th, in the Wilson grove, one-half mile east of Penns Cave station, on the L. & T. The band of the Loyallville Orphan's Home will be present to furnish music for the occasion. It is urged that every member of the church, both of the Sunday-schools and the churches, with their friends, will be present. Come and enjoy the rare treat of this splendid boys' band.

B. F. FIEBER, Pastor.

Burned Under His Train.

Charles A. Williams, son of Esquire W. S. Williams, of Martha, met his death while on duty as a conductor on the Western Pittsburg division of the P. R. R. Sunday morning. He lived at McKees Rocks, and was aged 35 years. There was a collision, the two trains being piled up along the tracks. Conductor Williams was pinned under the wreckage, and was little injured. Fire broke out, and soon reached the car that held the man, and before he could be released he was slowly burned to death.

Rev. D. J. Mitterling, of Madison, South Dakota, has in his possession an Indian club and tomahawk, which he brought with him from the West. They are fine specimens and are on exhibition in the Reporter window.

W. O. Foster, of Pittsburg, who has been one of a camping party at Maple Camp, along Jacks Mountain, south of Millinburg, was the guest of his brother, Dr. J. V. Foster, in Centre Hall. The Pittsburg is a salesman of law books.

The condition of James A. Keller, who has been critically ill from paralysis for the past three weeks, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Fisher, at Penn Hall, is not improved. He no longer receives any nourishment and is becoming much weaker. His death is expected at any time.

Wednesday evening of last week at about dusk, D. W. Bradford had an experience he did not relish. He was crossing Nittany Mountain, and just a short distance below the top, his horse frightened and dashed up the embankment, almost upsetting the buggy. He investigated, and found a man lying in the middle of the road. After considerable persuasion the horse was induced to pass the point, but Mr. Bradford was unable to discover whether the man was dead or alive. He came on to Centre Hall and reported the incident, and a party was just about to go to the scene, when Mr. Stover and Miss Margaret Jacobs arrived here, and reported that they had had a similar experience, and that the man made answer to a call in such a way as to indicate that it was a case of too much tocuz.

Harris township

Fred Kohler, of Painesdewey; Fred Davis, of Buffalo, New York; Mrs. Mary Ryan, of Bellefonte, and Miss Myrtle Wilson, of McAlevys Fort, were visitors at the home of John Durner, during the past week.

It Brought Bankruptcy to an English Iron King.

It was a common penny postage stamp that brought Hobart, the great British "iron king," to his ruin. At the time of the Whitworth period, when there was a big crisis in the iron trade, he had agents in all parts of the world who kept him posted. Sometimes they telegraphed news to him in cipher, but those in England were nearly always instructed to write. At that time his principal agent, who was also his chief partner, was in Sheffield and wrote him from there warning him to sell out all iron interests for the time on account of the Whitworth crisis.

Hobart had frequent fits of irritability, and he had been receiving a lot of unstamped letters of no importance on which he had to pay double postage. One morning in anger he gave orders that such letters were to be returned to the postman. The very first unstamped letter received after this was from his partner. It was rejected as soon as it arrived.

Consequently, knowing nothing of the existence of the letter or the all important private news it contained, Hobart pledged himself next day for more iron deals than even his mighty credit was good for. The great drop in prices came two days later, and Hobart, once a millionaire, was involved in a hopeless bankruptcy from which he never recovered.—London Telegraph.

Pillsbury's Wonderful Memory.

Harry N. Pillsbury, the chess player, offered one day in South Bethlehem, Pa., to memorize thirty words, no matter how hard they might be, the selections to be read to him only once.

Professor Merriman of Lehigh university and Dr. Threlkeld-Edwards of Bethlehem picked out most of the following words: Antiphlogistine, perleostium, takadastase, piasmom, ambrosia, Threlkeld, streptococcus, stapheolococcus, micrococcus, plasmodium, Mississippi, Freiheit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, athletics, no war, Eichenberg, American, Russia, philosopher, Pict-Potgieters-Rost, Salmagundi, Oom-sliccootsi, Banguanavato, Schlochter's Nek, Manxinyama, theosophy, catechism, Madjesoomslops.

Mr. Pillsbury immediately repeated these words in the order given and in the reverse order.

A Cockney.

Minsheu, a dictionary maker of London, in 1617 issued a work which gave the following amusing account of the origin of the word "cockney": "A cockney, or cockey, applied only to one born within the sound of the Bow bells—that is, within the city of London,—which terms came first out of the following tale:
 "A citizen's sonne, riding with his father out of London into the country and being a novice and merely ignorant of how a horse and cartel do increase, asked when he heard a horse neigh what the horse did. His father answered, "The horse dothe neigh. Riding further, he heard a cock crow and said, "Dothe the cock neigh too? And therefore cockney, or cockneigh, by inversion thas: Incoctus—i. e., raw or unripe in country-mens affaires."

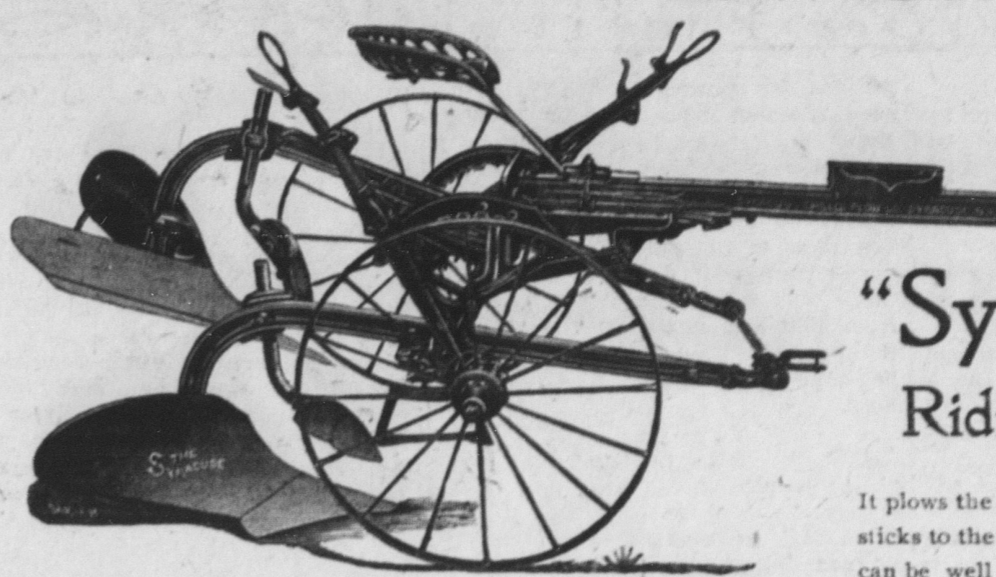

Italian Brigandage in 1848.

One summer evening in the crowded theater an impatient house demanded the drawing of the curtain preliminary to the first act. When at last it was upraised the Passatore and his armed band occupied the stage, with muskets aimed at the affrighted audience. The chief started that he should levy a tax per head, which he then and there collected. The gang made off with their booty unnoted.—Lady Presturch's "Essays."

Depressed.

"I am afraid Bliggins has met with reverses."
 "What makes you think so?"
 "He goes about with a gloomy look, saying there is no such a thing as disinterested friendship. That is almost a sure sign that a man has been trying to borrow money."—Exchange.

There is No Plow Superior

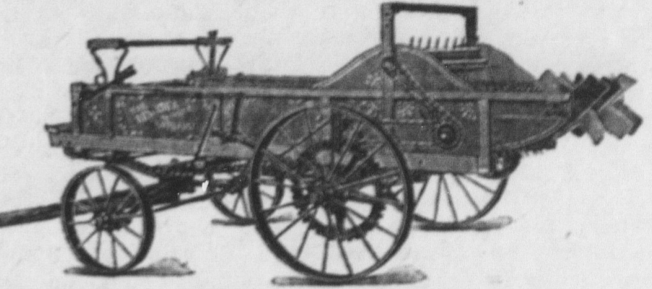

TO THE

"Syracuse" Riding Plow

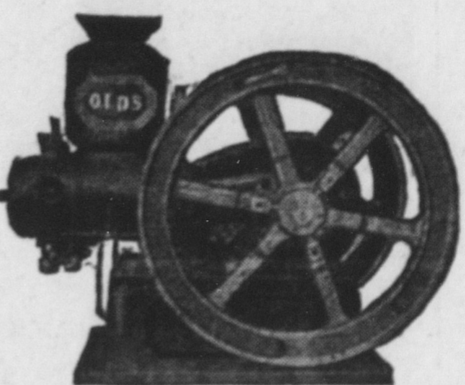

It plows the same depth all day long; sticks to the ground in stony soil; can be well handled on rocky hill-sides. It leaves no dead furrows to wash; will throw the soil up hill better than any other plow made; it is strong enough to do its work, yet not clumsy. It is made for two or three horses.

The "New Idea" Manure Spreader Does its Work To Perfection

There are many of them in use, and every machine is giving satisfaction. The draft is light, yet no other spreader will do the work as well. The wear and tear has been reduced to the minimum in the New Idea.

THE OLDS GASOLINE ENGINES

have many superior qualities. The cut here represents the 4-A Hopper Jacket Engine. From the material that enters into it to the smallest detail, the engine is superior in quality. The Olds Engines are built in all sizes. Ask for a descriptive catalogue.

There is no farm machine or implement that we do not handle.
