

A POLICEMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Suffered for Years From Chronic Kidney Trouble.

Walter J. Stanton, 1139 Pear St., Camden, N. J., says: "Kidney trouble bothered me for fifteen years. If I stooped, sharp twinges shot through my back and it was hard for me to arise. I was treated by several doctors, one a specialist, but did not receive relief. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and soon noticed an improvement. I continued until the trouble disappeared."

SCRATCHED SO SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

"I write to tell you how thankful I am for the wonderful Cuticura Remedies. My little niece had eczema for five years and when her mother died I took care of the child. It was all over her face and body, also on her head. She scratched so that she could not sleep nights. I used Cuticura Soap to wash her with and then applied Cuticura Ointment. I did not use quite half the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, together with Cuticura Resolvent, when you could see a change and they cured her nicely. Now she is eleven years old and has never been bothered with eczema since. My friends think it is just great the way the baby was cured by Cuticura. I send you a picture taken when she was about 18 months old.

"She was taken with the eczema when two years old. She was covered with big sores and her mother had all the best doctors and tried all kinds of salves and medicines without effect until we used Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. H. Kiernan, 663 Quincy St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 27, 1909."

Judges' Wigs. The wig is only worn by English barristers to give them a stern judicial appearance, and no one can say that it falls in this respect. The custom was originated by a French judge in the seventeenth century when, happening to don a marquis's wig one day he found it gave him such a stern and dignified appearance that he decided to get one for himself and wear it at all times in court. This he did, and the result was so satisfactory from a legal point of view, that not only judges, but barristers, also, took up the custom throughout Europe.

MANY COMMUNITIES ASK FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS, BUT SOUTH AND WEST FAIL TO ENTHUSE OVER THEM

Postmasters Report Savings Seek Place of Deposit—Interesting Pleas From Many Communities for Designation of Branch Banks—Foreigners and People in Moderate Circumstances the Most Insistent—A Help to Young Men.

Washington.—Perhaps the most interesting documents now coming into Washington have to do with the applications of postmasters who want their postoffices designated as branch postal savings banks. Practically all of these letters, more than 200 of which have now been received by the postmaster general, have been written in answer to a demand by the patrons of the postoffices, and in many instances the postmaster gives the reasons advanced by his patrons for asking for a postal bank in the community. It is already evident that the country at large is taking a healthy interest in the new institution created by law of the last congress, and about to be created in fact by the board of trustees, composed of Postmaster General Hitchcock, Secretary MacVeagh and Attorney General Wickesham.

The pleas on hand to date indicate that those communities where a large part of the population is composed of wage earners, foreigners or people in moderate circumstances, are those most insistent for postal banks. Rural communities somewhat removed from banking facilities are also demanding the new banks, and the prediction is freely made by postmasters that the result of their establishment will be to bring new money into circulation, increase thrift in the community, and inspire a patriotic interest in the affairs of the government.

Among the interesting letters received, none has been of greater significance than that written by the postmaster at Pueblo, Col. After pointing out that this community is mostly a wage earning community, in which foreigners play no small part in the mining and smelting industry, the postmaster cites actual figures from his records to show that there has been sent from Pueblo to foreign countries in international money orders during the last five years more than $1,000,000, which might well have been retained at home. These disbursements, by years, were as follows: 1905, $198,000; 1906, $294,000; 1907, $376,000; 1908, $186,000; 1909, $151,000.

From Jackson, Tenn., comes a request for a postal bank, based on the ground that most of the inhabitants of that city are persons in medium circumstances, who would like to deposit their small savings in a government bank.

The postmaster at Bellingham, Wash., a city of 30,000 inhabitants, writes to the postmaster general that he has a large number of poor foreigners as patrons of his office, who will welcome a postal bank. He writes that, in his opinion, the deposits in postal banks in that community will increase the money in circulation, encourage thrift and help out a stop to extravagance and poverty. The postmaster at Everett, Wash., a city of equal size, has also reported that, in his opinion, a postal bank at that place will bring out not less than $150,000. He bases his estimate on the banking already being done with him in the shape of money orders made out in favor of the purchaser.

At Madison, Wis., the postmaster thinks he has found an ideal place in which to try out the postal bank system. He points out that he has a diversified population to serve, ranging from university professors down to foreign laborers, and he believes an intimate study of the relation of each of these classes to the postal bank system will be highly instructive.

From North Adams, Mass., comes a plaintive tale that the cotton and woolen workers in the textile mills, most of whom are foreigners, want a postal bank in which to place their savings.

There is much human interest in the plea of the postmaster at Breckenridge, Col. He says the town is small in comparison with many other applicants, but a postal bank is needed to "help the young men who are

Pittsburg Official Says Municipal Henhery is Needed in One Section. Pittsburg.—Director E. R. Walters of the department of public health has diverted his attention from the smoke nuisance to hens. He says the negro hill district must have a public henhouse. He found hundreds of families keeping chickens in the cellars of houses.

Since they must have chickens, and cheaply, there is only one solution, according to Mr. Walters, and that is a municipal henhery or poultry stockyard and slaughter house.

Chicago Now Has Continuous Water Course to the Ocean. Chicago.—Chicago is now connected with St. Louis and other Mississippi river ports, and therefore with the ocean, by a continuous water course deep enough for barges and other craft of light draft. The connecting link between the drainage canal and the old Illinois and Michigan canal at Lockport was formally thrown open.

It is estimated that the link will afford a channel with at least five feet of water.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Midsummer dullness is less pronounced in both wholesale and retail departments of trade, and as the leading markets are gradually relieved of some of the difficulties with which they have been beset—crop uncertainties, price inconsistencies and other disturbing elements—a broader demand develops. There is still much idle cotton machinery in New England, and a two-week shut-down is scheduled for August, but curtailment is forcing a recovery from the low price levels and there is less pressure to liquidate stocks. Some substantial business is reported in woollens and, while the Eastern markets for wool continue quiet, primary markets in the West are active and higher. Footwear factories, East and West, are resuming, and trade is much improved in leather, while hides have recovered from the low point, large accumulations having been moved. More definite knowledge regarding the yield of cotton in the South and wheat in the West will determine the basis of manufacturing costs in dry goods on the one hand and flour on the other.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good."

It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures. If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE Famous Rayo Lamp. Once a Rayo user, always one. The Rayo Lamp is a high grade lamp, sold at a low price. There are lamps that cost more, but there is no better lamp made at any price. Constructed of solid brass, nickel plated—easily kept clean; an ornament to any room in any home. There is nothing known to the art of lamp-making that can add to the value of the RAYO Lamp as a lighting device. Every dealer everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the ATLANTIC REFINING COMPANY (Incorporated).

FIND OUT THEN. Hostess (at party)—Why, so silent, Miss De Muir? You've scarcely said a word since you came. Youthful guest—Really, Mrs. Leader, I am having a very enjoyable time, but my father has told me 100 times never to say anything unless I have something to say, and I suppose—

Hostess—But, my dear child, think what a stupid and tiresome thing society would be if everybody followed that advice!

In the Night School. Teacher (of night school)—What do you understand by the terms "life sentence"? Give an example of one. Shaggy-haired Pupij—I pronounced your husband and wife.—Chicago Tribune.

RHEUMATISM. Get a 25-cent vial. If it fails to cure I will refund your money. Munyon.

MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM CURE. Slow death and awful suffering follows neglect of bowels. Constipation kills more people than consumption. It needs a cure and there is one medicine in all the world that cures it—CASCARETS.

A Real Argument. They were talking about argument not in the abstract but as applying to domestic happiness. "What do you think is the most unanswerable argument you ever heard?" one bachelor asked a married man. "That's very easy," he replied. "When your wife says, 'If they can afford it we can,' there is no flaw in that—and never will be."—Youth's Companion.

The Real Thing. "You say your husband was cut by his neighbors at the party?" "Yassah, dat's so, sah." "Did they cut him with malice prepense?" "No, sah; wiv a razah, sah."

Know How To Keep Cool? When Summer's sun and daily toil heat the blood to an uncomfortable degree, there is nothing so comforting and cooling as a glass of Iced Postum served with sugar and a little lemon.

Surprising, too, how the food elements relieve fatigue and sustain one. The flavour is delicious—and Postum is really a food drink.
