NO. 34.

NEXT NOVEMBER.

Great Democratic Victories Predicted—Democratic House and Gain of U. S. Senators—New York and Ohio Will Have Democratic Governors.

The New York World, in one of its leading editorials, has this to say: "The size of the Democratic victory that will be announced on the morning of November 9 next will be staggering. It will include an overwhelming majority in the House of Representatives and a gain of many United States Senators. Ohio, the President's own State, will be lost to the Republicans. New York, the State of the ex-President, will be sweepingly Democratic. Majorities will be so large that people will tire of computing them."

Not through Democratic virtues and abilities but in spite of Democratic blunders and weaknesses are these things to come about; not because there are more Democrats than Republicans but because there are more American progressives than stand-patters; not as a rebuke to this man or that man in particular but as a condemnation of many men; not as a rejection of any policy but as a repudiation of many policies; not as an evidence of momentary indignation but as voicing the demand of a great and free people for light, for truth, for justice, for economy, for peace!

What are these bitter Republican quarrels but attempts in advance to escape the judgment which all know is at hand? There is a mad rush for safety. Responsible men are posing as irresponsibles. Old offenders masquerade as innocents. Sacrifices are offered up in the hope that the popular wrath may be appeased. There is talk even of a third term in the White House for the vociferous and lawless person under whom Cannon and Aldrich and Payne and Sherman and Dalzell got their strangle grip on party and country.

In spite of all this there will be no mistake about that which is to take place in November. It is to be more a Republican defeat than a Democratic victory; more a popular uprising against plutocracy and privilege than a party revival; more a matured verdict on Rooseveltism than upon Republicanism; more a rebuke of Taft as proxy than of Taft as President; more an expression of hope in Democracy than of faith in Democracy.

Sale of Real Estate.

The executors of Joseph K. Moyer advertise for sale, Saturday, September 17th, at nine o'clock, the real estate of the deceased, consisting of nine tracts of land, two of them being fine farms, all located in Miles township in the vicinity of Rebersburg. They also offer at private sale the Moyer mill property, which consists of a well equipped mill, with fine water power, over two hundred acres of land and two dwelling houses. This property is a valuable one, the present miller, Mr. Kline, having a large and profitable trade. For terms and further description of this latter property write or call on J. N. Moyer, H. B. Moyer and J. K. Moyer, Jr., Rebersburg. The other real estate is fully described in the advertisement in this issue.

Labor Sunday.

The subject of the sermon in the Presbyterian church next Sunday will be appropriate to Labor Sunday. The observance of Labor Sunday on the Sabbath preceding the first Monday of September, Labor Day, has not only been the endorsement of the Presbyterian church in U. S. A., but has also been recommended by the Commission on the Church and Social Service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which represents nearly all of the Protestant churches on this continent. The American Federation of Labor, the largest assemblage of labor organization in America, has also advised its various organizations to cooperate in this observance.

Turn the "standpatters" Out. Retrenchment and Reform.

"The Pittsburgh Post" predicts the congressional and gubernatorial elections in November will show Democratic gains all over the country. This is a Democratic year and all Democrats should watch developments by reading the grand, old reliable morning "Post." Its resources for obtaining and printing all the news are not equalled by any other paper. Notify your newsdealer.

The Garnishes Bill.

Merchants are moving to have the State Legislature and the Governor approve the proposed Garnishes bill, which, if it becomes a law, will make it possible for grocers to attach twenty-five per cent. of a man's wages for a bill. The proposed legislation has been before the Assembly a number of sessions, but was either knocked out by that body or vetoed by the governor.

DIMMELING WITHDRAWS.

Retires from Field for Sake of Party Harmony—Will Support Fall Ticket.

The following was received from present Senator George M. Dimmeling, which explains itself:

I have decided not to be a candidate for Senate for the reason that my party in Clearfield county is divided as to the wisdom of my nomination. The work of a campaign in the district with a divided party in Clearfield county is more than I care to undertake for a seat in the next Legislature of Pennsylvania. This will give the Democrats of the district the opportunity of naming a man for the position that they can unite on, and I believe such a man can be elected if all Democrats give him their support. I trust this will satisfy my friends throughout the district, and also end party warfare in our county.

The remainder of our ticket is not objected to, except Senator Grim, our candidate for Governor, and I take this opportunity to pay my tribute of respect to him, that he is one of the best and truest Democrats in the state. He is an honest legislator, and is always opposed to any measure that seems to be against the interest of the people, and I am satisfied that their interests will not suffer by reason of his election.

As a warning to the Democracy of our county I want to add that the efforts of the Republican machine will be to so demoralize our party by using the help of dissatisfied Democrats so as to practically wipe out Democratic opposition to them in the future in our county, and I make the request that you remain loyal to your ticket and refrain from taking any part that true Democrats may have cause to regret, and I also pledge my hearty and active support to every man on our ticket.

GEORGE M. DIMMELING,
Clearfield, Pa.

LOCALS.

Mrs. S. S. Kremer returned from Zion, after a stay of ten days among friends.

Dr. W. H. Schuyler will conduct the annual Harvest Home Services on Grange Park, Sunday afternoon, 11th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Bradford and son William, are in Philadelphia and Atlantic City, where they are sight seeing.

H. S. Horner, Spring Mills, R. 4, wishes to inform those having cattle in pasture under his care, that they are to be removed between September 1st and the 10th. Otherwise there will be extra charges.

George W. Glogelich, on Monday afternoon, returned from a trip to Montour county, and on the way also stopped at Howard. He reports a great drought in the sections of Montour county in which he visited.

Olin A. Jamison, who occupies the Jacob Kerstetter farm, near Coburn, recently purchased the John Spigelmeyer farm, northwest of Millburg, and will move there next spring. The farm contains seventy-three acres and is very productive.

The dry weather is interfering to a considerable extent in preparing the seed beds for the wheat crop. The experience had last year, by the majority of farmers, was that the grain sown after the middle of the month yielded much the best, and this fact is being kept in mind and tends to lessen the anxiety to sow as early as in former years.

Mrs. Lizzie Wolf, accompanied by James W. Dublin, both of Altoona, were in Centre Hall over Sunday, the guests of Mrs. Mary Shoop. Samuel Shoop, also of Altoona, was in town from Saturday until Sunday evening. He is very much pleased with the outcome of his tobacco store, yet intimates that he may sell out and go west at some future date.

Rev. N. A. Whitman is the new pastor of the Rebersburg Lutheran church and is now on the field, although his wife and family have not yet arrived. Rev. Whitman is a native of Pennsylvania, having been born near Harrisburg. He is a graduate of the Susquehanna University, and has been located at points in Nebraska, Illinois and Ohio, having come from Rossburg, Ohio, to Rebersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas D. Smith, accompanied by their little son, arrived in Centre Hall, Saturday afternoon, and from here went to near Tusseyville, where they will spend some time with the former's mother. Mr. Smith is in the business office of the Philadelphia Inquirer, and is taking his first vacation since having been advanced to a secretaryship in one of the departments, which advancement was made the beginning of this year. It is four years since he joined the Inquirer force, and he has been used so well that he is not considering other propositions.

GRANGE ENCAMPMENT AND FAIR.

Grange Park Centre Hall, September 10 to 16.

The prospects for the success of this great annual gathering are more encouraging than ever before. The committee has been compelled to secure additional tents to meet the demands of camping parties; and every effort is being made to supply these continued requests for tent accommodation.

The implement exhibit space already engaged is larger than that of last year. More than half the coops in the poultry building have been arranged for by exhibitors at this early day, the other buildings will be filled with exhibits of a widely varied character. It only remains now for the people of Centre county to do their part in filling up the great exhibition building with fruit, vegetables and antiques, etc., to make the exhibition feature a great success. The Pennsylvania State College will fill up the center of this exhibition building with plants and flowers.

It is only necessary for every one to do their part, as in former years, to make this the largest exhibit of the kind in Central Pennsylvania. For every meritorious article placed on exhibition a premium will be paid. No prizes, no competition, but cooperative help and cooperative distribution of premiums. Exhibit your grain, fruits, flowers, vegetables, poultry, stock and anything produced on the farm or in the garden. Ladies should also place on exhibition quilts, coverlets and needlework, also the valuable and interesting antiques that are hidden in almost every home. Works of art, pictures and drawings will also make the exhibition more attractive and interesting. Every one should feel it a duty to place something on exhibition so as to make it interesting and instructive.

Roosevelt's Trip to the West.

Former President Roosevelt has started on a tour which promises to be more important than any he took while in the White House. From now until September 11 he will be traveling through the country making speeches of profound significance, and exercising a great influence upon national affairs.

The North American is the only paper in Philadelphia—the only paper in Pennsylvania—which has a special correspondent on the train with Colonel Roosevelt.

Angus McSweeney, the North American's Washington correspondent, will be with Colonel Roosevelt every day until the return to New York, and will wire full reports, not only of the incidents of the trip, but of the political developments in each state.

Will be on the Camp.

State Grange Officers that will be in attendance at the Grange Encampment, at Centre Hall, are Hon. W. T. Creamy, Master; Hon. J. T. Allman, Secretary; E. B. Dorsett, Lecturer; Mrs. John Dale, Flora, the Executive Committee, and the Legislative Committee, A. Nevin Detrich, editor of the State Grange News, and probably others.

Shuey-Murray.

The marriage of Oliver J. Shuey, of Peru, and Miss Clair Marie Murray, of Pleasant Gap, took place in Centre Hall, Wednesday afternoon of last week at the United Evangelical parsonage, Rev. E. A. Snyder officiating.

Challenge from Murray and Bitner. Murray and Bitner are seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Centre Hall or vicinity to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.

So confident are they that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that they offer to refund the money should it not be successful.

In order to secure the quickest possible introduction Murray and Bitner will sell a regular fifty cent package of this medicine at half price, 25 cents.

This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, dizzy feelings, constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of malaria and liver trouble. It does not imply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures. It will regulate the bowels, tone up the whole intestinal tract, give you an appetite, make food taste good and digest well, and increase vigor.

There is considerable satisfaction to a methodical farmer to know just how many acres are in each of his fields, or in any part he may have sown to some crop. "Stepping it off" is reasonably correct, but let the Reporter suggest a measuring device that will give exact results and can be operated speedily. Construct from three pieces of scantling a triangle like the letter A, the open base measuring eight feet and three inches. No further directions need be given.

BERRY AT BOALSBURG.

Talks of the Allentown and Harrisburg Conventions and Capitol Trimmings.

The burden of the address by Hon. William H. Berry, at the Boalsburg picnic, Friday of last week, was the manner in which the Democratic and Republican State conventions were conducted and the steel connected with the capitol trimming. Both conventions, the speaker said, were dominated by politicians compared to sewer rats. Every effort was made to prevent his (Berry's) nomination, and the main reason for their opposition was due to his opposition to the liquor interests.

The portion of his address referring to the capitol steel was listened to with the greatest interest, and although none of the facts recited were new to the average reader, coming from the lips of the man who was responsible for the investigation and the imprisonment of several officials in the Philadelphia penitentiary, the assembled were eager to know just how the story would be told.

In this, as in the other features of his talk, Mr. Berry had his audience with him, and had the selection of a governor for Pennsylvania been left to this assemblage to determine, Mr. Berry would sit as governor Stewart's successor in the palace of graft.

There is little doubt that Mr. Berry is sincere in his belief that he will be elected, and he is basing his belief on the very hearty welcome he is everywhere receiving. Mr. Berry is a much admired man by a very large number of Pennsylvania's best citizens, but his election next November is another question.

A. A. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, was the first speaker on this occasion, and while the writer did not have the pleasure of hearing his address, he did hear it spoken of in flattering tones.

Mr. Berry, during his stay at Boalsburg, was entertained by Theodore Davis Boal, at the elegantly appointed Boal home. In this act, Mr. Boal was simply acting the part of a loyal citizen of Boalsburg. He was greatly impressed with the personality of the man, and expressed himself as amply repaid.

The gathering was not as large as was probably anticipated by the promoters, but there was a good spirit prevailing. The music was furnished by the Lemont band, and as a side attraction two games of base ball by the local team against State College and Charter Oak were played, Boalsburg winning from State College and losing in favor of Charter Oak.

LOCALS.

The township schools opened on Monday for the term of seven months.

Mrs. Oscar D. Emerick, of Freeport, Illinois, is seriously ill, having been in a hospital for a number of weeks. Mr. Emerick was formerly from Centre Hall, but Mrs. Emerick is a native of Freeport.

Dr. J. Franklin Meyer, formerly the head of the department of physics, at State College, visited that institution recently, as well as his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Meyer, at Penn Hall. He is now located at Bloomfield, New Jersey, in the Westinghouse Manufacturing plant, and has charge of the experimental division.

Messrs. J. Nevin and H. Bruce Moyer, sons of the late Joseph K. Moyer, of near Hebersburg, were in Centre Hall on business last week. They are advertising the real estate of their father at public sale, Saturday, September 17th, at nine o'clock. They will also sell at a later date a large quantity of personal property.

In addition to the entertainers mentioned last week to appear in the auditorium on Grange Park during the Grange Encampment and Fair, there will be several others, just as high class as those already named. At this time the Reporter is not able to tell of their special lines, because of the fact that their advertising matter has not been forwarded.

The estate of the late Martin Fauble is valued at $78,000, and is comprised of life insurance, bankstock, and an interest in the Fauble clothing store. Mrs. Fauble, under the will, will have the entire income of the estate during her life, and after her death the estate is to be equally divided among the Fauble children. One provision of the will provides that Joseph Fauble may purchase his father's interest in the store at fifty cents on the dollar, and in case he does not do so, the younger son is to have the same opportunity.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

Transfers of Real Estate.

W. L. Foster et al to W. H. Parker, May 10, 1909, tract of land in State College, $600.

Julia Curtin to Eagle Iron Co., August 8, 1910, tract of land in Spring twp., $3000.

I. F. Nelson et ux to Henry Mirbach, July 25, 1910, tract of land in Phillipsburg, $6000.

J. L. Horner, et al to Leah F. Dunlap, July 9, 1910, tract of land in Ferguson twp., $350.

John Coyle, et ux to Frank Kolki, August 12, 1910, tract of land in Rush twp., $350.

Lehigh Valley Coal Co. to Lucy R. Whiteman, April 30, 1910, tract of land in Snow Shoe borough, $75.00.

Spring Mills.

C. C. Bartges and wife, on Thursday morning departed for a ten days trip to Atlantic City.

A. E. Ziegler and wife, of Boalsburg, spent a few days in town last week, visiting friends.

Miss Helen Bartholomew, of Centre Hall, was a Spring Mills visitor for a few days last week.

J. W. O. Houseman and wife, of Millheim, were guests at the home of Edwin Winters over Sunday.

The "Stork" on Friday visited the home of J. A. Wagner, and left an eleven pound boy. Mr. Wagner says he is a "Tenor" singer. It seems that the mail carriers in Spring Mills are special favorites of the Stork.

Rev. J. Max Lantz and family attended the Methodist picnic at the Grange Park at Centre Hall, on Saturday.

Prof. Charles H. Auman, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday at his parental home in this place.

George Secrist and wife, of Millheim, and D. D. Royer and wife, of Rebersburg, were visitors at the home of Charles Secrist on Saturday.

S. L. Condo, on Thursday, made a business trip to Milesburg.

Mrs. M. Shires and daughter Miss Rena, on Saturday returned home from a three weeks visit to Lewisburg.

Charles Duck, of Lewisburg, was a guest at the home of his brother, M. T. Duck, a few days last week.

S. G. Burrell and wife, of Millheim, were guests at the home of P. R. Auman, last Thursday.

Perry Winters and wife, of Smulton, were guests at the home of their son Edwin on Sunday.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

During last week Joseph L. Runkle, the Bellefonte plumber, did work in Centre Hall.

David K. Keller and Mrs. Anna M. Keller advertise letters of administration on the estate of their father, the late James A. Keller.

The subject of the sermon at the Harvest Home Services to be held in the Grange Auditorium September 11th, at 2.30 p. m., is the "Old Testament Farmer."

Penns Valley is not the driest spot in Central Pennsylvania. There are localities not far distant where the drought greatly damaged the corn crop and did other harm.

The Reporter costs but one dollar a year. If you think it is any advantage to this community to have a newspaper published here, come along with your subscriptions—new and old.

Frank Griferer has the frame work of his new farm dwelling house well under way. While the building is going on, the family is living in a large tent, kindly loaned him by Mrs. Lucy Henney.

The time in which to prepare a suitable exhibit for the Grange Encampment and Fair is growing shorter each day. Delay may cause you annoyance, while to plan and prepare now would be a pleasure.

Both the Reformed and Methodist Sunday-schools held their annual picnics last week, the former on Friday, in the Old Fort woods, and the latter on Saturday on Grange Park. The occasions were greatly enjoyed by all the participants.

The Old Fort hotel is maintaining its large patronage for meals on Saturdays as well as week days. It is the elaborate spread found there that attracts the public. The travelers in automobiles appear to make the Old Fort their headquarters.

The Bellefonte High School building will be dedicated Friday evening, September 16th. Dr. Sparks, president of Pennsylvania State College, and Hon. David Snedden, Commissioner of the Board of Education, of Massachusetts, will speak at the evening exercises.

The building of business places in Millheim continues, and the last to yield to the temptation to make Millheim a greater business place is John H. Maize, who has announced his intention to erect a store room eighty feet deep on the site between the new store building of A. A. Frank and C. E. McNeillan.

The pink label appears this week, and this indicates that all those who paid subscription to the Reporter between the dates of August 2nd and August 30th will find their credits on the label for the first time. The pink label signifies only that credits have been given, and the pink label must of necessity appear on all papers alike.

The Library of the Lock Haven State Normal School is well selected, accurately catalogued and the books are easily accessible. The library rooms are said to be handsomer than those of any other school library in the state. The remarkable success of the school's debating team in the Inter-Normal debates is due, in a large measure, to the library. Write for the school's handsome catalog. The fall term begins September 6th.

A purse containing some forty dollars was picked up on the street near the Reformed church by Perry W. Breen, the same being spied lying in the dust by Hazel, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Ripka, who was in the vehicle with Mr. Breen. A bit of investigation of the contents of the purse, revealed that it was the property of George M. Hall, of Linden Hall, who with his wife and little daughter had just gone through town to the Old Fort hotel, where they stopped for dinner. Mr. Hall was apprised of the find over the telephone, which was the first knowledge he had of the loss. He later called on Mr. Breen for his property, and on receiving it rewarded the finder.

Some day, perhaps, Harry Lonbarger will be pictured astride an elephant as second "Connie Mack," that is if he can keep his present base ball team together for a few more years. He certainly has the boys well trained, and they are playing ball to please the people of Boalsburg to a T. The boys were taken when but youngsters, compared to yearlings and two year olds in turf parlance, and now as they are becoming a bit more mature they are doing good work. The story is going about Boalsburg that Centre Hall is keeping eight miles between them for the reason that the latter team is fearful of losing its reputation. A better plan would be to meet the enemy and fight it out, if it takes all day.
