CAMP OPENS SATURDAY.

Tenters Move into Canvas Homes to Remain Over Sunday.

Saturday was a busy day on Grange Park. Exhibits, both large and small, were placed by exhibitors, and a large number of people moved into their canvas homes to remain over Sunday and throughout the week. There were many more tents occupied on Saturday and over Sunday than at any previous time. Tenters came early in the morning and late at night, but they were all fixed up in their temporary homes when Sunday came, and were ready to enjoy the experiences of tent life on Grange Park—an experience not new to all.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Rain on Saturday night made the camp dreary to some extent on Sunday morning. In the afternoon religious services were held in the auditorium conducted by Dr. W. H. Schuyler, whose text for the occasion was the "Old Testament Farmers." It is a customary usage of the members of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry to celebrate this important event in symbolism of the "Feast of the Harvest," celebrated annually by the chosen people of Israel, in the autumn season of the year. The music was conducted by Prof. P. H. Meyer, the singers having been selected from among the local talent. Miss Bertha Strohmeier was the pianist.

The Philadelphia Record.

There are three essential elements, according to "The Philadelphia Record," that make for success in a modern newspaper: First, it must print all the news, with an eye to the interests of all types of readers, in attractive and entertaining form. Second, whatever political cause it may editorially espouse, it must be fair, free of outside dictation and sincere in advocating the policies it believes to be best for the general welfare. Third, it must be clean, wholesome and elevating in its influence.

"The Record" itself possesses all these elements of success, and then some. Independently Democratic in politics, it is as nearly nonpartisan as a newspaper can be in its columns, which fully and accurately cover the entire field tributary to Philadelphia. "The Philadelphia Record" has another element of news value that is of particular interest to the women of the family. The store news is generally of secondary importance in their eyes only to the chronicle of the world's doings. "The Record," it is worth noting, prints more department store advertising than any other newspaper in Philadelphia.

Stuart-Mothersbaugh.

The greatest social event of the season at Boalsburg was the marriage of Miss Margaret Sheneberger Mothersbaugh, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Mothersbaugh, and Reuben Russell Stuart, of Bellevue, youngest son of Mrs. J. T. Stuart, of Bellevue. The parlor was profusely decorated with golden rods and bouquets of white asters and golden glow. Miss Rose Woods played Lohengrin's beautiful wedding march, as the bridal party entered the parlor. The groom was attended by his brother, George Stuart, and both wore the conventional black. They were followed by Miss Mary Mothersbaugh, of Beech Creek, as maid of honor, who wore a yellow silk dress covered with white net, and carried a bouquet of yellow crysanthemums; next were Mary and Rachel Mothersbaugh, of Williamsport, nieces of the bride, who were beautifully dressed in white, with yellow sashes, and carried a basket of white and yellow flowers, then came the bride and her father, the bride being attired in a white lace dress, over silk, and wore a veil, festooned with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Rev. A. A. Black, of Derry, formerly pastor of the Reformed church at Boalsburg, pronounced the words which united them in holy wedlock, using the ring ceremony. After the ceremony congratulations were extended after which a most elaborate wedding collation was spread for the guests, who numbered about one hundred and twenty-five.

Among the guests from a distance were: Mrs. Emma Stuart, of Bellevue, mother of the groom; Miss Amanda Mothersbaugh, of Pittsburg, an aunt of the bride; Mrs. Sarah Hartwick, also an aunt of the bride, and her daughter, Miss Edith, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keller, of Warren, Illinois, great uncle and great aunt of the bride; Mrs. Ida Irvin and D. K. Mothersbaugh and family, of Williamsport. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Keller, aged eighty-six years, was the oldest person present, and Mrs. Keller's great grandson, Leonidas Mothersbaugh, aged three months, the youngest of the guests.

The presents received were numerous and costly. After enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Mothersbaugh and recording their names in the wedding book, the guests took their departure for their homes, and the bride and groom took the evening train for a short wedding trip to Philadelphia and other places of note, after which they will be at home at Bellevue, where the groom is engaged in business.

The best wishes of their friends in this community, which was the home of the groom prior to locating in Bellevue, go with the young couple.

Democrats Name Stewart.

The conferees representing the Democratic county committees of Centre and Clearfield counties met in Clearfield Wednesday evening of last week and selected Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, a Clearfield physician, as the candidate of the Democratic party for state senator in this district to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George M. Dimeling.

Dr. S. C. Stewart, the Democratic nominee for Senator in the 34th Senatorial District, is a native of Bradford township, Clearfield county. He was born fifty-four years ago and comes from good Scotch-Irish Presbyterian stock, he was brought up on a farm and received his early education in the schools of Bradford township and of Curwensville borough, where Dr. Gregory was one of his teachers. Later he was graduated from the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, at that time being twenty-four years of age. Since that time he has been practicing his profession, and is recognized as one of the most able and successful medical men in the county. Previous to his graduation in medicine he taught four terms in the public schools of this state, two terms in Clearfield county and two in Lancaster county. Dr. Stewart is not only prominent in his profession, being County Medical Inspector, and one of the promoters of the Clearfield Hospital, but he has always been recognized as a progressive and public spirited citizen, having served three terms as burgess, and is now serving as school director of Clearfield borough. He is interested in forestry, good roads, preservation of the purity of the streams, agriculture, in fact, he has always been interested in anything that tends to promote the welfare of the public. He is eminently fitted to fill the office to which he aspires. If elected the people may rest assured that their interests will be well cared for. Dr. Stewart has always been a Democrat and is well known in both Clearfield and Centre counties.

The first number of the Centre Hall Lecture Course will appear Saturday evening, October 29, in Grange Arcadia. The other numbers will follow, one each month with December omitted, until the five have appeared. The attractions with the dates on which they will appear follow:

Saturday, October 29—The Hearon Sisters Concert Company. This company consists of four ladies, sisters as the title indicates: Winifred, cornet and reader; Anna, accompanist and mandolin; Charlotte, clarinet and guitar; Frances, violinist. Each member is an artist doing individual work of high order, and their ensemble work is unexcelled.

Wednesday, November 30—Byron C. Platt, lecturer, subject: "The Mass Against the Man."

Friday, January 6—The Orphean Musical Club. The Club is composed of four gentlemen: A. H. Richardson, first tenor, cartoonist and trombone; E. H. Dennis, second tenor, manager and melophone; E. W. He is a natural wit and humorist, and without the slightest straining after it, gets into instant touch with his audience and they laugh or cry as he wills, though they laugh more than they cry, for he says the world has enough to cry over without his adding to it.

As has been previously announced course tickets for these five attractions will be sold for one dollar; single reserved seat tickets for each attraction, thirty cents; general admission, twenty cents.

Those who held course tickets for the past season, will have the privilege to retain their seats for the present course by paying one dollar to the secretary, Rev. S. A. Snyder, on or before October 1st.

Monday, October 3rd, the chart will be at Kremer's store, where course tickets will be sold and seats may be selected.

Single reserved seat tickets will be sold during the week prior to each entertainment and general admission tickets will be sold at the door only.

In no case will orders for tickets be honored unless the money accompanies the same. This is done so there will be no need of bookkeeping.

COMMITTEE.

Paris Fashions for Americans.

The American woman has now reached the pass where she never buys her outfit for the season without first being sure what Paris has decided upon as the fashionable thing.

Following its usual custom, inaugurated several years ago, The North American will, on Sunday, September 18, issue its special Paris fashion number, it being an eight-page section in connection with its regular Sunday paper.

The styles represent the very latest in Paris dressmaking art. The designs printed were chosen from the best showings of the representative makers of fashionable garments. After seeing them the woman can form her own idea and make her own choice of the American goods that are offered. She can make sure that she is getting up-to-date garments. There is always a big demand for the North American's special fashion numbers. It is advisable to order of the agent or newsdealer well in advance.

Card of Thanks.

S. K. Knepley takes this method of returning thanks to his neighbors and friends, who, during the illness of his wife, so kindly aided in caring for her and also gave their assistance at the time of her funeral.

In the Delinestor for October Erman J. Ridgway uses the words, "Mein Freund," spoken by the Kaiser to Mr. Roosevelt, as a text for editorials that reveal the strange personality which is shaping the magazine on broader lines each month.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

C. P. Long Company sells the best grade of coal for steam purposes.

DEATHS.

Although she had not been in good health during the past eighteen months, no one expected to read in this week's issue of the Centre Reporter the death notice of Mrs. George M. Boal, of Centre Hall. Mrs. Boal had been out driving Saturday afternoon, and up to an hour before her death, which occurred Sunday morning at 3:30, she was in good spirits and in her usual health. Death was caused by a hemorrhage of the lungs, which was preceded by coughing. In one hour from the first attack of coughing, Mrs. Boal lay a corpse. This bit of sad news spread over the town early in the morning, and made many hearts sad, as Mrs. Boal was a woman held in high esteem.

Sarah Ellen Love, for that was Mrs. Boal's maiden name, was born at Tusseyville, February 29th, 1840, making her age seventy years, six months and twelve days. She was the daughter of Judge W. W. Love and Agnes Williams. Surviving sisters are: Mrs. Agnes W. Spangler, Joliet, Illinois; Mrs. C. D. Rankle, Pittsburg. Half-sisters are: Mrs. Elmer Campbell, Linden Hall; Mrs. Z. P. Krise, Pittston; and H. W. Love, Wilkesburg, is a half-brother.

Her marriage to Capt. George M. Boal took place February 19th, 1863. They lived continuously on the Boal farm, at Manor Hill, until about twelve years ago, when they moved to Centre Hall.

The surviving children are: Martha, wife of D. A. Booser, Centre Hall; Mary, wife of C. H. Meyer, Reedsville; Margaret, wife of C. W. Black, Farmers Mills; Blanch, wife of Dr. W. E. Park, New Milford; Mabel, wife of W. Gross Mingle, Centre Hall.

During her girlhood days, Mrs. Boal became a member of the Presbyterian church, and continued such throughout her life. Interment was made at Centre Hall, Wednesday morning, Dr. W. H. Schuyler, her pastor, officiating.

Mrs. S. K. Knepley died at her home in Centre Hall, Wednesday of last week, after an illness of some months. Interment was made at Centre Hall on Saturday, services having been held at the house by Rev. S. A. Snyder, pastor of the United Evangelical church, of which church the deceased was a member.

The deceased's maiden name was Rosannah Salome Evans, and she was the daughter of W. B. Evans, and born in Union county, August 7th, 1840, making her age seventy years and one month. Besides her husband, three sisters survive, namely, Mrs. Annie Shipley, Detroit, Michigan; Mrs. Mahala Mushno, Coloma; Mrs. Sarah Kennedy, Spring Mills. The latter two attended the funeral.

Mrs. Rebecca Woodling, wife of Christian Woodling, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. F. Confer, at Millmont, of diseases incident to old age. Her age was seventy-four years, seven months and nine days. She leaves to survive her husband, and one son, John, in South America, and one daughter, Mrs. H. F. Confer, of Millmont. Also the following brothers and sisters: Adam P. Maize, W. S. Maize, and J. H. Maize, of Millheim; Mrs. Catharine Mowery, of Hubersburg, and Mrs. Mary Cassell, of Harrisburg. The remains were brought to Millheim for interment on Friday. Rev. W. J. Dice officiated.

Mrs. Eva Mallory, widow of John Mallory, was found dead on the floor of her bed room at her home at Smulton, Sunday morning a week. Pulmonary fever, from which she had been ailing for some time, was the cause of her death. Her age was sixty-seven years, three months and seventeen days. Funeral services were held Wednesday following, conducted by Rev. Haney, and interment was made at Madisonburg. She leaves to survive two sisters, Mrs. Anna Kern, of Madisonburg, and Mrs. Zaber, of York.

Abraham Armstrong died in Bellefonte, aged fifty-one years. He had been ill for a year or more. He was born at Pleasant Gap, but for most of the time lived in the town in which he died. A wife and three children survive. Joshua Armstrong, of Centre Hall, is a brother, the other brothers and sisters being: Frank, of Oklahama; William and Daniel, of Kansas; Mrs. Ella Krsamer, of Rock; Mrs. Rilla Eckenroth, of Pleasant Gap. LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers Correspondent Columns—New Department.

Kansas City is still the aggressive hustling city which has ranked it among the foremost in the country, and a delightful place in which to live or sojourn.

As a bit of Centre county color to the scene today, we had as our guests Miss Margaret Keller and her mother.

Much more time has elapsed since my last visit to the old town than I ever dreamed would be possible. My boy Paul, eight years old, is having his first introduction to mountains among the Rockies in Colorado this summer. I mean that he, too, shall look upon old Nittany, not so imposing as Pikes, but fuller of associations to his family. Meanwhile here's to the Reporter, may it continue to report.

R. B. WOLFE.

Kansas City, Kas.

Rev. Wolf is pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, in Kansas City. The church is a beautiful edifice, and under its present pastor the congregation is one of the most active in the city.

I take pleasure in enclosing you under separate cover a copy of the report of our school for 1909-1910. Since you are interested in education, I thought you might be pleased to know what is being done in this part of the country. This report which is unique in that it tells not only what is being done, but why it is being done and how, has attracted much favorable comment from school men and from the pedagogic department of such universities as Harvard and Chicago. The credit of its conception and preparation belongs to the principal, Mr. Sandwick; the head of each department, however, is responsible for the statement of his department.

With kindest regards to yourself and the Reporter force, I am,

Sincerely yours,
A. M. ALLISON.

I am employed by the Carnegie Museum, making cases and models for exhibits. I have been with the museum for over four years, and have been kept busy all the year 'round. I am now taking my vacation of two weeks which I get every year. The museum is located in Pittsburg in the $6,000,000 library donated by Mr. Carnegie to the city of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg is a hard place for a poor working man to make a living in under the graft system, as every one in business here wants to become a millionaire. Those who have a good steady position usually come out all O. K. I must close, wishing you success.

H. W. LOVE.

Wilkesburg, Pa.

This is the season during which stoves are coming in demand, and to all such it is recommended that they call at the business place of J. A. Reesman, in Centre Hall, who has on hand a large assortment of the latest makes of stoves. Special attention is called to the "Acorn" double heater, a new pattern just put out this season. It has all the points of excellence desired. The Red Cross stoves are well known for their superior qualities of heating and wear, and the ranges for their convenience and good baking. In the heating line Mr. Reesman handles the Oak Leaf, Garnet and Esquig, and in ranges, the Regal, National and Prize. The prices are a little lower than ever.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened in this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

Mildred Anna, aged nine months, daughter of Edward E. and Mary Meese, of Pitsairn, died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rote, at Axe Mann. Interment was made at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Sarah A. DeHass, widow of the late Alexander M. DeHass, aged eighty-five years, died near Beech Creek. She was born in England.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

This issue contains a special announcement concerning the Centre Hall Lecture Course.

The real estate of the late Joseph K. Moyer will be sold Saturday, on the premises, near Rebersburg, at nine o'clock.

The Bennis corn harvester is the name of a new machine George Breen has taken the agency for, and has a sample machine on hand.

Mrs. David Bowers, of Spring Mills, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles S. Burris, in Centre Hall, and for the present expects to make her home here.

John I. Snavely, the Spring Mills ice cream manufacturer, is supplying a large quantity of cream to sutlers on Grange Park. His products are free from any mixtures used by many manufacturers.

A very large bird, supposed to be a bald eagle, has been in the vicinity of Colyer during the past few months. It only comes down from old Tussey Mountain occasionally, and was last seen by Wes. Nevil, the farmer and lumberman.

The farmers in Penns Valley were about the busiest people on earth just after the ground dried off enough so it could be stirred. Much of the seedling to wheat has already been done, and on small farms is completed. The crop was put in in a first class condition.

G. Cecil Boult, an Englishman, traveling in the interest of a publication house, was a caller last week. Mr. Boult has traveled extensively, and after seeing the states he expects to go to Mexico, which country is the only one of consequence he has not yet visited.

F. W. Zettle, Roy Zettle, Hobert Barger and William H. Matter, of Georges Valley, were callers at the Reporter office on Thursday of last week. They were much interested in the manner in which newspapers are printed, and were somewhat surprised at the complexity of the work.

W. D. Strunk, the thresherman, is suffering from an injury to his knee. Some time ago, while in Georges Valley, he struck his knee against some object and bruised the flesh, but little was thought of it, and in a short time the affair was forgotten. Last week the knee began swelling and the pain became intense.

Penns Valley is gradually becoming more and more of a dairy section for which industry it is well suited. The silo is being installed in various sections as proof of this, the most recent converts to this mode of storing feed for the dairy cow being H. Elmer Smith and Clayton Pressler, in Penn township, and A. J. Gephart, in Millheim, all of whom have built silos.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Snyder, of Glen Rock, a pretty little town just below York on the Northern Central railroad, were arrivals in Centre Hall the latter part of last week, and were guests of Rev. S. A. Snyder, the gentlemen being brothers. Mr. Snyder is the ticket agent at Glen Rock. They brought with them Elston Snyder, the little son of Rev. Snyder, who spent nearly all summer in York county.

The Alexander homestead, property of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, consisting of a farm of one hundred and forty-eight acres, located west of Centre Hall, was offered at public sale by the executor, C. Alexander, of Coburn, Thursday afternoon of last week. The highest bidder was Perry W. Breen, of Centre Hall, whose last bid indicated that he was willing to pay $4925, but the bid was not thought to be enough to warrant a sale.

J. Miller Goodhart, who is one of the busiest men in Gregg township, was one of the Reporter's callers last week. He has his farm buildings almost completed, and before winter sets in hopes to have everything lined up so that he and his family will be able to live in comfort, and his farm stock well housed. The Goodhart farm buildings are located immediately north of the Pike school house, on this side of Spring Mills, on a part of the farm purchased from Mrs. Mary Ross, mother of Mrs. Goodhart.

One of the largest and most complete exhibits of farm machinery on Grange Park, this week, is that of J. H. and S. E. Weber, who are doing business at Centre Hall and Oak Hall Station. They are handling farm machinery on a large scale, and do their buying mostly in car load lots. They do not only have a large supply of machinery, but have the best to be found. The "New Idea" manure spreader, the "Syracuse" riding plow, "the Gearless" hay loader, the "Lancaster" hay rake, and all their other machinery, farm wagons and buggies have special merit.
