AN UP AND DOWN ARGUMENT.

Sam—I want you to understand that I am no common nigger, I see had a good bringin' up, I has.
Pete—Dats all right, but ef yo' fools wid me, man, yo'll hab a good frowin' down, too.

She Took No Chances.

A happily-wedded matron is the principal of an odd incident, which one of her "dear" friends relates.
Before the matron's engagement to her present husband was announced, she met her "dear" friend on the street. The new matron was hurrying toward one of the large jewelry stores of the city.
"John gave me an engagement ring," she explained, without a shadow of embarrassment, "and I am going down to see how much it cost. You see, I got the jeweler's name off the box," and she hurried on.
The same friend said that another bit of information the matron got was the commercial standing of the prospective husband, which she secured by paying for a special report from a commercial agency.

A Handicapped Official.

"You let some of the swiftest auto scorches get by without a word?"
"I know it," replied the village constable. "My glasses don't suit my eyes like they used to, and I can't do anything with an auto that ain't goin' slow enough fur me to read the number."

The Modern Polonius.

"Now, my boy, don't expect to work wonders in this world."
"All right, dad."
"You can get quicker returns by working suckers."
"Say, pa?"
"What is it?"
"Does Uncle Sam ever lose his collar button under the weather bureau?"

$28,000,000 BANK THEFTS IN FIVE YEARS

Most of It Stolen to Gamble in Wall Street, N. Y.

TRUST COMPANIES ALSO HEAVY LOSERS.

In a Majority of Cases the Money Stolen From Banks Is Lost In Stock Gambling In Wall Street—To Avoid Publicity, Banks Frequently Take Their Losses Without Reporting Them.
New York (Special).—Thefts from two New York banks made known recently have compelled the attention of the American Bankers' Association to this class of crime. That it is on the increase is shown by a perusal of the records for the last five years, during which time more than $28,000,000 has been embezzled from the banks and trust companies in the United States.
In the Federal Prison in Leavenworth, Kan., where prisoners are received from all over the country, the banker convicts exceed every other class of prisoners except burglars and mail robbers. There are 13 former officials of banks "doing time" in the Riverside Prison, Pittsburg. The number of banker convicts in Sing Sing could not be ascertained, as the records are not available.
The number of bank officials and the total amount of thefts of record do not tell the complete story of bank thefts. To avoid publicity, banks frequently take their losses without reporting to the authorities or prosecuting the offending employees.
A majority of cases the money stolen from banks is lost in stock gambling in Wall Street. Thus went the $100,000 which John H. Lowery said he took from the Utica City National Bank.
It was said recently by the president of a surety company that there are many thefts committed in banks in this city and elsewhere throughout the country that never reach the ears of the public. Bankers and heads of trust companies, it was asserted, frequently minimize the amount of stealings when the secret of the losses comes out. In illustration of this it was recalled that when announcement was made very lately of the disappearance of Walter Hall, paying teller in the Herald Square branch of the Greenwich Bank, an official of the bank said the amount missing from the bank was "too trivial to mention." The amount proved to be between $35,000 and $50,000.
It was first announced, following the disappearance of Cashier Erwin Wider, that the Russo-Chinese Bank of 52 Pine street, was out about $50,000. The value of the missing securities is now placed at $600,000.
But more important than the suppressing of the news of defalcations, it was held, was the revelation of the temptations to gamble in stocks that are laid before employees in banks and other financial institutions, and the fact that this temptation is yielded to far more widely than suspected anywhere outside of brokers' offices.
The example of the millionaire heads of the institutions who frequently win fortunes in a day in the stock market has its effect on the wretchedly underpaid employees. Then come the letters of advice from brokers of repute and alleged respectability. These are scattered broadcast in banks and trust companies for the purpose of inciting to gamble those who read them.
In addition to tips on stocks, especially those "securities" in which the broker himself is personally interested, these letters not infrequently contain such hints as the following:
"Men starting with a few hundred dollars and observing the rules which guide leading speculators have by boldness and skillful manipulation become the possessors of millions."
The effect of these suggestions can be seen by a glance at the defalcations in banks in the last five years.

Saucy Soldier Shut Her Up.

Col. Robert C. Carter at a Nashville banquet was talking about campaign comrades.
"Then there was Dash of Company A," he said. "Dash had the reputation of being the nastiest tongued man in the regiment.
"It was Private Dash, you know, who, out foraging one evening on a rich estate, came accidentally upon the owner's wife, a grande dame in evening dress.
"Dash asked her for food. She refused him. He asked again. But still refusing, she walked away.
"No," she said, "I'll give you nothing, trespassing like this; I'll give you nothing. My mind is made up."
"Made up, is it?" said Dash. "Like the rest of you, eh?"

Someone Might Get Hurt.

Pietro had drifted to Florida and was working with a gang at railroad construction. He had been told to beware of rattlesnakes, but assured that they would always give the warning rattle before striking.
One hot day he was eating his noon luncheon on a pine log when he saw a big rattler coiled a few feet in front of him. He eyed the serpent and began to lift his legs over the log. He had barely got them out of the way when the snake's fangs hit the bark beneath him.
"Son of a gun!" yelled Pietro. "Why you no ringa da bell!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Pierp's Appetite.

J. P. Morgan, Sr., was always a good trencherman in his youth and he has as good an appetite today as he ever had, not only for corned beef and cabbage—his favorite dish—but for other foods. If the Morgan, who dazzled the Teutons with his mathematics when he was a German university post-graduate student, had accepted the chair of mathematics offered to him by Heidelberg, instead of his Yankee corned beef and cabbage it might have been frankfurters and sauerkraut.—New York Press.

Uncle Allen.

"If you're getting old and don't know it," philosophized Uncle Allen Sparks, "you'll find it out when you go back to the town where you grew up and look around for the boys you used to play with when you were a kid."

WARNING THAT WAS FAMILIAR

Grover Man Used Formula That Made Little Harry Long to Be Far Away.

Mrs. Jones' favorite warning to her young progeny when they were in mischief was that she would tend to them in a minute. "Tending" was accomplished by applying her open hand where it would do most good. When Harry was four years old he was sent for the first time round the corner to the grocery. In a few minutes he came trotting soberly back with the nickel still in his hand, but no bag of onions. "What's the matter?" asked his mother.
"I'm 'fraid of the man," he said, solemnly.
"Oh, he won't hurt you," reassured Mrs. Jones. "Run along and bring the onions. I'm in a hurry for them."
A second time Harry disappeared round the corner, and a second time returned without his purchase.
"I'm 'fraid of the grocer man," he explained, as before.
"Well, what makes you afraid of him?" demanded his mother, impatiently.
"Why," answered the little fellow, "bofe times when I goed in, he looked at me, an' said, 'I'll tend to you in a minute.'"

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.
Bradstreet's says:
Developments of the week have been largely favorable, including, as they have, better weather and crop reports, a larger distribution of fall goods by jobbers and retailers at most markets, more cheerful reports from some branches of the iron and steel trade, some resumption of textile mills until recently shut down, a reduction in the number of idle cars, and a shading in prices of leading farm products, due to better crop reports and larger movement, leading to the hope of a resumption of export trade.
All these have combined to make for a rather more optimistic feeling in general trade and industrial lines, but in financial circles there is little apparent gain in activity or strength, owing largely to continuance of political activity, the rapid reduction of money supplies at the country's banking center, and the fear of a pinch in supplies later, with possible effect upon rates.
The enlargement in jobbing and retail trade is not entirely uniform. Best reports come from the West, where unprecedented marketing of cereals at good prices helps trade and collections.

IN THE ART GALLERY.

Mr. Hayrick—Mandy, this here catalogue says that that artist got $5,000 fer paintin' that little picture.
Mrs. Hayrick—My gosh, Hiram! I wonder what on earth he'd charge fer paintin' a barn?

Beware the Dog!

A family moved from the city to a suburban locality and were told that they should get a watchdog to guard the premises at night. So they bought the largest dog that was for sale in the kennels of a neighboring dog fancier, who was a German. Shortly afterward the house was entered by burglars, who made a good haul, while the big dog slept. The man went to the dog fancier and told him about it.
"Well, vat you need now," said the dog merchant, "is a leedle dog to vake up the big dog."

Attention Sick Women

If you had positive proof that a certain remedy for female ills had made many remarkable cures, would you not feel like trying it?
If during the last thirty years we have not succeeded in convincing every fair-minded woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands and thousands of women of the ills peculiar to their sex, then we long for an opportunity to do so by direct correspondence. Meanwhile read the following letters which we guarantee to be genuine and truthful.

Hudson, Ohio.

"I suffered for a long time from a weakness, inflammation, dreadful pains each month and suppression. I had been doctoring and receiving only temporary relief, when a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial."
—Mrs. Lena Carmocino, Hudson, Ohio. R. F. D. No. 7.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y.

"Two years ago I was so bad that I had to take to my bed every month, and it would last from two to three weeks. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. I am happy to say that I am cured, thanks to your medicine and good advice. You may use my letter for the good of others."
—Mrs. J. H. Breyer, St. Regis Falls, N. Y.

There is absolutely no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to cure female diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.
