

WOMAN FOUND MURDERED.

Body Lay in Cornfield With Throat Cut—Negro Is Held. Mrs. John Baudis was found in a cornfield near Scotia, this county, Sunday night with her throat cut, and Bert Dellige, a negro, was arrested on the charge of murdering the woman.

County Ministerium Meets.

The second meeting of the Centre County Ministerium was held in the Methodist church, in Bellefonte, Monday afternoon and evening. The evening meeting was addressed by Dr. Topp, of Philadelphia, who represented the Anti-Saloon League.

LOCALS.

Mrs. Martin Shadow, of York, is visiting at the home of Henry Shadow, at Colyer.

Mrs. B. D. Brisban, who was quite ill, is now very much better, but is not yet down stairs.

M. Shires, at Spring Mills, advertises household goods at public sale, Saturday afternoon, 29th inst. See sale register and posters.

Rev. F. A. Snyder, Rev. B. F. Bieber, George L. Goodhart and Daniel Daup, of Centre Hall, drove to Bellefonte on Monday to hear the lecture of Dr. Topp, in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League.

An attempt was made to rob the safe in the Sellingsgrove postoffice, but the burglars failed of their purpose although a nitroglycerine charge was exploded and a number of windows in the building broken.

Mrs. William F. Keller and Misses Tillie Keller and Bertha McCormick, the former the wife of rural routman Keller, the second clerk in the local postoffice, and the latter the chief operator in the Commercial exchange, made a trip to Bellefonte on Tuesday.

A driving horse belonging to Dr. J. R. G. Allison, while in a pasture lot on the Long farm, at Penns Cave, had its leg broken one night, and was killed the next morning to be put out of misery. The animal was a pacer, and although not particularly handsome, was a splendid driving horse.

Among others who attended the funeral of G. W. Bushman, on Tuesday, was J. Frank Ross, of Pittsburg; Hon. W. A. and Mrs. Murray, of Boalsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Musser and J. B. Krape, of Bellefonte; C. Alexander, of Coburn; Mrs. Kate Carson and Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Miller, of Pottery Mills, and Mrs. G. Calvin King, of Spring Mills.

The restaurant in Altoona, at 708 Twelfth street, conducted by C. H. Horner, is one well kept in every way. Mr. Horner was formerly from this place, but since engaging in the restaurant business gets to Centre Hall very seldom. He has a fine trade, and everything about the place looks prosperous. Former Centre county people who now live in that much alive railroad town, should call to see Mr. Horner when they feel lank.

Last week the funeral of Miss Elizabeth Meyer was attended by Calvin Meyer Smith, for twenty-one years editor of the Pen Argyl Index, published at Pen Argyl, Northampton county. While Mr. Smith is a stranger to the present Reporter readers, his father will be recalled by many of the older people in Penns Valley. The editor's father was the late Rev. M. A. Smith, pastor of the Reformed church at Aronsburg in the early part of his ministry, and during his pastorate there also preached at times in other parts of the valley including Boalsburg. Mr. Smith attended the funerals, in Boalsburg, of three generations of his ancestors. In 1872, when a boy of ten years, he accompanied his father to Boalsburg from Nazareth when his great-grandmother was buried, who by the way was aged ninety-four years and is the oldest person buried in the Boalsburg cemetery; in 1889, February 15th, he witnessed the burial of his grandfather, George Meyer, aged eighty-three years, and last week, as stated above he was present upon the occasion of the burial of his aunt, aged seventy-eight years.

DEATHS.

George W. Bushman, after an illness of a few weeks, died at the home of Mrs. Mary A. Ross, in Centre Hall, where he and his family had their home for the greater part of the time since his marriage, twenty-two years ago, on Saturday evening. Interment was made Tuesday forenoon, the services having been held previously at the house, Dr. W. H. Schuyler and Rev. Daniel Gress officiating.

The deceased is survived by a wife, who before marriage was Miss Sara S. Ross, also a son, David Ross. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David Bushman, and two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Raffensperger and Miss Fannie Bushman, all of Gettysburg, also survive him.

Mr. Bushman was born in Maryland, December 25th, 1865, and was aged forty-four years, nine months and twenty-six days. He was a jeweler, and came to Centre Hall about 1896. He was first employed by J. Q. A. Kennedy, and later became his employer's successor in business, and continued to carry on the business until his last sickness.

Mr. Bushman was interested in school work, and was serving on the borough school board, at the time of his death. He was a good citizen, and was well thought of.

Miss Elizabeth Meyer died at her home, at State College, Sunday morning, October 9th, after a short illness of ailments of a complicated nature. She was born in Dauphin county, November 4th, 1832, making her age seventy-seven years, eleven months and five days. She was the oldest daughter of George and Anna Meyer.

In the spring of 1896 the Meyer family moved to Centre county and located at Spring Bank. After living in different parts of the county, they moved to a farm west of State College. On the death of her parents she purchased a home at State College where she lived with her niece, Mrs. Harry Shawley, and her family during the last twenty years. She united with the Reformed church in her girlhood days and remained faithful until death; her life was one of self-denial, never caring for her own comfort, but always doing something to brighten the lives of others.

She was laid to rest in the cemetery at Boalsburg, Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services were held at her home and also in the Reformed church at Boalsburg, Rev. I. S. Sasserman, of the Lutheran church at State College, and Rev. A. M. Schmidt, of the Reformed church of Bellefonte, were the officiating ministers. She is survived by two brothers, W. C. Meyer, of State College, and J. H. Meyer, of Boalsburg.

John Braunt died at his home, along the pike midway between Millheim and Coburn, Monday night, aged seventy-three years. Interment will be made today (Thursday) at Millheim, Rev. B. R. M. Sheeder officiating.

The deceased is survived by a wife who before marriage was Rebecca Kerstetter, daughter of the late John Kerstetter, and a daughter Anna, wife of Charles Swartz, of Millheim, and a son, William, who with his family lived with his parents and conducted the farm.

Emil Joseph, of the mercantile firm of Joseph Brother & Company, died at his home in Bellefonte, Saturday evening. His age was about seventy years. Interment was made at Bellefonte, Wednesday afternoon.

Aaronsburg.

James Swabb and Michael Rossmann, of Tusseyville, spent Saturday with the former's mother, Mrs. K. E. Swabb.

Luther Wert, who has been on the sick list for about a month, has not improved up to this writing.

Mrs. William Guisewite, who has been sick for the last three weeks, is not improving very fast; her nerves are so unstrung but the writer hopes she may soon be about again.

A. B. Lee, Esq., and Cleve Brungart, of Tusseyville, transacted business here for the Stambach heirs.

Rev. W. D. Donat, the Reformed minister accompanied by his wife and son Nevin, are attending synod in Reading this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Winkalblech, and children, John and Ruth, spent the Sabbath near Centre Hall with the lady's brother, J. H. Detweiler.

Mrs. Chestie Wert, of Rebersburg, is spending some time at the home of Luther Wert.

Mrs. Mary Haffay, one of our aged ladies, is spending a few days in Millheim with her sisters, Mrs. Wert and Mrs. Royer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guisewite, of Feidler, spent a day at the home of George Weaver, where the lady's father J. C. Stover, has his home.

The pleasant purgative effect experienced by all who use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and the healthy condition of the body and mind which they create, makes one feel joyful. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

LOCALS.

Grant Hoover, the Williamsport insurance man, had the good luck to kill a bear and wild turkey this season.

Rev. S. A. Snyder attended the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Anna Barbara Bailey, at Loganville, York county, returning Monday.

Mrs. M. A. Sankey and two children and Miss Edith Sankey, of Millheim, visited their aunt, Mrs. S. R. Kamp, in Lock Haven, last week.

Politics and pants may seem to lack any special literary kinship, but you'll have a fresh point of view when you read the November Everybody's just out.

John Harter and Miss Blanche V. Stover, of Farmers Mills, were married on Saturday evening at the Lutheran parsonage at Centre Hall, by Rev. B. F. Bieber. Congratulations.

Merchant F. E. Wieland, of Linden Hall, was in town Monday night in his new Ford auto car. Arber Cummings is giving him instructions how to manage the beast, which by the way, is becoming very docile.

Hon. Joseph Kelley, of Reedsville, and John Camp, of Milroy, Republican and Democratic candidates, respectively, for the office of assemblyman in Mifflin county, have both pledged themselves to support local option in case they are elected to the lower house at Harrisburg.

Beginning Saturday reserved seat tickets for the first number of the Centre Hall lecture course will be on sale at the general store of Kremer & Son, where the chart will be found. Those who contemplate purchasing course tickets should do so before that date. Almost one hundred and fifty course tickets have been sold, but there remain many unsold choice seats.

The remodeling of the Millheim hotel has already commenced. The first work done was to raise the roof, with the view of adding a third story. As much of the work of remodeling as possible will be done before winter sets in. The finishing touches will be made next spring. As was stated previously in these columns, the National Hotel is now the property of Landlord Shawver.

From the Watchman's personal column: Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wood, of Spring Mills, were in Bellefonte last Friday doing a little shopping and also taking in the final day of the Centre county fair. Mr. Wood is landlord of the Spring Mills hotel and if his business waxeth fast as he has increased in avoidpous since locating there he must have a nice pile of shekels laid aside by this time.

Emanuel P. Shook, of Spring Mills, who was so seriously injured in a fall from a ladder while picking apples, is not improving. He is said to be gradually growing weaker. He is practically paralyzed, not being able to move more than his fingers and the toes on one foot. He is conscious at all times, able to speak to his callers and those who wait on him, and realizes that there is little hope for his recovery.

When in Centre Hall on Monday, Senator Webster Grim, the Democratic candidate for governor, in company with County Chairman Kimport and County Commissioner Dunlap, paid his respects to the Centre Reporter. He is a man of large proportions, has a splendid head and face, and determination is strongly expressed in the cut of his jaw. He cannot fail to make a favorable impression on every one he meets.

The Lewistown Democrat and Sentinel started upon its eighth year last week, and in its Saturday's issue printed a number of half-tone cuts illustrating the newspaper plant. The Daily enjoys a circulation in excess of 3500, and is one of the newest publications in the Juniata Valley. The editor of the Reporter is personally acquainted with the editor and business manager of the Sentinel, and knows, too, that they are interested in the welfare of Lewistown and surrounding country, and that their efforts to make the publication one of influence is not for selfish purposes. The Sentinel is being well patronized, but the business interests in its territory cannot support the paper too liberally.

Two Large Potato Yields.

D. L. Bartges, of near Centre Hall, and F. A. Carson, of Pottery Mills, report the largest potato yields in Potter township this year. From a patch of a little over six acres the former raised 1430 bushels, while the latter plowed up 1100 bushels from seven and one-half acres. The tubers in both instances consisted of several different varieties, and from the figures noted, show that they turned out very well.

SEAWEED.

Several Varieties Are Valuable For Food Purposes.

Seaweed is not much to look at, but seaweed does not depend so much upon beauty as upon more substantial merit to make itself worthy of attention. Various species of it are used in manufactures, and several varieties are edible, the most important of the latter being Irish or carrageen moss, used in the preparation of jellies—blancmange, for instance—dulse or dillesk, very highly thought of by Scotland, particularly when roasted by wrapping about hot tongs, and kelp or tangie.

Irish moss and some other species, particularly eel grass and flat stalk rock weed, have been found valuable as cattle food, especially when boiled to destroy the rank taste and mixed with meal. The eel grass and rock weed compare favorably with hay as regards the most important constituent—protein—containing 6.03 and 8.21 per cent respectively. They are deficient in fat, but contain a large amount of ash.

The great bulk of the seaweed gathered, however, is used as a fertilizer, and the average seaweed contains large quantities of all the essential fertilizing elements. Allowing 10 cents a pound for nitrogen, 2 cents a pound for phosphoric acid and 4 cents a pound for potash—and these are as low prices as it is possible to procure those materials in any form—a ton of seaweed containing 80 per cent water is worth as a fertilizer $1.42 a ton.—New York Times.

An Ancient Mountain Race.

The most ancient people still living in the mountains of India are the Todas. Long before the arrival of the other tribes of the region the Todas were the kings of this country, which they held in common without strife or treachery to one another. The Todas are a fine race, tall, well proportioned and with regular features. Their complexion is of a light brown, and their eyes are bright and intelligent. The men wear a linen or cotton garment that reminds a European of the Roman toga. Their bearing is proud and dignified; their countenances are pleasing; their fine straight hair is regularly cut and well kept. Their superior appearance, the mystery that surrounds them and the obscurity of their origin have caused certain students of ethnology to suppose that the Todas are descended from the soldiers of Darius or Alexander, the ancient conquerors of India.

Deaf Guests at Hotels.

"To awaken a deaf person who wishes to be called at a certain time in the morning is about the hardest proposition a hotel clerk runs up against," said a member of that fraternity. "To ring the telephone is useless, because the man can't hear. Knocking for the same reason is futile. Now and then a guest who has lost his hearing suggests that he leave his door open, so we can walk right in and shake him, but there are so many chances of somebody less guileless than ourselves walking in ahead of us that we can't consent to that simple expedient. It seems to me that the man who can patent a device for waking the deaf is sure of fame and fortune, not to mention the gratitude of the brotherhood of hotel clerks."—New York Globe.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle of common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours. If the water is cloudy, sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
