LOCALS.

William Kreamer, of Reading, was in Centre Hall, and while here was the guest of his brother, John Kreamer. He is employed by the Bell Telephone Company, and his trip here was the first to this section.

Dr. H. F. Bitner is representing the Centre Hall Reformed church at the Reformed Synod, in session at Reading. On account of sickness in his family, Rev. Daniel Gress could not attend this important church gathering.

Samuel Condo, who for years lived at Birmingham, Iowa, is now located at Jewett, Harrison county, Ohio. Mrs. Condo died the latter part of September, and since Mr. Condo sold his interests in Iowa, he moved to the latter place.

Little game was killed during the first few days of the hunting season. The local sportsman came home much disgusted, the best of them having only one or two gray squirrels, and many of them nothing but a feeling in the region of the stomach characteristic after tramping through the woods and over the mountains.

When a farmer raises a cow that will bring $87.50 when sold to a drover, he has a right to feel just a bit upish, and that is the feeling of James C. Goodhart at this time. He sold a fine Holstein cow at the price named to Drover Eley. He has yet a number of good milk cows, but the one he sold is not matched by any of those remaining in his stable.

This from the Lewistown Journal: R. D. Killian, who had been in Centre county for several weeks buying walnut and other hard woods, came down Wednesday. Mr. Killian shipped a car of walnut from Howard about two weeks ago and this item gave rise to a newspaper story that the shipment was worth several thousands of dollars, while the real value was about $200. Walnut timber brings a good price in the market, but when a car of less than 20,000 feet is rated at so high a figure those who are familiar with prices of this timber know how unlikely such a story can be. Mr. Killian says there is a great deal of walnut in the section and intends to ship many cars in the next six months.

There is no remedy for the Hessian fly if it has once attacked your growing wheat, that is, the fly that has laid its egg on the wheat blades this fall has accomplished its ends, and the real damage will be seen only next summer, just before harvest time, when the wheat stalks will break over, and the heads will have no grains. Next fall farmers will be able to protect themselves against the ravages of this insect, if they will go to some trouble to do so. Plant a strip of wheat quite early, thus encourage the fly to lay its eggs, and then at regular seeding time plow the plat and destroy the plants. Late sowing will also hinder the pest from doing its greatest damage, but sometimes late sowing is injured more because of the tender condition of the plants when winter sets in than the fly if sown at the usual time. Thus the farmer scarcely knows what to do. In a series of years, sowing between the tenth and fifteenth of September, will bring as good results as either early or late sowing, and will in a measure reduce the opportunities of the Hessian fly to do damage.

Horseness in a child subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

ROOSEVELT AND THE COST OF LIVING.

The Crops It Would Require to Pay for Republican Extravagance.

In 1908 the corn crop of the United States was worth $1,616,145,000. The wheat crop was worth $596,826,000. The oats crop was worth $381,171,000. The hay crop was worth $635,423,000.

The total value of all the corn, all the wheat, all the oats, all the hay, all the rye, all the barley, all the rice and all the buckwheat was $3,395,237,281.

The total appropriation bills signed by Mr. Roosevelt during his second term aggregated $3,592,982,816.87.

In order to make up a sum equal to the cost of four years of Rooseveltism it would be necessary to add to the value of all the corn, wheat, oats, hay, rye, barley and buckwheat raised in the United States in 1908 the value of all the orchard crops, $88,750,991; the value of all the small fruit, $25,029,757; and the value of all grapes, $14,090,234. There would still be a deficit of nearly $5,000,000 after all these crops had gone to pay for four years of Rooseveltism.

Does Mr. Roosevelt think this unparalleled extravagance has nothing to do with the increased cost of living?

D. C. Keller Badly Injured.

A letter received from L. Hoover Dalby, of Phoenixville, by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Conley, at Centre Hall, states that D. C. Keller, of Phoenixville, was seriously injured by a bear. Mr. Keller and several others were endeavoring to put the hog in a crate when he became vicious and attacked Mr. Keller, inflicting most serious wounds in the region of the privates. The physician thinks if blood-poisoning can be avoided, the wounds will heal.

A Lycoming county jury awarded damages to the extent of $1800 to Conrad F. Solt of Williamsport, but formerly of Belfonte, for injuries received in the shops of the Williamsport Radiator Company. In trying to shift a belt the gentleman had his arm so badly broken that amputation became necessary, and it was for this loss that suit was brought and the above verdict given.

Colds on the Chest

Ask your doctor the medical name for a cold on the chest. He will say, "Bronchitis." Ask him if it is ever serious. Lastly, ask him if he prescribes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this disease. Keep in close touch with your family physician.

When you tell your doctor about the bad taste in your mouth, loss of appetite for breakfast, and frequent headaches, and when he sees your coated tongue, he will say, "You are bilious." Ayer's Pills work well in such cases.

CAPITAL, $5,000

FIRST STATE BANK

Arlington, Ia., April 23, 1903

Mr. J. Cooper, Desorah, Iowa.

Dear Sir: Your letter of inquiry received and noted. The fact that I have two policies of $12,000 in The Royal Union Insurance Co., and that I am perfectly satisfied with the same, is the strongest evidence of my confidence in the company. Any financial institution that is limited by law in the investment of its funds in non-fluctuating, non-speculative securities such as farm mortgages, municipal bonds, and loans on the cash surrender values of its own policies is certainly entitled to public confidence. Add to this the fact that the state of Iowa requires sufficient of these securities on deposit with the Auditor of State to more than equal the amount of the Company's entire liability to its policyholders, and I am unable to conceive of a more complete and absolute protection. This is the law under which The Royal Union Insurance Co. operates, and for this reason it has my unqualified endorsement and confidence.

In addition to this it is an Iowa Company and has for eighteen years been steadily growing stronger and better. It is securing the highest rates of interest from its invested assets of farm mortgages in Iowa and adjoining states; this enables the company to pay its policy holders the highest possible earnings.

After a most careful and thorough investigation, I take pleasure in commending The Royal Union Life Insurance Co. as I regard it one of the safest and best.

Very truly,

D. B. ALLEN.
